STONEHILL COLLEGE

Letter from the President

Dear Stonehill Students,

In welcoming you to Stonehill College, I hope that your time with us will be one of active participation in the academic and social opportunities present on our beautiful campus and beyond.

The Stonehill community is blessed with many hard-working and supportive faculty, administrators, staff, alumni, and fellow students, all of whom play a large part in your Stonehill education.

All of us are aligned around an important motivation that is articulated in our mission statement:

Stonehill College educates the whole person so that each Stonehill graduate thinks, acts, and leads with courage toward creating a more just and compassionate world.

The academic and interpersonal choices that you make during your time here will help you achieve the aims of our shared educational purpose. To help you plot your course through Stonehill, we present “The Hill Book” as a guide to living and learning at Stonehill. It combines the academic catalogue – which helps you select your course of study – with the student handbook – which provides guidelines, regulations, and policies for each member of our community.

I trust that your experience at Stonehill will be a time of growth and discovery. Your professors and others will invite you to enter the academic enterprise. In addition, persons and ideas will challenge – for the better – the way you think and what you believe. Learning will occur not only in the classroom but also in the residence halls, on athletic fields, and in service. I encourage you to take advantage of all the opportunities presented to you during your time at Stonehill. As an alumnus of Stonehill, I know that they will remain with you for a lifetime.

As a member of the community, you have chosen to accept and abide by the high expectations Stonehill has set for how each member lives, learns, and interacts with one another. We expect and encourage you to take ownership of your own academic, intellectual and spiritual development. And we will challenge students to be accountable for their actions as a necessary part of community life and preparation for responsible citizenship in the wider world.

Remember, all the members of our community are eager to assist you in every possible way. Do not hesitate to ask for advice or direction. Again, welcome back to Stonehill and know that you will be in my thoughts and prayers as we journey together during this academic year.

Sincerely in Holy Cross,
(Rev.) Mark T. Cregan, C.S.C. '78
President

Mission and History

Mission of the College

Stonehill College, a Catholic institution of higher learning founded by the Congregation of Holy Cross, is a community of scholarship and faith, anchored by a belief in the inherent dignity of each person.

Through its curriculum of liberal arts and sciences and pre-professional programs, Stonehill College provides an education of the highest caliber that fosters critical thinking, free inquiry, and the interchange of ideas.

Stonehill College educates the whole person so that each Stonehill graduate thinks, acts, and leads with courage toward creating a more just and compassionate world.

Philosophy of the College

To accomplish this vision students undertake a program of studies which encourages scholarship, critical analysis and creative thinking. Faithful to the Holy Cross tradition in education, Stonehill is committed to developing the moral, spiritual, intellectual and social competencies of its students, as well as fostering the determination to bring these competencies to bear on matters of social justice.

Through study of the core disciplines of the liberal arts, students engage the wisdom and the questions that are the foundation of an educated mind. Mastery of the specialized knowledge required by today's professions provides the tools to lead productive careers and to shape the world beyond the classroom.

The presence of Catholic intellectual and moral ideals places the College in a long tradition of free inquiry, the engagement with transcendent theological and philosophical ideals and values, the recognition of the inherent dignity of each person, and the sense of obligation to commit oneself to moral ends.

In celebration of this dignity and of the unity of the human family, Stonehill supports a diversity of persons, opinions, and cultural and religious perspectives. The College affirms that appreciation of this diversity is integral to the acquisition of personal and intellectual breadth.

The faculty, inspired by a passion for teaching, collaborates with the staff to create a student-centered climate which promotes academic challenge and rigorous inquiry, physical well-being and emotional growth, personal responsibility, cooperative learning and authentic community. A Stonehill education encourages students to develop a lifelong desire for self-discovery and commitment to service that will lead to truly purposeful and rewarding lives.

History of the College

Stonehill College was founded on June 30, 1948. On that day, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts authorized the Congregation of Holy Cross to establish an institution of higher learning on the former estate of Frederick Lothrop Ames in North Easton. The campus is strikingly beautiful. At one end sits Donahue Hall, the estate's original Georgian-style mansion, constructed in 1905. It houses Stonehill's administration as well as a chapel in which mass is celebrated daily. Donahue Hall overlooks a panorama of academic buildings and residence halls in a tranquil setting of lawns, woods, fields and ponds.

Since its founding in France in 1837, the Congregation of Holy Cross has been engaged in works of education. By 1842, members of the Congregation had established the University of Notre Dame in northern Indiana. Other institutions of higher education founded by the Congregation in the United States include the University of Portland in Oregon, St. Edward's University in Texas, King's College in Pennsylvania, and Holy Cross College in Indiana.

Father Basil Moreau C.S.C., the founder of the Congregation, held as a primary concern that education affects the whole person. Father Moreau spoke and wrote of educating the heart as well as instructing the mind, of developing people of values as well as scholars. Typical of Moreau's sentiments was the view expressed in an 1849 Circular Letter to members of the Congregation:

"We will always place development of the whole person side by side with the acquisition of knowledge; the mind will not be cultivated at the expense of the heart."

In September 1948, Stonehill College enrolled its first students. In 1951, the College expanded enrollment to welcome women students. In December 1959, Stonehill received full accreditation from and membership in the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools (NEASC).

Until 1972, responsibility of the College was vested in the Eastern Province of the Congregation of Holy Cross. In that year, responsibility was transferred to an elected and primarily lay Board of Trustees. The Congregation also transferred equity consisting of 375 acres and buildings for, and accommodated to, educational purposes.

Both the spirit and letter of the transfer called for Stonehill College to continue as a Catholic institution of higher learning. As a Catholic College, Stonehill is committed to the mutually enriching discourse between intellectual inquiry and the life of faith.

As a College in the Holy Cross tradition, Stonehill seeks to help students develop their abilities and discover the deepest longings in their lives. It seeks to cultivate concern for the dignity of every person and care for the victims of every prejudice. In fulfillment of its motto, Lux et Spes (Latin for "Light and Hope,") the College fosters the competence to see and the courage to act. (Cf. Constitutions of the Congregation of Holy Cross, Nos. 14-17).

In this tradition, Stonehill is particularly concerned to foster a quality of life on campus that forges strong bonds of community and a tradition of service that contributes to a more just and compassionate society. In 1989, a Statement of Principles was approved by both the College and the Congregation of Holy Cross to ensure the preservation of Stonehill's Catholic heritage and to commit the Congregation to an active presence in both academic and pastoral positions at the College.

Stonehill conducted its first commencement exercises in 1952, and in 2006 the College graduated its 20,000th alumnus. The College's vision for the future is encapsulated in its strategic plan, "Attaining the Summit." Stonehill seeks to provide a quality higher education that equips alumni for thoughtful reflection throughout their lives, for useful careers, and for citizenship, service and leadership in the Church and in the world.

Degrees and Accreditation

Stonehill College offers a Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, and Bachelor of Science in Business Administration degrees.

Stonehill College is accredited by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges, Inc., a non-governmental, nationally recognized organization whose affiliated institutions include elementary schools through collegiate institutions offering post-graduate instruction.

Accreditation of an institution of higher education by the New England Association indicates that it meets or exceeds criteria for the assessment of institutional quality periodically applied through a peer group review process. An accredited school or college is one which has available the necessary resources to achieve its stated purposes through appropriate educational programs, is substantially doing so, and gives reasonable evidence that it will continue to do so in the foreseeable future. Institutional integrity is also addressed through accreditation.

Accreditation by the New England Association is not partial but applies to the institution as a whole. As such, it is not a guarantee of the quality of every course or program offered, or the competence of individual graduates. Rather, it provides reasonable assurance about the quality of opportunities available to students who attend the institution.

Inquiries regarding the accreditation status by the New England Association should be directed to the administrative staff of the institution. Individuals also may contact the Commission on Higher Education.

ACADEMIC LIFE

Academic Life

The Stonehill curriculum challenges men and women of diverse backgrounds to enter into intellectual, social and moral discovery and to create meaningful lives, rewarding careers, and participatory citizenship. The Cornerstone Program of General Education and Major Programs of Study combine to cultivate a student-centered environment that is nurtured by small classes and enriching student-faculty relationships.

The College prides itself on promoting liberal education and on offering a variety of high quality academic programs in the Arts and Sciences and in Business Administration. Major and Minor Programs of Study emphasize depth of knowledge and practice in a particular discipline. While students must complete requirements within the major or minor, they also have the flexibility to explore academic opportunities unique to their own educational plans. Such opportunities include the honors program, internships, international experiences, interdisciplinary concentrations, community-based learning opportunities, directed study, and independent research.

Thus, the outcomes of the Academic Program include enhanced content knowledge in “core” disciplines; demonstrated competency in skills crucial to success in all major programs; the ability to integrate knowledge across disciplines; dexterity in teamwork and collaboration; the ability to reason well and to apply reasoning skills to ethical questions; an appreciation for diversity of persons and cultures; and expertise in at least one academic discipline. This foundation will serve graduates well in any career or post-baccalaureate study they pursue.

Completing the Stonehill academic program is an exciting way to develop skills and knowledge, to experience human and natural diversity, to build critical and creative thinking and leadership abilities, and to discover the value of civic engagement.

May – July

May 23 - July 22 Summer Session

The Curriculum

The academic program introduces the student to the various disciplines of a liberal education and prepares the student for graduate studies or a professional position in a fashion that both enriches the student and benefits society. Recognizing that each person is unique in ability, inquisitiveness, interest, and aspiration, the program provides the student with the opportunity to select electives in addition to courses required for the Cornerstone Program and for the major.

Stonehill students design their own education by selecting a minimum of forty courses from the Stonehill curriculum. The parts of the curriculum include: the Cornerstone Program of General Education, the Major, the Minor and/or Interdisciplinary Minor (optional), and Electives.

The Cornerstone Program of General Education

The mission of the Cornerstone Program is to lead every Stonehill student to examine critically the self, society, culture, and the natural world. The program honors the College's commitment to free inquiry and social responsibility in the tradition of Catholic higher education. Through the development of the knowledge, competencies, and values that are central to the Cornerstone Program, every Stonehill student will be prepared for a life of learning and responsible citizenship.

Through the courses and experiences of the Cornerstone Program, students are assisted in meeting specific learning goals established for every Stonehill graduate. These goals include: intellectual engagement, effective communication, leadership and collaboration, social responsibility, and personal growth and discovery. (More information about the learning goals and courses of the Cornerstone Program are provided beginning on p. 16.)

The Major

The Major constitutes the second broad area in the student's curriculum. College education should both facilitate intellectual growth and equip students to take their place as responsible members of society. Students are to prepare themselves for some field of graduate or professional study, or for a more immediate career in such areas as teaching, government, business, industry, or social service.

Accordingly, students select an area of major concentration in view of postgraduate or career plans. The goal of the Major is for students to acquire skills and investigate intellectual questions, methods, and issues in considerable breadth and increasing depth in a specific field or area of study. Degree candidates must declare, and be accepted in, a major field of study prior to enrollment in their last 15 courses. Students may change a Major by completing a form in the Registrar's Office.

Students may enroll in two Majors, subject to the approval from the Office of Academic Services, in consultation with the respective Department Chairpersons or Program Directors. This option must be requested in writing normally prior to enrollment in the student's final 10 courses. In some cases, students may need to enroll in more than 40 courses in order to satisfy the requirements of both Majors.

Students who satisfactorily complete two Majors will receive one degree from the College, with this exception: If a student satisfactorily completes the requirements for two Majors, whether before or after the student's official graduation, a second degree will be awarded if the second Major is in a division (B.A., B.S., or B.S.B.A.) that is different from the first Major. The student will be given the option of selecting which degree will be granted at Commencement.

Majors by Degree Awarded

A Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) is awarded in:

Disciplinary Minor (Optional)

Students may choose to complete a Disciplinary Minor. This Minor may be closely related to a student's Major, selected as an alternative field of specialization, or chosen simply for personal enrichment. Generally, a Disciplinary Minor is no more than six courses and ensures that a student pursues an area of study in some breadth and depth beyond the introductory level and outside of the Major. Students may obtain only one Disciplinary Minor; however, as an exception, students may choose to complete both a Disciplinary and Interdisciplinary Minor (see below).

Minors

Art History
 Astronomy
 Biochemistry
 Biology
 Business
 Catholic Studies
 Chemistry
 Cinema Studies

Interdisciplinary Minor (Optional)

Interdisciplinary Minors give students the opportunity to explore, in some depth, a well-defined question or topic beyond the major. The Interdisciplinary Minor provides students with maximum flexibility to propose a course of study, comprised of classes and other academic experiences, as a path to conduct an interdisciplinary inquiry that may or may not be related to the Major or Disciplinary Minor. Students submit a proposal for an Interdisciplinary Minor that will include no less than four and no more than five academic units. Given the depth of study required, it is expected that no student would undertake more than one Interdisciplinary Minor during his or her academic career at Stonehill. For more information, contact Prof. Peter Ubertaccio, The Director of the Martin Institute.

Electives

The Elective component constitutes the last part of the Stonehill curriculum. Here the student exercises considerable discretion in designing a program of study. Elective courses may be used to deepen knowledge of familiar areas or to explore new areas of educational inquiry.

Honors Program

The Stonehill College Honors Program encourages and challenges students through a curriculum taught by the most gifted and demanding professors at the College. Honors courses are designed to stimulate independent thought by combining rigorous academic standards and classroom discussions with relevant and stimulating extracurricular events. Through an enhanced learning experience in smaller classes, the program aims to lead students into lasting habits of reflection and a life of the mind that includes a full and creative engagement with the world.

Participation in the Honors Program is designed to achieve the following additional and extended outcomes:

- Increased intellectual growth and independent thinking;
- Development of effective leadership qualities;

- Recognition of a sense of place within a community of scholars;
- Ability to conduct independent research in the context of scholarship in the discipline; and
- Exploration and setting of goals beyond Stonehill College.

Curriculum

Honors Program courses are limited to 20 students, insuring that each course is taught in a seminar style that invites discussion. Faculty encourage Honors students to become engaged in the course material through ongoing dialogue and presentations, and thus to become active rather than passive learners.

Honors students will complete a minimum of five Honors courses plus a Senior Honors Experience:

- Two Honors core courses in the fall of the first year.
- Three additional Honors courses to be taken in General Education (natural scientific inquiry, social scientific inquiry, statistical reasoning, moral inquiry), major/minor, or as general electives. Honors language courses count for no more than one elective. Honors students may fulfill one three-credit course requirement for the program by taking a non-honors course for honors credit, with permission of the program director and the instructor.
- Students who enter the Honors Program in their sophomore year are required to take only three Honors courses prior to their Senior Honors Experience. With permission from the program director and the instructor, these students may also fulfill one three-credit requirement by taking a non-honors course for honors credit.
- Senior Honors Experience, composed of a senior thesis (Senior Capstone) or other substantive intellectual work.

Co-Curriculum

Honors Leadership Seminar

Honors students will develop leadership skills and contribute to the intellectual and cultural life of the college community. Honors students participate in a Leadership Seminar in the Spring Semester of the first year and are required to take initiative to effect positive changes in the community. These projects include doing volunteer work, inviting speakers to the college, organizing series of faculty lectures, helping to coordinate visits by noteworthy guests, planning entertainment and cultural events, and bringing about changes in college policies on environmental issues.

Resources

- The opportunity to apply for Honors Leadership Grants of up to $500, normally during junior or senior year, to fund leadership or expanded academic opportunities (e.g., summer or thesis research, presentations at professional conferences, academic or leadership extensions related to international study);

- Priority course registration;
- Small, seminar-style Honors courses;
- Special transcript notations;
- Recognition at graduation;
- Advising from Honors Faculty and the Honors Director; and
- Letters of verification that describe the program and list Honors coursework completed by the student.

For more information about the Honors Program, contact Prof. George Piggford, C.S.C., the Director of the Honors Program.

Pre-Professional Advising

Pre-Health Professions Advising: The Pre-Health Professions Program provides guidance to those students who intend on pursuing a career as an allopathic (MD) or osteopathic (DO) physician, dentist, optometrist, podiatrist, chiropractor, or veterinarian.

Stonehill does not offer a major in any one of the pre-health disciplines. Students planning on a career in any of the health professions most commonly choose to major in one of the sciences (Biochemistry, Biology, Chemistry, or Neuroscience); however, choosing to major in a non-science discipline is certainly a viable option. Regardless of the major you choose, what is important is that you take the courses that are prerequisites for the professional schools to which you intend to apply as well as those that will sufficiently prepare you to take the appropriate standardized entrance examination (MCAT, DAT, or OAT).

Craig Almeida, Dean of Academic Achievement, is the Pre-Health Professions Advisor. He will work closely with you to ensure that you are well-informed about and prepared for the application process for professional school. Developing a strong working relationship with Dean Almeida will ensure that you develop an appropriate four-year academic plan that not only includes the necessary prerequisite courses but also valuable clinical (e.g., shadowing, internship, work, and volunteer) and research experiences.

Pre-Allied Health Professions Advising:

Some examples of allied health professionals include nurse, nurse practitioner, physician assistant, physical therapist, nuclear medicine technologist, pharmacist, pharmaceutical scientist, medical technologist, cytotechnologist, exercise physiologist, public health specialist, biotechnologist, etc. Students who are interested in pursuing these or related careers should consult Sheila Barry, Assistant Professor of Biology and the Pre-Allied Health Professions Advisor. She can discuss with you the affiliation agreements that Stonehill College has with certain graduate programs, and what can be done to accomplish your goals. Students are not obligated to attend our affiliated schools and are welcome to apply to the programs of their choice. Professor Barry will assist in the selection of appropriate pre-requisite courses and recommend others that are beneficial to applicants.

Pre-Law Advising: A formal advising program for students interested in law school is coordinated by the Pre-Law Advisor, Professor Peter Ubertaccio. There is no required academic program for pre-law students.

Teacher Licensure Advising: Requirements differ from one state to another. The program at Stonehill currently satisfies the Massachusetts and ICC requirements. ICC (Interstate Certification Compact) approval provides for licensure in over 30 states. Students should consult with the Education Department for specific information.

Academic Partnerships

Marine Studies Consortium

Stonehill College is a member of the Marine Studies Consortium, which was organized in 1977 by representatives of twenty-five Massachusetts universities and colleges. Its primary purpose is to promote marine education. Each year the consortium offers several marine-related courses in Boston which attract undergraduate students from schools throughout the area. Credit for courses taken is granted by the student's home institution, and the grade received becomes part of the student's permanent record at the school. Students interested in enrolling in any of these courses must apply through Prof. Maura Geens Tyrrell, Department of Biology.

SACHEM Exchange Program

Stonehill College students may cross-register for courses at any of the SACHEM (Southeastern Association for Cooperation of Higher Education in Massachusetts) institutions on a space-available basis as part of their normal full-time load during the Fall or Spring semester. Winter and Summer semesters are excluded from the SACHEM exchange program. Tuition is covered within the students' full-time tuition charge at Stonehill; students are responsible for lab fees when applicable. Students must request an official transcript from the SACHEM School be sent to the Academic Services Office.

Colleges involved in the SACHEM program are the following:

- Bridgewater State College
- Bristol Community College
- Cape Cod Community College
- Dean College
- Massachusetts Maritime Academy*
- Massasoit Community College
- University of Massachusetts-Dartmouth
- Wheaton College

*Students may not cross register at Massachusetts Maritime Academy

Students may enroll in a maximum of two courses per semester at one of the above institutions, provided that the courses are not offered or are filled at Stonehill for that semester. First year students are not eligible to participate in the SACHEM program. Cross-registration is not available for General Education courses. SACHEM courses may count as major requirements with approval of Department Chair. Forms may be obtained from the Registrar's Office and final approval is granted by the Office of Academic Services and the particular college involved. In accordance with Stonehill College policy, the transfer of credit to Stonehill is given only for courses with a grade of "C" or better and only the credits received are added to the permanent record. The grade received is recorded on the permanent record at the college where the course is taken. Students are responsible for adherence to the academic regulations of the institution involved.

Engineering Dual-Degree Programs

B.A./B.S.

An agreement with The University of Notre Dame allows students completing three years at Stonehill and two years at Notre Dame to earn a Bachelor of Arts degree from Stonehill and a Bachelor of Science degree from The University of Notre Dame in one of a variety of engineering fields, including Computer Engineering, Mechanical Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Chemical Engineering, Civil Engineering, Environmental Geosciences, and Aerospace Engineering. The dual degree ensures that students will graduate with both a strong liberal arts background and the requisite knowledge for a career in an engineering field. The Stonehill degree will normally be an B.A. in Computer Science (for Computer Engineering), an B.A. in Chemistry (for Chemical Engineering) or an B.A. in Physics for the other engineering fields.

Cooperative Agreements with Simmons College (Boston, MA) for Accelerated Graduate Admissions

These agreements provide accelerated admissions for qualified Stonehill graduates into several of the Master's programs at Simmons College in Boston, Massachusetts. In the College of Arts and Sciences (CAS), the programs include: Children's Literature, Communications Management, Education (MAT and MS), English, Gender/Cultural Studies, and Spanish. In the School for Health Studies, Stonehill graduates who wish to pursue a Master's in Healthcare Administration may apply courses taken at Stonehill to the Simmons College graduate program. Interested students should contact their academic advisor, the Office of Career Services, or the Office of the Dean of Academic Achievement.

Each of the following agreements reserves a specific number of admissions slots in the program for qualified Stonehill graduates.

Chiropractic Medicine

This is an accelerated seven-year B.S./D.C. Program with Palmer College of Chiropractic, Davenport, Iowa. It involves three years of study at Stonehill College and four years of study at Palmer College of Chiropractic, leading to a B.S. in Biology from Stonehill and a Doctor of Chiropractic from Palmer College.

Students interested in this program should contact Dean Craig Almeida, the Pre-Health Professions Advisor.

Nurse Practitioner

Qualified Stonehill graduates who have successfully completed the pre-requisites will be considered for preferred admission to the Direct Entry Nursing program at Simmons College in Boston. This Nurse Practitioner program is a three-year full-time program for undergraduates with a degree in an academic discipline other than nursing, leading to an M.S. in nursing and preparation for the NP exam.

Nursing

Qualified Stonehill graduates will be admitted to the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences, Worcester, leading to certification and licensure as a Registered Nurse. This Bachelor of Science in Nursing (RN) accelerated post-baccalaureate 16-month program is for students who have met all pre-professional course requirements.

Pharmacy

Eligible Stonehill graduates may matriculate into the 34-month Doctor of Pharmacy program at Massachusetts College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences, Worcester, MA. This intensive full-time program is one of the few in the country that offers this type of accelerated course of study.

Physical Therapy

An agreement with Simmons College facilitates preferred admission for students into their graduate physical therapy program after specific requirements have been met. The 3-year Doctorate in Physical Therapy (D.P.T.) program at Simmons College, Boston, is for those who have a degree in a field other than physical therapy.

Physician Assistant (PA)

Stonehill graduates who successfully meet established criteria will be admitted to the Master of Physician Assistant Studies 30-month Program, Massachusetts College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences, Boston, or the Master of Physician Assistant Studies 24-month Program at the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences, Worcester, MA.

International Programs

Mission

The International Programs Office provides opportunities for experiential learning through study abroad, college exchange programs and international internships. The program recognizes that the understanding of other peoples' cultures not only enables students to better comprehend and provide leadership to an increasingly interdependent and complex global society, but also allows students to achieve a deeper level of self-reliance and personal understanding.

Application Process

Acceptance into any Stonehill College International Program requires that a student possess solid academic ability as demonstrated by at least a 2.8 cumulative GPA (some programs require a higher minimum GPA), a level of maturity demonstrated by responsible behavior at the College and a serious intention to learn and grow in a different cultural environment. All applicants sign a release enabling collaboration with Student Affairs personnel concerning the student's disciplinary record. Students seeking admission into any international program begin the application process by completing the online application form accessible on the web.

Individual programs may stipulate additional requirements. Second semester seniors generally are not allowed to enroll in courses elsewhere during their last semester and may do so only with the permission of the Office of Academic Services.

For more information concerning any of the programs listed below, contact the Director of International Programs.

Stonehill College Abroad Programs

Stonehill College offers a wide choice of programs which allow students to remain fully enrolled at Stonehill, paying a program fee equivalent to Stonehill tuition and fees, while maintaining their Stonehill financial aid. An abroad fee will be charged to students who choose to study away in most programs during the Spring semester.

The International Internship Program

Stonehill College sponsors a program of full-time internships in Dublin, London, Madrid and Paris. These internships provide students with the opportunity to develop competence through application of learned concepts to professional practice, and to strengthen personal development through living and working in another culture. The College offers internships in a variety of fields, including advertising, business, education, health administration, law, medical research, sociology, art, theatre, and politics.

Students approved for the program intern for fourteen weeks, during either semester of the junior year or the Fall semester of the senior year. Upon successful completion, students are granted fifteen credits. Interns in London enroll in three, 4 credit courses at Birkbeck College and earn an additional 3 credits for a two-day-a-week internship. Student in Dublin, Madrid and Paris earn 15 credits for their internship, research paper and professional journal. This program requires at least a cumulative GPA of 3.0.

Study Abroad Program

Recognizing the advantages obtained from first-hand contact with other cultures and the benefits of travel and study outside one's own country, Stonehill College allows students to spend a maximum of three semesters in an approved program of study at a foreign institution without withdrawing from the College. Stonehill cooperates with over 100 institutions in more than 35 countries.

A student's program of study, and transfer credit equivalencies, must receive approval, before departure, by the student's major Department Chairperson and the Office of Academic Services. Upon return, only courses passed with a grade equivalent to or higher than the Stonehill grade of "C" are accepted in transfer and recorded on the student's academic transcript; the grades earned are not included in the student's cumulative grade-point average. (A course whose grade corresponds at Stonehill to a "C-" will not transfer).

Non-Approved Programs

Students who study abroad without Stonehill pre-approval or in non-approved programs must withdraw from the College during their time abroad and apply for readmission. Housing upon readmission is on a space-available basis and eligibility for financial aid will be subject to regulations at the time of readmission.

Experiential and Independent Learning Programs

Stonehill Undergraduate Research Experience (SURE)

The Stonehill Undergraduate Research Experience (SURE) Program is an opportunity for students who have completed at least their first year at Stonehill to perform significant, publishable full-time research under the guidance of and in collaboration with an experienced faculty researcher. The experience, available to all disciplines, helps to solidify and define students' career choices, both through graduate school decisions and in post-college employment. All SURE Scholars receive a stipend for an eight- or ten-week full-time summer session. Applications are submitted in early December preceding the summer of participation. For further information, contact the Office of Academic Development, or log onto the SURE website.

Internships

Academic internships provide valuable educational experiences, as they facilitate student learning outside of the classroom. Qualified students may be approved to work in public and/or private organizations, where they gain first-hand knowledge of a specific field. Internships can be either full-time experiences, as with the International Internship, Stonehill in New York, Washington D.C., or Los Angeles' programs, or part-time, typically taken along with courses at the Stonehill campus. Interns have the opportunity to appreciate more fully the connections between theory and practice, to adapt to a culture outside the college environment, and to gain exposure to potential career choices. Further information regarding all internships can be found on the Career Services website.

Stonehill in Los Angeles

Students accepted into this program will intern four days a week for a full semester in Los Angeles. All students will take a designated communication course on campus during winter break. Internship placements will be based on students' interests, as well as availability. This program is administered through the Communication Department and the Office of Career Services.

Stonehill in New York

Students intern for a full semester, four days a week, while taking one class at Fordham University. This opportunity allows students to gain practical experience in a large urban setting. Placements are provided based on students' interests and housing is also available. This program is administered through the Office of Career Services and open to all majors.

Stonehill in Washington, D.C.

Stonehill College endorses two program options for students wanting to intern for a full semester in the nation's capital.

- 1) The Washington Center – Through the Center, students intern four to four-and-a-half days a week, take an elective course taught by The Washington Center's faculty in the student's chosen program, and participate in a Leadership Forum which includes distinguished speakers and site visits throughout the DC area. The Center provides housing and placements to students accepted into the program.
- 2) American University's Washington Semester – This program consists of a two-day per week internship, a weekly seminar where students meet with experts and decision-makers in their field, and a research project or elective class that can be chosen from a variety of courses. American University provides housing and access to their internship database for students accepted into the program.

These Washington D.C. Programs are open to all majors and administered through the Office of Career Services and The Martin Institute.

International Internship Program

See page 13 for details.

Directed Study

A Directed Study allows a student to investigate in-depth a subject that is not offered in the regular curriculum. Such a project is ordinarily in an area of concentration or in some field for which the student is well-prepared. A student who desires to pursue a Directed Study should first seek the cooperation of a faculty member in the appropriate discipline who will agree to supervise the work in the subsequent semester. The student then completes the application available on the Registrar's website. A student may not take more than one Directed Study in a semester without permission of the Office of Academic Services.

Independent Research

With the approval of a supervising faculty member and Department Chairperson, a student may carry out an independent research project, for academic credit, on a topic currently being studied by the faculty member or on an original project developed collaboratively by the student and faculty member. The student must complete an online application, which requires approval by the faculty member and department chair prior to registration. The form is available on the Registrar's website.

Senior Thesis

Students complete an independent scholarly work, resulting in a substantial written document, under the guidance of a faculty member and with the approval of the Department Chairperson. An online application is available on the Registrar's website and must be completed prior to registration.

Honor Societies

ALPHA KAPPA DELTA. The International Sociology Honor Society, campus chapter. Recognizes academic excellence in the study of Sociological theories and research methodologies, as well as the application of this knowledge to understanding social problems and social justice. Faculty Advisor – Prof. Margaret Boyd.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA. Campus chapter, ZETA SIGMA, of the National Honor Society in Theatre Arts. Recognizes outstanding achievement by students in educational theatre. Promotes technical and dramatic skills. Faculty Advisor – Prof. Patricia H. Sankus.

DELTA MU DELTA. Campus chapter, GAMMA GAMMA, of the National Business Honor Society. Recognizes academic achievement in the field of Business Administration. Faculty Advisor – Hilary Gettman.

EDWIN H. SUTHERLAND CRIMINOLOGY HONOR SOCIETY. Fosters a community of young scholars dedicated to enhancing their understanding of the causes, prevention, control and treatment of crime and delinquency. The Society also strives to link the social justice and service mission of the College to help its members become more well-rounded and effective academicians and practitioners in the many fields of criminology and criminal justice. Faculty Advisor – Prof. Pamela Kelley.

KAPPA DELTA PI. Campus chapter, ALPHA GAMMA BETA, of the National Honor Society in Education. Recognizes students who have shown evidence of outstanding academic achievement. Faculty Advisor: Prof. Kathleen McNamara.

LAMBDA EPSILON SIGMA. Stonehill Honor Society that recognizes academic accomplishments and fosters scholarly activities. Members selected from all major areas of concentration on the basis of academic accomplishment. Faculty Advisor – Prof. Michael E. Tirrell.

LAMBDA PI ETA. Campus chapter, ALPHA OMEGA, of the National Communication Association Honor Society. Recognizes outstanding scholastic achievement in communication studies. Faculty Advisor – Prof. Anne F. Mattina.

OMICRON DELTA EPSILON. Campus chapter, PHI, of the International Honor Society in Economics. Recognizes academic achievement in Economics. Faculty Advisor – Prof. Mark Kazarosian.

PHI ALPHA THETA. Campus chapter, NU RHO, of the International Honor Society in History. Recognizes academic achievement in History. Promotes the study of History and encourages research. Faculty Advisor – Prof. Kevin Spicer C.S.C.

PHI LAMBDA UPSILON. Honorary chemical society founded in 1899. This was the first honor society dedicated to a single scientific discipline. The aims and purposes of the society are the promotion of high scholarship and original investigations in all branches of pure and applied chemistry. Faculty Advisor – Prof. Louis Liotta.

PI SIGMA ALPHA. The Honor Society for recognition of the study of politics was founded in 1920 and has over 460 chapters nationwide. Candidates must achieve distinguished grades in the study of politics. The Society encourages students to undertake the study of politics and government in all areas of the discipline. Faculty Advisor – Prof. Peter N. Ubertaccio.

PSI CHI. Campus chapter of Psychology's National Honor Society. Recognizes and encourages scholarship for students pursuing a major or minor in Psychology. Faculty Advisor – Prof. Michael E. Tirrell.

SIGMA DELTA PI. Campus chapter, LAMBDA RHO, of the National Honor Society in Spanish. Honors those who seek and attain excellence in the study of the Spanish language and the literature and culture of Spanish-speaking peoples. Faculty advisor – Prof. Joyce M. Collins.

SIGMA TAU DELTA. International English Honor Society for which the key purpose is to confer distinction upon students engaged in the study of English and English literature at the undergraduate, graduate, and professional studies levels. Membership in the Honor Society, which recognizes high scholastic achievement, is by invitation. At present, Sigma Tau Delta has more than 750 active chapters in Europe, the Caribbean, and the United States. Faculty Advisor - Prof. Helga L. Duncan.

SIGMA ZETA. Campus chapter, ALPHA RHO, of the National Honor Society for faculty members and students in the sciences and Mathematics. Faculty Advisor – Prof. Gregory Maniero.

THETA ALPHA KAPPA. Campus chapter ALPHA GAMMA ETA, of the National Honor Society for Religious Studies/Theology. The Society promotes excellence in research, learning, teaching and publication in addition to fostering the exchange of ideas among scholars of religion and theology and those of other disciplines. Faculty Advisor – Prof. Peter H. Beisheim.

UPSILON PHI DELTA. Campus Chapter of the National Honor Society for the profession of healthcare management. Recognizes students who achieve distinction in healthcare administration, achieve academic excellence, and make outstanding contributions to the profession, and who uphold the highest ethical standards of the profession. Faculty Advisor – Rev. Thomas Gariepy, C.S.C.

Academic Resources

Centers and Institutes

Center for Nonprofit Management

The Center for Nonprofit Management at Stonehill College seeks to build the management and leadership capacity of community-based nonprofit organizations throughout southeastern Massachusetts and northern Rhode Island. The Center is focused on enhancing critical management skills, while also fostering relationships with and among the region's diverse community-based organizations so that they may better achieve their missions. Drawing on the expertise within the community and the College, including student interns, the Center conducts research and provides workshops and other learning programs for the region's nonprofit sector.

Kruse Center for Academic and Professional Excellence

Located in Cushing-Martin Hall, the Kruse Center is named for Fr. Robert J. Kruse, C.S.C., longtime faculty member, Academic Dean, and Executive Vice President. It includes the Offices of Career Services, International Programs.

Joseph W. Martin Institute for Law and Society

The Joseph W. Martin Institute for Law and Society prepares students for leadership as active citizens in service to an improved human community. The Martin Institute challenges faculty and students through rigorous, critical interdisciplinary inquiry into law and society by linking theory and practice in a curriculum based upon exploration of the vital issues of public policy and social justice. The Martin Institute is in the midst of a two-year study of Indigenous People and Culture and will host a variety of events, speakers, discussions, and films.

Student Academic Support Services

Academic Services

The Office of Academic Services develops, coordinates, and provides Academic Advising programs that enable students to reach their educational and career goals. The Office of Academic Services coordinates all of the College's resources to focus on and advocate for individual student success. The Office fosters advising and support services that bring faculty and students together to work toward intellectual and personal excellence.

Career Services

The Office of Career Services assists students in achieving their academic and/or career goals through self-assessment, career exploration, internship and employment options, and advanced degree information. Starting in the first year, students are asked to identify interests, values and skills. Sophomores are encouraged to research and explore the many careers that reflect students' strengths. Juniors define and experiment with career options through internships, research opportunities and study away experiences. Finally, seniors implement their plans by applying for jobs, graduate school or post-graduate service. The Office offers resume and cover letter critiques, mock interviews, and internship/job search advice.

Disability Services

Stonehill College is committed to providing all students equal access to learning opportunities. The Center for Academic Achievement is the campus office that works with students who have documented disabilities, in order to provide and/or arrange reasonable accommodations. Students are encouraged to visit the Center if they have, or think they may have, a disability.

Teaching Assistants and Peer Tutors

The Center for Academic Achievement coordinates supplemental instruction for students seeking to improve their academic performance at the College. With over 100 faculty-selected undergraduate Teaching Assistants and 10 Shields Scholar Mentors, the Center provides one-on-one support and small group tutoring in over 60 courses. The tutor program is certified by the College Reading and Learning Association. Students are eligible to receive Level 1 from the International Tutoring Certification Program (ITCP). All services are offered at no additional cost. Students are invited to take advantage of this great opportunity to enrich their academic experience.

Library

The MacPhaidin Library opened in 1998 and is named for Fr. Bartley MacPhaidin, C.S.C., president of the college from 1978 to 2000. The library has seating for 500 patrons, a café area with vending machines, and a collection that includes approximately 210,000 print volumes, 5,000 videos and over 9,500 online journals, databases, and e-books. There are computer labs on the first and third floors as well as computers for research in the reference area. Network connections and wireless are available throughout the building. The library's extensive electronic resources are available both on- and off-campus via the college's computer network.

Registrar's Office

The Registrar's Office is dedicated to providing quality support services that are responsive to the needs of the College community. This Office safeguards the accuracy, integrity, confidentiality, and security of the student information system and of students' academic records; and provides the accurate and timely dissemination of information. The Registrar's Office is responsible for preparing the course schedule each semester, the academic calendar, the registration process and the scheduling of rooms and labs.

The Writing Center

The Writing Center is dedicated to assisting students and faculty in the preparation of documents for course work, publication, and applications. Using a series of questions, trained student consultants lead the writer from topic to question, from question to thesis, from thesis to main points and parts, to connectives, to grammar, and to word choice. Students may walk-in or make an appointment.

The Cornerstone Program of General Education

Mission

The Cornerstone Program, which all students complete, leads them to examine critically the self, society, culture and the natural world. The program honors Stonehill College's commitment to free inquiry and social responsibility in the tradition of Catholic higher education. Through the development of the knowledge, competencies, and values that are central to the Cornerstone Program, every Stonehill student will be prepared for a life of learning and responsible citizenship.

Expectations for Students

Student-centered learning is at the heart of the Cornerstone curriculum. Through innovative learning experiences that intentionally connect knowledge of academic content with the development of core skills, students demonstrate progress in five identified outcomes: intellectual engagement, effective communication, leadership and collaboration, social responsibility and personal growth and discovery.

Intellectual Engagement

- Acquiring a breadth of knowledge in the liberal arts and sciences
- Demonstrating critical reading abilities
- Demonstrating critical thinking abilities (including qualitative and statistical reasoning)
- Integrating knowledge across disciplines

Effective Communication

- Demonstrating the ability to write clearly and effectively
- Demonstrating the ability to speak clearly and effectively in public

Leadership and Collaboration

- Demonstrating the ability to contribute effectively to the work of a group
- Demonstrating the ability to facilitate the work of a group
- Demonstrating the ability to lead the work of a group

Social Responsibility

- Valuing the diversity of persons and cultures
- Recognizing the inherent dignity of all persons
- Making informed decisions about ethical and social justice issues
- Engaging in civic life and participatory citizenship

Personal Growth and Discovery

- Developing the capacity and desire for continued learning
- Exploring and developing one's values and worldview
- Valuing free inquiry into all issues and questions of significance

The Cornerstone Program
First Year Core: Encounters	Sophomore Year: Communities	Junior Year: Connections	Senior Year: Capstone
Two courses each semester: Philosophy and Religious Studies; Literature and History; (Foreign language is usually taken in the first year.)	One of the two semesters, each student will select a Learning Community from among the many offered: A pair of faculty from different disciplines link their courses via a problem or issue understood better through joint study. Students enroll in a third course, an integrative seminar, to facilitate the multidisciplinary effort.	During this year, students select a moral inquiry course from a broad set of offerings. (The majority of courses required of student's major are taken in the last two years.) (Study abroad is typically scheduled in the sophomore or junior year.) (A domestic or international internship is typically taken in spring of the junior year or fall of the senior year.)	Each major program requires a culminating course or experience that integrates mastery of the major discipline with the content, abilities and values of the Cornerstone Program.
Distribution Requirements:
Two semesters of a foreign language, one natural scientific inquiry, one social scientific inquiry and one statistical reasoning course; some students will fulfill part of these distribution requirements through major requirements or learning communities.

Overview of the Cornerstone Program

Designed to offer all Stonehill students the breadth of knowledge that exemplifies a cross-disciplinary undergraduate education, the Cornerstone Program engages every student in the major modes of understanding the world. One course in each of four humanities disciplines is required: History; Literature; Philosophy; and Religious Studies. One course in each of three scientific/mathematical approaches to understanding the world is required: natural science; social science; statistical reasoning.

In addition to providing this foundation, the Cornerstone Program prepares students for the 21st century by fostering knowledge of other cultures, integrative thinking, and ethical responsibility as the hallmarks of global citizenship. Students complete a year-long sequence of foreign language study. In the sophomore year, students are enrolled in a Learning Community, a distinguishing feature of the program, to study an issue or problem using knowledge and skills from two disciplines. During the junior year, students take one course in moral inquiry, which may be rooted in either philosophical or religious ethics. Finally, as seniors, students demonstrate mastery of a disciplinary field of study through a carefully designed capstone course or experience. Normally, courses that fulfill the requirements of the Cornerstone Program must be taken at Stonehill College. Even courses that are standard offerings elsewhere have been revised by Stonehill faculty to meet the specific outcomes of the Cornerstone Program. (Students who wish to make the case that a course taken elsewhere does meet our criteria must provide a rationale along with a complete course syllabus, including assignments, to the Director of General Education.)

The Cornerstone Program Course Listing

NOTE: Stonehill College reserves the right to alter the year or semester during which a course is offered, or to make other changes as necessary.

First Year

Each student is enrolled in the Critical Encounters sequence, consisting of four courses in history, literature, philosophy and religious studies. In addition to providing breadth of knowledge, these courses intensively develop students' critical writing, reading, and thinking abilities. Through direct engagement with texts, students are introduced to the questions and interpretations that are formative for each of these disciplines. In most cases, students also complete a year of foreign language study (any year-long sequence of Chinese, French, German, Italian, Latin or Spanish), experiencing the diversity of human culture.

GENH 100 CRITICAL ENCOUNTERS – HISTORY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

An introduction to the study of history focusing on documentary evidence and historical writing drawn from a variety of themes and periods. Emphasizes several goals and questions, including “What is History?” and “Who Owns History?” Students will develop an awareness of primary sources and their uses, historical perspectives, historiography, and competing interpretations of crucial events in history.

GENL 100 CRITICAL ENCOUNTERS – LITERATURE

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

A historical and thematic study of literature and allied arts that places written and performance texts within the context of other works representing diverse cultures and periods. All the sections will emphasize the development of skills related to close reading (interpretation, analysis, evaluation) and precise writing.

GENP 100 CRITICAL ENCOUNTERS – PHILOSOPHY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

An introductory examination of the history and nature of Western philosophical thought from the ancient Greeks to the present. Discussion of the fundamental areas of philosophy including metaphysics (questions about what is), epistemology (questions about how we know), logic (the rules of good thinking), ethics (questions about what is good and just), social and political philosophy (questions about the relation between the individual and society), and aesthetics (questions about art and beauty).

GENR 100 CRITICAL ENCOUNTERS – RELIGIOUS STUDIES

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

An examination of the way religions have been studied as an academic discipline, focusing primarily on the theme of religious encounters: encounters with the divine as reported by seminal religious figures, encounters between religious communities, and encounters between religious and secular traditions as seen in the contemporary tensions between religion and science.

HONORS CRITICAL ENCOUNTERS

Honors versions of these four courses, numbered 140 and listed below, are offered as intensive seminars for students in the college-wide Honors Program. For more information, consult with the Director of the Honors Program.

GENH 140 HONORS CRITICAL ENCOUNTERS – HISTORY

Three Credits Fall Semester

An introduction to the study of history through documentary evidence and historical writing. Emphasizes several goals and questions, including: “What is History?” and “Who Owns History?” In this course students develop an awareness of primary sources, historical perspectives, historiography, and competing interpretations of crucial events.

GENL 140 HONORS CRITICAL ENCOUNTERS – LITERATURE

Three Credits Fall Semester

A thematic and historical study of literature and allied arts that places texts in the context of other creative work from diverse cultures and periods. The course emphasizes the development of skills related to close reading, interpretation, analysis, evaluation, and precise writing.

GENP 140 HONORS CRITICAL ENCOUNTERS – PHILOSOPHY

Three Credits Fall Semester

An introductory inquiry into the history and nature of Western philosophical thought from the ancient Greeks to the present. The course covers some of the fundamental areas of philosophy, including metaphysics, epistemology, logic, ethics, social and political theories, and aesthetics.

GENR 140 HONORS CRITICAL ENCOUNTERS – RELIGIOUS STUDIES

Three Credits Fall Semester

An examination of the way religions have been studied as an academic discipline. The course focuses primarily on the theme of religious encounters: with the divine as reported by seminal religious figures, between religious communities, and between religious and secular traditions as seen in contemporary tensions between religion and science.

Sophomore Year

Each student chooses from a variety of Learning Communities, developing the ability to integrate two disciplinary approaches to a significant issue or problem. Normally, Learning Communities include innovative experiential learning activities such as community-based learning, individualized research or short-term travel. In addition to building on the skills developed in the first year, students develop leadership and collaboration skills as well as oral presentation skills.

LEARNING COMMUNITY INTEGRATIVE SEMINARS

Learning Community Integrative seminars form the third course of each sophomore Learning Community. The two faculty guide students in the integrated use of the knowledge gained from each disciplinary course to better understand an issue or solve a problem. This active integration by the students may be prompted by a variety of teaching methods, including the traditional seminar methods, independent research, community-based learning, or short-term travel. See page 18 for Learning Community Descriptions.

Junior Year

Each student reflects further on personal and societal choices, choosing from a number of moral inquiry courses. In these courses, students continue their personal growth and discovery process as well as developing an ability to think critically about ethical issues.

Senior Year

Capstone courses at Stonehill are designed as culminating experiences, providing students with an opportunity to integrate and apply the knowledge and skills they have acquired in their chosen fields of study. Capstone activities vary by department and include internships, practica, senior theses, research colloquia, research seminars, studio seminars, and senior projects. In every case, students work closely with faculty members to bring a sense of satisfying closure to their academic experience.

Each major program requires a Capstone Course or Experience, designed to help each student integrate the knowledge, competencies and values of the Cornerstone Program with the knowledge, competencies and values of the major discipline.

Capstone Course descriptions can be found by department.

Distributions (may be taken any year)

Each student is required to complete one social scientific inquiry course, one natural scientific inquiry course, and one statistical reasoning course. In these courses, students develop an understanding of the history, methodology and values of the discipline as well as consideration of associated societal values. These courses assist students in continuing to develop as effective communicators, collaborative leaders, and engaged citizens.

Course descriptions can be found by department.

Foreign Languages

Foreign language study is an essential part of the liberal arts at Stonehill, strengthening students' communication skills, deepening their scholarly ability, preparing them for study abroad, and broadening their cultural horizons in a global age. Students typically complete this requirement in their first year. In some cases, in consultation with an advisor, students may choose to defer fulfilling this requirement to later semesters.

Course offerings and descriptions can be found under Foreign Language Department on page 55.

Natural Scientific Inquiry:

- BIO 101 Biological Principles I
- BIO 290 Scientific Methods: The Ocean
- BIO 291 Scientific Methods: Blood & Medicine
- BIO 296 Scientific Methods: Female Medical Issues
- CHM 113 General Chemistry
- CHM 195 The Science of Art
- CSC 101 From Gutenberg to Gates: Information Technology and Society
- CSC 102 Basic Programming
- CSC 195 How Computers Work

Learning Community Course Descriptions

The following descriptions represent learning communities that have been offered in the past and are meant to be illustrative. Learning Community offerings change from year to year. Current listings are available on the Registrar's website. Students select Learning Communities based on preference, but placement in the student's first choice is not guaranteed.

LC 205 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR: HCA 105/BIO 291 THE PRACTICE OF MEDICINE AND YOU

Three Credits

The seminar addresses medical issues of widespread concern: how diseases are diagnosed and treated; how structures of health care delivery affect health status; and, how patient's assertiveness intervention skills are developed for success as a patient in the modern health care system. Class involves guest lectures, visits to health care institutions, travel to the state house to see the legislative process at work, and team exercises.

LC 207 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR: CSC 201/CSC 211 MATHEMATICAL EXPERIMENTS IN COMPUTER SCIENCE

Three Credits

Computers provide us with tools to explore mathematics in deeper ways than ever before. They allow empirical testing of mathematical conjectures with elusive proofs. Computers enable us to experimentally analyze algorithms whose performance defies theoretical analysis. This LC focuses on the delicate balance between theory and practice in computer science, revealing the dual and sometimes contradictory nature of computer science as both an engineering and a mathematical discipline.

LC 209 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR: BIO211/CHM 222 ORGANIC CHEMISTRY OF THE CELL

Three Credits

Students select, read, and critique primary literature that ties together topics concurrently learned in Cell Biology and Organic Chemistry II in order to develop their abilities to understand and critically analyze the literature. The seminar culminates with student teams proposing an experiment or series of experiments that address a specific area of interest on the boundary between organic chemistry and cell biology. These proposals are presented in both written and oral forms, allowing fellow students to evaluate and expand upon the proposed ideas.

LC 225 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR: ENV 200/COM 320 CHANGE THE WORLD?

Three Credits

In this LC, students will apply knowledge from the disciplinary courses to serve organizations addressing environmental and social justice problems. Such community-based learning will help each student understand the challenges and rewards of attempting to "change the world" as well as develop a variety of transferable skills in leadership, organizing and communication.

LC 228 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR: HIS 207/REL 209 UNCOVERING JUDAISM AND NAZISM IN EUROPE

Three Credits

The third course in this LC is a travel course – students travel to Poland (Warsaw, Lublin, Krakow), the Czech Republic (Prague), and Germany (Berlin). There, they examine historical sites associated with the Nazi Holocaust, sites significant to and representative of Jewish life and religious experience in Europe before the Holocaust, and those that demonstrate the rejuvenation of Jewish life in the locations today.

LC 229 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR: REL 253/HIS 333 20TH CENTURY AMERICAN CATHOLICISM: SOCIAL AND ECCLESIAL DEVELOPMENTS

Three Credits

Through class debates, guest speakers, field trips, class discussions and group presentations, this LC will explore the historical and contemporary social teaching of the American Catholic Church.

LC 230 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR: SOC 212/CSC 101 THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

Three Credits

Using Cooley's theory of the Looking Glass Self, this LC explores how prevailing societal views about the poor and disadvantaged are reflected perspectives on social welfare and social policy. Students learn from one another as they engage in round table discussions on issues such as welfare reform, corporate welfare, universal health care, foster care legislation, and educational vouchers. Additionally, students participate in experiential learning activities, which bring greater relevancy to the policy issues being discussed.

LC 231 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR: PHL 265/WRI 247 NEW WINE

Three Credits

Welcome to the modern world. One 20th century literature course will read novels about the sense of loss and struggle for redemption. One 20th century philosophy course will look behind the screen to see where meaning and value might actually be coming from. One writing seminar will let students express, in various genres, their feelings about this modern world

LC 235 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR: MTH 261/PHY 221 QUANTUM WAVES

Three Credits Year-long Learning Community

With the creation of quantum mechanics in the 1920s, physicists conceived of a new and unexpected kind of wave that is neither a Newtonian (c. 1700) mechanical wave nor a Maxwellian (c. 1860) electromagnetic wave. These mysterious DeBroglie – Schrodinger waves of probability are the essence of quantum mechanics. These waves determine the structure of atoms and molecule, i.e. they are the deepest foundation of both physics and chemistry. While the mathematics of these quantum waves is similar to the classical waves already studied in PHY 221 and MTH 261, the physical, chemical, and philosophical consequences are breathtakingly different.

LC 237 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR:
BIO 298/ENV 270 ECOLOGY AND ETHICS
IN ACTION: RESTORING THE EVERGLADES
Three Credits

The integrative seminar of this LC is a travel course during Winter Break, camping in the Everglades! Students conduct ecological studies while exploring the ethical dimensions of the development of South Florida and the current restoration of the Everglades.

LC 240 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR:
BUS 333/PSY 204 BUILDING LEADERS
Three Credits

The LC will allow students to build leadership skills by engaging in community service learning projects in conjunction with Brockton-based service organizations. A psychology course in young adult development provides the basis for understanding the processes of learning and self-development while a business course in organizational behavior provides models for the leader's role in organizations and offers students the opportunity to assess and develop their leadership potential.

LC 245 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR: VPG
210/SOC 232 SOCIETY THROUGH THE LENS
Three Credits

"A photograph is worth a thousand words," especially those created by students learning Sociology and Documentary Photography. The students in this LC will learn the art and technique of black & white photography and how to use these skills to capture images that make people take notice of social issues such as racism, sexism, and problems of wealth and poverty in America. The knowledge they acquire in the sociology class will be connected to the photographs that they take to tell the stories of what they see as they perform community service and/or observe in the greater Brockton community.

LC 248 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR:
POL 340/BUS 336 A EUROPEAN SUPERSTATE? POLITICAL AND COMMERCIAL INTEGRATION IN THE EUROPEAN UNION
Three Credits

This LC links a political science course focused on European politics and an international business course and involves a travel course to Brussels, the seat of the European Union, over Spring Break. Students will visit the EU Commission, Parliament, and Court, as well as other groups and organizations, and conduct in-depth research of one area of EU policy/politics.

LC 254 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR:
EDU 312/ENV 200 CHILDREN SCIENCE AND
THE ARTS: CLASSROOM PRACTICE
Three Credits

This LC challenges students to use projectbased learning and environmental science to create and implement curriculum products focusing on the urban environment. Seminar hours will be a mixture of urban environmental science labs, field trips and group project time working with real teachers and real students in Brockton. (Successful completion of the project tasks will require additional time with school clients beyond the 3-hour seminar week.)

LC 255 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR:
REL 252/VPH 225 PAGANS AND CHRISTIANS:
ROOTS OF CHRISTIAN WORSHIP
Three Credits

This LC links a Fine Arts course investigating Ancient Greek and Roman urban life and a Religious Studies course exploring the New Testament. Students will travel over Spring Break to ancient sites in Italy (Paestum, Pompeii, and Rome) and visit ancient religious sites, view religious artifacts and investigate their translation by the early Christian communities.

LC 258 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR:
VPH 215/REL 303 THE MIRROR OF THE RENAISSANCE
Three Credits

During the Renaissance the Virgin Mary symbolized a broad spectrum of popular and intellectual ideas; for example, images of the Madonna and naked Christ child could emphasize the humanity Jesus shares with all people. This learning community will explore the meaning of religious images in the art and literature of Renaissance Italy and northern Europe.

LC 259 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR:
ENG 220/VPG 224 MOVING STORIES
Three Credits

This learning community will introduce students to basic structures and strategies of sequential imagery. Students will create work in animation and comics. Both narrative and non-narrative approaches will be examined. Topics covered will include pacing, design, point of view, structure, rhythm, character, and story development.

LC 260 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR:
VPM 232/VPD 256 STAGING AND PERFORMING MUSICAL THEATRE
Three Credits

In this LC students will combine acting and movement with singing and character analysis. Students will learn and perform a variety of music designed to develop their voices and acting abilities. The semester will culminate in a performance of Songs and Scenes from American Musical Theatre. We welcome students interested in theatre tech. No prior experience is necessary.

LC 261 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR:
ENG 390/ENG 220 FREUD AND THE MODERN WORLD
Three Credits

Students will examine the influence of Sigmund Freud and Freudian psychoanalysis on 19th-21st century European and American culture, as popularized across a wide range of cultural productions, including literature, the visual arts, film, television and new media

LC 262 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR:
VPS 201/VPG 200 VIEWPOINT: PUBLIC ART
IN THE COMMUNITY
Three Credits

Students will apply art historical, critical, and theoretical learning to the practical experience of creating a three dimensional public artwork for the Crescent Court Housing Project in Brockton. This will involve collaborating with the Brockton Housing Authority and the residents of the housing project in the conceptualizing, designing, and installing of this original artwork.

LC 263 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR:
ENV 200/ENV 270 UNDERSTANDING A
TIME AND PLACE: THE NATURAL HISTORY OF CAPE COD
Three Credits

Multidisciplinary study of Cape Cod as a compelling case of human-nature interaction. Though there are short weekly group meetings, this is primarily a travel course involving tent camping and exploring Cape Cod by bicycle and boat.

LC 265 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR:
BUS 320/ECO 178 THE IMPACT OF NEWS
ON FINANCIAL MARKETS
Three Credits

Using tools of finance and economics, the impact of macroeconomic data releases, business and financial news on the financial markets will be measured and evaluated. Students will work on individual and group research projects and make class presentations. Bloomberg financial software will be utilized as a tool to see the interaction between news and financial markets on a daily basis. Prerequisite for BUS 320: BUS 203.

LC 267 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR:
POL 357/REL 238 THE IMMIGRANT EXPERIENCE: LEGAL, POLITICAL, CULTURAL AND THEOLOGICAL DIMENSIONS
Three Credits Year Long Learning Community

Students will critically reflect on and analyze the multiple dimensions of the present day immigrant situation they encounter from their placements in a variety of Immigration Centers in Fall River, Brockton, and Boston. The seminar will provide community-based learning and skill development so that students can study and experience directly the effects of government policy on the lives of individuals and families. The theological reflection and social analysis will assist students in the integration of the theoretical component studied in the courses. Prerequisite for POL 357: POL 123, POL 171, or POL 241

LC 268 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR:
VPM 240/PSY 271 THE MAKING OF MUSICAL MINDS: RESEARCH IN THE PSYCHOLOGY OF MUSIC

Three Credits Year Long Learning Community

In this LC, students will gain a basic knowledge of musical theory and structure and then use this language to explore recent research in the psychology of music through their own research and presentations. Students take Music Theory in the fall semester and apply this knowledge in the spring Seminar as they read, critique and present empirical studies on music perception/cognition, the development of musical preferences, the social psychology of music, and related topics. In Research Methods, also taken in the spring, they draw on this scientific literature to design, conduct and write-up an experiment on a topic in the psychology of music. Note: Introduction to Statistics (PSY 261) is a prerequisite for the Research Methods course. All students must complete PSY 261 before (not during) the spring semester of the Learning Community.

LC 269 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR:
BUS 333/ BUS 336 CULTURE AND COMMERCE OF THE SOUTHERN MEDITERRANEAN

Three Credits

Both courses are multidisciplinary and deal with the interface of culture and organizations, the first from a micro-perspective and the second from a macro-perspective. This LC draws upon the disciplines of economics, psychology, sociology and anthropology to provide students with a context within which to understand behavior within and among organizations engaged in global commerce. A spring break travel component to locations in the central and southern Mediterranean include lectures at the universities, visits to industrial sites, and visits to historical and cultural sites. In the spring of 2011, the class will travel to Egypt.

LC 272 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR:
BUS 336/COM 313 WOMEN'S GLOBAL ISSUES

Three Credits

This LC will explore women's issues in a global context, a theme that integrates the Gender and Communication and International Business courses. We will examine how women's voices are encouraged and expressed in different cultures and organizations. Specific topics will include: violence against women, women's human rights, women leaders, women-owned businesses, marriage and motherhood, work and family balance, and other relevant topics. This LC will incorporate invited speakers, peer presentations, lectures, readings, discussions, and on-campus and off-campus events relating to the subject area. Students will have the opportunity to research a topic of their choice for the concluding project. Both women and men are welcome to enroll in this LC.

LC 278 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR:
GENL 140/GENP 140 FROM RUSSIA WITH LOVE (AND LAUGHTER, AND MADNESS, AND BEAUTY, AND REVOLUTION AND SUFFERING)

Three Credits

The issue being examined: The cliché of all clichés about Russian Literature holds that it is "philosophical." Let's see how philosophy and literature (and other arts) illuminate/challenge/support one another, using texts selected by the students (from a list prepared by the instructors) as our material, and small, student-led reading groups (5 students per group) as our means. For First Year Honors Students (Class of 2013) Only.

LC 279 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR:
ENV 200/ REL 335 SWAMP WALKS AND ROADSIDE SHRINES: THE RELIGION AND SCIENCE OF PLACE

Three Credits

The seminar of this LC is a travel course during Winter Break, camping in the Everglades! Students will conduct environmental science analyses of the development of South Florida and the current restoration of the Everglades. We will also examine the role the environment plays, could play, or should play in the life of the human community – and vice versa, the importance of the human community with respect to the environment-exploring the various religious traditions and communities of South Florida. We'll spend 8 nights camping in the Everglades (approximate dates: January 2nd through 10th). Tents and cooking supplies will be provided. Students must bring sleeping bags.

LC 280 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR:
REL 335/ VPS 260 COLLISION COURSES:
ART + RELIGION?

Three Credits

We believe that art and religion offer opportunities for students to discover the language – either literal or figurative – with which to explore the significance of their life journeys. This LC will be the place where theory and practice collide. Designed and run by the students with the consultation of the two faculty, it will combine visits to local New England sacred sites and museums, interviews with working artists and theologians, and discussion of the interaction of art and religion with the goal of producing a final report on the students' discoveries. For Honors Students Only.

LC 281 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR:
HIS 330/ VPH 226 ART AND CIVIC CULTURE
IN URBAN NEIGHBORHOODS

Three Credits

In this LC we will explore issues of identity, place, and cultural synthesis through a community-based learning project that brings together Stonehill students and Brockton residents to create an integrated public art project that engages with local history.

LC 282 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR:
BIO 200/ PSY 415 NEUROSCIENCE:
MIND, BODY, COMMUNITY

Three Credits

What makes us who we are? Is it our experiences? Is it our memory of our experiences? Is it our relationships with others? Is it our ability to know our loved ones? Neuroscientists have shown that brain disorders can selectively destroy each of these aspects of who we are. This LC combines aspects of biology (Topics in Biology) and psychology (Brain and Behavior) with a truly unique and exciting experience in that students will participate in community-based service learning at the Yawkey House of Possibilities, a facility on the Stonehill campus that provides care for children with neurodevelopmental illness. By combining these three experiences students will gain a deep and integrative insight into neurodevelopment from psychological, biological and personal perspectives.

LC 283 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR:
SOC 316/ HIS 241 INTO THE WOODS:
CULTURAL TOURISM, HISTORY AND FOLKLORE

Three Credits

The issue being examined is how folklore, history and myth intersect and contradict in popular representations of Eastern Europe (past and present) that are crafted for the tourist trade.

LC 284 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR:
BUS 320/ COM 315 BUSINESS AND COMMUNICATION IN CHINA: CHANGES AND CHALLENGES

Three Credits

This is a travel LC designed to offer students not only a cross-disciplinary understanding of business and communication in modern China from a theoretical/conceptual perspective but also first-hand exposure to the changes and challenges China faces in business and communication. The LC will take students to China on a 10-day faculty-led trip in the spring semester of 2010. With its fast and vast changes and development, China has currently become a center of international business activities and is a driving force for global growth and integration. With its unprecedented social and economic transformation and its unique transition from a centrally-managed economy to a more market-based economy, China offers plenty of opportunities to see and learn about the social impact of its metamorphosis in terms of business and communication from domestic and global perspectives.

This LC offers a cross-disciplinary approach, covering communications, business and finance, and exposes students to the larger Chinese historical, social and cultural environment. While in China, students will attend lectures or seminars offered by business scholars and practitioners on the campus of the University of International Business and Economics (UIBE) in Beijing, and they will also participate in field trips to business operations and cultural and historical sites in Beijing and its vicinity. Students will benefit greatly from this learning experience not only academically but also when they pursue internships and employment. BUS 320 requires a prerequisite of BUS 203 and COM 315 requires a prerequisite of COM 105.

LC 287 INTERGRATIVE SEMINAR:
ENV 200/VPS 233 EXPLORING THE CAPE
THROUGH ART AND SCIENCE

Three Credits

Knowledge of the natural world, and of human roles within it, requires paying attention to the often subtle and complex ways in which nature works. The science course provides context and theory, applicable to most ecosystems, while the art course teaches the skill of carefully observing and visually representing natural subjects and landscapes through drawing and painting. In the May travel course, students will bring art and science together to develop a deeper understanding of the environmental realities of Cape Cod.

LC 290 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR:
CRM 224/VPS 310 MENTORING THROUGH ART – THEORY AND PRACTICE

Three Credits

This LC is a unique year-long immersion in art, community service and sociology. Students are paired with “kids at risk” from the greater Brockton area to create photographic-based art projects and to act as mentor to the child. To further students’ understanding of their outreach experience, they will take CRM 432 Seminar on At-Risk Families and Youth, in the Spring and explore the issues involved in at-risk adolescence. No experience in photography or social work is required. You will learn the basics of photography while building an experience that will stay with you for a lifetime. Students with an interest not only in art, but in Sociology, Psychology, Art Therapy and Education, all are encouraged to participate.

LC 291 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR:
POL 291/VPM 239 INDIGENOUS PEOPLES
IN THE AMERICAS: MUSIC, CULTURE, AND GOVERNANCE

Three Credits

Students will explore in-depth the politics, culture and music of indigenous people in the Americas. This includes travel to Peru during January break. A case study of indigenous populations in Peru will be done. Much of the travel time will be spent in Lima. The trip is designed for students to witness and study the economic, social, and political divisions in Latin America. Students will immerse themselves in indigenous culture and music and learn how music bridges political and socioeconomic gaps. The travel experience will provide a foundation for students to study and research indigenous populations.

LC 292 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR:
HIS 380/VPH 226 ART AND CIVIC CULTURE
IN URBAN NEIGHBORHOODS

Three Credits

In this LC we will explore issues of identity, place, and cultural synthesis through a community-based learning project that brings together Stonehill students and Brockton residents to create an integrated public art project that engages with local history.

LC 293 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR:
AMS 320/VPM 235 DANGEROUS CURVES:
THE ART OF THE GUITAR

Three Credits

This learning community explores the history and literature of the guitar as instrument, icon, and artifact, focusing chiefly on the American cultural context from the nineteenth century to the present. Linking a course in American Music in the 20th Century and an American Studies seminar with an interdisciplinary approach, we will track various kinds of American music, including classical, popular, blues, ragtime, jazz, folk, and rock. Students will engage in independent research of styles, composers, and performers and will experiment with musical performance. We will also examine the guitar as decorative object and cultural symbol, reviewing traditional manufacturing history (of Martin, Gibson, Fender, etc.) and recent developments in electronic gaming (Guitar Hero, etc.). Through the study of live and recorded music, students will be exposed to a variety of musical genres, familiar and unfamiliar. For a final project, students will assemble and customize their own electric guitar or bass, a fully functional instrument that visually expresses a key aspect of the LC. Although proficiency on the guitar is not required, openness to experimentation and performance is a must! There will be an additional $300 lab fee for this LC.

LC 294 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR:
SOC 232/VPT 216 SOCIAL PROBLEMS AND PERFORMANCE

Three Credits

Through play readings and performance, difficult social problems such as: race, gender, sexuality, poverty, crime, drugs, globalization, oppression, will be presented, discussed and analyzed. Students in this LC will be exposed to a variety of playwrights and material that use the medium of theatre as a way to tackle many of the most difficult issues facing us today. The end goal of the LC is a performance presentation that will not only allow an understanding of the play texts but will also expose the Stonehill community to these social problems.

LC 295 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR:
BIO 118/BIO 296 HEALTH PROMOTION AND DISEASE PREVENTION

Three Credits

This LC will examine current diseases/illnesses affecting the U.S. population and research how we can increase the quality and years of healthy life through effective prevention and treatment initiatives. Community based service learning will be an integral part of this course. This LC is recommended for those interested in public health, health care, or any medical field.

LC 296 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR:
POL 351/SOC 216 THE PARADOX OF SOVEREIGNTY: NATIVE NATIONS, PUBLIC POLICY, AND THE POLITICS OF POWER

Three Credits

The Paradox of Sovereignty refers to the complex, dynamic relationship between Native American tribes and American democracy. This learning community will explore the questions of who are contemporary Native peoples and how do we understand their place in the larger American polity. Students will examine the legal, social and historical context of Native nations and analyze the complex legal and political relationships within American government. Students will also gain expertise in policy analysis by working with real world clients from Native nations. The combined seminar will offer students the unique opportunities to directly learn from and experience a variety of Native communities locally and throughout the United States.

LC 299 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR:
SOC 101/VPT 216 SOCIETY ON STAGE

Three Credits

This LC will explore pressing social questions (about race, gender, social class, religion, etc.) through the dual lens of sociology and theater. Students will read plays, attend performances, and dig into sociology’s challenging topics with the goal of coming to a greater understanding of how people utilize different vehicles to interpret and inform others of some of society’s most pressing issues. The integrated seminar will culminate with a public performance through which students will have the opportunity to express their own perspectives on fundamental issues confronting society today.

American Studies is a broad interdisciplinary major in which students explore the people, places and cultural artifacts of the United States. As American Studies majors, students examine American culture and society using approaches and methods from several different disciplines. American Studies majors typically take courses in History, English, Sociology, Communications, Political Science, Economics, Fine Arts, and Religion among others. The wide range of courses enables students to explore ideas and concepts across several disciplines and methodologies. True to the Liberal Arts tradition, students have the opportunity to draw upon the strengths of faculty in several departments. A major in American Studies is sometimes paired with another major such as History, Education, Political Science, Fine Arts or Communication. Graduates from this program have entered careers in museums, law, public administration, teaching, marketing and journalism. The American Studies Program leads to a Bachelor of Arts degree.

Mission of the Program

At Stonehill, the American Studies major is built upon our belief that the study of American society and culture allows students to develop skills in critical inquiry, communication, cultural knowledge, and self-reflection that in turn engender students' desire to shape the world beyond their classroom. As American Studies majors, students pursue a program of study that explores the values and beliefs that have shaped the experience of the American people. Through exploring "what is America?" and "who are Americans?" students will have the opportunity to position themselves as products as well as shapers of American culture. The major is also built upon a commitment to civic engagement, public service and social stewardship through internships, student teaching and community partnerships. Faculty members work with students individually, helping them to create a program of study according to their interests and goals. True to Stonehill's broader mission, we seek to provide students the intellectual breath and critical tools necessary for creating a more just and compassionate world.

Major

To complete a major in American Studies, students must take 11 courses. At least five courses must be taken after the student has either declared an American Studies major or taken the Introduction to American Studies course.

The major's two required courses AMS 200 Introduction to American Studies (usually taken during Freshman or Sophomore year) and AMS 420 Seminar in American Studies (taken Junior or Senior year) provide students with an understanding of interdisciplinary methodology at the onset of their career in the major, and the opportunity to apply this methodology to their own research interests.

Of the other nine courses in the major, four are elective courses (200-300 level) from an approved list. Students are particularly encouraged to complete an internship, practicum or independent project (such as the S.U.R.E. program) which will provide opportunities for collaborative learning, field research and public/community service. Students may not count more than two internships or independent studies towards their major requirements.

The other five required courses form the student's concentration. All majors with the help of the American Studies advisor will develop a specialized concentration. The concentration, made up of five courses in at least two different disciplines, will define a coherent area of specialization within the major by focusing on a particular problem, topic, or area of American society and culture. Students may choose from suggested concentrations including difference and diversity, popular culture, representations, material culture and cultural politics, or propose a student-designed thematic concentration. Successful focus areas might include a collection of courses around a specific time period, such as the 1960s or a particular issue, such as Education, Race and Class in Modern America. As part of their concentration proposals, students may petition that courses not presently listed as American Studies courses be approved for the major concentration. To be eligible for concentration credit, courses must be recommended by the advisor and approved by the American Studies Steering Committee. Students must select from the following courses:

American Studies

- AMS 200 Introduction to American Studies
- AMS 320 Topics in American Studies
- AMS 420 Seminar in American Studies
- AMS 475 Internship in American Studies
- AMS 490 Directed Study in American Studies

Communication

- COM 203 Studies in Persuasion
- COM 207 Media Criticism
- COM 220 Understanding Film
- COM 307 Freedom of Speech
- COM 313 Gender and Communication
- COM 318 Persuasion and Social Movements
- COM 319 Political Communication
- COM 323 Honors – Film Censorship and American Culture
- COM 330 Media Regulation
- JRN 222 Development of American News Media

Criminology

- CRM 224 Juvenile Delinquency
- CRM 322 Violent Crime and Federal Initiatives
- CRM 430 Race, Class and Gender in the Criminal Justice System

Economics

- ECO 205 Economics of Social Issues and Public Policy

AMS 200 INTRODUCTION TO AMERICAN STUDIES

Three Credits Fall Semester

Introduction to the study of America from an interdisciplinary perspective, emphasizing critical analysis of culture through exploration of a wide range of cultural artifacts including literary and historical texts, visual images and material objects. Students will examine the many aspects of thought, expression, and behavior that have shaped and defined the complex society of the United States while exploring their own relationship to America's diverse history and culture. Of particular concern are the diverse cultural experiences and meaning that shape individual and collective notions of American identity.

AMS 320 TOPICS IN AMERICAN STUDIES

Three Credits

Offers the opportunity to study a specific issue or topic in American Studies in greater depth. Seminar format focuses on classroom discussions and research. Topic will be announced prior to registration. May be taken more than once.

AMS 420 SEMINAR IN AMERICAN STUDIES

Three Credits Spring Semester

Provides research tools, strategies, and guidance for the elaboration of a significant research project in an area of American cultural studies with emphasis on the collaborative selection and research of issues for discussion as well as on sharing the process of project development. The specific content of this course varies with the instructor. Prerequisites: Junior Standing

AMS 475 INTERNSHIP IN AMERICAN STUDIES

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Practical experience in a local organization such as a government office, museum, arts agency, or social action group. Allows students to translate American Studies theory and method into professional skills and opportunities.

AMS 490 DIRECTED STUDY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

An in-depth interdisciplinary study of a question under the tutorial direction of a faculty member.

The Biochemistry Program, offered through the Departments of Biology and Chemistry, grants a B.S. and a minor in Biochemistry. The elucidation of life processes at the molecular level is the principal goal of biochemistry. Biochemistry is a discipline, yet at the same time it is an interdisciplinary science drawing many themes from the disciplines of Biology and Chemistry. It is distinctive, however, in its emphasis on the following three areas of study: (1) the chemical composition and three-dimensional structures of biomolecules and macromolecular assemblies; (2) the molecular mechanisms of enzymatic catalysis and regulation of biochemical reactions; and (3) the metabolic reactions which synthesize and degrade biomolecules, with an emphasis on bioenergetics.

Major

The Biochemistry major conforms to the recommendations of the American Society of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology. Through a rigorous course of study with a strong emphasis on the learn-by-doing approach, the Biochemistry Program is committed to providing the practical knowledge and skills necessary for graduate study in biochemistry, chemistry, molecular biology, genetics and biotechnology, or admission to professional school. It will also enable students to obtain skilled technical positions after graduation in research laboratories in universities, biotechnology or pharmaceutical development industries, hospitals and government agencies. Juniors and seniors are encouraged to apply for off-campus internships in biochemistry. In addition, each junior and senior Biochemistry major presents two program seminars covering information from the current biochemical literature as well as writing and defending a senior thesis, usually relating to research they have completed.

The course of study normally pursued by Biochemistry majors is:

First YearFall Semester

- BIO 101 Biological Principles I¹
 CHM 113 General Chemistry I
 MTH 125 Calculus I

Spring Semester

- BIO 102 Biological Principles II
 CHM 221 Organic Chemistry I
 MTH 126 Calculus II

Sophomore YearFall Semester

- BIO 211 Cell Biology
 CHM 222 Organic Chemistry II
 PHY 121 Physics I

Spring Semester

- BIO 202 Genetics
 CHM 244 Inorganic Chemistry
 PHY 122 Physics II

Junior YearFall Semester

- BCH 343 Biochemistry I
 CHM 331 Analytical Chemistry²
 CHM 333 Physical Chemistry I
 BIO 304 Molecular Biology
 (or BIO 309 in Spring)
 BCH 449 Biochem. Sem. & Thesis³

Spring Semester

- BCH 344 Biochemistry II
 BCH 345 Biochemistry Laboratory
 BIO 309 Microbiology (or BIO 304 in Fall)
 BCH 449 Biochem. Sem. & Thesis³

Senior YearFall Semester

- BCH 449 Biochem. Sem. & Thesis³

Spring Semester

- BCH 449 Biochem. Sem. & Thesis³

Additional Requirements

- BCH 496 Independent Research
 or
 BCH 475 Internship in Biochemistry or other research experience approved by the Director of the Biochemistry Program
 One 300 or 400 level Biology (BIO) or 300 or 400 level Chemistry (CHM) course

¹Fulfills the Natural Scientific Inquiry requirement of the Cornerstone Program

²Fulfills the Statistical Reasoning requirement of the Cornerstone Program

³Seminar and Thesis is required in each semester of the junior and senior years and satisfies the Capstone Experience requirement of the Cornerstone Program. Four credits are obtained in the second semester of the senior year.

Biochemistry majors desiring an American Chemical Society certified degree must have at least 76 hours of additional, for credit, chemistry or biochemistry laboratory experience over the laboratory experience associated with the courses specifically required for the biochemistry major.

Minor

The Biochemistry minor provides a strong foundation in molecular and cellular biology and chemistry for those students wanting flexibility to pursue additional preparation in other disciplines such as business, English, mathematics, philosophy, or psychology. The requirements are:

BIO 101 Biological Principles I
 BIO 211 Cell Biology
 BIO 202 Genetics
 CHM 113 General Chemistry I
 CHM 221 Organic Chemistry I
 CHM 222 Organic Chemistry II
 CHM 232 General Chemistry II
 CHM 244 Inorganic Chemistry
 BCH 343 Biochemistry I
 BCH 345 Biochemistry Laboratory

Departmental Honors Program

Students who complete the Biochemistry Honors Program will be awarded a degree "with honors in Biochemistry." Biochemistry majors, typically in their junior year, will be designated honors candidates if the following conditions are met:

- completion of BIO 101, BIO 102, BIO 202, BIO 211, CHM 113, CHM 221, CHM 222, CHM 244, MTH 125, MTH 126, PHY 201 and PHY 202;
- an overall grade-point average of at least 3.4; and
- a science (Biochemistry, Biology and Chemistry) grade-point average of at least 3.4.

To successfully complete the Biochemistry Honors Program, a student must subsequently:

- maintain the above overall and science grade-point averages; and
- conduct research approved by the Program Director; and earn at least a "B+" on both the thesis and thesis defense required for BCH 449 Biochemistry Seminar and Thesis. Ordinarily, this thesis will be based on thesis research, internship, S.U.R.E. project, or other college-level research experience; however, an in-depth library research thesis is acceptable.

Contact the Biochemistry Program Director for additional details and deadlines.

Course Offerings

BCH 343 BIOCHEMISTRY I

Three Credits Fall Semester

Structure and dynamics of amino acids, peptides and proteins. Enzyme mechanisms and kinetics. Function and mechanisms of coenzymes, survey of carbohydrates, lipids, biological membranes and nucleic acids. An introduction to the bioenergetics and mechanisms of metabolism. Prerequisite: CHM 222.

BCH 344 BIOCHEMISTRY II

Three Credits Spring Semester

A comprehensive examination of metabolism of carbohydrates, lipids, proteins and nucleic acids. Prerequisite: BCH 343.

BCH 345 BIOCHEMISTRY LABORATORY

Three Credits Spring Semester

Application of modern techniques to the characterization of biomolecules with an emphasis on proteins and nucleic acids; analysis of enzyme kinetics; and basic techniques used in molecular biology, including DNA isolation, cloning, sequencing and analysis of gene products. Prerequisite: BCH 343.

BCH 449 BIOCHEMISTRY SEMINAR AND THESIS

Four Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

All third- and fourth-year Biochemistry and Chemistry majors meet with the entire Biochemistry Program and Chemistry Department faculty once a week for both internal and external presentations. During the fall semester of the third and fourth years, each student is required to prepare and present a half-hour seminar on a topic of his/her choice found in a current professional journal. During the fall semester of the fourth year, each student will be expected to write a thesis. Preferably the thesis will cover experimental and theoretical research that the student has actually done. Each student will be expected to defend his/her thesis in the spring semester of the fourth year. Four credits are obtained in the second semester of the fourth year. Prerequisite: Junior standing.

BCH 475 INTERNSHIP IN BIOCHEMISTRY

Three to Fifteen Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Opportunity to obtain research or practical experience in biochemistry at an industrial, government, hospital or university setting. Approval of the site supervisor and the Director of the Biochemistry Program required.

BCH 490 DIRECTED STUDY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Investigation in some field for which the student has special interest not covered by a normally-scheduled course. Student must present plans in advance of pre-registration to some full-time faculty member who will agree to direct and evaluate the project. Prerequisite: Approval of the faculty member directing the project and the Director of the Biochemistry Program required.

BCH 496 INDEPENDENT RESEARCH

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Opportunity for students to do an advanced research project in a specialized area under the direction of a member of the Biochemistry faculty. Prerequisite: Approval of the faculty member directing the project and the Director of the Biochemistry Program required.

BCH 497 BIOCHEMISTRY SENIOR THESIS

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Students complete an advanced research project in a specialized area under the direction of a Biology or Chemistry faculty member, resulting in a senior thesis. This course will be graded on a pass/fail basis. Prerequisites: Senior standing in the Program; approval of both the faculty member directing the project and the Director of the Biochemistry Program required.

The Department of Biology offers both major and minor programs in Biology.

The Biology Department's curriculum provides balanced instruction across all areas of biology: molecular, cellular, organismic, evolutionary and environmental. Students completing the major are prepared for entry into graduate programs in the life sciences and professional programs in medical, allied health and environmental fields. The major also prepares graduates for direct entry into clinical, industrial, research, teaching, or government careers. Because the curriculum is part of a liberal arts degree, Biology majors also have the option of pursuing a wide variety of non-science careers.

The Department's philosophy is that students learn by doing. Laboratory and fieldwork are integral to most courses. All students complete and present the results of a research project as a requirement for several courses. For qualified students who are interested in research, the learn-by-doing philosophy is extended through faculty-mentored research opportunities during the academic year and the Stonehill Undergraduate Research Experience (S.U.R.E.) program during the summer. Students participating in these programs collaborate directly with faculty and conduct independent research. Departmental interns have the opportunity to work in a wide variety of off-campus research and clinical facilities. These regional and international internships are available through enrollment in the Internship in Biological Sciences course and make it possible for students to gain hands-on experience in a wide range of areas.

The College supports the Biology Department's effort to remain current in fields where rapid technological and theoretical advances have become the norm. The Department is committed to incorporating the best of the new into its curriculum without neglecting the classical areas of Biology, which remain critical to a broad, liberal arts-based education in the life sciences.

Major

The Biology major curriculum fulfills entrance requirements for medical, dental and graduate schools and for medical technology programs. It is also recommended for careers in research, academia, allied health fields, private enterprise, or government service. Students completing the major sequence and their General Education courses will graduate with a solid foundation in biological science and a broad educational background. Students enrolled in the major are encouraged to strengthen their career preparation by completing an internship, directed study, or research project before graduation.

First year:

BIO 101 Biological Principles I
 BIO 102 Biological Principles II
 CHM 113 General Chemistry I
 CHM 221 Organic Chemistry I
 MTH 125 Calculus I
 MTH 126 Calculus II

Sophomore, Junior, and Senior years:

- Four Core courses:
 BIO 202 Genetics
 BIO 211 Cell Biology
 BIO 323 Evolution
 BIO 307 Ecology (recommended) OR
 BIO 303 Environmental Botany OR
 BIO 305 Marine Ecosystems
- Three Organismic courses, at least one from each category below:
Structural Organismic:
 BIO 201 Embryology of the Vertebrates
 BIO 301 Parasitology
 BIO 309 Microbiology
 BIO 311 Comparative Vertebrate Anatomy
 BIO 413 Histology
 BIO 423 Virology
Functional Organismic:
 BIO 213 Basic Clinical Laboratory Science
 BIO 304 Molecular Biology
 BIO 312 Vertebrate Physiology
 BIO 324 Endocrinology
 BIO 406 Ethology
 BIO 409 Immunology
 BIO 412 Neuroscience
 BIO 416 Adaptation to the Environment

- One 300-400 level biology course selected after consultation with the academic advisor
- Capstone Experience (senior year)
- Other science courses:
 CHM 222 Organic Chemistry II
 CHM 232 General Chemistry II
 PHY 201 Basic Physics I OR
 PHY 121 Physics I

Major Field Test in Biology

All juniors and seniors majoring in Biology must take the Major Field Test in Biology.

Capstone Requirement in Biology

Several options fulfill this requirement. All must integrate sub-disciplines within biology, connect this work within biology to a broader view of academics and society, and present that work in oral and written form.

Capstone Options:

Options 2-4 below require written approval from the faculty member supervising the Capstone project and the department chair.

1. Enroll as a senior in BIO 406 (Ethology), BIO 409 (Immunology), BIO 421 (Scientific Critique), or BIO 423 (Virology).
2. Petition to have any 3-400 level Biology class (taken in the senior year) fulfill the capstone requirement. This option will probably result in additional work in that class.
3. Perform a directed study, independent research, internship or S.U.R.E. project, and write a paper based on this work, and present this in an open seminar format.
4. Present work done in a non-biology course to fulfill the Capstone requirement. This work must contain a very strong biology component and deal with larger societal issues associated with the project.

Departmental Honors Program

Students who complete the Honors Program in Biology will be awarded a degree "with honors in Biology." Departmental Honor Scholars must satisfy the following criteria:

- Overall GPA of 3.5
- GPA of 3.2 in science courses (Biochemistry, Biology, Chemistry, Physics)
- Meet either of the following criteria on a national standardized achievement test in biology:
 - 1) score within the top 10% of Stonehill students on the Major Field Test in Biology (MFT; Educational Testing Service, Princeton, NJ); or
 - 2) score within the top 30% of students nationally who have taken either the MFT in Biology, or Graduate Record Examination either in Biology or in Biochemistry, Cell, and Molecular Biology (Educational Testing Service, Princeton, NJ)

- Submit, and present orally, an acceptable ("B" or better) honors thesis, which is evaluated by a panel of three science faculty. Ordinarily, this thesis will be based on a directed study, internship, S.U.R.E. project, or other college-level research experience.

Pre-Health Professions

Students interested in pursuing a career as an allopathic (MD) or osteopathic (DO) physician, dentist, optometrist, podiatrist, chiropractor, or veterinarian should refer to page 12 for information regarding Pre-Health Professions Advising.

The Biology Department has developed a number of cooperative agreements with post-graduate programs in the Health Sciences. These agreements reserve a number of admissions slots in these programs for qualified Stonehill graduates. We have agreements with:

- The 30-month Master of Physician Assistant Studies Program at the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences-Boston.
- The 24-month Master of Physician Assistant Studies Program at the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences-Worcester.
- The 16-month Bachelor of Science in Nursing (RN) Program at the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences – Worcester.
- The 34-month Accelerated Doctor of Pharmacy (PharmD) Program at the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences – Worcester.
- The Seven-Year Accelerated B.S./D.C. Program between Stonehill College and Palmer College of Chiropractic.
- The three-year Direct Entry Nurse Practitioner program (M.S. in Nursing) at Simmons College.
- The three-year Doctorate in Physical Therapy (D.P.T.) program at Simmons College.

Please refer to page 12 for details regarding each of these agreements.

Minor

The Biology minor provides a broad introduction to the biological sciences for students majoring in other disciplines. A variety of courses are available to help students whose long-term goals would be enhanced by knowledge of biology (for example, careers or graduate study in fields such as biotechnology, biophysics, anthropology, clinical psychology, public policy, healthcare administration, or genetic counseling). Courses used to fulfill requirements for the minor should be selected with the help of the Biology minor advisor or another advisor in the department. The requirements for the minor are:

- BIO 101-102 Biological Principles I & II OR BIO 103-104 Human Anatomy and Physiology I & II
- Four upper-division (200-level or above) courses in Biology. Biology courses in the BIO 290 series (BIO 290-299) may not be taken to fulfill this requirement.

Course Offerings

BIO 101 BIOLOGICAL PRINCIPLES I (Natural Scientific Inquiry)

BIO 102 BIOLOGICAL PRINCIPLES II

Four Credits Each Fall and Spring Semesters

Fall semester introduces the concepts of molecular biology, the cell, energetics, genetics, and ecology. Spring semester is an introduction to the structure, function, and diversity of living organisms. Three hours of laboratory per week. (CORE). Prerequisite for BIO 102: BIO 101.

BIO 103 HUMAN ANATOMY AND PHYSIOLOGY I

BIO 104 HUMAN ANATOMY AND PHYSIOLOGY II

Four Credits Each Fall and Spring Semesters

Introduction to the human body. Fall semester focus includes integument, skeleton, muscles, and nervous system. Spring semester focuses on circulatory, respiratory, digestive, urogenital and endocrine systems. Three hours of laboratory per week.

BIO 118 NUTRITION AND WELLNESS

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Concepts of general nutrition, such as healthy diets, vitamin supplements, sports nutrition, and eating disorders. Emerging topics include genetically modified foods, fad diets, and the global impact on our everyday food choices. Recommended for non-science majors.

BIO 119 THIS IS YOUR BODY UNDER STRESS

Three Credits Fall Semester

Exploration of the neuroendocrine definition of stress and how this definition continues to evolve. Provides a critical examination of our current understanding of the effects of stress on the body. Serves as an introduction to anatomy and physiology as we examine the normal functions of each bodily system and then examine how the system changes when stress is perceived and/or experienced.

NOTE: For BIOLOGY MAJORS: BIO 101 - BIO 102 are prerequisites for all the following courses except BIO 200, BIO 218, BIO 290, or BIO 299. For BIOLOGY MINORS: Either BIO 101 - BIO 102 or BIO 103 - BIO 104 may serve as prerequisites for the following courses. Students lacking the prerequisites for a course may enroll in that course, but only with consent of the instructor.

BIO 200 TOPICS IN BIOLOGY

Three Credits Fall Semester

This course utilizes primary literature to examine biological topics. The objective is to facilitate student learning by combining critical reading of the primary literature with discussion and short lectures to provide background. Assessment will involve oral presentations, written work and tests. Course may be taken twice, if topics differ. Prerequisite: BIO 101

BIO 201 EMBRYOLOGY OF THE VERTEBRATES

Four Credits Spring Semester

Comparative vertebrate ontogeny, gametogenesis, early development, organogenesis. Two hours of laboratory per week. (STRUCTURAL ORGANISMIC) Prerequisite: BIO 101 - BIO 102.

BIO 202 GENETICS

Four Credits Spring Semester

Classical genetics of eukaryotes, the biochemistry of gene function, and genetics of prokaryotes and viruses. Laboratory work stresses classical and molecular genetics research techniques. Three hours of laboratory per week. (CORE) Prerequisite: BIO 101 - BIO 102.

BIO 211 CELL BIOLOGY

Four Credits Fall Semester

An overview of eukaryotic cell structure and function. Topics include: mechanisms of protein processing, vesicular transport, intercellular and intracellular communication; cell cycle regulation; cell proliferation, differentiation and programmed cell death. Four hours of laboratory per week. (CORE) Prerequisite: BIO 101 - BIO 102.

BIO 213 BASIC CLINICAL LABORATORY SCIENCE

Four Credits Fall Semester

Introduction to theory and practice of medical laboratory testing, including the diagnosis and treatments for leukemia, anemia, AIDS, etc. including hematology, immunology, urinalysis, clinical chemistry, and blood banking. Two-and-a-half hours of laboratory per week. Recommended for students interested in allied health professions. (FUNCTIONAL ORGANISMIC) Prerequisite: BIO 101 - BIO 102.

BIO 218 NUTRITION

Three Credits Spring Semester

An introduction to nutritional biology. Topics include: nutrients and their role in growth, development, health and disease treatment. Prerequisite: BIO 101 or BIO 103.

SCIENTIFIC METHODS IN BIOLOGY:

The Biology Department offers the following four courses in the 290 series as general education Natural Scientific Inquiry courses. Each course focuses on scientific methodology as applied in a subdiscipline of Biology. Normally may not be taken for credit by Biology majors.

BIO 290 SCIENTIFIC METHODS: THE OCEAN (Natural Scientific Inquiry)

Three Credits Spring Semester

History of marine science. Ocean environmental factors. Diversity of organisms adapted to different marine communities. Value of marine resources. Some lab work involving microscopy and dissection. Independent visit to the New England Aquarium outside of class time required.

BIO 291 SCIENTIFIC METHODS: BLOOD AND MEDICINE (Natural Scientific Inquiry)

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

An understanding of why and how medical diagnostic tests are performed, in sickness and in "wellness." An historical overview of such procedures is presented. Topical issues such as AIDS, cholesterol, diabetes, transfusions, and transplants are discussed.

BIO 296 SCIENTIFIC METHODS: FEMALE MEDICAL ISSUES (Natural Scientific Inquiry)

Three Credits Alternate Years: Spring 2011, 2013

Explores the history and epidemiology of medical issues of women and disease processes. Subjects of inquiry include female cancers, heart disease, osteoporosis, AIDS, domestic violence, and other issues having direct impact upon women; particular attention is focused on scientific studies, both past and present.

BIO 301 PARASITOLOGY

Four Credits Spring Semester

Protozoan, nematode, and arthropod parasites of humans and higher vertebrates. Parasitic diseases. Immunity. Two hours of laboratory per week. (FUNCTIONAL ORGANISMIC) Prerequisite: BIO 101 - BIO 102.

BIO 303 ENVIRONMENTAL BOTANY

Four Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2011, 2013

Structure and function of lower and higher plants. Ecological principles. Evolutionary relationships. Three hours of laboratory or field work per week. (CORE, ENVIRONMENTAL BIOLOGY OPTION) Prerequisite: BIO 101 - BIO 102, or ENV 200.

BIO 304 MOLECULAR BIOLOGY

Four Credits Fall Semester

Advanced study in the concepts and applications of molecular biology. Three hours of laboratory per week. Prerequisite: BIO 101, BIO 102, BIO 202, BIO 211, CHM 222.

BIO 305 MARINE ECOSYSTEMS

Four Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2010, 2012

Physical, chemical, and biological features of marine ecosystems. Ecological principles. Study of the local Massachusetts coastal region. Three hours of laboratory or field work per week. (CORE, ENVIRONMENTAL BIOLOGY OPTION) Prerequisite: BIO 101 - BIO 102, or ENV 200.

BIO 307 ECOLOGY

Four Credits Spring Semester

Structure and dynamics of populations, communities, and ecosystems. Mathematical models. Three hours of laboratory or field work per week. (CORE, ENVIRONMENTAL BIOLOGY OPTION) Prerequisite: BIO 101 - BIO 102, or ENV 200.

BIO 309 MICROBIOLOGY

Four Credits Spring Semester

A survey of microorganisms with emphasis on bacteria. Topics include: microbial cell biology, growth, metabolism, and genetics; control of microbial growth; host-microbe interactions; and environmental microbiology. Two 75-minute laboratory periods per week. (STRUCTURAL ORGANISMIC) Prerequisite: BIO 101 - BIO 102, BIO 211.

Four Credits Fall Semester

System-by-system comparative study of vertebrate anatomy with emphasis on functional morphology. Integrated lecture/lab approach. Three hours of laboratory per week. (STRUCTURAL ORGANISMIC) Prerequisite: BIO 101 - BIO 102.

BIO 312 VERTEBRATE PHYSIOLOGY

Four Credits Spring Semester

Principles governing the function of excitable and contractile tissues, respiration, circulation, kidney function, and osmoregulation in vertebrates with emphasis on the maintenance of homeostasis. Three hours of laboratory per week. (FUNCTIONAL ORGANISMIC) Prerequisite: BIO 101 - BIO 102.

BIO 313 TEACHING THE SCIENCES

Three Credits Alternate Years: Spring 2011, 2013

For Science majors minoring in secondary education. Experimentation with and evaluation of teaching methods in the science classroom/laboratory. Students design, teach and evaluate lessons and laboratory exercises. Analysis of the student's comprehension of the fundamental principles of biology and chemistry. Focus on laboratory safety issues. Prerequisite: BIO 101 - BIO 102.

BIO 315 ELECTRON MICROSCOPY TECHNIQUES

Three Credits Spring Semester

Preparation, viewing, and photography of ultrathin sections of biological materials. Preparation involves fixing, embedding, sectioning, and staining. Prerequisite: BIO 101 - BIO 102.

BIO 321 BIOLOGY OF CANCER

Three Credits Alternate Years: Spring 2012, 2014

Study of the genetic, molecular and cellular mechanisms of cancer and its effect at the tissue, organ and organismic levels. Symptoms, stages and treatment options, ongoing research studies, insurance issues, and the impact of the sequencing of the human genome will be discussed. Prerequisite: BIO 101.

BIO 323 EVOLUTION

Four Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Mechanisms of evolutionary change. Classical and molecular approaches to evolutionary analysis will be introduced and primary literature will be used to illustrate current examples. Problem-based learning will be used in the laboratory. Three hours of laboratory per week. (CORE) Prerequisite: BIO 101 - BIO 102, or ENV 200.

BIO 324 ENDOCRINOLOGY

Four Credits Spring Semester

The endocrine system plays an integrative and regulatory role in the organism. Therefore endocrinology can be discussed in relation to complex biology and behavior. The role of hormones in a variety of topics, including reproductive biology, stress, and diabetes will be discussed. Three hours of laboratory per week. (FUNCTIONAL ORGANISMIC) Prerequisite: BIO 101 - BIO 102, BIO 211.

BIO 406 ETHOLOGY

Three Credits Fall Semester

Historical, developmental, immediate, and ultimate determinants of animal behavior. Evolutionary theories of behavior illuminate animal tactics for survival, sociality, and reproduction. Topics include foraging, habitat selection, predator avoidance, migration, communication, learning, competition, aggression, deception, affiliation, courtship, mating, and parental care. (FUNCTIONAL ORGANISMIC, SATISFIES CAPSTONE REQUIREMENT) Prerequisite: BIO 101 - BIO 102.

BIO 409 IMMUNOLOGY

Four Credits Spring Semester

Explores the cellular and dissolved components and the complex mechanisms that protect humans and other animals from disease. Will focus on the appropriate disease-fighting and disease-causing activation of immunity. Two hours of recitation per week will include review and in-depth investigation and discussion of immune-related diseases. (FUNCTIONAL, ORGANISMIC, SATISFIES CAPSTONE REQUIREMENT.) Prerequisites: BIO 101 - BIO 102, BIO 211.

BIO 412 NEUROSCIENCE

Four Credits Fall Semester

The nervous system is our liaison with the world. Tissues, organs, and molecules of the nervous system are identified. Brain anatomy, the action potential, neurons and neurotransmitters are discussed. Brain mechanisms underlying learning and memory, reproduction and addiction are examined. Conditions including stroke, multiple sclerosis and schizophrenia are discussed. Three hours of laboratory per week. (FUNCTIONAL ORGANISMIC) Prerequisite: BIO 101 - BIO 102, BIO 211, BIO 312 or PSY 415. Capstone required for neuroscience majors.

BIO 413 HISTOLOGY

Three Credits Fall Semester

Microscopic study of tissues and organs of vertebrates, especially of humans. Two hours of laboratory per week. (STRUCTURAL ORGANISMIC) Prerequisite: BIO101 - BIO 102.

BIO 416 ADAPTATION TO THE ENVIRONMENT

Three Credits Spring Semester

Explores physiological adaptations that allow organisms to survive various challenges to homeostasis in harsh environments. The role of physiological parameters such as size, metabolism, and conductance in ecology. Students will present, discuss, and critically evaluate data from a variety of sources. (FUNCTIONAL ORGANISMIC) Prerequisite: BIO 101 - BIO 102 and two 300 or 400 level biology courses.

BIO 417 BIOLOGY OF WHALES

Three Credits Spring Semester

Biology and natural history of cetaceans, emphasizing whales and dolphins of the western North Atlantic. Evolution, anatomy, behavior, field identification, the history of whaling and contemporary conservation problems. One evening each week, in Boston, plus weekend field trips. (Marine Studies Consortium course. Limited space. Apply through Prof. Tyrrell.) Prerequisite: BIO 101-BIO 102 and two upper-level biology courses.

BIO 418 BIOLOGY OF FISHES

Four Credits Spring Semester

Evolution, systematics, anatomy, physiology, and behavior of freshwater and anadromous fishes. Predator/prey relationships, host/symbiont interactions, roles of fishes as herbivores. Inter-/intraspecific relationships among fish populations. One evening each week, in Boston, plus weekend field trips. (Marine Studies Consortium course. Limited to fourth-year students. Apply through Prof. Tyrrell.) Prerequisites: BIO 101 - BIO 102 and two upper-level biology courses.

BIO 421 SCIENTIFIC CRITIQUE

Three Credits Spring Semester

A critical study of primary and secondary scientific literature and how that literature is constructed and reviewed for publication. Emphasis is on development of critiquing techniques and the writing skills needed for publication in peer-reviewed journals. (SATISFIES CAPSTONE REQUIREMENT) Prerequisites: BIO 101 - BIO 102, BIO 202, CHM 222.

BIO 423 VIROLOGY

Three Credits Spring Semester

Structure and biology of the viruses of eukaryotes and prokaryotes. Emphasis is on the interaction between viral genetic systems and the host cell environment and defense systems. (SATISFIES CAPSTONE REQUIREMENT) Prerequisites: BIO 101 - BIO 102, BIO 202, BIO 211.

BIO 475 INTERNSHIP IN BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES

Three to Fifteen Credits Fall, Spring and Summer Semesters

Experience in hospital (research, clinical) or related setting (laboratory, veterinary hospital, dental clinic, medical industry, environmental agency or nonprofit organization). Individually tailored. Consult Medical Science Coordinator prior to registration. Prerequisite: Junior standing and permission of Internship Coordinator and Department Chairperson.

BIO 490 DIRECTED STUDY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Investigation in some field not covered by normally scheduled courses. Before pre-registration, the student presents plans to a full-time faculty member who agrees to direct/evaluate the project. Prerequisite: Approval of both the faculty member directing the project and the Department Chairperson required.

BIO 496 INDEPENDENT RESEARCH

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Opportunity for a student to do a research project in a specialized area of Biology under the direction of a member of the Biology faculty. Prerequisite: Approval of both the faculty member directing the project and the Department Chairperson required.

BIO 497 SENIOR THESIS RESEARCH

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Opportunity for a student to do an advanced research project and thesis in a specialized area of Biology under the direction of a member of the Biology faculty. Prerequisite: Approval of both the faculty member directing the project and the Department Chairperson.

The Department of Business Administration offers majors in Accounting, Finance, International Business, Management, and Marketing, and minors in Business Administration and Computer Information Systems. Students may not take more than one major within business as part of their undergraduate program.

Mission

The Business Administration Department offers a high quality undergraduate business education that prepares students to make ethical, thoughtful, and significant contributions to their organizations and communities as professionals. In the tradition of the Congregation of the Holy Cross, with a foundation in the liberal arts, and using a high degree of faculty-student interaction, we provide an integrated curriculum delivered with an emphasis on the student. We value the enrichment of the learning environment through intellectual contributions of faculty in the areas of teaching and learning, discipline-based research, as well as contributions to practice.

Vision

The Stonehill College Department of Business Administration seeks to be amongst the leaders in undergraduate business education serving the northeast region emphasizing an experiential learning environment and ability to graduate professionals that can contribute and lead in a rapidly changing business environment. The department strives to achieve its objectives by maintaining a closely held learning environment, cross functional and community-based learning opportunities, and integration of international experiences in the curriculum.

Learning Outcomes

The delivery of our business education program is guided by the following learning outcomes:

- Literacy of business principles
- Analytical, critical and creative thinking
- Ethical perspective
- Effective communication skills
- Selection and use of technology
- Awareness of the business and global environment
- Cooperative teamwork

The Curriculum

The Business Core Curriculum complements the Cornerstone Program, offering students a strong liberal arts background along with the fundamentals of business administration. Beginning with a First Year Business Experience Course and culminating with the senior Policy and Strategy course, B.S.B.A. graduates develop the learning outcomes of our program.

The Business Core Curriculum begins with BUS 101 First Year Business Experience, a course that introduces all business majors to the business world and begins building cross-functional expertise through student team competition in a business simulation that emulates the real business environment and provides experience managing each function of a business. This course builds competencies in effective teamwork, oral and written presentations, negotiations, creativity, interpersonal behavior and a myriad of other valuable skills.

In the second year, students may choose a Sophomore Learning Community that connects an introductory course in a business concentration with an Arts and Science course in the sophomore-level Learning Community. This unique approach expands the student's level of interdisciplinary understanding and creates a platform to accelerate learning in the student's major discipline. Such Learning Communities may pair international business with international politics, finance with economics, organizational behavior with psychology, and marketing with communication. The Learning Community seminar may include a complex teambuilding assignment, as well as a course project, to create a new product, process, or service for a consumer marketplace accompanied by a business plan. The intent is to develop creativity, extensive team-building capabilities, strong interdisciplinary knowledge, and to provide multiple opportunities for basic skill enhancement in communications, analytics, logic, and interpersonal interaction. The interdisciplinary learning theme carries throughout the student's major course plan and will be enhanced by pursuing a minor in an allied liberal arts discipline. Student learning can be further enhanced by gaining internship experience in an organization in Boston, Los Angeles, New York, Washington, D.C., or at a variety of international locations such as London, Madrid, or Paris.

Laptop Computer Requirement

Successful enterprises utilize technology effectively in their daily activities. Beginning with the first formal business course, the Stonehill Business program integrates technology and provides opportunity to apply critical concepts both in and out of the classroom.

Unique in its implementation, Stonehill's laptop requirement views the availability of technology as 'mission-critical' to the quality and currency of its academic program. The Stonehill College laptop requirement combines 'best in class' hardware, on-site support services and accidental damage protection to assure availability.

<http://www.campushp.com/stonehill>.

Major

There are five majors within the business program: Accounting, Finance, International Business, Management, and Marketing. Requirements are listed under those headings.

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

This senior course for Marketing majors enables the student to apply what has been learned in other business courses to the analysis of a variety of Marketing Management problem identification-solution generation situations presented via real cases. Emphasis is on oral presentation and defense of evaluations made and solutions proposed. Some written case analysis is required. Prerequisite: Senior standing. Prerequisites: BUS 341 or BUS 342, and Senior standing.

BUS 460 TOPICS IN MANAGEMENT

Three Credits Offered as Needed

This course will introduce new topics into the management curriculum in the areas of organizational behavior, organization development, human resource management, operations management, entrepreneurship, etc. Prerequisites: BUS 333, and Junior standing.

BUS 465 INTERNATIONAL MANAGEMENT

Three Credits Fall Semester

Senior course for majors in International Business. Integrates the strategic issues of managing a multinational firm with the cultural, political, economic, and social environments of global commercial enterprises. Prerequisites: BUS 336, and Junior standing.

BUS 469 POLICY AND STRATEGY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Capstone course for all business seniors. Focuses on the roles of executive management and the processes involved in the development and implementation of strategy in a complex, global economy. Extensive use of cases, industry simulation and team assignments. Prerequisites: BUS 204, BUS 206, BUS 320, BUS 333, BUS 340 and Senior Standing.

BUS 475 INTERNSHIP IN BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

The internship program is designed to enhance knowledge of the environment and constraints of an organizational setting. It is geared to give the student an opportunity to apply concepts and skills acquired in the classroom. Registration must be approved by the Department Chairperson, the faculty member supervising the internship, and the supervisor in the cooperating organization. Prerequisites: Junior or Senior standing and 2.8 GPA. See Internship Coordinator for other requirements.

BUS 490 DIRECTED STUDY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Investigation in some field for which the student has special interest not covered by a normally-scheduled course. Student must present plans in advance of pre-registration to some full-time faculty member who will agree to direct and evaluate the project. At the time of pre-registration the student must obtain the signature of this faculty member and of the Chairperson of the Department.

Catholic Studies

Peter Beisheim, Program Director

The Catholic Studies Program offers both an interdisciplinary major and a minor within the Bachelor of Arts degree.

Stonehill College, in its mission statement, identifies itself as "a community of scholarship and faith, anchored by a belief in the inherent dignity of each person." In being true to its identity, the College "provides an education that fosters critical thinking, free inquiry, and the interchange of ideas." The College envisions that its graduates will think, act, and lead with courage in creating a more just and compassionate world."

In harmony with the values and spirit of the College's mission, the Catholic Studies Program fulfills the mission of the college by fostering critical thinking, free inquiry, and the interchange of ideas while providing students with the tools to recognize, understand, and appreciate the diversity of intellectual traditions within Catholicism; enhances the experience of students who have arrived at the college with an interest in Catholic culture or who develop an interest in response to their coursework; integrates courses of study from different departments by providing students with opportunities to explore Catholicism from multiple perspectives; and prepares students for postgraduate opportunities related to Catholic studies, e.g. graduate work, ministry, and education.

Major

To complete a major in Catholic Studies, students are required to take eleven courses (two core, eight elective, and one Capstone).

The following two core courses are required:
REL 256 Church & Social Justice
REL 300 The Catholic Tradition: Past & Present

Eight courses are electives. Students will select two courses from each of the categories below representing in total three (3) disciplines:

Historical Roots & Development

- CAT 490 Directed Study: Catholic Studies
- HIS 227 Renaissance & Revolutions: Early Modern Europe
- HIS 262 Medieval-Renaissance Reformation
- HIS 310 Ancient Mediterranean Greece and Rome
- HIS 349 The Inquisition: Myth & History
- REL 255 Religions in the Roman Empire

Intellectual Heritage

- CAT 490 Directed Study: Catholic Studies
- HIS 313 Intellectual History of Europe
- HIS 343 Christian Theology as Ideology
- PHL 353 Medieval Philosophy
- PHL 354 Thomas Aquinas & His Contemporaries
- REL 234 The Mystery of Evil
- REL 235 The God Question: Modern Challenges to Faith & Christian Responses
- REL 236 Faith in Christ and Religious Pluralism
- REL 267 Liberation Theology: Latin American Perspectives
- REL 268 Images of Jesus
- REL 327 Vatican II and Contemporary Issues

Catholicism in Praxis

- CAT 490 Directed Study: Catholic Studies
- HIS 326 The Christian Churches in Nazi Germany
- REL 237 Moral Conflicts: Case Studies in Moral Confrontation
- REL 238 Migrants, Immigrants, Refugees: Justice Issues & Catholic Responses
- REL 329 Justice, Peace, Ecology
- REL 340 Jesus and Moral Decisions
- REL 344 Globalization: Catholic Perspectives & Responses

Catholic Life & Culture

- CAT 490 Directed Study: Catholic Studies
 REL 233 American Catholic Social History
 REL 253 Models of Church: Historical Developments
 REL 254 Global Catholicism
 REL 303 The Virgin Mary & Visions of the Feminine in Christianity
 REL 311 Catholic Life in Crisis & Change
 REL 333 American Catholic Experience
 REL 341 Spiritual Autobiography
 VPH 214 The Age of Cathedrals

A student may substitute one course in the area of Catholic Life and Culture with an internship from the following:

- REL 476 Internship in Campus Ministry (Catholic High Schools)
 REL 477 Internship in Parish Ministry
 REL 478 Internship in Stonehill Campus Ministry

The Catholic Studies Program requires each senior major to create with their advisor a culminating experience or project that integrates the major and the Cornerstone Program.

- CAT 490 Directed Study: Catholic Studies Capstone

Minor

Six courses are required for a minor in Catholic Studies.

The following two courses are required:

- REL 256 Church & Social Justice
 REL 300 The Catholic Tradition: Past & Present

Four courses are electives:

In choosing elective courses, a student may select one course from each of the following categories; two courses from two of the following categories; or any four courses in consultation with the Director of Catholic Studies.

The categories are Historical Roots & Development, Intellectual Heritage, Catholic Life & Culture, and Catholicism in Praxis.

The wide array of interdisciplinary courses in Catholic Studies allows students majoring in Spanish culture and language to create a Catholic Studies minor with a Hispanic focus. Similarly, students can create a Catholic Studies minor with a concentration on Catholic Social Teachings.

The Department of Chemistry offers both a B.S. and a B.A. major as well as a minor in Chemistry. The Department's programs have been approved by the American Chemical Society (ACS) and graduates fulfilling ACS requirements will be eligible for ACS certification.

The Department of Chemistry at Stonehill College educates students in the chemical sciences by providing them with chemical knowledge, technical training, and the ability to think logically and analytically. This education covers the traditional chemical disciplines as well as those chemical disciplines that will have the strongest impact on society in the future. The Department instills a strong sense of professional ethics and responsibility in the students enrolled in the chemistry program.

The B.S. and B.A. programs in chemistry offer fundamental training in inorganic, organic, physical, and analytical chemistry requiring a basic understanding of physics and calculus. Chemistry electives in advanced topics and in biochemistry are also offered. The department instills upon its students the ability to think broadly, creatively and independently within the field and to communicate this ability both in writing and orally. To these ends the Department provides many opportunities both during the academic year and during the summer for students to become involved in both undergraduate research and industrial internships. The culmination of this research is often co-authorship on conference presentations and publications in scholarly journals. In addition, each junior and senior Chemistry major presents two departmental seminars covering information from the current chemical literature. Each senior writes and defends a thesis (usually relating to research he/she has completed).

Departmental Honors Program

The student who completes the Honors Program in Chemistry is awarded a degree "with honors in Chemistry." Both B.S. and B.A. Chemistry majors who have completed

CHM 113, CHM 221, CHM 222, CHM 244, PHY121, PHY 122, MTH 125, and MTH 126 are designated departmental honors candidates if they have an overall grade-point average of at least 3.4, a Chemistry and Biochemistry grade-point average of at least 3.4 and have conducted research in the department. To successfully complete the program, a student must maintain the above grade-point averages and earn at least a "B+" on both the thesis and thesis defense required for CHM 449 Chemistry Seminar and Thesis. Contact the Department Chair for more information.

Major

Both the B.S. and B.A. programs are flexible enough to allow the students to pursue objectives such as secondary school teaching, industrial, clinical or governmental employment, or to attend graduate school. They also provide an excellent basis for entrance into professional fields such as medicine, dentistry, nutrition and psychology.

B.S. Program

The Bachelor of Science degree is designed for the student desiring a thorough background in chemistry; one who plans to attend graduate school, or seek immediate employment in the field of chemistry. (See section on ACS certification below.)

The course of study normally pursued by B.S. Chemistry majors is:

B.S. chemistry majors desiring an American Chemical Society certified degree must complete BCH 343 Biochemistry I in addition to the requirements listed above.

B.A. Program

The Bachelor of Art degree is appropriate for a student not interested in graduate school who desires entry into a professional school, direct employment in industry or entry into a non-traditional field combining the knowledge of chemistry with another discipline. Combined with English, it makes possible a career as a technical writer or editor; with Environmental Studies, an environmental advocate; with Education, science teacher on both the primary and secondary levels; with Business, a technical manager, administrator or sales representative; and with Computer Science, a developer in "Bioinformatics". The B.A. degree alone allows Chemistry majors to pursue admission into professional schools such as medical, or dental school as well as careers in forensic science, art conservation, food science, or nutrition.

Course OfferingsCHM 113 GENERAL CHEMISTRY I (Natural Scientific Inquiry)

Four Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

The fundamentals of chemistry are covered including: matter and measurement, atomic structure and the periodic table, chemical reactions and stoichiometry, chemical bonding, thermodynamics, and an introduction to chemical kinetics and equilibrium. Six hours of combined class/laboratory each week.

CHM 195 THE SCIENCE OF ART (Natural Scientific Inquiry)

Three Credits Spring Semester

The science behind light, color, and vision as they relate to art. The chemistry of painting materials. The scientific history of glass, paper, ceramics and metals as art materials. The effects of technological advances on art. Other topics include preservation, restoration, authentication, and forgery detection.

Four Credits Spring Semester

The basics of organic chemistry are covered including: structure and bonding of alkanes, alkenes, aromatic hydrocarbons and alkynes; functional groups containing heteroatoms; chromatography; spectroscopy; stereochemistry; methods of studying organic reaction; and an introduction to mechanisms of organic reactions. Three periods of lecture and a four-hour laboratory session each week. Prerequisite: CHM 113.

CHM 222 ORGANIC CHEMISTRY II

Four Credits Fall Semester

The mechanistic and synthetic organic chemistry relating to nucleophilic substitution, elimination, additions to carbon-carbon multiple bonds, aromatic substitution, addition and substitution at carbonyls, substitution alpha to carbonyls, rearrangements, and polymerizations. The organic chemistry of natural compounds (e.g. peptides, carbohydrates, etc.) is introduced. Three periods of lecture and a four-hour laboratory session each week. Prerequisite: CHM 221.

CHM 232 GENERAL CHEMISTRY II

Four Credits Spring Semester

The course further develops the introductory physical and analytical chemistry initiated in CHM 113, while introducing new topics in order to complete the coverage of all general chemistry concepts. The topics covered include gases, states of matter, solutions, nuclear chemistry, and an in-depth treatment of kinetics and the equilibria of acid-base, solution, and electrochemical reactions. Three periods of lecture and a three-hour laboratory session each week. Pre-requisites: CHM 113 and Sophomore standing or permission of both the Engineering Program Director and the Department of Chemistry Chairperson.

Four Credits Spring Semester

This course covers fundamentals of central topics in inorganic chemistry from historical to modern-day perspectives. Topics include: Coordination compounds (history, structure, bonding theories, reactivity, applications); solid state chemistry (crystals, lattices, radius ratio rule, defect structures, silicates & other minerals); and descriptive chemistry of the elements. Three periods of lecture and a three-hour laboratory session each week. Pre-requisites: CHM 222

CHM 331 ANALYTICAL CHEMISTRY (Statistical Reasoning)

Four Credits Fall Semester

An in-depth study of chemical equilibrium in acid-base, complexation, oxidation-reduction and precipitation reactions. Quantitative chemical analysis using titrimetric, spectrophotometric, potentiometric and more is discussed in detail in lecture and performed in the laboratory including rigorous statistical evaluation of experimental data. Three periods of lecture and a four-hour laboratory session each week. Prerequisite: CHM 232 or CHM 244.

Four Credits Fall Semester

This course is an in-depth exploration of key chemistry topic in thermodynamics, quantum mechanics, spectroscopy and kinetics. Specific applications of physical chemistry are given in terms of material, nanoscience, biochemistry, environmental chemistry, and technology. Pre-requisites: MTH 126 & CHM 232 or CHM 244

CHM 334 PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY IIFour Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2011, 2013

This course is an in-depth exploration of key chemistry topics in thermodynamics and kinetics. The course material covers phase diagrams, chemical equilibrium, molecular motion and dynamics. Pre-requisites: CHM 333

CHM 432 ADVANCED ANALYTICAL CHEMISTRYThree Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2012, 2014

Principles of instrumental analysis: Potentiometry, electrolysis, polarography, spectrophotometry, fluorimetry, atomic absorption, chromatography, and chemical separations. Three periods of lecture each week. Prerequisites: CHM 331, CHM 333.

CHM 435 ADVANCED ORGANIC CHEMISTRYThree Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2012, 2014

Recent Advances in Organic Chemistry. Topics may include: strategies for organic synthesis, reaction mechanisms, elucidation of structure and stereochemistry of organic compounds using physical and spectroscopic methods. Three periods of lecture each week. Prerequisite: CHM 333.

CHM 442 INSTRUMENTAL ANALYSIS: THEORY AND PRACTICEThree Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2012, 2014

An in-depth examination of atomic and molecular parameters and how the application of current laboratory instrumentation can elucidate fundamental chemical phenomena based on these parameters. Two four-hour laboratory sessions each week. Prerequisites: CHM 331, CHM 333. Corequisites: CHM 432, CHM 443.

CHM 443 PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY IIIThree Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2012, 2014

The Schrodinger equation is applied to several models including: a particle-in-a-box, the harmonic oscillator, and the rigid rotator. Models are explored in light of vibrational and rotational spectroscopy. The hydrogen atom is studied along with approximation methods for many-electron atoms. Pre-requisites: CHM 333

CHM 444 ADVANCED INORGANIC CHEMISTRYFour Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2011, 2013

This course builds upon the fundamentals of inorganic chemistry learned in CH 244 and also includes recent advances in the field. Topics include: symmetry, group theory, molecular orbital's, frontier orbital's, ligand field compounds, organometallic reactions and catalysis, bioinorganic and environmental chemistry. Prerequisite: CHM 244 and CHM 333.

CHM 446 TOPICS IN CHEMISTRY

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

In-depth coverage of up-to-date advanced chemical topics. This course is an advanced chemistry elective for Chemistry, Biochemistry, and Biology majors. The specific content focuses on cutting edge science in the specific sub-discipline of the faculty member teaching the course. Prerequisites: CHM 232 or CHM 244 and permission of Department Chair.

CHM 449 SEMINAR AND THESIS (Capstone Course)

Four Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

All third- and fourth-year Chemistry and Biochemistry majors meet with Chemistry and Biochemistry faculty once a week for both internal and external seminar presentations. During the fall semester of the third and fourth years each student is required to prepare and present a half-hour seminar on a topic of his/her choice found in a current professional journal. During the fall semester of the fourth year, each student will be expected to write a thesis. Preferably this thesis will cover experimental or theoretical research the student has actually done. Each student will be expected to defend his/her thesis in the spring semester of the fourth year. Prerequisite: Junior standing.

CHM 475 INTERNSHIP IN CHEMISTRY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Research or practical experience in the field at an outside industrial, government, hospital, or university setting. Must be approved by the Department Chairperson, the Faculty member supervising the Internship, and the Supervisor in the cooperating organization.

CHM 490 DIRECTED STUDY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Opportunity for upper level students to do advanced work in a specialized area of chemistry. Prerequisite: Approval of both the faculty member directing the work and the Department Chairperson required.

CHM 496 INDEPENDENT CHEMICAL RESEARCH

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Students carry out an advanced research project in a specialized area of chemistry under the direction of a faculty member from the Department of Chemistry. The research may be part of an ongoing project being conducted by the faculty member, or the student and faculty member may develop an original project. May be taken more than once. Prerequisite: Approval of both the faculty member directing the project and the Department Chairperson required.

CHM 497 SENIOR THESIS

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Students complete an advanced research project in a specialized area of chemistry under the direction of a chemistry faculty member, resulting in a senior thesis. This course will be graded on a pass/fail basis. Prerequisite: Senior standing in the department; approval of both the faculty member directing the project and the Department Chairperson required.

Cinema Studies

Robert G. Goulet, Program Director

The Department of English offers a minor in Cinema Studies.

Mission

The program is devoted to the study of media and of formats related to the moving image, including recent developments in digital technology. Students will not only acquire the vocabulary necessary to a full appreciation of cinematic techniques but also develop an appreciation for the aesthetic and methodological values of the discipline. In addition, by implicitly acknowledging the intersections of art, technology, and commerce in cinematic texts, courses in the program help to prepare students for careers in the new age of global media institutions and projects.

Curriculum

Students in the Cinema Studies program take at least six courses, which must include one 200 – level introductory course (see the list below), at least three 300 – level courses (see the list below), and two electives from either level.

COM 220 Understanding Film
COM 321 Film Genres
COM 323 Film Censorship and American Culture
ENG 271 Film and Story
ENG 272 Film History
ENG 273 Hitchcock
ENG 322 World Cinema
ENG 323 Film Industry
ENG 324 Television Drama
ENG 325 Film and Ideology

ENG 327 European Cinema
ENG 329 Race in American Film
ENG 337 Film and Gender
ENG 422 Seminar (offered periodically by English instructors in cinema studies as part of the regular departmental rotation of seminar assignments)

Students will make course choices after consultation with a faculty advisor in either the English or the Communication department.

The Department of Communication offers a major in Communication, with a concentration in Mediated Communication and Communication Studies and minors in Communication and Journalism.

The mission of the Communication major is to help students develop an understanding of communication theories and humanistic approaches to communication, and to promote the development of skills in public and interpersonal communication. The Communication major provides a foundation for graduate studies, or for careers in diverse areas like mass media, public relations, journalism, politics, law, education and other related fields.

The 12-course curriculum allows students to create their programs of study according to their academic and career interests from courses within the Department, and upon consultation with their advisor, from complimentary courses outside the Department.

Departmental Honors Program

The student who completes the Honors Program in Communication is awarded a degree “with honors in Communication.” To enter the program, a student must be a Communication major and must have completed the following courses: COM 103, COM 105, COM 107, and COM 203; the student’s cumulative grade-point average in Communication must usually be at least 3.5; and one full-time Communication faculty member must sponsor the student’s application. To complete the program, the student must complete one Honors Seminar with a grade of “B” or better and must write and orally defend an Honors Thesis on a topic in Communication. The student who achieves a “B” or better in the Honors Seminar and Honors Thesis will have successfully completed the Honors Program. Contact the Department Honors Program Coordinator for information.

Major

All Communication majors must complete a total of 12 courses. Courses may count for only one category. They may not double count.

INTRODUCTORY SEQUENCE:

Four required courses:

COM 103 Public Speaking
COM 105 Interpersonal Communication
COM 107 Mediated Communication
COM 203 Persuasion

METHODS SEQUENCE:

One required course:

COM 322 Communication Research Methods

THEORY/APPLICATION SEQUENCE:

Seven courses:

Students must complete the requirements for one of the following concentrations:

MEDIATED COMMUNICATION CONCENTRATION:

Three required courses:

COM 207 Media Criticism
COM 419 Mediated Communication Theory
COM 314 Media Org. OR
COM 330 Media Regulation

Four additional communication electives, three of which must be at the 300 level or above.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES CONCENTRATION:

Two required courses:

COM 310 Organizational Communication
COM 417 Comm. Theory OR
COM 418 Rhetorical Theory

And two courses from the following:

COM 313 Gender and Communication
COM 315 Intercultural Communication
COM 316 Family Communication
COM 325 Leadership and Communication

Three additional communication electives, two of which must be at the 300 level or above.

NOTES: Departmental Honors students and students planning to enter graduate school are strongly urged to complete COM 417, COM 418, and COM 419.

No more than one internship course may be counted as a Communication major course.

COM 475 Internship in Mass Communication
COM 476 Internship in Organizational Communication
COM 477 Internship in Political Communication

No more than one course from the list below may be counted as a Communication major course. None may be counted as a Communication minor course.

BUS 344 Advertising Management
ENG 321 Film and Story
ENG 322 World Cinema
ENG 323 Film Industry
ENG 324 Television Drama
ENG 325 Film and Ideology
ENG 326 American Film
ENG 327 European Cinema
JRN 100 Reporting and Newswriting
JRN 101 Advanced Reporting and Newswriting
JRN 313 Journalism Ethics and Law

Internship Requirements

Only Communication majors and minors with a 3.0 GPA are eligible for Communication internships. Only one Communication internship, for a total of three credit hours, may be counted toward the major requirements. See current departmental statement on internship policies and consult the Internship Coordinator.

Minor in Communication

Six courses are required for the minor.

The following courses are required:

COM 103 Public Speaking, OR
COM 201 Business & Prof. Communication
COM 105 Interpersonal Comm. OR
COM 205 Small Group Communication
COM 107 Mediated Comm. OR
COM 203 Studies in Persuasion

There are three more COM courses required for the minor; 2 of the 3 must be at the 300 level or above.

Minor in Journalism

The Journalism minor emphasizes a combination of theoretical and applied courses. Students must take six courses to complete the minor.

The following two courses are required:

JRN 100 Reporting and News Writing
JRN 421 Journalism Practicum I

Choose two of the following courses:

JRN 222 The Development of American News Media
JRN 313 Journalism Ethics and Law
COM 307 Freedom of Speech

Choose two from the following courses:

JRN 101 Advanced Reporting and News Writing
JRN 422 Journalism Practicum II
JRN 475 Internship of Journalism
COM 215 Video Production: Principles and Techniques
COM 330 Media Regulation
COM 314 Media Organizations

Students who are both a COM major and JRN minor may not double count courses toward requirements for each.

Course Offerings Communication

COM 103 PUBLIC SPEAKING

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Theory and practice of communicating in one-to-many situations. Students research, organize, and deliver several types of speeches, as well as critique various forms of public communication.

COM 105 INTERPERSONAL COMMUNICATION

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

The basic elements of interpersonal communication, with special emphasis on developing knowledge and skills applicable to face-to-face interactions between individuals. The class facilitates an exploration of verbal and nonverbal communication.

COM 107 MEDIATED COMMUNICATION

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

An overview of the history, structure, performance, content, effects and future of the mass media, including issues of media ownership, regulation, and the importance of advertising.

COM 201 BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL COMMUNICATION

Three Credits Not Offered 2009-2010

Advanced study and practice in specialized audience analyses, conference procedures, group problem solving, interviewing techniques, and professional presentations.

COM 203 STUDIES IN PERSUASION

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Analysis of social aspects of persuasion, cultural basis for belief and theories of attitude change. Examination of reasoning and rhetoric in advertising, political campaigns, and social movements.

COM 205 SMALL GROUP COMMUNICATION

Three Credits Not Offered 2009-2010

Theory and practice of communication in small groups. Highlights the communicative dimensions of decision-making, leadership, cohesiveness, and conflict in the small group setting.

COM 207 MEDIA CRITICISM

Three Credits Fall Semester

Survey of internal and external constraints in production of mediated messages. Analysis of news, advertising, and entertainment processes and products. Prerequisite: COM 107.

COM 215 VIDEO PRODUCTION: PRINCIPLES AND TECHNIQUES

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Understanding the principles and elements of video: the camera, lighting, direction, editing, sound. Practice in making a video composition. Prerequisite: CO 107 or CO 207.

COM 220 UNDERSTANDING FILM

Three Credits Fall Semester

Introduction to film analysis through the study of a variety of film texts, with an emphasis on film form, and how the various components of filmmaking, including elements of mise-en-scene, cinematography, editing, sound and music, and narrative structure function within that system.

COM 307 FREEDOM OF SPEECH

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2009, 2010

A consideration of the First Amendment and governmental restraint in personal, social, and mass communication.

COM 310 ORGANIZATIONAL COMMUNICATION

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Principles of communication in business and nonprofit organizations. Topics include communication theories, leadership and motivation, superior-subordinate communication, organizational culture, networks, and conflict management. Prerequisite: COM 105 or COM 205.

COM 311 PUBLIC RELATIONS I: PRINCIPLES

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Theoretical and practical. Written and visual materials for a variety of organizational goals. Tools of communication, public relations – law and ethics, problem solving, persuasion and public opinion, media relations.

Prerequisite: COM 203 or COM 310 or BUS 333 or BUS 340.

COM 312 PUBLIC RELATIONS II: PRACTICES

Three Credits Spring Semester

Practice of public relations in several typical environments: public agencies, corporations and the like; case study method. Prerequisite: COM 311.

COM 313 GENDER AND COMMUNICATION

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Examines the impact of gender, or male-female perspectives, on the communication process. Topics discussed within a variety of contexts.

COM 314 MEDIA ORGANIZATIONS

Three Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2009, 2011

Advanced survey of media organization operation, including ownership, personnel, programming, and audience research. Prerequisite: COM 107.

COM 315 INTERCULTURAL COMMUNICATION

Three Credits Fall Semester

Examines the role of communication in the creation and transmission of cultural knowledge and practice. Discusses the impact of communication differences in cross cultural contexts. Prerequisite: COM 105.

COM 316 FAMILY COMMUNICATION

Three Credits Spring Semester

This course is designed as an introduction to communication phenomena in the setting of the family. The overall goal is help you understand how, through communication, we develop, maintain, enhance, or disturb family relationships. Students will learn verbal & nonverbal skills that can help promote healthy family communication. Pre-requisites: COM 105

COM 318 PERSUASION AND SOCIAL MOVEMENTS

Three Credits Fall Semester

Role of discourse in the life cycle of social movements. Rhetorical analysis of stages of movement development. Examination of theory and research. Prerequisite: COM 203.

COM 319 POLITICAL COMMUNICATION

Three Credits Spring Semester

Examines nature and impact of diverse communication strategies in political contexts, such as congressional and presidential campaigns and legislative discussion of social issues. Prerequisite: COM 203.

COM 320 PERSUASION AND PUBLIC INFLUENCE

Three Credits Not Offered 2009-2010

Critical analysis of the rhetorical significance of selected public discourse. Examines the roles of persuasion in the public realm.

COM 321 FILM GENRESThree Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2009, 2011

A historical survey of several American film genres. Prerequisite: COM 220.

COM 322 COMMUNICATION RESEARCH METHODS

Three Credits Fall Semester

Introduction to basic techniques for investigating common communication problems. Topics include focus group interviews, questionnaire design, critical methodology, content analysis, and other basic data collection methods used in communication organizations. Designed for Communication majors seeking a research course which emphasizes practical applications. Prerequisite: Sophomore standing.

COM 323 HONORS-FILM CENSORSHIP AND AMERICAN CULTURE

Three Credits Not Offered 2009-2010

Examines the continuing battle over film content, a battle as old as the medium itself. Against recurrent threats of federal censorship, filmmakers have struggled to present messages that have often been at odds with a vast array of powerful groups, from the Catholic Legion of Decency to National Organization for Women. Discussions will cover the erosion of the Production Code and the institution of a Rating system. Prerequisite: COM 220. Limited to honors scholars.

COM 325 LEADERSHIP AND COMMUNICATION

Three Credits Spring Semester

Examination of leadership theories and diverse styles of leading within various contexts. In particular, this course will explore the vital role of communication processes in relation to leadership effectiveness. This course will also give students the opportunity to reflexively examine their own styles of leadership as well as identify areas for continued improvement. Prerequisite: COM 103 and COM 105.

COM 330 MEDIA REGULATIONThree Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2010, 2012

Examines how control, from government censorship to forms of industry regulation, is exhibited over the media. The history of media censorship, including significant cases and precedent-setting legal decisions, is examined. The focus is on the differences between censorship and regulation, and the similarities and differences among various mass media outlets. Among the topics covered are libel, indecency, obscenity, and other examples of speech not protected by the First Amendment. Prerequisite: COM 107.

COM 412 ADVANCED INTERPERSONAL COMMUNICATION

Three Credits Not Offered 2009-2010

Examines major theories and research in interpersonal communication, including advanced investigation of concepts introduced in CO 105. Topics include theories of relationship development and decline, marriage and family communication, and communicative competence. Prerequisite: COM 105 or COM 205.

COM 414 SPECIAL TOPICS IN COMMUNICATION

Three Credits Offered as Needed

The topics of this seminar vary according to student needs and interests. Course may be taken three times.

COM 417 COMMUNICATION THEORY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

An advanced survey of major communication theories. Focus on how communication theories are built and tested and how different theories are related. Includes theories from interpersonal, organizational, persuasion, and other communication areas. Prerequisites: COM 322 and Senior standing. Instructor consent required for Juniors.

COM 418 RHETORICAL THEORY

Three Credits Not Offered 2009-2010

A consideration of the intellectual tradition of rhetoric from a theoretical and critical perspective. Ideas from the classical, modern, and contemporary periods are examined. Prerequisite: COM 322 and Senior standing. Instructor consent required for Juniors.

COM 419 MEDIATED COMMUNICATION THEORY

Three Credits Spring Semester

Survey of development of mediated communication theory and research. Discussion of production, mediation, reception, and effects theories. Prerequisite: COM 322 and Senior standing. Instructor consent required for Juniors.

COM 452 COMMUNICATION HONORS THESIS I

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

May be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits. Open to students in the Department of Communication Honors Program. In consultation with a faculty member, students conduct independent research on a topic related to their emphasis in communication. Students must begin their research no later than one semester prior to the semester in which they plan to graduate. An official copy of the thesis will remain on file with the Department and with the college archives. Prerequisite: COM 322 and open to Junior and Senior Communication Majors in the Department of Communication Honors Program. Permission of Instructor.

COM 453 COMMUNICATION HONORS THESIS II

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

May be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits. Open to students in the Department of Communication Honors Program. In consultation with a faculty member, students conduct independent research on a topic related to their emphasis in communication. Students must begin their research no later than one semester prior to the semester in which they plan to graduate. An official copy of the thesis will remain on file with the Department and with the college archives. Prerequisite: COM 452 and open to Junior and Senior Communication Majors in the Department of Communication Honors Program. Permission of Instructor.

COM 475 INTERNSHIP IN MASS COMMUNICATION

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Experience in the practice of mass media complementary to the work done in courses. Prerequisite: COM 107, minimum of 3.0 GPA and permission of Internship Coordinator.

COM 476 INTERNSHIP IN ORGANIZATIONAL COMMUNICATION

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Experience in the practice of public relations and other forms of organizational communication complementary to work done in courses. Prerequisite: COM 310 or COM 311, minimum of 3.0 GPA and permission of Internship Coordinator.

COM 477 INTERNSHIP IN POLITICAL COMMUNICATION

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Experience in the practice of political communication complementary to the work done in courses. Prerequisite: COM 203, minimum of 3.0 GPA and permission of Internship Coordinator.

COM 490 DIRECTED STUDY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Opportunity for upper-level students to do an advanced research project or investigation in a field of special interest not covered by a normally-scheduled course. Student and a full-time faculty member familiar with the student's area of interest agree on a plan of study and research and on evaluation methods. Prerequisite: Approval of both the faculty member directing the project and the Department Chairperson required.

Journalism

JRN 100 REPORTING AND NEWS WRITING

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Principles and practices of gathering, writing, and editing news and feature material for mass media dissemination; stresses the craft of clear writing.

JRN 101 ADVANCED REPORTING AND NEWS WRITING

Three Credits Spring Semester

Focus on advanced writing, rewriting, and editing news articles. Prerequisite: JRN 100.

JRN 222 DEVELOPMENT OF AMERICAN NEWS MEDIA

Three Credits Fall Semester

This course traces the development of the news media, print, and broadcast, from their beginning stages in the 1830s to the present. Primary attention is given to the economic, cultural, political, and social dimensions of the development processes.

JRN 309 NARRATIVE WRITING

Three Credits Spring Semester

Learn to use fiction writing techniques in the growing non-fiction narrative writing field. Students will learn how to get the best interviews from people, how to develop characters, what type of research information is needed, where to get it and how to gather it to create riveting narrative stories. Prerequisite: JRN 100

JRN 313 JOURNALISM ETHICS AND LAW

Three Credits Spring Semester

The theory and practice of journalism in the United States within the parameters of both legal and ethical constraints.

JRN 421 JOURNALISM PRACTICUM I

Three Credits Fall Semester

Advanced news writing and research in the context of the student newspaper under the individual supervision of the instructor in a laboratory setting. Prerequisite: JRN 100.

JRN 422 JOURNALISM PRACTICUM II

Three Credits Spring Semester

Advanced editing, layout and the use of illustrations, graphics, and color. Individual attention by the instructor in the laboratory setting of the student newspaper. Prerequisite: JRN 100.

JRN 475 INTERNSHIP IN JOURNALISM

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Opportunity for students, usually in their fourth year, to practice journalism with a news organization. Prerequisites: JRN 100, minimum 3.0 cumulative GPA, and permission of Internship Director. See Requirements for Internships in Communication.

JRN 490 DIRECTED STUDY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Opportunity for upper-level students to do an advanced research project or investigation in a field of special interest not covered by a normally-scheduled course. Student and a full-time faculty member familiar with the student's area of interest agree on a plan of study and research and on evaluation methods. Prerequisite: Approval of both the faculty member directing the project and the Department Chairperson required.

Computer Information Systems

Richard A. Gariepy, Program Director

The Department of Business Administration offers a minor in Computer Information Systems.

The Computer Information Systems minor emphasizes the use of a computer as a managerial productivity tool and/or a resource of an organization in a systems setting. This minor is designed to allow students, regardless of discipline, to understand core computer concepts and decision support tools which complement their understanding of their own major field to apply computer related decision concepts to that field. This program does not require a detailed knowledge of the internal workings of the computer, nor is extensive computer programming required. Students in the Sciences or Liberal Arts also are encouraged to pursue this minor; however, some additional background may be required.

Background:

BUS 206 Quantitative Analysis (or equivalent)

Basic information technology and computer literacy skills are assumed as part of this program foundation. Should you feel that these might not be a part of your background, they can be achieved in a variety of settings here at Stonehill or other locations. (Please contact your academic adviser or the program director for assistance in assessing individual background needs.)

Four Foundation Courses:

Choose ONE from EACH of these four groups:

Choose one of:

BUS 308 Decision Support Systems, Tools and Operations Management
MTH 373 Operations Research

Choose one of:

BUS 310 Management Information Systems
HCA 205 Computer Concepts for Healthcare
BUS 316 Accounting Systems

Choose one of:

BUS 307 Data Communications and Applications
VPG 305 Web Site Design

Choose one of:

BUS 309 Database Applications
CSC 325 Database Management Systems

Elective courses:

Choose at least ONE elective:

BUS 443 Electronic Commerce
CSC 221 Computer Logic and Organization
Departmental Internship see note below
Departmental Directed Study see note below

Note:

Some students may choose to utilize an Internship or Directed Study toward completing their CIS minor electives. Learning through this type of independent or particular experience is strongly encouraged.

However, sufficient CIS contribution should be demonstrated as a part of the program prior to applying for credit toward the minor.

Should you wish to choose one of these options, approval by your department chairperson and the program director should be received prior making a formal request for CIS elective credit.

If you feel that there is an additional course offering that should be included in the list of electives, please contact your advisor and/or the program director to arrange for a review of this course for possible assignment of credit toward the minor.

Computer Science

Faculty:

Ralph J. Bravaco, Chairperson

Professors:

R. Bravaco
S. Simonson

Associate Professor:

R. Dugan

The Department of Computer Science offers a B.S. degree as well as a minor in Computer Science. A cooperative 3-2 program with The University of Notre Dame, in computer science and computer engineering, is also available.

At Stonehill College, computer science courses fall roughly into three overlapping categories: computer theory, computer architecture, and computer software.

Courses in computer theory provide the foundation for tomorrow's technology. Under the rubric of theory, students study topics such as computability, finite state machines, and graph theory as well as the design and analysis of algorithms.

The architecture sequence consists of several courses which explore the computer "under the hood." Architecture courses allow students to understand computer hardware from both the engineer's and the programmer's point of view.

The software component of the curriculum begins with elementary (object oriented) computer programming and progresses to more advanced topics such as database management systems, artificial intelligence, and operating systems. In the final Capstone course, student teams develop large software systems using the principles of software engineering.

Through problem solving and lab work, computer science majors develop an understanding of each of these subject areas as well as the strong relationships among them.

This balanced mix of theory and application provides graduates with the requisite background for both entry into the computer profession and further graduate study in computer science.

Departmental Honors Program

The student who completes the Honors Program in Computer Science will be awarded a degree "with honors in computer science." As part of the program, a student must write an honors thesis on a topic in computer science chosen in consultation with a faculty member who acts as the student's major advisor on the thesis. A committee of three faculty members judges the thesis. The thesis is ordinarily completed during the senior year. The student who submits an acceptable ("B" or better) honors thesis and whose cumulative grade-point average in all major (CSC) courses is at least 3.5 through and including the senior year will have completed the Honors Program.

Internship Program

Many Computer Science majors choose to undertake an internship with a local company during the junior or senior year. As an intern, a student works in the computer industry under professional supervision. Students not only gain "real world" experience but also receive academic credit. Recent interns have worked for such companies as General Dynamics, Intersystems, Heartlab Inc., Shields MRI, Veridium Inc., Fidelity Investments, and ACI.

Majors

B.S. in Computer Science

The Bachelor of Science program in Computer Science is designed to prepare students for entry-level positions in the computer industry or graduate study in Computer Science. The major offers a selection of courses covering software development, design and analysis of computer systems, computer architecture and computer applications.

First year:

CSC 103 Computer Science I
CSC 104 Computer Science II
MTH 125 Calculus I
MTH 126 Calculus II

Sophomore year:

CSC 201 Discrete Mathematics for Computer Science I
CSC 202 Discrete Mathematics for Computer Science II
CSC 211 Data Structures
CSC 285 Advanced Programming
LC 207 Mathematical Experiments in Computer Science (Integrative Seminar: CSC 201, CSC 211)

Junior and Senior years:

CSC 221 Computer Logic and Organization
CSC 304 Computer Architecture
CSC 311 Algorithms and Complexity
CSC 312 Compiler Design
CSC 314 Operating Systems
CSC 323 Programming Languages
CSC 384 Theory of Computation
CSC 400 Computer Science Capstone

Choose two courses from:

CSC 325 Database Management Systems
CSC 382 Artificial Intelligence
CSC 390 Data Networking
CSC 393 Numerical Analysis
CSC 399 Topics in Computer Science
MTH 371 Combinatorics and Graph Theory

Additional Requirements:

MTH 225 Statistics for Science
PHY 121 Physics I
PHY 122 Physics II

B.A. in Computer Science B.S. in Computer Engineering

The B.A. in Computer Science is awarded only to those students who successfully complete the 3+2 cooperative computer engineering program. Students in this program receive and B.A. in Computer Science from Stonehill College and a B.S. in Computer Engineering from University of Notre Dame. See page 12 for description of the 3+2 engineering program.

Required Courses (taken at Stonehill College)

First year:

CSC 103 Computer Science I
CSC 104 Computer Science II
MTH 125 Calculus I
MTH 126 Calculus II
PHY 121 Physics I
PHY 122 Physics II

Sophomore year:

CSC 211 Data Structures
MTH 261 Multivariable Calculus
CSC 201 Discrete Mathematics
LC 207 Mathematical Experiments in Computer Science (Integrative Seminar: CSC 201 and 211)

Junior year:

MTH 251 Linear Algebra or
CSC 202 Discrete Mathematics for Computer Science II
CHM 113 General Chemistry I
CHM 232 General Chemistry II
CSC 221 Computer Logic and Organization

Four additional upper-level CS electives chosen in consultation with the Director of the Engineering Program

Students also must fulfill the General Education requirements of Stonehill College.

Minor

A minor in Computer Science is an excellent complement to a degree in Liberal Arts or Business Administration. Students in the sciences may also find the minor program attractive.

Required Courses:

CSC 103 Computer Science I
CSC 104 Computer Science II
CSC 211 Data Structures
CSC 221 Computer Logic and Organization

Three 300-level computer science courses.

Course Offerings

CSC 101 FROM GUTENBERG TO GATES (Natural Scientific Inquiry)

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

This course explores the history of information technology and its impact on our society. It provides students with the background to understand these changes and the tools they need to manage them, as well as a strong foundation in research, critical thinking, and oral and written communication skills. No prerequisites.

CSC 102 BASIC PROGRAMMING (Natural Scientific Inquiry)

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2011, 2013

An introduction to computers and programming using Visual Basic .NET. Problem solving using top-down design and procedural abstraction, visual design for the desktop and the web, databases, and fundamental hardware and software structures. Useful in any career that uses computer technology. No prerequisites.

Four Credits Fall Semester

An introduction to programming and problem solving using Java. Topics include: Input and Output; Selection; Repetition; Methods; Recursion; Arrays; Classes and Objects.

CSC 104 COMPUTER SCIENCE II

Four Credits Spring Semester

Inheritance; Polymorphism; Exceptions; Stream IO; Elementary Data Structures; Graphics; Event Driven Programming. Prerequisite: CSC 103.

CSC 195 HOW COMPUTERS WORK (Natural Scientific Inquiry)

Three Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2011, 2013

An exploration of how computers work: what goes on inside the computer (hardware), how to program computers (software), the Internet and communication revolution, artificial intelligence, and the limits of computation.

CSC 201 DISCRETE MATHEMATICS FOR COMPUTER SCIENCE I

CSC 202 DISCRETE MATHEMATICS FOR COMPUTER SCIENCE II

Three Credits Each Fall and Spring Semesters

Discrete mathematical models for applications in computer science. Mathematical induction, graphs, trees, sets, equivalence relations, functions, and partially ordered sets. Asymptotic complexity, Big-O, and Big Omega, recursion and recurrence equations, finite and infinite sums. Predicate logic and first order logic. Basic counting methods, simple combinatorics. Probability and Markov Chains. Linear algebra, applications of linear algebra in computer science. Prerequisites: MTH 126, CSC 104.

CSC 211 DATA STRUCTURES

Three Credits Fall Semester

The fundamental methods used to organize data in computer algorithms: stacks, queues, linked lists, trees, graphs, searching, and sorting. Design and analysis of algorithms. Prerequisite: CSC 104.

CSC 221 COMPUTER LOGIC AND ORGANIZATION

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2011, 2013

The basics of digital logic design. Binary representation of information, Boolean algebra, truth tables, combinatorial logic, Karnaugh maps, memory elements, flip flops, latches, registers, RAM and variations. ALU's, control logic, and finite state machines. The design of a simple computer. Gates and their implementation with transistors and integrated circuits. Prerequisite: CSC 103.

CSC 281 ADVANCED PROGRAMMING

Three Credits Spring Semester

Programming for the world wide web. Design patterns. Presentation Layer: XHTML, CSS, Javascript. Processing Layer: XSLT, Servlet Frameworks. Data Layer: XML, Document Object Model. Prerequisite: CSC 211.

Three Credits Alternate Years: Spring 2012, 2014

The basics of computer organization, architecture and assembly language. Instructions sets, address modes, and the run/time stack are explored by programming on a RISC machine. CPU and ALU design, performance analysis, pipelining, cache, virtual memory are examined. Trade-offs between RISC, CISC and advanced architectures is discussed. Assumes basic knowledge of digital logic. Prerequisite: CSC 221.

CSC 311 ALGORITHMS AND COMPLEXITY

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2010, 2012

Basic algorithm techniques: recursion, dynamic programming, greedy method branch and bound. Analysis of algorithms: recurrence equations, NP-completeness, asymptotic complexity. Applications include graph and combinatorial algorithms. Prerequisites: CSC 201 and CSC 211.

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2011, 2013

Finite automata and lexical analysis, context free grammars, top-down and bottom-up parsing, syntax directed translation, symbol table techniques, runtime storage administration, code generation, optimization. Prerequisite: CSC 211.

CSC 314 OPERATING SYSTEMS

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2010, 2012

Process management, concurrency, virtual storage organization, processor management, auxiliary storage management, operating system performance. Prerequisite: CSC 211.

Three Credits Alternate Years: Spring 2012, 2014

Formal language concepts including syntax and basic characteristics of grammars. Control structures, data flow, run-time considerations. Scripting, Functional, and Logic languages. Prerequisite: CSC 211.

Three Credits Alternate Years: Spring 2011, 2013

Data Modeling using the Entity-Relationship approach. The Relational Model and Relational Algebra. SQL. Functional dependencies and normalization. Database design Process. Record storage and primary file organization. Index structures for files. Concurrency control techniques. Prerequisite: CSC 211.

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

Introduction to artificial intelligence. Knowledge representation. Natural language processing. Deduction and inference. Expert systems. Computer vision. Robotics. Programming in LISP, PROLOG, or another AI language. Prerequisite: CSC 211.

Three Credits Alternate Years: Spring 2011, 2013

Introduction to the general theory of computation. Formal grammars: regular, context-free, and context-sensitive languages. Formal automata: finite-state and pushdown models. Decidability. Turing Machines. The Chomsky hierarchy. NP-Completeness and Complexity Theory. Also listed as MTH 384. Prerequisite: CSC 201.

CSC 390 DATA NETWORKING

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2011, 2013

Data Networking: Data communication system components, network architecture, layered protocols, traffic analysis, and capacity planning. Prerequisite: CSC 211.

CSC 393 NUMERICAL ANALYSIS

Three Credits

For description and semester schedule, see MTH 393.

CSC 399 TOPICS IN COMPUTER SCIENCE

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

An advanced topic in an area of current interest in computer science.

CSC 400 COMPUTER SCIENCE CAPSTONE

Four Credits Spring Semester

Large-scale software project involving teamwork, written reports and oral presentations. Prerequisite: Senior standing in Computer Science.

CSC 450 COMPUTER SCIENCE HONORS THESIS

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semester

For fourth-year students in the Computer Science Honors Program. Students are required to consult with a faculty member regarding a suitable thesis topic. The final project is judged by a panel of three faculty members. The project may be completed either in one or two semesters. Prerequisite: A grade-point average of 3.5 in all Computer Science courses.

CSC 475 INTERNSHIP IN COMPUTER SCIENCE

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Opportunity for qualified students to work in the computer industry under professional supervision.

CSC 490 DIRECTED STUDY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Opportunity for upper level students to do advanced work in a specialized area of computer science. Prerequisite: Permission of faculty member directing the project and the Department Chairperson required.

Economics

Faculty:

Robert Rosenthal, Chairperson

Professor:

R. Rosenthal

Associate Professors:

N. Hammerle

M. Kazarosian

H. Kazemi

A. Motomura

S. Mulholland

Faculty Fellow:

R. Pritchard

The Department of Economics offers a major and minor in Economics.

Our mission is to provide a curriculum and learning experience in the theory, and practice of modern economics. We provide the foundation for the application of theory to conventional economic issues, as well as to explore more recent attempts to answer human behavioral puzzles. In all classes, our main objective is to help the student ask, and answer questions creatively. To that end, teaching analytical and communication skills are the common denominators of the Stonehill economics curriculum.

The Department further recognizes an intellectual, cultural, and social duty to the community and pledges its resources to that end whenever appropriate and feasible.

Major

To complete the Economics Major, students are required to take twelve courses approved for the Major:

First or Sophomore Year

ECO 176 Principles of Microeconomics
ECO 178 Principles of Macroeconomics

Sophomore or Junior Year

ECO 241 Economic Statistics (BUS 206
Quantitative Analysis, MTH 225
Statistics in Science, or MTH 396
Statistics, may be substituted)
ECO 301 Intermediate Microeconomics
ECO 303 Intermediate Macroeconomics

Junior or Senior Year

Seven upper-level (200 or above) courses including the Capstone course.

Although not required, ECO 242 Econometrics is strongly recommended for all majors.

Students can apply only one three-credit internship towards one of the seven upper-level electives.

Students can apply normally only one study abroad course per semester to help fulfill their electives.

This internship, and the study abroad course(s) must be approved by the Department Chair, as well as by the faculty moderator selected by the student.

Students who double major must consult with the Chair of the Economics Department regarding their Capstone requirements prior to selecting their Fall senior year courses.

Choosing any of the Calculus sequence (MTH 125, MTH 126, MTH 261) may fulfill up to two of the seven upper-level electives.

Minor

A minor consists of six courses:
ECO 176 Principles of Microeconomics
ECO 178 Principles of Macroeconomics
ECO 301 Intermediate Microeconomics OR
ECO 303 Intermediate Macroeconomics
ECO 241 Economic Statistics OR (BUS 206 Quantitative Analysis,
MTH 225 Statistics in Science, OR MTH 396 Statistics, may be substituted)

Two economics electives at the 200 level or above.

Internships, study abroad courses, and Calculus cannot be used to fulfill electives for minors.

Departmental Honors Program

Students who complete the Honors Program in Economics will be awarded a degree with Honors in Economics. Departmental Honors Scholars must satisfy the following criteria:

Minimum cumulative grade-point average of 3.3 in the Major.

Completion of the following Pre-requisite Courses:

ECO 301 Intermediate Microeconomics
ECO 303 Intermediate Macroeconomics
ECO 241 Economic Statistics
ECO 242 Econometrics.

Junior Year:

The student must enlist a member of the economics faculty to direct the student's work through the process of obtaining honors recognition.

Senior Year:

In the fall semester of the senior year, the student must enroll in ECO 449 Economics Honors Thesis I in which the candidate must demonstrate sufficient progress toward an honors thesis to the Economics faculty. This requires a minimum of a well-developed topic, a comprehensive review of the literature, and evidence that sufficient data is available to conduct empirical work, as demonstrated in writing and through an oral presentation to the Economics faculty.

In the spring semester of the senior year, the student must enroll in ECO 450 Economics Honors Thesis II in which the candidate must complete a thesis paper and will make an oral presentation to the Economics faculty in accordance with the Department's timetable.

Successful completion of Honors Program requires an Honors Thesis grade of B or better and a minimum cumulative grade-point average of 3.3. Additional details and deadlines are available from the Department.

Career-Specific Suggested Courses of Study

The various curricula below are suggested courses of study. They are not required. The suggestions aim to provide some general preliminary guidance for those planning for any of the four objectives defined below. There are certainly courses in disciplines not specified that may be equally appropriate depending upon each student's preferences. Faculty in the Economics Department are willing and eager to work with students on an individual basis to address particular needs.

A. Law School

Students planning for Law School are encouraged to enhance the Economics Department's course requirements by choosing several upper-level electives from the English, Philosophy, or Political Science Departments. Courses from those departments, which require writing assignments as a significant proportion of the course grade, are most strongly recommended.

Economics Department electives with content related to legal matters include:

ECO 246 Forensic Economics
ECO 244 The Economics of Sports
ECO 211 Economics of Labor Unions
ECO 317 Economics and the Law
ECO 329 Industrial Organization
ECO 321 Economics of Healthcare

B. Graduate School in Economics or Finance

Students planning to do graduate work in Economics or Finance normally will elect additional courses after consulting with a faculty member in the department. Mainstream graduate programs rely heavily on the use of advanced mathematics, and are highly selective. As a result, students should obtain a strong background in mathematics.

Highly recommended Mathematics Department courses are three semesters of Calculus (MTH 125, MTH 126 and MTH 261) and a semester of MTH 251 Linear Algebra.

Choosing to complete the Honors Program in Economics as well as choosing ECO 242 Econometrics before senior year are especially important for graduate school bound students.

Other strongly recommended Economics courses: ECO 337 Mathematical Economics, and ECO 341 Forecasting.

Students are encouraged to consider electives that rely heavily on the application of Intermediate Microeconomic or Macroeconomic Theory.

Examples of some courses with Microeconomic foundations:
ECO 329 Industrial Organization
ECO 305 Public Sector Economics

Examples of some courses with Macroeconomic foundations:
ECO 309 Money and Banking
ECO 333 Monetary Theory and Policy
ECO 343 International Finance
ECO 401 Portfolio Management
ECO 420 Fixed Income Analysis

C. Business School

Students planning for graduate business school for an MBA or a Master of Science in Accountancy (MSA) are encouraged to enroll in:
BUS 203 Financial Accounting
BUS 311 Intermediate Accounting I and BUS 312 Intermediate Accounting II

Economics Department electives related to business School preparation that are strongly recommended include:

ECO 242 Econometrics
ECO 309 Money and Banking
ECO 333 Monetary Theory and Policy
ECO 329 Industrial Organization
ECO 331 Business Organization

ECO 335 Managerial Economics
 ECO 343 International Finance
 ECO 401 Portfolio Management

D. Financial Market Occupations

Many students are interested in financial market-related occupations in either the private sector (e.g. financial services and investment industry, economic consulting industry) or the public sector (e.g. The Federal Reserve Bank, The Department of Revenue, The Bureau of Labor Statistics) are encouraged to enroll in the following courses to prepare for the advanced data analysis in these occupations: ECO 242 Econometrics, and ECO 341 Forecasting

Advanced theoretical training courses include:
 ECO 309 Money and Banking
 ECO 333 Monetary Theory and Policy
 ECO 343 International Finance
 ECO 401 Portfolio Management
 ECO 329 Industrial Organization
 ECO 305 Public Sector Economics
 ECO 420 Fixed Income Analysis

Course Offerings

ECO 171 ECONOMICS AND EVERYDAY LIFE (Social Scientific Inquiry)

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Studies the economic way of thinking, how people make choices, how a market economy works. Topics include: assessing policies, shortages, wages, poverty, crime, environment, marriage, divorce, family size, declining church attendance, Social Security, international trade and investment, inflation, interest rate, budget deficits/surpluses. ECO 171 does not qualify as an elective for either the major or minor nor does it substitute for ECO 176.

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

An introduction to the unprecedented developments taking place in the most populous and fastest growing nation. Focus on China's metamorphosis from a centrally planned socialist state to a market economy under the umbrella of political suppression. Additional emphasis of the unintended consequences of their current "economic growth at any cost" policies from the perspective of economic theory, as well as from a cross section of disciplines including political science, religion, sociology, communications, and film studies. Prerequisites: ECO 176 and ECO 178

ECO 241 ECONOMIC STATISTICS (Statistical Reasoning)

Three Credits Fall Semester

Descriptive statistics; probability; probability distributions; expected values; the binomial distribution; the normal distribution; sampling and sampling distributions; statistical inference – estimation and hypothesis testing; index numbers.

ECO 242 ECONOMETRICS

Three Credits Spring Semester

Is secondary smoke harmful? Learn econometrics to appropriately answer questions like this. The theory and application of multivariate regression analysis. We concentrate on problems of estimation and hypothesis testing of the direction and magnitude of possible causal relationships among variables. We use STATA econometrics software. Prerequisites: ECO 176 and ECO 178 and ECO 241.

ECO 244 THE ECONOMICS OF SPORTS

Three Credits Spring Semester

The course analyzes the industry of sports, especially professional and big-time college sports, using and developing tools of economic analysis, mainly microeconomics. Topics include the salary structure of professional team sports and the effects of free agency; the factors affecting sports attendance; the value of sports programming to broadcasters, and the effect of television revenues; the effect of the NCAA on television contracts and student-athlete choices; the economic effects of professional sports franchises and stadia. Prerequisite: ECO 176 and ECO 178 and completion of any Stastical Reasoning course.

ECO 246 FORENSIC ECONOMICS

Three Credits Fall Semester

Forensic Economics is the study of the contributions made by economists in providing expert opinions related to the measurement of economic damages in a vast array of legal dilemmas and circumstances. Such circumstances include the wrongful death associated with medical malpractice, discrimination and wrongful termination, catastrophic personal injuries, and others. This course provides students with an opportunity to "do economics" by incorporating active learning techniques associated with the functions of the forensic economist. Prerequisites: ECO 176 and ECO 178, and statistics from any discipline. Familiarity with spreadsheet software (such as Excel) is also strongly recommended.

ECO 301 INTERMEDIATE MICROECONOMICS

Three Credits Fall Semester

Theory of consumer behavior, the firm, product and factor markets, with emphasis on application of theory to real world problems. Prerequisites: ECO 176 and ECO 178.

ECO 303 INTERMEDIATE MACROECONOMICS

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Theory of income, employment, and output; economic fluctuations, inflation, interest rates, growth, and stabilization policy. Prerequisites: ECO 176 and ECO 178.

ECO 305 PUBLIC SECTOR ECONOMICS

Three Credits Fall Semester

Theoretical and empirical microeconomic analysis of government policy with respect to the efficient allocation of resources and the equitable distribution of income. Learn how appropriately chosen government policy enhances (rather than hinders) efficiency and equity in our society. Prerequisites: ECO 176 and ECO 178.

ECO 309 MONEY AND BANKING

Three Credits Fall Semester

Analysis of the operation of financial markets and financial institutions focusing on financial intermediaries including commercial banks, investment banks and the central bank. Examines the structure and performance of the bond and stock markets, derivatives, and other financial instruments. Economic analysis of healthcare delivery markets, physician and nurse shortages, insurance industry distortions, models of hospital behavior, demand and supply considerations, impact of market failure. Prerequisite: ECO 176.

ECO 323 LABOR ECONOMICS AND MANPOWER POLICY

Three Credits Fall Semester

Economic analysis of labor markets, supply and demand considerations, labor force participation, wage determination models, discrimination theories, unemployment, manpower planning programs, and other public policies. Prerequisite: ECO 176 and ECO 178.

ECO 327 ENVIRONMENTAL ECONOMICS

Three Credits Spring Semester

Topics in natural resource and energy economics and environmental regulation, include the allocation, development, conservation, and scarcity of natural resources. We study pollution control through taxes, quotas and standards using cost-benefit models as a policy guide. Types of energy resources, substitutability, conversion and the relevance of energy to economic growth is discussed. Prerequisite: ECO 176.

ECO 329 INDUSTRIAL ORGANIZATION

Three Credits Spring Semester

Analysis of industries with varying degree of monopoly power and influence: monopolies, cartels, oligopolies, and monopolistic competition. Firm strategies, under both collusive arrangements and competitive pressures. Policy implications like antitrust and regulation. Effects of asymmetrically held information – how parties with information try to use it, those lacking information try to make up for it. Prerequisite: ECO 176; recommended: ECO 301 and ECO 241-ECO 242.

ECO 333 MONETARY THEORY AND POLICY

Three Credits Spring Semester

The roles of money, central banking, and monetary policy in the economy. How the Fed reacts to different news and how to predict the impact of the Fed reaction on the financial community. Topics start with the Classical Theory moving onto the Keynesian Theory and Milton Friedman's Modern Quantity Theory. Different Theories on demand for money and supply of money and their impact on the conduct and results of monetary policy are examined. Prerequisite: ECO 309 and ECO 303.

ECO 335 MANAGERIAL ECONOMICS(Capstone Course Fall 2011)

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2011, 2013

The application of economic theory and analysis to managerial decision-making. Topics include optimization techniques, alternative pricing policies, various strategic decision making analysis. Senior level managers provide interactive lectures emphasizing the decision-making process applicable to their firm or industry. Prerequisites: ECO 301, ECO 303, ECO 241, ECO 242 or equivalent.

ECO 337 MATHEMATICAL ECONOMICS

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

Applications of calculus, linear algebra and differential equations to economic modeling, equilibrium analysis, optimization, comparative static analysis, dynamic analysis and game theory. Topics include: theory of the firm, consumer theory, macroeconomic models, and more. Prerequisites: MTH 125-MTH 126, and ECO 301- ECO 303; recommended: MTH 251.

ECO 341 FORECASTING

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

Examination of modern forecasting methods utilized in economics and business with concentration on econometric models, exponential smoothing techniques, and time-series models. Advanced time-series models, including advanced exponential smoothing techniques and autoregressive integrated moving average (ARIMA) techniques (Box-Jenkins models). Evaluation and comparison of forecasting models and techniques. Prerequisite: ECO 242 or equivalent.

ECO 343 INTERNATIONAL FINANCE

Three Credits Fall Semester

Different aspects of the international financial markets, international trade, and balance of payments are studied by using analytical models of an open economy. This course examines the structure and the performance of the foreign exchange market through an extensive use of the Bloomberg technology. Using Bloomberg, students learn the interactions between economic news, global financial markets and exchange rates. Particular emphasis is placed on current issues related to the global financial crisis, international monetary system, the European Union and The European Bank. Other topics include money and financial management for international corporations, interest and commodity arbitrage, spot and forward currency markets. Bloomberg Financial Terminals and Bridge Telerate are used in the course in order to give students a more hands-on knowledge of the international financial markets. Prerequisites: ECO 176 and ECO 178. May not receive credit for both ECO 343 and BUS 425.

ECO 401 PORTFOLIO MANAGEMENT

Three Credits Spring Semester

This course is for students interested in pursuing careers in the investment world. It provides them with the necessary tools to obtain positions in portfolio management, investment banking, and money management of mutual funds, retirement assets, pension funds, and banks' trusts. Topics include risk/return strategies, optimal portfolio theory, the Capital Asset Pricing Model, fixed-income portfolio management, options markets, option valuation, and futures and swaps. Bloomberg Financial Terminals and Bridge Telerate are used extensively in the course, as they are in the financial community. This simulates the interaction between markets, and creates a virtual trading investment opportunity. Familiarity with this real-world tool prepares students for the jobs mentioned above. Prerequisites: ECO 309 or ECO 303, and consent of the Instructor. May not receive credit for both ECO 401 and BUS 327.

ECO 420 FIXED INCOME ANALYSIS

Three Credits Spring Semester

This course covers valuation and portfolio management techniques for fixed income securities. Major topics include: the term of structure or interest rates; the measurement and management of price volatility using duration and immunization; credit risk embedded options and option-adjusted spreads; mortgages and prepayments risk; and international bond portfolios. Prerequisites: ECO 309 or BUS 327.

ECO 421 SEMINAR IN ECONOMIC HISTORY (Capstone Course)

Three Credits Spring Semester

Capstone seminar for Economics majors. Major works of economic history are studied, to understand the field's major narratives and methodology. Students write a major research paper, give each other feedback, and make a formal presentation to the department. Prerequisites: Senior EC major, ECO 241, ECO 301 and ECO 303.

ECO 449 ECONOMICS HONORS THESIS I

Three Credits Fall Semester

Thesis-writing seniors in the economics Honor Program are required to consult with a faculty advisor and to begin research for a thesis. This requires a minimum of a well-developed topic, comprehensive review of the literature and evidence that sufficient data is available to conduct empirical work, as demonstrated in writing and through an oral presentation to the economics faculty. Consult "Departmental Honors Program" section for more detail. Prerequisites: Senior Standing, acceptance to the Economics Honors Program, consent of Department Chair.

ECO 450 ECONOMICS HONORS THESIS II

Three Credits Spring Semester

Thesis-writing seniors in the Economics Honors Program are required to complete a thesis paper and will make an oral presentation to the economics faculty in accordance with Department's timetable. Consult "Department Honors Program" section for more detail. Prerequisites: ECO 449, Senior Standing, acceptance to the Economics Honor Program, consent of Department Chair.

ECO 475 INTERNSHIP IN ECONOMIC RESEARCH

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Students work at a business or government organization (sponsor) under the supervision of both a faculty member and the sponsor. The field of study and sponsoring organization is specific to the student's interest. In the past, students have worked in a wide variety of fields, including brokerage firms, state and local government agencies, private banks, and consulting organizations. The student's main academic requirement is to successfully complete a detailed paper describing the connection between their internship responsibilities and economic theory and quantitative techniques. Prerequisite: Minimum 3.0 GPA and permission of the Internship Coordinator and Department Chairperson required.

ECO 490 DIRECTED STUDY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Investigation in some field for which the student has special interest not covered by a normally-scheduled course. Student must present plans in advance of pre-registration to some full-time faculty member who will agree to direct and evaluate the project. Prerequisite: Permission of the faculty member directing the project and the Department Chairperson required.

The Department of Education Studies offers both major and minor programs in Early Childhood Education and Elementary Education, and a minor in secondary education. Stonehill College is approved by the Massachusetts Department of Elementary and Secondary Education to endorse licensure in the following areas: Early Childhood (PK-2), Elementary (1-6) and Secondary (see licensure program description below).

The mission of the Department of Education Studies is to prepare students to become knowledgeable, skilled and caring teachers of the highest caliber. Teacher preparation in the 21st century involves a marriage between pedagogical theory and liberal arts/science content.

Literacy, numeracy, social studies, and science, as well as fine arts make up the content of the PK-12 school curriculum. A major in a liberal arts or science and completion of the Cornerstone Program enable Stonehill College Education students to acquire the requisite content knowledge necessary to become exemplary classroom teachers.

Education coursework, coupled with pre-practicum and practicum experiences, are designed to complement this content knowledge. These experiences encourage students to construct deep understandings of the application of pedagogical knowledge to a variety of classrooms, schools, and communities. Through opportunities to observe, assist, and work directly with students designing and implementing content specific instruction, Stonehill College Education students become reflective practitioners who apply educational theory to classroom instructional practice.

Together, Education faculty, staff and students seek to:

- Make education more responsive to the evolving needs of society by investigating the complexity of culture, language, and learning differences in today's public, private and parochial classrooms;
- Meet the learning needs of all students through the application of developmental and pedagogical theory to classroom practice;
- Design instruction to ensure that all students experience success;
- Create classroom materials that capitalize on student involvement, and utilize multiple ways of knowing and expressing knowledge;
- Utilize technology as a critical component of the curriculum, aiding both teaching and learning.

The Department of Education Studies is committed to principles of personal development, democracy, inclusion, and the creation of a just and compassionate world. Together, we explore developmentally appropriate practice, methodology, and technology, while retaining a constant emphasis on education for civic engagement, self-awareness and humanism.

The ultimate goal of the Stonehill College Department of Education Studies is to enhance the total development of the individual while producing graduates who aspire to excellence for themselves, their peers, schools, communities, and the education profession.

EDU 307 CLASSROOM MANAGEMENT

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Relationship of classroom organization to academic achievement and classroom behavior. An analysis of alternative classroom designs, patterns of interactions, and hierarchies of learning to create a well-organized and effective learning environment. Not open to first-year students.

EDU 312 ART, MUSIC AND MOVEMENT

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Course focus is on art, music and movement as creative processes, as expressive modalities and as educative and insight-building tools for children with and without disabilities. Course work stresses a developmental perspective of children's art, music and movement expression. Not open to first-year students.

EDU 314 PRESCHOOL AND ELEMENTARY CURRICULUM AND METHODS

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Familiarizes students with approaches and materials for teaching, and develops beginning competence in designing and evaluating curricular programs and activities. Emphasizes lesson planning, unit planning, and the development of learning centers particularly as they relate to mathematics and science instruction. Preschool through sixth grade. Computer literacy skills are addressed throughout the course. Prerequisites: EDU 102 or EDU 104, and Junior standing. Pre-practicum: 1 full day/week required.

EDU 316 CLASSROOM THEATER

Three Credits Spring Semester

An introduction to dramatic literature suitable for use in grades K-6. The use of this type of material has been shown to increase reading skills, self-image, and sense of community. To experience this type of learning, students undergo the process involved in classroom drama so that they might better utilize this teaching philosophy in their own classrooms.

EDU 325 LEARNING TO TEACH III

One Credit Fall 2010 Semester

A series of six evening seminars facilitated by Stonehill faculty and professional education practitioners. EDU 325 will focus on teaching and learning. Topics will include: meeting individual student needs; Special Education; English Language Learners; classroom management; and standardized testing. Course also requires 20 hours of pre-practicum field experience plus completion of an electronic work folder. Pre-requisite EDU 225.

EDU 327 DIAGNOSIS AND REMEDIATION OF READING DISABILITIES

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

Examination of diagnostic techniques used in the identification of reading disabilities. Students will develop a remedial plan based on diagnostic information. Prerequisites: EDU 202 and (EDU 209 or EDU 213).

EDU 330 READING & WRITING IN THE CONTENT AREAS

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

Development of techniques to meet the reading and writing needs of students across content areas. Emphasis is placed on strategies which teach students to improve learning through application of reading and writing techniques. Not open to first-year students.

EDU 333 TOPICS IN EDUCATION

Three Credits

In-depth coverage of an up-to-date advanced educational topic. This course is an advanced education elective for Education majors / Secondary Education minors. Specific content focuses on cutting edge educational theory and practice in the specific sub-discipline of the faculty member teaching the course. Course is repeatable with consent of Department Chair.

EDU 412 PRACTICUM: ELEMENTARY EDUCATION

Twelve Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Supervised practicum in elementary classroom (grades 1-6) including teaching students with and without disabilities. Evaluation based upon Massachusetts DOE Professional Teaching Standards. Includes Capstone seminar. Prerequisites: Senior standing, completion of Education requirements, minimum 3.0 GPA, passing scores on all MTEL subtests, and permission of Director of Licensure, Placement, and Supervision required.

EDU 415 PRACTICUM: EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION

Twelve Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Supervised practicum in early childhood classrooms including teaching students with and without disabilities. Evaluation based upon Massachusetts DOE Professional Teaching Standards. Practicum hours in two settings (1) PreK/K & (2) 1st/2nd grade. Includes Capstone seminar. Prerequisites: Senior standing, completion of Education requirements, minimum 3.0 GPA, passing scores on all MTEL subtests, and permission of Director of Licensure, Placement, and Supervision required.

EDU 416 "TEACHING TO LEARN:" COURSE AND PRACTICUM TEACHER RESIDENCY PROGRAM 8-12 LEVEL

Fifteen Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Course/residency program leading to initial license at 8-12 level in major field of study (Biology, Chemistry, English, History, Mathematics, Political Science/Political Philosophy). Supervised practicum in secondary classroom. Evaluation based on Massachusetts DOE Professional Teaching Standards. Includes Capstone seminar. Prerequisites: senior standing, completion of Education requirements, minimum 3.0 GPA, passing scores on all appropriate MTEL, and permission of Director of Licensure, Placement, and Supervision required.

EDU 417 "TEACHING TO LEARN:" COURSE AND PRACTICUM TEACHER RESIDENCY PROGRAM 5-12 LEVEL

Fifteen Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Course/residency program leading to initial license at 5-12 level in major field of study (Foreign Language). Supervised practicum in two settings, middle/high school. Evaluation based on Massachusetts DOE Professional Teaching Standards. Includes Capstone seminar. Prerequisites: senior standing, completion of Education requirements, minimum 3.0 GPA, passing scores on all appropriate MTEL, and permission of Director of Licensure, Placement, and Supervision required.

EDU 425 "LEARNING TO TEACH:" COURSE AND PRE-PRACTICUM ROTATION PROGRAM (a) First Year (b) Sophomore (c) Junior

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters (Classes of 2011 and 2012 only)

A series of evening/Saturday sessions facilitated by Stonehill faculty and professional practitioners. Course requires 100 hours of pre-practicum field experience plus completion of electronic portfolio. EDU 425 A and B meet for full year and EDU 425C meets for one semester. The student will earn three credits at the end of junior year.

EDU 475 SENIOR FIELD PROJECT

Nine or Twelve Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Field experience for 15 weeks, 3 or 5 days per week. Student will design a field-based research project in consultation with an Education Department faculty member. Prerequisite: Senior standing and permission of instructor and Department Chairperson required.

EDU 476 INTERNSHIP IN EDUCATION

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Research or practical experience in the field of education at an outside agency. The upper-class student is expected to carry out a supervised assignment based upon experiences in the field working alongside a supervising practitioner. Prerequisite: Permission of instructor and Department Chairperson required. Not open to first-year students.

EDU 490 DIRECTED STUDY IN EDUCATION

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Investigation in a field of education for which the student has special interest not covered by a normally-scheduled course. Students must present plans in advance of course selection to a full-time faculty member who will agree to direct and evaluate the project. Prerequisite: Approval of both faculty member directing the project and the Department Chairperson. Not open to first-year students.

EDU 496 INDEPENDENT RESEARCH IN EDUCATION

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Opportunity for upper-class students to carry out an advanced research project in a specialized area of education under the direction of a faculty member from the Education Department. The research may be part of an ongoing project being conducted by the faculty member, or the student and faculty member may develop an original project. Prerequisite: Approval of both faculty member directing the project and the Department Chairperson. Not open to first-year students.

Engineering

A Cooperative 3+2 Program With The University of Notre DameRalph Bravaco, Program Director

Stonehill College and the University of Notre Dame offer a five-year B.A./B.S. program in science and engineering. Students enrolled in the program matriculate for three years at Stonehill College and then transfer to the University of Notre Dame for two years. Those who complete the program receive two degrees: A Bachelor of Arts degree in one of the sciences from Stonehill College and a Bachelor of Science degree in an engineering discipline from the University of Notre Dame.

To transfer to Notre Dame a student must maintain a 3.3 grade-point average and have the recommendations of the department chair at Stonehill College and the Assistant Dean of Academic Affairs, College of Engineering at the University of Notre Dame

Students may choose one of the following degree combinations:

- B.A. in Chemistry/ B.S. in Chemical Engineering. See page 12 for details.
- B.A. in Computer Science/B.S. in Computer Engineering. See page 12 for details.
- B.A. in Environmental Studies/B.S. in Environmental Geosciences. See page 12 for details.
- B.A. in Physics/ B.S. in Aerospace, Civil, Electrical, or Mechanical Engineering. See page 12 for details.

Students in this program will also complete the General Education requirements of Stonehill College.

The Department of English offers a major and minor in English and a minor in Cinema Studies.

Departmental Mission

The program exposes students to a variety of texts so that they can see the relationships among those texts, the contexts from which those texts emerge, and the connections between those texts and their own intellectual and social concerns.

By encouraging disciplined inquiry and critical thinking, English courses challenge students to examine their cultural and historical positions and to organize and articulate their discoveries. All courses require oral and written work in the form of class participation and individual papers. The program provides students with an understanding of traditional literary history and of the histories that have been left out of "the tradition."

The purpose of the program in English is not to legitimize one critical position (what is "worth knowing") but to consider the consequences of "knowing" within the academic disciplines, to recognize the options involved in adopting a critical stance about the written and performance texts that have shaped individual and community experience, and to understand the conventions and practices that have shaped those texts.

Curriculum

The English Curriculum is designed to provide students with both a broad knowledge of literary history and training in close, careful textual analysis. As they begin the major, students take three required courses: ENG 200, a small seminar that serves to introduce students to literary genres and critical terms; and ENG 201 and ENG 202, larger courses, to be taken in sequence, which cover major movements in literary history. It is also common for freshmen and sophomores to take a section of ENG 220 Introductory Topics in Literature, a literary seminar with special topics that develops critical reading and writing skills. In addition, students take five more elective courses. Three of the five total elective courses must be taken in at least three of the following areas: Medieval Literature, Early Modern Literature, Literature and Cultural Studies 1700-1900, and Literature and Cultural Studies 1900 to the present. In their junior year, students take ENG 300, an introduction to literary theory that is a prerequisite for the Capstone seminar and all directed studies. Students may take the Capstone seminar in either their junior or senior year. The practica courses are typically fulfilled in the senior year, when students may intern at a professional workplace, work as a teaching apprentice with a faculty member teaching a GL course, or, if Education majors or minors, complete their student teaching requirement. The Department also encourages students to take English courses beyond the number required, so as to gain a full sense of their discipline.

Major

To complete the English Major, students are required to take 11 courses:

- ENG 200 Introduction to Literary Studies
- ENG 201 Literary History 1
- ENG 202 Literary History 2
- ENG 300 Critical Theory

A total of five elective courses (200-400 level), three of which must be taken in three of the four following areas of study:

Medieval Literature

- ENG 301 Topics in Medieval Literature
- ENG 350 Chaucer

Early Modern Literature

- ENG 304 Topics in Early Modern Literature
- ENG 353 Shakespeare
- ENG 354 Shakespeare's Rivals

Literary and Cultural Studies 1700-1900

(British, American, or outside the Anglo-American tradition):

- ENG 306 Topics in British Literature, 1700-1900
- ENG 356 Topics in British and Continental Literature 1660-1800
- ENG 359 Nineteenth-Century British Poetry
- ENG 360 American Literature to 1865
- ENG 364 Nineteenth-Century American Novel
- ENG 367 Topics in Nineteenth-Century American Literature
- ENG 385 Taking the Victorians to the Movies

Literary and Cultural Studies 1900-present

(British, American, or outside the Anglo-American tradition):

- ENG 307 Topics in British Literature, 1900-Present
- ENG 361 American Literature, 1865-Present
- ENG 366 Topics in Twentieth-Century American Literature

- ENG 368 Race, Ethnicity, and American Culture
- ENG 369 African-American Literature
- ENG 371 Topics in Contemporary Literature
- ENG 380 Modern Poetry
- ENG 381 Modern Drama
- ENG 382 American Drama
- ENG 384 Twentieth-Century American Novel
- ENG 389 Alternative Modernisms
- ENG 390 Topics in Modernism
- ENG 392 Topics in Postcolonial and Global Literature
- ENG 395 Introduction to Postcolonial Literature and Culture
- ENG 397 Global Cultures and Contexts

Capstone:

- ENG 422 Capstone Seminar

One of three Practica:

- ENG 475 A domestic or an international internship in a professional work place (for instance, a publishing company, public relations firm, law firm, newspaper, television or radio station, film production company, advertising company).
- ENG 476 Designed for senior English majors seriously intending to pursue graduate study, this apprenticeship gives the student experience in creating and coordinating a general studies course under the direction of a faculty member. Prerequisite: ENG 300 and permission of Department Chairperson.
- EDU 412 Student Teaching for Education
- EDU 417 major/minors (domestic or international).

Minor in English

The English minor consists of a sequence of at least six courses determined after consultation with a departmental advisor of the student's choice. ENG 200 Introduction to Literary Studies and ENG 300 Critical Theory are strongly recommended. The only prerequisite to the minor is fulfillment of the Cornerstone requirements in Literature and History.

Course Offerings

ENG 200 INTRODUCTION TO LITERARY STUDIES

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Introduction to the vocabulary and practices of criticism and the skills of close reading.

ENG 201 LITERARY HISTORY I

Three Credits Fall Semester

Introduction to English literary history through poetry, drama, and narrative from Anglo-Saxon roots to the development of British literary genres in the medieval and early modern periods.

ENG 202 LITERARY HISTORY II

Three Credits Spring Semester

Exploration of literature in the modern period, paying particular attention to the development of genres, the expansion of the British Empire, and the emergence of the British and American literary traditions.

ENG 204 DRAMA

Three Credits Spring Semester

Through the study of traditional and non-traditional types of drama (to include screenplays as well), students are introduced to new ways of classifying and reading texts. Designed for both entering and upper-level students with a particular emphasis on close reading.

ENG 205 FICTION

Three Credits Spring Semester

Through the study of traditional and non-traditional types of fiction (to include short stories as well), students are introduced to new ways of classifying and reading texts. Designed for both entering and upper-level students with a particular emphasis on close reading.

ENG 220 INTRODUCTORY TOPICS IN LITERATURE

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Introductory literary seminars that emphasize the development of writing and analytic skills necessary for upper-division English courses. Topics will vary from semester to semester. Priority given to first- and second-year students. May be taken twice.

ENG 257 GLOBAL DETECTIVE FICTION

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

A critical study of contemporary novels by authors offering new, globally inflected twists on an old form. Readings might include mysteries and crime fictions by Henning Mankell, Luiz Garcia Roza, Dennis Potter, Alexander McCall Smith, and Donna Leon.

ENG 271 FILM AND STORY

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2009, 2011

An introduction to film art through a comparison of its distinguishing features with those of fiction and of drama.

ENG 272 FILM HISTORY

Three Credits Spring Semester

A survey of major film industries and canonical texts presented in a chronological order serving specific themes (for example, film-making in a given geographical region).

ENG 273 HITCHCOCK

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2010, 2012

A survey of Alfred Hitchcock's work and obsessions. This course welcomes students with no prior experience in the study of film. Additional screening time required.

ENG 280 SHAKESPEARE FOR EVERYONE

Three Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2010, 2012

This course provides a general introduction to the drama of William Shakespeare. We will carefully explore the genres that Shakespeare mastered – comedy, tragedy, romance, and the history play – by focusing primarily on how Shakespeare uses language to create character and dramatic tension and engages with larger ethical, social, and political questions.

ENG 300 CRITICAL THEORY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Introduction to contemporary theory – its origin and framework – by examining literary criticism as an institutional discourse.

Prerequisite: ENG 200.

ENG 301 TOPICS IN MEDIEVAL LITERATURE

Three Credits Fall Semester

A thematic study of texts, figures, and influences associated with the literature of the Middle Ages. May be taken twice.

ENG 304 TOPICS IN EARLY MODERN LITERATURE

Three Credits Spring Semester

A thematic study of texts, figures, and influences associated with the literature of the early modern period. May be taken twice.

ENG 306 TOPICS IN BRITISH LITERATURE, 1700-1900

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

A critical analysis of various cultural and literary issues that emerge in British literature. May be taken twice.

ENG 307 TOPICS IN BRITISH LITERATURE, 1900 - PRESENT

Three Credits Spring Semester

A critical analysis of various cultural and literary issues that emerge in British Literature in the twentieth and twenty-first centuries. May be taken twice.

ENG 310 TOPICS IN WORLD LITERATURE

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

A critical analysis of literature outside of the American and British traditions. May be taken twice.

ENG 322 WORLD CINEMA

Three Credits Spring Semester

A critical study of specific topics related to cinema production in countries outside of Europe and North America, with emphasis on the periods since the introduction of sound.

ENG 323 FILM INDUSTRY

Three Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2009, 2011

An historical introduction to the economics and politics of film production.

ENG 324 TELEVISION DRAMA

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

A survey of television genres based on contemporary critical theories.

ENG 325 FILM AND IDEOLOGY

Three Credits Fall Semester

A critical study of films representing the images, myths, and rituals that reflect commonly held beliefs and attitudes regarding sex, gender, race, and class.

ENG 326 AMERICAN CINEMA

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

A critical study of specific topics related to the American narrative film, with emphasis on the periods since the introduction of sound.

ENG 327 EUROPEAN CINEMA

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

A critical study of specific topics related to the European narrative film, with emphasis on the periods since the introduction of sound.

ENG 329 RACE IN AMERICAN FILM

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

An exploration of the politics and aesthetics of race in American cinema.

ENG 333 TOPICS IN SCIENCE FICTION

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

An exploration of various themes in science fiction and fantasy. May be taken twice.

ENG 336 THE ROMANCE

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

An historical survey of the romance from Heliodorus to the Harlequin.

ENG 337 FILM AND GENDER

Three Credits Not Offered 2009-2010

The study of gender issues on both sides of the camera: the representation of gender in film and the participation of women and men in film production. Texts include classic and contemporary cinema and critical readings.

ENG 342 TOPICS IN CREATIVE WRITING: POETRY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

An introduction to poetry writing that will include the examination of literary models in a variety of genres, writing exercises, and writing workshops. May be taken twice.

ENG 343 TOPICS IN CREATIVE WRITING: SHORT FICTION

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

An introduction to narrative writing, including description, setting, dialogue, characterization, plot. May be taken twice.

ENG 344 EXPOSITORY WRITING

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

Three Credits Spring Semester

A study of theater in early modern culture, with attention to the drama of Shakespeare's competitors: Kyd, Marlowe, Jonson, and Middleton.

ENG 356 TOPICS IN BRITISH AND CONTINENTAL LITERATURE 1660-1800

Three Credits Spring Semester

A critical study of various genres and figures from the Restoration through the 18th century. May be taken twice.

ENG 357 ENGLISH AND IRISH DRAMA

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

A critical survey of dramatic genres and texts from England and Ireland with a focus on specific themes and on performance texts.

ENG 358 CLASSICAL BACKGROUNDS TO ENGLISH LITERATURE

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

An introduction to the literature of ancient Greece and Rome, including mythology, Greek drama, and the epic poems of Homer and Virgil.

ENG 359 NINETEENTH-CENTURY BRITISH POETRY

Three Credits Spring Semester

A critical reading of Romantic and Victorian poets, along with relevant prose.

ENG 360 AMERICAN LITERATURE TO 1865

Three Credits Fall Semester

A chronological survey of texts, figures, and influences associated with American literature of the period.

ENG 361 AMERICAN LITERATURE, 1865-PRESENT

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

A chronological survey of texts, figures, and influences associated with the period.

ENG 362 TOPICS IN POETRY

Three Credits Not Offered 2009-2010

A critical reading of poetry. Topics vary from semester to semester. May be taken twice.

ENG 366 TOPICS IN TWENTIETH-CENTURY AMERICAN LITERATURE

Three Credits Fall Semester

An examination of themes in twentieth-century literature. Topics will vary from semester to semester. May be taken twice.

ENG 367 TOPICS IN NINETEENTH-CENTURY AMERICAN LITERATURE

Three Credits Fall Semester

An examination of themes in nineteenth-century literature. Topics will vary from semester to semester. May be taken twice.

ENG 368 RACE, ETHNICITY, AND AMERICAN CULTURE

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

An exploration of the relationship between American racial and ethnic politics and twentieth-century American culture.

ENG 369 AFRICAN-AMERICAN LITERATURE

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2009, 2011

An exploration of landmarks in African-American writing from the time of slavery to the contemporary period.

ENG 371 TOPICS IN CONTEMPORARY LITERATURE

Three Credits Fall Semester

A critical study of contemporary writing linked by thematic or theoretical interests. May be taken twice.

ENG 380 MODERN POETRY

Three Credits Not Offered 2009-2010

A critical analysis of issues of voice, persona, and genre in modern and contemporary poetry.

ENG 381 MODERN DRAMA

Three Credits Fall Semester

A critical survey of world drama since the late nineteenth century.

ENG 382 AMERICAN DRAMA

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

A study of specific topics related to North American plays of the twentieth century.

ENG 385 TAKING THE VICTORIANS TO THE MOVIES

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

An exploration of why the Victorians have never gone out of style, using films to understand the novels on which they are based and vice-versa.

ENG 389 ALTERNATIVE MODERNISMS

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

An examination of the anti-colonial, feminist, and queer foundations of literary modernism between 1890 and 1945.

ENG 390 TOPICS IN MODERNISM

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semester

Critical study of representative literature from the modernist period. May be taken twice.

ENG 391 TOPICS IN GENDER STUDIES

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

A study of issues of gender, race, and class as they emerge in critical and literary texts. May be taken twice.

ENG 392 TOPICS IN POSTCOLONIAL AND GLOBAL LITERATURE

Three Credits Fall Semester

An investigation of themes within the frame of postcolonial studies. Topics will vary from semester to semester. May be taken twice.

ENG 394 SEXUALITY AND TEXTUALITY

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

A critical examination of the definitions of sexual orientation found in diverse texts.

ENG 395 INTRODUCTION TO POSTCOLONIAL LITERATURE AND CULTURE

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

A critical introduction to the poetry, fiction, and drama of the postcolonial world. Discussions will be informed by an introduction to postcolonial theory.

ENG 398 TELLING TALES: THEORIES OF NARRATIVE

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

The study of how and why we construct stories: an introduction to narrative theory, using texts from Jane Austen to comic books. Prerequisite: ENG 300

ENG 422 SEMINAR (Capstone Course)

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

An examination of thematically related works within the framework of contemporary critical theory. Prerequisite: ENG 300. Fall topic: POST MODERNISM/POSTMODERNITY. Spring topics: FALLEN WOMEN AND TYPEWRITER GIRLS; VICTORIAN LITERATURE'S GENDERS; FROM MARTY TO MTV: TELEVISION AS TEXT.

ENG 475 INTERNSHIP

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Designed to give English majors an acquaintance with – and experience in – careers that extend from their training in the major. Internships provide a practicum where students work for a particular business and a seminar where students meet on a regular basis with the instructor.

ENG 476 TEACHING APPRENTICESHIP

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Designed for senior English majors seriously intending to pursue graduate study, this apprenticeship gives the students experience in creating and coordinating a general studies course under the direction of a faculty member. Prerequisite: ENG 200 and ENG 300, and permission of Department Chairperson. May be taken twice.

ENG 497 SENIOR THESIS

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

A course for students who want to do an extended project. Prerequisite: Permission of the Department Chairperson.

Environmental Studies

Susan M. Mooney, Program Director

Environmental Studies Steering Committee:Peter Beisheim, Religious Studies*Christopher Ives, Religious Studies*Sean Mulholland, Economics*Robert Rodgers, Political Science*Cheryl Schnitzer, Chemistry*Maura Tyrrell, Biology

A Bachelor of Arts Degree as well as a minor in Environmental Studies are offered.

Given the complexity and multidisciplinary nature of environmental problems, students aspiring to contribute toward the solutions must acquire knowledge in a variety of areas.

Consequently, Environmental Studies is an interdepartmental program, taught by faculty from across the college. Additionally, the program collaborates with the Students for Environmental Action (SEA), as success in environmental work ultimately demands organizing and activism skills which ENV majors and minors are encouraged to develop via taking leadership roles in SEA here on campus.

The program provides students with knowledge of the basic principles of ecology and environmental science, including economic, political, sociological, and philosophical dimensions. Students have the opportunity to tailor the program to their career and personal goals through course selection, internships, and directed study.

Students in the major and the minor program ordinarily enroll in the upper-level courses from a variety of disciplines listed below without completing the pre-requisites that majors in those disciplines are required to complete.

The Major

Students completing the major with success will be well-equipped for entry level work in the non-profit, commercial and government sectors in the non-technical aspects of environmental work (education, outreach, advocacy, organizing, etc). Such students will also be prepared to undertake a Master's degree in Environmental Studies, policy or planning – the industry standard for environmental policy work in all three sectors of the economy, government, non-profits, and commerce.

Those completing this major along with preparation for an elementary or early-childhood teaching career will find themselves well-equipped to better prepare future generations for scientific literacy and a sustainable future. In addition, science backgrounds such as the one this major provides are valued by school districts yet remain rare among applicants for such teaching positions.

Students considering entry-level work as environmental scientists and/or graduate degrees in Environmental Science are advised to supplement this degree with additional science courses, or to pursue a Biology or Chemistry major instead.

All students considering graduate work in any field, including Education, are advised to take MTH 225 Statistics in Science (which also fulfills the Cornerstone statistical reasoning requirement).

The major requires eleven courses, eight in the natural sciences, two from the social sciences/humanities, and one Capstone.

Requirements of the Major

NATURAL SCIENCES:

Six Required courses:

BIO 101 Biological Principles I OR
BIO 102 Biological Principles II
BIO 307 Ecology
CHM 113 General Chemistry I
CHM 221 Organic Chemistry I
ENV 200 Principles of Environmental Science
ENV 295 Environmental Geology

Choose two additional natural science courses from this list:

BIO 303 Environmental Botany
BIO 305 Marine Ecosystems
BIO 309 Microbiology
BIO 312 Vertebrate Physiology
BIO 323 Evolution
BIO 416 Adaptations to the Environment
CHM 222 Organic Chemistry II
CHM 232 General Chemistry II

HUMANITIES/SOCIAL SCIENCES:

Choose two of the following:

ECO 327 Environmental Economics
ENV 270 Environmental Ethics
ENV 301 Water Resource Management OR
ENV 302 Coastal Zone Management
POL 255 Environmental Policy and Politics
REL 329 Justice, Peace and Ecology

SENIOR CAPSTONE:

ENV 475 Internship OR
ENV 490 Directed Study OR
ENV 496 Senior Thesis
or other suitable advanced, integrative experience
(chosen in consultation with ENV advisor)

B.A. in Environmental Studies / B.S. in Environmental Geosciences

Students in this 3+2 Engineering Program with the University of Notre Dame receive a B.A. in Environmental Studies from Stonehill College and a B.S. in Environmental Geosciences from the University of Notre Dame. See page 12 for a description of the 3+2 Engineering Program.

Students in this program typically complete:

First Year

Spring Semester

BIO 307 Ecology
BIO 312 Vertebrate Physiology
Environmental Humanities/Social Science course (from approved list pg 17)
PHY 122 Physics II

Notre Dame coursework in the fourth year fulfills the Capstone requirement of the Stonehill major.

The Minor

The Environmental Studies minor provides introductory knowledge in several areas of knowledge, as well as the opportunity to connect the program to one's major. For example, a typical program for a student majoring in Political Science might be: ENV 200 Principles of Environmental Science; POL 255 Environmental Policy and Politics; BIO 305 Marine Ecosystems; ECO 327 Environmental Economics; BIO 307 Ecology; and ENV 301 Water Resource Management.

The minor consists of six courses, distributed as follows.

One required course:

ENV 200 Principles of Environmental Science

Two courses from the following list of science courses, at least one at the 300 level or above:

BIO 290 The Scientific Method: The Ocean
BIO 303 Environmental Botany
BIO 305 Marine Ecosystems
BIO 307 Ecology
BIO 309 Microbiology
BIO 312 Vertebrate Physiology
BIO 323 Evolution
BIO 416 Adaptations to the Environment
ENV 295 Environmental Geology

Two courses from the following list of humanities and social science courses:

ECO 327 Environmental Economics
ENV 270 Environmental Ethics
ENV 299 Ecology, Theology and Worldviews
ENV 301 Water Resource Management OR
ENV 302 Coastal Zone Management
POL 255 Environmental Policy and Politics
REL 329 Justice, Peace, Ecology

The sixth course is an advanced course from either category above.

Course Offerings

ENV 200 PRINCIPLES OF ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE (Natural Scientific Inquiry) [Formerly ENV 294]

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Fundamentals of the life sciences and physical sciences as they pertain to our environmental problems and solutions, as well as consideration of the pertinent social sciences such as economics. This interdisciplinary science course teaches relevant basic research techniques for field and lab work, and students will conduct research on real environmental problems.

ENV 270 ENVIRONMENTAL ETHICS (Moral Inquiry)

Three Credits Fall Semester

This course will satisfy the requirement under Moral Reasoning. Moral theory aims to discover actions that are universally binding while allowing for individual differences and various circumstances. This course examines ethical theories as applied to contemporary problems and specifically problems related to the natural environment.

ENV 295 ENVIRONMENTAL GEOLOGY
(Natural Scientific Inquiry)

Three Credits Fall Semester

A systems approach to geology and landforms, including ecosystems that develop on the abiotic substrate. Scientific study of the earth's modern and ancient lithosphere, hydrosphere and atmosphere. Includes substantial field work both on- and off-campus.

ENV 299 ECOLOGY, THEOLOGIES AND WORLDVIEWS (Natural Scientific Inquiry)

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

How does our world function? Where do we fit, ecologically and cosmically? Methodological and historical approaches to understanding reality from scientific and religious perspectives. Consideration of ecological principles, biodiversity and evolution; realism/relativism; scientific materialism/biblical literalism; reductionism/holism; immanence/transcendence; ecospiritualities/ecotheologies

ENV 301 WATER RESOURCE MANAGEMENT

Three Credits Fall Semester

Offered through the Massachusetts Bay Marine Studies Consortium. Interdisciplinary examination of water, our most precious natural resource. A look at water from scientific, historical, and cultural viewpoints. Survey of contemporary water problems in all dimensions: political, economic, and technological.

ENV 302 COASTAL ZONE MANAGEMENT

Three Credits Spring Semester

Current issues in coastal environmental affairs. Scientific, legal, economic, management, and technical aspects of coastal issues are integrated into problem-solving exercises. History of the degradation and clean-up of Boston Harbor. Prerequisite: course in Biology, Chemistry, Geology, or Environmental Planning.

ENV 475 ENVIRONMENTAL INTERNSHIP

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Opportunity for qualified students to work in the environmental industry under professional supervision.

ENV 490 DIRECTED STUDY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Opportunity for upper level students to do advanced work in a specialized area of environmental studies.

ENV 496 SENIOR THESIS

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Independent scholarly work under the guidance of a faculty member, resulting in a substantial written work.

Foreign Languages

The Department of Foreign Languages offers majors in Spanish, French and Foreign Languages, and minors in French, German, Italian Studies and Spanish.

Mission

The Department of Foreign Languages fulfills its mission by teaching foreign languages, cultures and literatures, by promoting cross-cultural understanding, and by presenting models of effective pedagogy. Members of the Department also serve the College and wider community in areas pertaining to foreign languages.

The study of foreign languages is an integral part of a liberal education. It gives students a means of breaking through the barrier of a single speech and culture pattern and provides an encounter with some of the world's great literatures, cultural traditions, and social models. It is also invaluable for those seeking careers in business and commerce, civil service, education, international affairs, media, social services, law enforcement, and scholarly research.

Major

The Department shares in the mission of the College by offering courses at various levels in Chinese, French, German, Italian, Latin and Spanish which meet Cornerstone Program requirements.

The Department has majors in French and Spanish, as well as a major in Foreign Languages which allows students to combine two of the following foreign languages: French, German, Italian and Spanish. The Department also offers minor programs in French, German, Italian Studies and Spanish. Current technology, in the forms of audiovisual media and computer-assisted instruction, provides authentic language models and enhances learning. Moreover, Foreign Language majors are required to spend a semester abroad in an approved program of study or in one of the international internships sponsored by Stonehill College.

Goals

- Students will be able to communicate effectively in a foreign language in both oral and written forms.
- Students will appreciate and understand a foreign culture, its values and institutions, including relevant aspects of history, art and geography.
- Students will learn the linguistic, cultural, aesthetic, and critical contributions of foreign literatures.

Major in Spanish or French: This consists of 10 upper division courses (300 level and above), which ordinarily must include the Advanced Language courses (FRN 331-FRN 332 or SPA 331- SPA 332), the Survey of Culture and Civilization, and Literature courses (FRN 333-FRN 334 / FRN 335-FRN 336 or SPA 333-SPA 334 / SPA 335-SPA 336). The French Cinema course (FRN 340) may be substituted for one of the French Survey of Culture and Civilization courses (FRN 333-FRN 334) or French Survey of Literature courses (FRN 335-FRN 336).

Major in Foreign Languages: Combined study of two foreign languages; e.g., Spanish and French, French and German, etc. This consists of six upper division courses in one foreign language area (300 level and above), and of four courses in a second foreign language area, of which at least two are upper level.

Minors

Foreign Language minors are urged to spend a semester abroad in an approved international program of study or in one of the internships sponsored by Stonehill College.

FRENCH

The minor in French consists of a sequence of at least six courses determined after consultation with the departmental advisor. At least two of these courses must be upper division (300 level courses or above).

GERMAN

The minor in German consists of a sequence of at least six courses determined after consultation with the departmental advisor. At least two of these courses must be upper division (300 level courses or above).

SPANISH

The minor in Spanish consists of a sequence of at least six courses determined after consultation with the departmental advisor. At least two of these courses must be upper division (300 level courses or above).

ITALIAN STUDIES

Daria Valentini, Program Director

A minor in Italian Studies is offered by the Department of Foreign Languages. It consists of six courses beyond the intermediate level, and may be declared either before or after studying abroad in Florence, Rome, or Perugia.

Students should contact the Program Director of Italian Studies with questions about which courses taken abroad can be counted towards the Minor. In many cases up to two such courses can be approved.

Please refer to the Department of Foreign Languages section for further information on this minor, including course selection.

Requirements:

The minor in Italian Studies requires two semesters of Italian language at the intermediate (ITA 231-ITA 232) level or equivalent plus four courses from the following:

- ITA 331 Italy: Language and Identity
 - ITA 332 Italian Conversation and Composition
 - ITA 337 Contemporary Italy through Film
 - ITA 338 Survey of Italian Culture and Civilization
 - ITA 490 Directed Study in Italian
 - VPH 215 Early Renaissance Art: Italy and the North
 - VPH 314 Masters of the Renaissance: Leonardo, Michelangelo, and Raphael
 - VPH 430 Art History in Italy
- Study abroad courses in Italy

Students minoring in Italian are required to take three courses on campus, two of which must be at the 300-level. For courses taken abroad, students must seek approval from Professor Valentini in order to receive credit towards the minor.

Course Offerings

The Department offers courses at various levels in Chinese, French, German, Italian, Latin and Spanish, which meet Cornerstone General Education requirements. Students are expected to develop and increase their proficiency in a foreign language, whether continuing one previously studied or beginning a new foreign language. Proficiency entails communication, cultural understanding, and connections with other areas of knowledge; comparisons on the nature of language and culture, and participation in multilingual communities.

FIRST AND SECOND SEMESTER OF ELEMENTARY COURSES (131-132) IN FRENCH/GERMAN/ITALIAN/SPANISH

Six Credits Fall and Spring Semesters
For students with no previous study or 1-2 years of high school French/German/Italian/Spanish.

During the first semester students develop the ability to: when speaking and writing, use short sentences, learned words and phrases, simple questions, and commands; when listening, understand some ideas and familiar details presented in a clear, uncomplicated speech; when reading, understand short texts enhanced by visuals. During the second semester students expand their ability from the first semester, and develop the ability to: when speaking and listening, use and understand learned expressions, sentences, and strings of sentences, questions, and commands; when writing, create simple paragraphs; when reading, understand important ideas and some details in highly contextualized authentic texts.

During both semesters content includes: the Self (family, friends, home, rooms, health, school, schedules, leisure activities, campus life, likes and dislikes, shopping, clothes, prices, sizes and quantity, pets and animals) and Beyond Self (geography, topography, direction, buildings and monuments, weather and seasons, symbols, cultural and historical figures, places and events, colors, numbers, days, dates, months, time, food and customs, transportation, travel, and professions and work.)

FIRST AND SECOND SEMESTERS OF INTERMEDIATE COURSES (231-232) IN FRENCH/ITALIAN/SPANISH (GERMAN TAKE 231 & 233)

Six Credits Fall and Spring Semesters
For students with 2-3 years of high school French/German/Italian/Spanish.

In the Intermediate Courses students expand their previous ability in their foreign language, and develop the ability to: when speaking, use strings of related sentences; when listening, understand most spoken language when the message is deliberately and carefully conveyed by a speaker accustomed to dealing with learners; when writing, create simple paragraphs; when reading, acquire knowledge and new information from comprehensive authentic text.

Content includes topics culturally pertinent to the language; e.g., history, art, literature, music, cultural affairs, and civilization, with an emphasis on significant people and events in these fields. Familiar topics may include career choices, the environment, social issues, and political issues.

FIRST AND SECOND SEMESTERS OF ADVANCED COURSES (331-332) IN FRENCH/SPANISH

Six Credits Fall and Spring Semesters
For students with three or more years of French/Spanish.

For Italian 331-332, see page 57. For German 331 and 333, see page 57.

In the Advanced Courses students expand their previous ability in their foreign language, and develop the ability to: when speaking, use simple dialogue of paragraph length in a series of cohesive and coherent paragraphs; when listening, understand most authentic spoken language; when writing, create a series of coherent paragraphs; when reading, acquire knowledge and new information from comprehensive authentic text.

Content embraces concepts of broader cultural significance, including institutions, such as the educational system, the government, and political and social issues in the target culture. Both concepts and abstract topics of human and personal interest including music, literature, the arts, and the sciences.

Chinese

CHN 131 ELEMENTARY CHINESE I

Three Credits Fall Semester

An introduction of modern standard Chinese commonly referred to as Mandarin. Focus of the course is on basic listening, speaking, reading and writing skills and Pinyin (spelling the sound) system. Students will learn common vocabularies, simple sentence structures and everyday conversational Chinese. Both simplified and traditional character formations will be introduced but the writing will be emphasized on the simplified form. Chinese culture, customs and history will be incorporated into the course curriculum. By the end of the course, students will master the Pinyin system and using this tool to increase the efficiency of their learning.

CHN 132 ELEMENTARY CHINESE II

Three Credits Spring Semester

A continuation course of Elementary Chinese I. Character writing and accuracy in pronunciation are emphasized. Students will learn more about the components and structure of Chinese characters and etymological information. More complex sentence patterns and grammatical structures will be introduced. Students will develop the power of reading comprehension and consecutive speaking and writing. Internet, Chinese-English dictionary, Chinese newspaper and wide variety of resources will be used to enhance classroom learning. Prerequisite: CHN 131 or equivalent.

CHN 231 INTERMEDIATE CHINESE I

Three Credits Spring Semester

For students with 2-3 years of high school Chinese or equivalent.

In the intermediate course, students expand their previous ability in their foreign language and develop the ability to: when speaking, use strings of related sentences; when listening, understand most spoken language when the message is deliberately and carefully conveyed by a speaker accustomed to dealing with learners; when writing, create simple paragraphs; when reading, acquire knowledge and new information from comprehensive authentic text. The course will integrate Chinese culture with language learning to enhance the understanding of cultural influence on the language. Prerequisite: CHN 132 or equivalent.

The Gender and Sexuality Studies Program offers a major and a minor within the Bachelor of Arts degree.

The mission of the Gender and Sexuality Studies Program is to use gender as a lens to promote, from an interdisciplinary perspective, critical thinking and scholarly development. Informed by feminist and queer theoretical perspectives, Gender and Sexuality Studies explores the differences within and between men and women and how those differences are constructed within gendered systems of oppression. Courses in the program focus on a range of gendered institutions, such as family, work, religion, education, health, medicine, media, and politics. Our courses also investigate the many ways scholars, artists, and activists have researched, represented, and critiqued our gendered world.

Among the topics students can expect to study are:

- The impact of gender and sexual identity on human relations within local, national, and global communities;
- The relationship of gender to race, class, ethnicity, sexuality, ability, religion, and nationality
- The distinctions among biological sex, gender, sexual orientation, and sexual identity; and
- The history and implications of gender and sexuality in questions of social justice.

Students in the Gender and Sexuality Studies major will learn the critical thinking and analytical skills necessary to enter the job market or pursue graduate study in a variety of fields including Women's Studies, Sociology, English and History. Students will be able to develop expertise through directed studies and gain practical experience through internships, both of which will help them develop their career path. Gender and Sexuality Studies is also an excellent double major or minor for students who want to distinguish themselves on the job market.

Major

Nine courses are required for the major, including the following two required courses:

Three Credits Spring Semester

Introductory seminars that investigate a timely topic from the perspective of gender and/or sexuality studies. Topics vary semester to semester. Course may be taken three times.

GND 475 INTERNSHIP

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

An internship with a focus on gender and/or sexuality, culminating in a critical reflection project. Possible internships include working in women's organizations, domestic abuse shelters, rape crisis centers, law offices, women's resource centers, gay and lesbian organizations, and political campaigns. The internship is supervised by a committee consisting of two or three faculty members. Students must obtain project approval from the program Directors before beginning the internship (more details are provided on the "Student Proposal for Capstone Project" form on the program website).

GND 490 DIRECTED STUDY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

An in-depth study of an original research question regarding gender and/or sexuality, culminating in a major project. The directed study is supervised by a committee consisting of two or three faculty members. Students must obtain project approval from the program Directors before beginning the directed study (more details are provided on the "Student Proposal for Capstone Project" form on the program website).

Healthcare Administration

Faculty:

Thomas Gariepy, C.S.C., Chairperson

Professor:

T. Gariepy, C.S.C.

Assistant Professors:

W. Dahlin

M. Glavin

The Department offers a major and minor in Healthcare Administration.

The primary objectives of the Healthcare Administration major are:

- to prepare the student for leadership and service in entry-level employment in healthcare direct service and support organizations in the private and public sectors.
- to prepare the student for graduate or professional study.
- to prepare the student to be an innovative and a positive force for ethical, constructive change in the health system.

These objectives are met by coupling required and elective courses with a required full-time internship in medical or human service organizations, locally or abroad, tailored to the student. Strong preceptor and faculty supervision are available to all students and a variety of Directed Studies and Field Studies emphasizing healthcare work are available for the highly motivated student. Required offerings provide a firm understanding of the healthcare system, important healthcare issues, and basic managerial and leadership skills. More advanced requirements and electives enhance and refine these areas of a student's specific interest. Areas of concentration such as nursing home administration, gerontology, and management options in public and private sector insurance, finance, group practice management, personnel, marketing, public relations, and sales roles are available. Federal and state programs, hospital, home care, managed care organizations, health maintenance organizations, hospices, planning and consulting firms, international service organizations, and many other organizations also are available to the student for internships, community-based learning experiences, and for employment.

Students considering the major or minor must meet with departmental faculty before declaring.

The Department has earned "Full Certification" status in AUPHA (Association of University Programs in Health Administration).

HCA 103 INTRODUCTION TO GERONTOLOGY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

The process of aging. How does and will it affect me personally? What is our national response to the problems associated with aging? How does ageism, or aged-based prejudice affect society? What social, governmental, financial, and healthcare systems operate to help the aged and in what ways do they fail? What can I do to change that? Students identify and combat ageism, in themselves and in other social institutions. Distinctions between normal aging and disorders which occur in the older people. Bio-psycho- social theories of aging. Evaluation of aging services.

HCA 105 HEALTHCARE FOUNDATIONS

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Examines the parts of the healthcare system in the U.S. and stresses the patient and family as the primary focus of the system. Who are the players in health services? What are the structures of the system and the behaviors of the system participants, and how does our present system prevent meaningful reform?

HCA 170 DISABILITY?

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

What do the words disability, handicapped and challenged really mean? In what ways am I disabled and how can I use that knowledge? What has science contributed to our challenged populations? What are the personal and societal values toward challenged populations? How have history and religion contributed to those values? Am I, are we, doing enough? Students review personal and societal fears about disability, learn to confront and change negative attitudes and values, understand medical causes, effects and treatment of a wide range of clinical disorders, and develop a belief and value system which includes positive attitudes toward the emotionally and physically challenged.

HCA 191 AIDS AND EMERGING INFECTIONS (Natural Scientific Inquiry)

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

An examination of the biomedical, social, cultural, political, and historical issues surrounding AIDS and emerging infections.

HCA 200 CREATIVE PROCESS

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Developed to respond to an environment of shrinking resources and expanding regulation, this course explores the creative process. Examine theory and practice methods to increase creative potential in yourself and those around you. Turn problems into challenges with active practice of theoretical concepts; consider issues of ethics, supervision, innovation, productivity, resource management and service development in the light of what is known about creativity. This course is designed for any student.

HCA 205 COMPUTER CONCEPTS FOR HEALTHCARE

Three Credits Fall Semester

Principles of analysis, design, evaluation, selection, acquisition and utilization of information systems in healthcare. Review of current trends in information technology and how information systems support high-quality patient care. Business software applications are an essential ingredient of the course and are used in student projects.

HCA 208 THE CONTINUUM OF LONG TERM HEALTHCARE SERVICE

Three Credits Spring Semester

What is and who makes up the continuum? Who are its clients? The course examines medical care from hospitals to hospices, from nursing homes to informal care giving. Case management, financing, and ethical issues are studied and evaluated. Focus is placed on the physical, emotional, and spiritual needs of clients and families. Case studies are emphasized. Prerequisite: HCA 105.

HCA 209 PUBLIC AND COMMUNITY HEALTH

Three Credits Spring Semester

This course reviews the principles, legal authority, historical development, and future of public health. The specific mission of public health with respect to the following topics is discussed: infectious disease, environmental health, maternal and child health, AIDS, substance abuse, and tobacco control. Disparities in health status, the relationship of poverty to poor health, the prioritization of the most prominent community health problems, and the mobilization of local resources to address them are considered.

HCA 219 EPIDEMIOLOGY (Formerly HCA 109)

Three Credits Spring Semester

The role of epidemiology as a tool for analyzing health problems in managerial settings. Introduction to study designs, bias, confounding, and significance; association and causation. May not earn credit for both HCA 109 and HCA 219.

HCA 220 HEALTHCARE POLICY AND POLITICS

Three Credits Fall Semester

Historical development of the nation's system of healthcare including visions for the future. Review of healthcare policy development and implementation at the local, state, and federal levels; major healthcare and related social issues and concerns are addressed in both readings and class discussions. Course is crosslisted with POL 220.

HCA 250 MIND, BODY, SPIRIT, AND HEALTH

Three Credits Fall Semester

This course reviews alternative approaches to health promotion and health interventions. It contrasts Western medicine with strategies that utilize the mind and spirit in building defenses against illness and in coping with the problems of chronic pain. The increasing roles of these alternative approaches in current healthcare delivery systems are discussed.

HCA 300 QUALITY ASSESSMENT METHODS

Three Credits Spring Semester

The purpose of this course is twofold: to provide the tools necessary to conduct patient based assessments that meet the internal and external measurement needs of community medical practices, hospitals, and other Healthcare facilities; to provide a working knowledge of the essential qualitative and quantitative Continuous Quality Improvement measurement techniques necessary for process improvement in healthcare facilities. Prerequisite: HCA 105.

HCA 301 HEALTH COMMUNICATION

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Introduction to the theory and practice of communication within the healthcare context. Topics include interpersonal communication (e.g., provider-patient, physician-nurse, family-patient, family-provider), communication within health service organizations, and external communication between health service organizations and third-party payers and regulators (e.g., conflict management, negotiation, public relations). HCA 323 HEALTHCARE LAW

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Examines legal issues in provision of healthcare services. What are the three sources of law? What should you do if your healthcare facility is sued for malpractice? What is informed consent? Do you have to tell a patient everything? What should be documented in a medical record and when can such a record be released? When can a patient refuse treatment? When can a healthcare facility refuse to treat a patient? What are a patient's rights? Negotiation and legal writing skills are developed. Recommended for anyone interested in working in a facility providing healthcare social services, either as a manager or a provider.

HCA 325 HEALTHCARE FINANCE

Three Credits Spring Semester

Focuses on: How do I make sense of financial statements? How can I use accounting information to manage effectively? How can I determine the relative "health" of healthcare organizations? How can I budget more effectively? What special issues are raised in the complex area of third-party insurance reimbursement and how will that affect an organization's behavior?

HCA 326 HEALTHCARE SUPPLY CHAIN MANAGEMENT

Three Credits Fall Semester

The role of supply chain management in the healthcare industries: what are supply chains and how do they work? The course studies not only traditional logistics or operation management but also marketing, new product development, finance, and customer service. Material presented in lectures and through case studies.

HCA 330 HEALTHCARE PRODUCT AND SERVICE DELIVERY

Three Credits Spring Semester

This course is intended to teach the skills needed to keep organizations competitive in the constantly changing healthcare environment. The course discusses developments in the healthcare field that require managers to have heightened skills in strategic planning and competitive analysis. The course also examines the models that exist for delivering quality service to consumers and how to build a base of loyal customers.

HCA 334 COMPARATIVE HEALTH SYSTEMS

Three Credits Not Offered 2009-2010

An examination of the organization, finance, and performance of healthcare systems in selected developed and developing countries to identify possible lessons that can be applied to other healthcare systems. Also, a consideration of the impact of globalization on health services delivery: greater consumer responsibility, demographic shifts, regulatory approval schemes, intellectual property processes, public reporting of provider quality, and performance-adjusted reimbursement.

HCA 335 HEALTHCARE EMPLOYMENT LAW

Three Credits Spring Semester

Examines legal issues regarding interviewing, hiring, and disciplining employees. What questions can you legally not ask during an interview? What shouldn't you say in a reference? When can you legally fire an employee? Are personnel policies on a contract between the employer and the employee? Training and motivational skills developed.

HCA 336 SUPERVISION/LEADERSHIP

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

How do I establish a proper work setting, getting the most from myself and those who work for me? How do I hire, discipline and fire employees? How do I set proper objectives for the work environment? How do I counsel the "problem employee"? Heavy use of casework and role play with significant focus on understanding and using leadership styles, and developing conflict resolution and negotiating skills.

HCA 337 STRATEGIC MANAGEMENT OF HEALTHCARE ORGANIZATIONS

Three Credits Not Offered 2009-2010

Strategy formulation and evaluation for healthcare organizations. Employing an extensive study of strategic concepts along with case studies, this course will focus on evaluating the external and internal environments of organizations. Tools and techniques for analyzing strategies will also be introduced. Prerequisites: HCA 336.

The Department of History offers a major with concentrations in United States History, European History, and World History, as well as a minor in History.

The study of history is an essential element in the human experience and plays an integral role in the liberal arts tradition at Stonehill College. Through a series of introductory and advanced courses, History majors explore the breadth of the human past, the forces of change, and the historical skills that help us to interpret our tradition. Students focus both on the decisive events that have shaped our world, such as the American Revolution and the First World War, and on the specifics of everyday life in Pre-Columbian Mexico or the Byzantine Empire. To this end, the History students gain a broad perspective that equips them to understand their own cultural heritage and develop an informed perspective on other historical traditions and values.

The History Department seeks to provide its students with the tools to read critically, to conduct research effectively, and to write and communicate convincingly. These skills provide the foundation for a variety of professions and careers: law, journalism, business, foreign service, education, museums and public history.

Major

The History major consists of twelve courses in one of the following concentrations: United States History; European History; or World History. As part of this primary concentration all History majors must complete HIS 320, Historical Methods and Materials, which focuses on the development of research skills, historical analysis, and historiography. Students are required to take this course during their junior year since it is a pre-requisite for the Senior History Thesis.

All History majors write an in-depth Senior History Thesis, HIS 410, in the Fall or Spring Semester of their senior year. This thesis builds upon background knowledge and skills acquired in previous classes, especially Historical Methods and Materials, where students design an in-depth research proposal for their intended thesis.

The required courses for each of the three concentrations follow:

UNITED STATES HISTORY

5 courses 200 level or above in United States History*

3 courses 200 level or above in European, and World History

(Majors must take at least one course in each)

1 free elective history course 200-level or above in any concentration

HIS 320 Historical Methods and Materials
HIS 410 Senior History Thesis
HIS 411 Senior Research Seminar

*Students with no previous college-level credit in U.S. History are recommended, but not required to take HIS 281 American Nation I and HIS 282 American Nation II.

EUROPEAN HISTORY

5 course 200 level or above in European History*

3 course 200 level or above in United States, and World History

(Major must take at least one course each)

1 free elective history course 200-level or above in any concentration

HIS 320 History Methods and Materials
HIS 410 Senior History Thesis
HIS 411 Senior Research Seminar

*Students with no previous college-level credit in European History are recommended, but not required to take HIS 265 Western Civilization I and HIS 266 Western Civilization II

WORLD HISTORY

5 courses 200 level or above in World History*

3 courses 200 level or above in United States, and European History

(Major must take at least one course in each)

1 free elective history course 200-level or above in any concentration

HIS 320 Historical Methods and Materials
HIS 410 Senior History Thesis
HIS 411 Senior Research Seminar

*Students with no previous college-level credit in World History are recommended, but not required to take HIS 271 World History I and HIS 272 World History II.

Minor

The history minor consists of seven courses:

2 courses 200-level or above in United States History

2 courses 200-level or above in European History

2 courses 200-level or above in World History

1 300-level course with a primary research requirement

(United States)

Three Credits Alternate Years, Spring 2011

Examination of the major political, social, and economic developments in U.S. Society from the election of Andrew Jackson to the presidency in 1828, to that of Abraham Lincoln in 1860.

HIS 325 LINCOLN AND HIS AMERICA
(United States)

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

An examination of the life and times of Abraham Lincoln, one of the most important and frequently studied figures in U.S. history. The course is conducted as a seminar, and readings include Lincoln's own speeches and writings as well as scholarly studies of his life and career.

HIS 326 THE CHRISTIAN CHURCHES IN NAZI GERMANY (Moral Inquiry)
(European)

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

An examination of the choices that the Catholic and Protestant churches made under the impact of National Socialism. The course will also examine the reaction of the churches to the persecution of the Jews and the Holocaust. Prerequisite: Junior standing.

HIS 327 AMERICAN CIVIL WAR AND RECONSTRUCTION (United States)

Three Credits Spring Semester

Examines the era of the Civil War and Reconstruction in U.S. history (1860 – 1880), including the war's origins and consequences. The course explores, in addition to the military aspects of the war, the major political, social, and economic development of the period.

HIS 328 PURSUITS OF HAPPINESS IN REVOLUTIONARY AMERICA
(United States)

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

This course traces the events and conditions that led North American colonists to pursue life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness through political conflict, revolution, and war. We will examine the breakup of empire in North America and consider how ordinary men and women, African-Americans, and Native Americans responded to and shaped revolutionary events. Prerequisites: GENH 100 or GENH 140 and Sophomore standing.

HIS 329 THE VIETNAM ERA AND ITS LEGACY
(United States)

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

An examination of U.S. policy toward Southeast Asia and the war in Vietnam from the 1940s to the present. The course explores the origins of the U.S. military commitment in Southeast Asia and the ultimate failure of U.S. policy. The effects of the war on veterans and the home front, the peace movement, and the legacy of the war for contemporary U.S. society is also examined. Prerequisite: Sophomore standing.

HIS 330 UNITED STATES SEMINAR: TOPICAL
(United States)

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Offers an opportunity to study a specific area or problem in U.S. history in greater depth. Seminar format focusing on discussion of primary sources and secondary literature. Alternating topics to be announced prior to registration. Prerequisite: Sophomore standing.

HIS 332 AMERICA IN THE NUCLEAR AGE
(United States)

Three Credits Fall Semester

This course explores the origins and evolution of the nuclear age, both at home and abroad, looking at politics, diplomacy, as well as cultural and social trends. Students will also examine the continuing presence of nuclear weapons as cultural symbols and threats to world peace despite the end of the Cold War. Prerequisite: Sophomore standing.

HIS 333 THE AMERICAN CATHOLIC EXPERIENCE (United States)

Three Credits Fall Semester

A critical examination and analysis of the peoples, events, and ideas that shaped American Catholicism from the era of discovery to the 21st century. Catholicism's minority status and the perennial tension being American and Catholic are used as guiding principles in this study. Crosslisted with REL 333.

HIS 335 THE DEBATE OVER SLAVERY IN ANTEBELLUM AMERICA (Moral Inquiry)
(United States)

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

An Examination of writing and speeches attacking and defending slavery in the United States between the American Revolution and the Civil War. Prerequisite: Senior standing.

HIS 343 CHRISTIAN THEOLOGY AS IDEOLOGY (European)

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

How the use of Greek philosophy and Roman imperial theory transformed the Gospel of Jesus into a society that regarded its culture as providential history. This synthesis created but eventually tore Christendom apart. The political, economic, intellectual, and scientific dynamics of Europe are incomprehensible without this theological development. Prerequisite: Sophomore standing.

HIS 347 ADOLF HITLER AND NAZI GERMANY (European)

Three Credits Fall Semester

An in-depth study of the rise of Adolf Hitler and the Nazi movement from the establishment of the Weimar Republic through the end of World War II. Prerequisite: Sophomore standing.

HIS 349 THE INQUISITION: MYTH AND HISTORY (European, World)

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

Explores the myths and history of the Inquisition as a social, political and religious institution in Europe, the Americas, and in Goa, India, from its Medieval inception to its final abolition in the nineteenth century. Students will seek to understand why it was created, how it functioned, the impact it had on the societies that sustained it, and why it was finally abolished.

HIS 351 THE FRENCH REVOLUTION (European)

Three Credits Spring Semester

This course focuses on the decade of political upheaval in France (1789-1799) that later became a catalyst for widespread political changes in countries all around the world. In addition to the key events of the Revolution, students explore how ordinary people (including women and people of color) experienced this tumultuous event.

HIS 353 A WORLD AT WAR (World)

Three Credits Fall Semester

Organized violence represents one of the most common of human activities. Warfare shapes, and is shaped by, deep seated political, social, economic, religious, and technological values and attitudes. For good or ill, warfare has played, and continues to play, a key role in shaping the world we live in. The course explores warfare and its consequences from a world historical perspective from Paleolithic times to ancient China and the Middle East to modern day forms of state and extra-state violence.

HIS 360 EUROPEAN SEMINAR: TOPICAL (European)

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

Offers an opportunity to study a specific area or problem in European history in greater depth. Seminar format focusing on discussion of primary sources and secondary literature. Alternating topics to be announced prior to registration. Prerequisite: Sophomore standing.

HIS 362 WORLD HISTORY SEMINAR: TOPICAL (World)

Three Credits Fall Semester

Offers an opportunity to study a specific area or problem in World history in greater depth. Seminar format focusing on discussion of primary sources and secondary literature. Alternating topics to be announced prior to registration. Prerequisite: Sophomore standing.

HIS 371 THE AGE OF ABSOLUTISM (European)

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

This course examines the political, social, and cultural conditions surrounding the development of strong, centralized monarchies of continental Europe and constitutional monarchy of England. Using film, art and primary sources students explore the daily lives of both kings and their subjects during this fascinating era. Prerequisite: Sophomore standing.

HIS 373 ASIAN ENCOUNTERS WITH EMPIRE (World)

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

An examination of the imperial experience in East, Southeast and South Asia during the nineteenth and twentieth century's, encompassing the impact of both European and Asian expansions. Themes include issues of race, gender, modernization, orientalism and colonial legacies. Prerequisite: Sophomore standing.

HIS 380 PUBLIC HISTORY (United States)

Three Credits Spring Semester

This academic and experiential course looks at the practice, methods, and possibilities associated with practicing history in museums, historic sites, and archives. In the classroom, we will explore the nature of public history through curatorial, archival, and preservation issues, as well as examine the roles of education, interpretation, exhibitions, and living history. A substantial field component has students encountering museums, archives, and historic sites to interact with professionals, discover what public historians do, and critically assess their public history offerings. As a final project, students will collaboratively produce a museum exhibition at Stonehill. Prerequisite: Sophomore standing.

HIS 385 TOPICS IN U.S. WOMEN'S HISTORY (United States)

Three Credits Spring Semester

This course moves beyond a broad overview of the role of women in eighteenth and nineteenth century U.S. History to examine specific topics such as education, reform, labor, culture, and political organization in depth. Prerequisite: GENH 100 or GENH 140 and HIS 281, HIS 282 and Sophomore standing.

HIS 410 SENIOR HISTORY THESIS

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

An independent, in-depth thesis designed in HIS 320 Historical Methods and Materials, then carried out with the assistance of a faculty member. Arrangements with the faculty must be made at least one semester in advance and no later than the fall of the fourth year. Prerequisite: Senior standing.

HIS 411 SENIOR RESEARCH SEMINAR

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Training in historical research methodologies and strategies with practical instruction in archival research, note taking, analysis, argumentation, writing, citation, and oral presentation. This training will occur while engaged in researching and writing the senior thesis, which is the History major capstone project. Prerequisite: HIS 320; course must be taken concurrently with HIS 410

HIS 475 INTERNSHIP IN HISTORICAL RESEARCH (United States, European, World)

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Internships are available to History students to give them an opportunity to experience the relevance of the past to the present through active participation in contemporary institutions and organizations.

HIS 490 DIRECTED STUDY (United States, European, World)

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

An in-depth study of an historical question under the tutorial direction of a faculty member. Prerequisite: Sophomore standing. Approval of faculty member directing the project and Department Chairperson required.

Honors Program

George Piggford, C.S.C., Program Director

Honors students will complete a minimum of five Honors courses plus a Senior Honors Experience:

- Two Honors core courses in the fall of the first year.
- Three additional Honors courses to be taken in General Education (natural scientific inquiry, social scientific inquiry, statistical reasoning, moral reasoning), major/minor, or as general electives. Honors language courses count for no more than one elective. Honors students may also fulfill one three credit requirement by taking a non-honors course for honors credit, with permission of the program director and the instructor.
- Students who enter the Honors Program in their sophomore year are required to take only three Honors courses prior to their Senior Honors Experience, which is composed of a senior thesis (Senior Capstone) or other substantive intellectual work. With permission from the program director and the instructor, these students may fulfill one three-credit requirement by taking a non-Honors course for Honors credit.

Additionally, Honors students will participate in a Leadership Seminar in the spring of the first year and are required to take initiatives to effect positive changes in the community. These projects include doing volunteer work, inviting speakers to the College, organizing series of faculty lectures, helping to coordinate visits by noteworthy guests, planning entertainment and cultural events, and bringing about changes in College policies on environmental issues.

The Honors grade-point average (GPA) is determined prior to graduation, using only four Honors courses, dropping the lowest grade (of the fifth course). However, the Senior Capstone (the Senior Honors Experience) will be counted as a fifth course for the Honors GPA.

In order to graduate as a Stonehill Scholar a student must have a 3.5 GPA and a 3.4 in Honors courses

Course Offerings

HON 100 HONORS LEADERSHIP SEMINAR

One Credit Spring Semester

The Honors Leadership Seminar introduces Honors students to the practice of leadership in academic and co-curricular activities such as organizing lectures, musical or dramatic performances, or tutoring in after-school programs.

Interdisciplinary Studies

Peter Ubertaccio, Program Coordinator

Interdisciplinary Studies is an individually designed major.

The Interdisciplinary Studies program is an alternative for students who seek to accomplish intellectual goals outside of a conventional major. The student must prepare a program proposal with substantial intellectual content. The program of study, to be formulated with faculty advisors one of whom will be designated as principal advisor, must reflect the objectives of a liberal arts education. The student must also confer with the Program Coordinator. Proposals to create a Interdisciplinary Studies major must be approved prior to a student's enrollment in the final ten courses of their Stonehill degree (i.e., prior to the senior year). If a student is adding a Interdisciplinary Studies major as a second major, an exception may be allowed to this requirement that the proposal be approved before the senior year.

The program proposal includes a statement describing educational goals sought, and the sequence of courses that would enable the student to achieve these goals. The course content must be focused upon a specific theme, and must include a significant number of courses beyond the introductory level as well as a senior Capstone Experience.

Interdisciplinary Studies programs must be approved by the designated faculty advisors and the Program Coordinator.

Course Offerings

IND 300 POST-GRADUATE PREPARATION SEMINAR – LAW SCHOOL I

One Credit Fall Semester

Students will learn methods for answering each of the LSAT question types as they appear on the LSAT. Test-taking strategies to maximize your strengths and minimize your weaknesses will be emphasized. The course begins with a full-length, three-hour pre-test which will be corrected and discussed during the second class. Mandatory homework will be taken from released LSATs and will support principles taught in class. Classes during the first session meet twice a week on Sunday and Wednesday, for four hours per session, for the first month of the Fall Semester and the last month and ½ of the spring semester. Students enrolled in this one credit course will be billed an additional $300 on their semester tuition bills. Pre-requisites: Junior or Senior Standing

IND 301 POST-GRADUATE PREPARATION SEMINAR – LAW SCHOOL II

One Credit Fall Semester

Students will hear from law school admission officers, the pre-law advisor and other Stonehill Faculty, and will discuss strategies for applying to law school, the personal statement, develop a list of criteria important to the student, and a list of potential law schools. Law School II will meet from October to December in the Fall Semester only. Prerequisites: Senior standing and Permission of Director

IND 400 FINAL INTEGRATIVE PROJECT FOR INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES

Three Credits

The final unit of an interdisciplinary minor is a required integrative essay, project, or performance. A student must register for IND 400 the semester he or she will complete the integrative unit. Once enrolled in IND 400, the student and faculty sponsor must submit a detailed plan of study to the Director of the Martin Institute. The student will need to answer the following question: What form will this integrative unit take? They must note the specific description of the proposed unit, the learning outcomes that will result, the criteria for assessment, the frequency of contact between student and faculty sponsor, and a preliminary list or readings and assignments. Students pursuing an Interdisciplinary Studies Major may also register for IND 400 as a capstone with the approval of the Director of the Martin Institute. Prerequisites: Junior Standing, Completion of Interdisciplinary Minor Application.

For more information please refer to Interdisciplinary Minors on page 11 or contact the Program Director, Professor Peter Ubertaccio, Director of the Martin Institute.

IND 489 INTERNSHIP IN CAREER PLANNING

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Trains interns to assist first-year students in the career decision-making process by: Providing an informational overview of the Career Planning Program, interviewing students, interpreting the Strong Interest Inventory, and giving tours of Career Services. Interns have the opportunity to sharpen writing skills through weekly reports of interview sessions. Designed to assist third- and fourth-year students in developing professional work habits, as well as strengthening communication, interpersonal, and organizational skills. For more information please contact Dick Grant, Associate Dean of Student Achievement.

International Studies

Peter Ubertaccio, Interim Program Director

A major in International Studies is offered.

International Studies is an interdisciplinary program based in the Political Science department. Though the core courses are in political science, the major draws on business, social sciences and humanities. The major provides the student with educational preparation for careers in government, media, business, education and in the international sphere of governmental and non-governmental international organizations.

The program of each student, their choice of language preparation, study abroad and internship as well as their choice of minor or subject concentrations, is designed to meet their particular interests and goals.

Major

Eight courses are required for the major including the five following courses:

- POL 243 International Politics
- POL 245 American Foreign Policy
- POL 331 War
- POL 344 Contemporary Global Issues
- POL 422 Capstone Seminar

Remaining courses are selected from the list of courses below.

Business

- BUS 336 International Business
- BUS 425 Multinational Corporate Finance
- BUS 448 Global Marketing
- BUS 465 International Management

Communication

- COM 315 Intercultural Communication

Economics

- ECO 219 History Of World Economic Development
- ECO 225 China's Economic Miracle: A Closer Look
- ECO 311 International Economics

English

- ENG 322 World Cinema
- ENG 327 European Cinema
- ENG 392 Topics in Postcolonial and Global Literature
- ENG 395 Introduction To Postcolonial Literature And Culture

Foreign Languages

- FRN 340 French Cinema
- ITA 337 Contemporary Italy Through Film

History

- HIS 205 Irish-American Experience
- HIS 207 The Holocaust
- HIS 208 The Immigrant Experience In American History
- HIS 214 Ireland: From Colony To Nation State
- HIS 216 Modern Britain

- HIS 218 Winston Churchill's World Wars
- HIS 220 Comparative Empires:
Spain And Portugal
- HIS 227 Renaissance And Revolutions:

- VPH 217 Early Modern Art: 1900-1945
- VPH 220 From Bernini To Vermeer: Art Of
The Baroque
- VPH 225 Art Of The City: Greece And Rome
- VPH 229 Topics In Non-Western Art
- VPH 314 Masters Of The Renaissance:
Leonardo, Michelangelo, Raphael

In addition to the course requirements, majors must complete these requirements:

- Mastery of a foreign language to the level of advanced
- Study abroad
- An internship

Students may fulfill the study abroad requirement and the internship requirement through the Stonehill international internship program that provides internship opportunities in Dublin, London, Paris, Brussels and Madrid. Or students may choose to study abroad and then complete a domestic internship through the Stonehill internship program with opportunities in Boston, New York and Washington, DC.

Irish Studies

Peter Ubertaccio, Interim Program Director

A minor in Irish Studies is offered.

Irish Studies is an interdisciplinary field of concentration intended to provide a basic knowledge of the people and culture of Ireland. The program seeks to develop intercultural understanding within our culturally pluralistic society.

Students choosing the Irish Studies minor are urged to consult the faculty advisor for guidance in the selection of courses. Students who study in Ireland can apply their Irish Studies courses toward the minor, with the approval of the Program Director. Students who intern in Ireland can apply 3 credits toward the minor.

Course Offerings

Choose six courses from the following:

- ENG 349 Topics in Irish Literature
- ENG 357 English and Irish Drama
- HIS 205 The Irish-American Experience
- HIS 214 Ireland: From Colony to Nation
State Irish Gov. Documents
- POL 354 Irish Politics
- POL 475 Internship in Irish Studies
- POL 490 Directed Study: Selected Topics

IR 200 CHRISTIAN IRELAND, 431-1169

Three Credits Fall Semester

Early Irish culture and society from the introduction of Christianity in the 5th century, through the 8th century Viking invasion and the beginning of the 12th century Anglo-Norman conquest. Emphasizes literature created out of the rapprochement between the pagan tradition and the new religion. Includes extracts from Old-Irish literature including the heroic saga, Táin Bó Cuailgne (The Cattle-Raid of Cooley) and lyric poetry produced in monasteries.

IRS 201 MEDIEVAL IRELAND, 1169-1603

Three Credits Spring Semester

The impact of the 12th century Anglo-Norman invasion on Irish social, political and cultural life. The creation of the pale region of Anglo-Norman dominance and the different culture from that of Gaelic Ireland. Provides a brief historical survey of Gaelic Ireland in the early middle ages and insight into the archaeology of the medieval Irish Church. Introduces the world of the Irish bardic poet and his work.

IRS 202 PRE-FAMINE IRELAND, 1603-1845

Three Credits Spring Semester

The destruction of the Gaelic heroic world following defeat of Irish forces at the Battle of Kinsale and subsequent dispersal of native Irish and Old English aristocracy. Introduces political, social and economic structures of this period and the disintegration of Gaelic Irish cultural values and literary traditions from the Elizabethan period to the famines of the 1840s. Concludes with an overview of economic, social and demographic trends in pre-famine Ireland.

IRS 203 MODERN IRELAND: 1845-1998

Three Credits Fall Semester

Introduces the patterns of modern and contemporary Irish life and culture from a multidisciplinary perspective. Investigates the impact of famine on Irish society and the subsequent Gaelic Revival and Anglo-Irish Literary Revival from the 1880s until establishment of the Irish Free State in 1922. Explores the impact of cultural nationalism and the progress of 20th century literature in Irish and English. Studies the work of J.M. Synge, James Joyce, W.B. Yeats, Seamus Heaney and others. Examines the Irish response to changes in modern Irish society including religion, the family, social change, and the Irish economy.

IRS 204 CONTEMPORARY IRELAND: 1922-2002

Three Credits Spring Semester

There is an underlying question examined through the different topics – how has Irish society been changed by the economic transformation that was initiated in the 1950s? Using sociological and political research in Ireland the course examines the planned economic growth and unplanned political and social changes that have come to shape contemporary Irish society and its place in Europe and the world.

Italian Studies

Daria Valentini, Program Director

A minor in Italian Studies is offered by the Department of Foreign Languages. Please refer to the Department of Foreign Languages section for information on this minor.

Journalism

Maureen Boyle, Interim Program Director

The Department of Communication offers a minor in Journalism.

Please refer to the Department of Communication section for information on this minor.

Mathematics

Faculty :Ralph Bravaco, Chairperson*Associate Professor:*C. Curley*Assistant Professors:*N. Esty*E. Quinn*H. Su*Instructor:*T. Woodcock

The department of Mathematics offers a major B.S., and B.A., and minor in Mathematics. The department offers courses in support of other programs and departments, including: Education, Business Administration and the sciences, and in support of the College's General Education, areas of Scientific Inquiry, and Statistical Reasoning.

The teaching mission of the department is to introduce students to the central ideas, methods and achievements of mathematics and to develop such general intellectual skills as rigorous reasoning, problem solving and persuasive expression. The mathematic major prepares students to:

- Pursue graduate studies or work in mathematics and related areas;
- Use their skills in business, education, service professions and in technology-based industries; and

- Engage in life-long learning and growing.

At Stonehill, mathematics students work with faculty dedicated to the development of mathematics and to the learning and appreciation of the nature and application of mathematics. Beyond the campus, mathematics students can enrich their experience with internships, study abroad or service learning. For further information on career paths consult our web site at: www.stonehill.edu/math.

Course Offerings

MTH 101 PRE CALCULUS

Three Credits Fall Semester

Algebraic equations and simplification: factoring, common denominators and conjugates. Graphs of equations. Lines, quadratic curves: equations and graphs. Graphing curves with intercepts and asymptotes. Examples using algebraic, logarithmic and exponential and trigonometric functions. Use of mathematics technology.

MTH 119 APPLIED CALCULUS FOR BUSINESS

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

A one-semester introduction to differential and integral Calculus designed for Business Administration majors. Topics include limits, derivatives, rates, exponential functions, antiderivatives, graphs, logarithms and exponential functions, antiderivatives, differential equations. The course emphasizes computation, problem-solving and applications. Students may not receive credit for MTH 119 and MTH 125.

MTH 125 CALCULUS I
MTH 126 CALCULUS II

Four Credits Each Fall and Spring Semesters

Calculus of a single variable: functions, limits, derivatives, differentiation rules, applications of derivatives, integrals, techniques of integration, applications of integration, infinite sequences and series, first and second order differential equations. Prerequisite for MTH 126: MTH 125. May not receive credit for both MTH 125 and MTH 119.

MTH 143 MATHEMATICAL REASONING FOR EDUCATION

Three Credits Fall Semester

A one-semester course designed for Education majors. The course includes a review of algebra and geometry. Further topics include: types of numbers, algebraic structures, theory of equations, combinatorics, probability and statistics, interpreting and analyzing data. The course emphasizes problem solving, quantitative and logical reasoning.

MTH 145 BASIC QUANTITATIVE TECHNIQUES (Statistical Reasoning)

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Basic methods of data analysis: organizing and summarizing data, probability, probability distributions, statistical inference.

MTH 191 THE LANGUAGE OF MATHEMATICS (Natural Scientific Inquiry)

Three Credits Fall Semester

Covers basic concepts, reasoning patterns, and the language skills which are fundamental to higher mathematics. These skills include the ability to read and write mathematics, employ common patterns of mathematical thought, and read the write proofs. Prerequisite: MTH 126 or consent of the instructor.

MTH 193 THE NON-EUCLIDEAN REVOLUTION (Natural Scientific Inquiry)

Three Credits Fall Semester

Book I of Euclid's Elements; Plato and Kant on geometry; Euclid's controversial fifth postulate; Lobachevsky's alternative geometry. An intellectual adventure spanning 2100 years, whose outcome changed the way mathematicians view their subject.

MTH 207 STATISTICAL REASONING: CHANCE (Statistical Reasoning)

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

An introduction to the ideas and issues of probability and statistics and their application in everyday life. Topics include: experiment design, descriptive statistics, chance and inference.

MTH 209 PROBLEM SOLVING FOR EDUCATION

Three Credits Fall Semester

For Mathematics majors with a minor in Secondary Education. Focuses on developing a deep understanding of high school mathematics through the use of challenging problems. Analysis and development of problem solving skills. Topics include: fundamental concepts of Algebra, Number Theory, Geometry, Probability and Statistics.

MTH 225 STATISTICS FOR SCIENCE (Statistical Reasoning)

Three Credits Spring Semester

Probability; descriptive statistics; normal distribution, inference; hypothesis testing; analysis of variance; sampling theory; correlation and regression. Examples from the sciences. Prerequisites: MTH 125 or MTH 119.

MTH 251 LINEAR ALGEBRA

Four Credits Spring Semester

The development of the methods and underlying ideas for solving systems of linear equations. Topics include: vectors, matrices, linear transformations, determinants and eigenvectors. Use of mathematical software MAPLE, in applications. Prerequisite: MTH 261.

MTH 261 MULTIVARIABLE CALCULUS

Four Credits Fall Semester

Continuation of the sequence begun in Calculus I and II. Functions of several variables, analytic geometry, vectors, partial derivatives, multiple integration. Prerequisite: MTH 126.

MTH 270 DISCRETE MATHEMATICS

Three Credits Spring Semester

Sets operations, Countability, Functions, Number Theory, Equivalence Relations, Recurrence Relations, Graphs, Combinatorics, Probability. Pre-requisites: MTH 191.

MTH 351 ABSTRACT ALGEBRA I
MTH 352 ABSTRACT ALGEBRA II

Three Credits Each Fall and Spring Semesters

Groups, rings, fields, rings of polynomials, extension fields, automorphisms of fields, splitting fields, Galois theory. Prerequisite: for MTH 351: MTH 270 for MTH 352: MTH 351.

MTH 361 REAL ANALYSIS I MTH 362 REAL ANALYSIS II

Three Credits Each Fall and Spring Semesters

Rigorous development of the theory of Calculus of one variable. Topics include: properties of the real line, sequences, series, limits, continuity and uniform continuity. Additional topics from differential and integral Calculus of one or more variables. Prerequisite: for MTH 361: MTH 261 and MTH 191 for MTH 362: MTH 361.

MTH 363 MODERN GEOMETRY

Three Credits Fall Semester

The axiomatic approach of Hilbert to Euclid's Elements. Geometry from the viewpoint of rigid transformations. Non-Euclidean Geometry. The roles of coordinates, both global and local. Geometrizations of low dimensional manifolds. Prerequisites: MTH 251, MTH 261.

MTH 364 DIFFERENTIAL EQUATIONS AND DYNAMICS

Three Credits Alternate Years: Spring 2012, 2014

An introduction to qualitative and quantitative methods for ordinary differential equations. Topics include first and second order equations, existence and uniqueness of solutions, logistic models, planar linear systems (including phase portraits), regular singular points. Other topics selected from: flows, the stable manifold theorem, and Laplace transforms. Prerequisite: MTH 261.

MTH 371 COMBINATORICS AND GRAPH THEORY

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2011, 2013

Methods for determining, given some well defined operation, the number of ways it can be performed. Networks of dots and lines. Prerequisite: MTH 270.

MTH 377 NUMBER THEORY

Three Credits Alternate Years: Spring 2011, 2013

Mathematical induction, prime numbers, Diophantine equations, congruences, sums of squares. Prerequisite: MTH 251 and MTH 270.

MTH 384 THEORY OF COMPUTATION

Three Credits Alternate Years: Spring 2011, 2013

For description and semester schedule see CSC 384.

MTH 393 NUMERICAL ANALYSIS

Three Credits Alternate Years: Spring 2012, 2014

Both theoretical and practical problems in the computational aspects of mathematics: approximation of functions, numerical differentiation, solutions to algebraic and differential equations; topics in linear algebra. Also listed as CSC 393. Prerequisites: MTH 251 and MTH 261.

MTH 395 PROBABILITY

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2010, 2012

Mathematical theory of probability, axioms and basic properties, random variables; continuous and discrete distributions, moments, generating functions, special distributions, law of large numbers, central limit theorem. Use of mathematical software in applications. Prerequisites: MTH 251 and MTH 261.

MTH 396 STATISTICS (Statistical Reasoning)

Three Credits Alternate Years: Spring 2011, 2013

Continuation of MTH 395. Theory and application of statistics; random sampling; organization of data; descriptive statistics; sample mean and additional special distributions, the theory of Estimators, applications of Estimation, Hypothesis Testing and Regression. Mathematical software is used in applications of Statistics. Prerequisite: MTH 395.

MTH 399 TOPICS IN MATHEMATICS

Three Credits Spring Semester

MTH 420 SENIOR CAPSTONE: MATHEMATICAL MODELING

Four Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

Students learn to create models of real world phenomena using mathematical tools such as difference equations, differential equations, lineal algebra, and calculus. Pre-requisites: Math Major, Senior Standing.

MTH 475 INTERNSHIP

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Requires approval of the Department Chairperson.

MTH 490 DIRECTED STUDY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Opportunity for upper level students to do advanced work in a specialized area of mathematics. Permission of faculty member directing the project and the Department Chairperson required.

MTH 496 INDEPENDENT RESEARCH

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Students carry out an independent research project under the direction of a faculty member. The research may be part of an ongoing project being conducted by the faculty member, or the student and faculty member may develop an original project. Prerequisite: Approval of the faculty member and the Department Chairperson.

MTH 497 SENIOR THESIS

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Students complete an independent scholarly work under the guidance of a faculty member, resulting in a substantial written work. Prerequisite: Senior standing in the department; approval of the faculty member and the Department Chairperson.

Middle Eastern and Asian Studies

Shari Lowin, Program Director

A minor in Middle Eastern and Asian Studies is offered.

Middle Eastern and Asian Studies is an interdisciplinary minor field of concentration intended to provide a basic knowledge of the people and cultures of the Middle East and Asia. The program furnishes a substantial background for subsequent specialized study in the field of Middle Eastern and Asian politics, history, language, and culture.

Students must take six courses selected from the following list, with at least two courses from each geographic category (Asia; Middle East). At least four courses must be above the 100 level. Students might substitute language study, either through directed study with faculty, when available, or by courses taken elsewhere. Appropriate languages include: Arabic, Chinese, Hebrew, Hindi, Japanese, Persian, or Urdu. Other courses may be substituted with approval of Program Director.

Military Science

LTC Scott Williams, Program DirectorCPT. Rafael Albornoz, Program Officer

U.S. Army ROTC offers a program designed to train future junior officers for leadership with instruction that complements a baccalaureate degree. The program consists of three parts: earning an academic degree in a recognized field; college courses of particular interest and value to military service; and military science courses.

The objectives of the ROTC curriculum include providing students with an understanding of the nature and operation of the U.S. Army, developing leadership and managerial potential, and developing students' abilities to think creatively and to speak and write effectively. Essential to an officer's education are the ability to evaluate situations before making decisions; the ability to understand people and how to lead; the fundamentals of self-discipline; the standards of performance and appearance; the ability to recognize these standards in others; and, above all, a strong sense of personal integrity, honor, and responsibility.

While unified by the subject matter of leadership and management, the curriculum cuts across conventional boundaries, encouraging students to relate their learning from various disciplines and to apply it to reflective thinking, goal setting, and problem solving.

Enrollment

The program is open to full-time students of the College. The Military Science courses are required of those students enrolled in the ROTC program, but may be taken as electives by any student of the College.

The program consists of the Basic Course and the Advanced Course. Students may enter the program through the first semester of their junior year.

A two-year program is designed for junior year and transfer students. Entry should be requested by April 1 prior to the junior year. During the summer between their sophomore and junior years, students complete a five-week paid summer camp program that qualifies them for the Advanced Course.

Advanced placement may be awarded for prior military service. Those students currently serving in any branch of the military reserves are encouraged to join.

Basic Course

The Basic Course is normally taken by first and sophomore-year students. It introduces basic subjects such as the history of the U.S. Army, organizational structure of the Army, techniques and principles of leadership and management, and map reading.

Advanced Course

The Advanced Course is taken by juniors and seniors. Students in the Advanced Course must sign a contract with the Army, pass a qualifying medical examination and physical fitness test, and have at least a 2.0 grade-point average.

Studies concentrate on basic tactical operations, military teaching principles, and advanced techniques of leadership, management, and command.

Academic Credit

Stonehill College grants up to 12 academic credits for Military Science courses. The credits are granted as follows: one credit each for MIL 101, MIL 102, MIL 201, and MIL 202; two credits each for MIL 301, MIL 302, MIL 401, and MIL 402. Military Science courses are graded "A" to "F," but grades are not included in the student's grade-point average. Individual Military Science credits can be accumulated to equate to three-credit courses. Consequently, students may earn a maximum of 4 three-credit courses towards graduation in this way.

*NOTE: Students are not allowed to elect part-time status during the junior or senior years as a result of the extra credits granted for the Military Science program.

Financial Assistance

Financial assistance for cadets takes various forms. Juniors receive $450 and seniors receive $500 monthly tax-free subsistence allowance for Advanced Course cadets, and an allowance for summer camp(s).

Four-Year Scholarships

The program provides financial assistance to highly qualified and motivated high school seniors considering military service as army officers. Scholarships are valued at the amount of full tuition and academic fees per year.

Additionally, scholarship winners will receive a flat rate of $1,200 per year for books and up to a $500 monthly tax-free subsistence allowance.

Applications for two, three or four-year scholarships may be made during the high school years. The deadline for early application is January 10th of their junior year. The deadline for application is January 10th of the senior year.

Requests for application packets may be sent to: U.S. Army ROTC Scholarship, Fort Monroe, Virginia 23651. Packets are also available in the Military Science Department at Stonehill College. Contact the Stonehill ROTC Office at 508-230-5014 or online at www.armyrotc.com.

Advanced Designee ROTC Scholarships

Non-ROTC Scholarship Years: Advanced designees receive no special treatment for the year(s) in which they do not receive ROTC funding. Students should file a complete Financial Aid Application to receive consideration for aid available from other sources.

Three- and Two-Year Scholarships are awarded to outstanding college students who are either already enrolled or planning to enroll in the U.S. Army ROTC Program.

Interested first-year and sophomore students may apply to the Assistant Professor of Military Science, Stonehill College. These scholarships provide the same financial assistance from the Army as the four-year award.

Summer Camps

The Leaders Training course is mandatory for students without U.S. Army ROTC experience wishing to enroll in the two-year program (unless the student has sufficient prior military experience). Conducted at Fort Knox, Kentucky, this five-week training period provides instruction equivalent to that received by students in the Basic Course. Satisfactory completion is necessary for entering the Advanced Course; however, there is no obligation to enter the program after the Leaders Training course. Students who attend the Leaders Training course are paid.

Leader Development and Assessment course is a five-week training period at Fort Lewis, Washington. This camp is mandatory for all cadets in the Advanced Course and is normally attended during the summer between the junior and senior years.

Course Offerings

First Year Courses

MIL 100 LEADERSHIP LABORATORY
Not For Credit Fall and Spring Semesters

Required of all ROTC students, this 120-minute weekly laboratory stresses soldier skills, drill and ceremony, performance-oriented military instruction techniques, and practical applications of classroom theory. All students must attend the laboratory in uniform. ROTC Advanced Course students are the primary instructors using the cadet chain of command as the instructional framework. All laboratory periods are supervised by Active Duty Army cadre. Land navigation practical exercises are taught during the spring semester.

MIL 101 LEADERSHIP AND PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT

One Credit Fall Semester

Introduces students to issues and competencies that are central to a commissioned officer's responsibilities. Establish framework for understanding officership, leadership, and Army values followed and "life skills" such as physical fitness and time management.

MIL 102 INTRODUCTION TO TACTICAL LEADERSHIP

One Credit Spring Semester

Establishes foundation of basic leadership fundamentals such as problem solving, communications, briefings and effective writing, goal setting, techniques for improving listening and speaking skills and an introduction to counseling.

Sophomore Courses

MIL 201 FOUNDATIONS OF LEADERSHIP
One Credit Fall Semester

Students identify successful leadership characteristics through observation of others and self through experiential learning exercises. Students record observed traits (good and bad) in a dimensional leadership journal and discuss observations in small group settings.

MIL 202 FOUNDATIONS OF TACTICAL LEADERSHIP

One Credit Spring Semester

Study examines how to build successful teams, various methods for influencing action, effective communication in setting and achieving goals, the importance of timing the decision, creativity in the problem solving process, and obtaining team buy-in through immediate feedback.

Junior Courses

MIL 301 LEADERSHIP AND PROBLEM SOLVING

Two Credits Fall Semester

Students conduct self-assessment of leadership style, develop personal fitness regimen, and learn to plan and conduct individual/small unit tactical training while testing reasoning and problem-solving techniques. Students receive direct feedback on leadership abilities.

MIL 302 LEADERSHIP AND ETHICS

Two Credits Spring Semester

Examines the role communications, values, and ethics play in effective leadership. Topics include ethical decision-making, consideration of others, spirituality in the military, and survey Army leadership doctrine. Emphasis on improving oral and written communication abilities.

Senior Courses

MIL 401 ADAPTIVE LEADERSHIP

Two Credits Fall Semester

Develops student proficiency in planning and executing complex operations, functioning as a member of a staff, and mentoring subordinates. Students explore training management, methods of effective staff collaboration, and developmental counseling techniques.

MIL 402 LEADERSHIP IN A COMPLEX WORLD

Two Credits Spring Semester

Study includes case study analysis of military law and practical exercises on establishing an ethical command climate. Students must complete a semester long Senior Leadership Project that requires them to plan, organize, collaborate, analyze, and demonstrate their leadership skills.

MIL 405 U. S. MILITARY HISTORY

One Credit Spring Semester

This course is designed to be an exploration into the evolution of modern warfare; with special emphasis on the technological developments, organization adaptations, and doctrinal innovations that have shaped the American military from its first conception in 1607 through the 1900's. The successful completion of this course meets the military history pre-commissioning requirement for U.S. Army ROTC cadets.

Neuroscience

Sharon Ramos Goyette, Program Co-Director
John McCoy, Program Co-Director

Faculty:

Members of the Departments of Biology and Psychology

The Departments of Psychology and Biology offer a Bachelor of Science degree in Neuroscience.

Neuroscience is an interdepartmental major that provides an integrated and in-depth foundation for understanding the complex functions of the brain. Recent advances in physiology, cell and molecular biology, biochemistry and imaging technology have greatly increased our understanding of brain function. Over the past decade, there has been increased interest in the relationship between behavior and the functioning of the nervous and endocrine systems along with a renewed interest in the effects of the environment on brain function and plasticity. Given this combination of events, now is an exciting time to become involved in neuroscience.

Mission

The mission of the Neuroscience Program is to prepare students to actively engage in and contribute to the process, understanding and application of neuroscience. Neuroscience is an interdepartmental major that provides an integrated and in-depth foundation for understanding the complex functions of the nervous system and in particular, the brain. The Neuroscience major is appropriate for students interested in medical school, graduate school and careers in research or in allied health fields.

Major

The Neuroscience major at Stonehill provides a strong education in the fundamentals of neuroscience at the same time that it allows students to emphasize either the psychological or the biological aspects of the field. Students who have focused on the psychological aspects are prepared for graduate work in psychology and careers in clinical psychology, counseling, and behavioral research. Students with a focus on the biological side of neuroscience are prepared for a variety of careers in medicine, pharmacology, biomedical research, and the allied health fields.

Curriculum

Students must complete a set of core courses and four electives, one from each of the clusters listed below. To provide a strong background in Neuroscience, students take two semesters of foundational courses in Biology and Chemistry. This prepares students for upper level electives which incorporate knowledge from each of these areas. Early in their college education students take PSY 415 Brain and Behavior which serves as the introduction to the senior year Capstone, BIO 412 Neuroscience. Specific suggestions are made for those who are pre-med or planning on applying to graduate school.

The course requirements for the Neuroscience major are taken in addition to the courses required in the Cornerstone Program. These courses provide a liberal arts education with several unique features. The Learning Community, which ties together two courses and an integrative seminar, is taken during the sophomore year. For those students planning on applying to medical school, the Organic Chemistry of the Cell Learning Community (LC 209, BIO 211 and CHM 222) is recommended. The Capstone required of all Neuroscience majors is BIO 412, Neuroscience. The final project in this class asks students to place an emerging issue in neuroscience within a liberal arts context.

Core courses:

BIO 101 Biological Principles I
BIO 102 Biological Principles II
PSY 101 General Psychology
CHM 113 General Chemistry I
CHM 221 Organic Chemistry I
PSY 261 Introduction to Statistics
PSY 271 Research Methods in Psychology
BIO 211 Cell Biology
PSY 415 Brain and Behavior
BIO 412 Neuroscience (required Capstone)

Students must take one course from each cluster below.

Cluster 1:

BIO 312 Vertebrate Physiology
BCH 343 Biochemistry I
BIO 406 Ethology
BIO 409 Immunology

Cluster 2:

BIO 324 Endocrinology
BIO 202 Genetics
BIO 323 Evolution

Cluster 3:

PSY 305 Theories of Learning
PSY 343 Research in Biopsychology
PSY 419 Cognitive Psychology
PSY 450 Advanced Psychology Seminar
PSY 451 Applying Psychological Principles

Cluster 4:

PSY 201 Developmental Psychology I
PSY 203 Developmental Psychology II
PSY 207 Abnormal Psychology
PSY 351 Child Psychopathology and its Treatment
PSY 413 Experimental Psychology

It is strongly recommended that all students take two semesters of English.

In addition, students who plan to apply to medical school or to a graduate program with a heavy biology focus should plan to take two semesters of Physics (PHY 121, PHY 122), two semesters of Calculus and an additional two semesters of Chemistry (CHM 222 and CHM 232).

The Department of Philosophy offers a major and minor in Philosophy.

The Department of Philosophy is committed to the ideals of a liberal education and understands the study of Philosophy as essential to such a noble endeavor. The courses offered by the Department allow its students to develop the logical and critical skills needed to read intelligently and to think clearly, to learn how Philosophy developed over the centuries, and to appreciate the contributions of the great philosophers to Western culture. The study of Philosophy reveals the complexity of reality and the difficulty of the problems to be faced in the search for truth.

Graduates with a major in Philosophy from Stonehill have become college presidents and vice presidents, academic deans, professors, judges, lawyers, priests, business persons, and authors. Some have become directors of personnel, others political and social analysts; still others have entered government service and politics. Liberally educated persons are ready to move in many directions. But more than preparing students for a career, a major in Philosophy prepares them for life and a lifelong pursuit of wisdom.

Major

The major in Philosophy requires ten courses beyond the General Education requirement, GENP 100 or GENP 140. One PHL Moral Inquiry course selected from PHL 220 - PHL 239 is also required and only one such course will count towards the 10 courses for the major.

Four historical courses, one from each of the following areas:

1. Ancient Philosophy
2. Medieval Philosophy
3. Modern Philosophy
4. Later Modern and Contemporary Philosophy

One course in PHL 241 Logic

Two Thematic courses

Two electives that can be any course at the level of 250 or higher

PHL 421 The Senior Philosophy Colloquium Courses in Each of the Core Areas Ancient

- PHL 341 Plato
PHL 342 Aristotle
PHL 343 Socrates

Medieval

- PHL 353 Medieval Philosophy
PHL 354 Thomas Aquinas and His Contemporaries

Modern

- PHL 361 Descartes to Hume
PHL 363 Kant
PHL 364 Hegel, Marx, and Engels

Later Modern and Contemporary

- PHL 371 Existentialism
PHL 372 Heidegger and His Influence
PHL 373 American Philosophy
PHL 374 Recent British and American Analytic Philosophy

Thematic

- PHL 251 Political Philosophy
PHL 263 Philosophy of Economics
PHL 283 Aesthetics
PHL 284 Philosophy of Religion
PHL 305 Hermeneutics
PHL 306 Philosophy and the Unconscious
PHL 318 Problems in Social and Political Philosophy
PHL 331 Metaphysics
PHL 332 Philosophy of Knowledge

Minor

Five courses beyond the General Education Philosophy requirement (GENP 100 or GENP 140) constitute a minor in Philosophy. One of these courses must be PHL 241 Elementary Logic.

Note: If a minor decides to take the moral Inquiry course from the Philosophy Department, one and only one course will count toward the five courses for a minor.

Advisement

The selection and sequence of courses for both the major and the minor should be taken in consultation with the Chairperson or advisor.

PH 421 Senior Philosophy Colloquium involves writing an independent thesis with guidance from two members of the department. The student should approach prospective advisors at the end of the junior year or the very beginning of the senior year.

Course Offerings

MORAL INQUIRY: PHL 220 - PHL 239

The Moral Inquiry courses (PHL 220-PHL 239) examine in a variety of ways the perennial question: "What is the good life?" All pursue the following aims: (1) to study various philosophic approaches to fundamental questions and principles; (2) to apply general principles to specific areas of ethical problems and dilemmas; (3) to encourage informed discussion and debate.

Students may select any one of these ethics courses in order to satisfy the General Education Moral Inquiry requirement.

PHL 221 ETHICS AND MORAL CHARACTER (Moral Inquiry)

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

An overview and discussion of the major ethical theories in the history of Western philosophy. Application to selected contemporary dilemmas. Prerequisite: GENP 100 or GENP 140 and Junior standing.

PHL 222 ETHICS: INDIVIDUAL, SOCIETY, STATE (Moral Inquiry)

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Ethical theories and problems in the matrix of the individual, state, and the global community. Prerequisite: GENP 100 or GENP 140 and Junior standing.

PHL 223 INTRODUCTION TO MORAL REASONING (Moral Inquiry)

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

A non-historical introduction to ethics that will focus on basic theories and problems. Prerequisite: GENP 100 or GENP 140 and Junior standing.

PHL 234 BUSINESS ETHICS (Moral Inquiry)

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Examination of ethical theories and their application to the world of business. Specific topics include: contemporary views on economic justice, corporate social responsibility, ethical issues in advertising, preferential hiring and reverse discrimination, privacy in employment. Prerequisite: GENP 100 or GENP 140 and Junior standing.

PHL 235 BIOMEDICAL ETHICS (Moral Inquiry)

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Discussion and resolution of ethical problems associated with the practice of medicine and the pursuit of biomedical research. Topics include: ethical issues in human experimentation; euthanasia; abortion; fetal research; and reproductive technologies. Prerequisite: GENP 100 or GENP 140 and Junior standing.

PHL 236 ETHICS AND THE ARTS (Moral Inquiry)

Three Credits Spring Semester

Philosophy in dialogue with the Arts on the question of the good. Problems of ethics are examined using philosophic texts and works of literature and other arts. Prerequisite: GENP 100 or GENP 140 and Junior standing.

PHL 241 ELEMENTARY LOGIC

Three Credits Fall Semester

The art of reasoning or argument: deductive and inductive. Terms as signs. Definition and division of terms and concepts. Relations between statements. Categorical deductive reasoning. Propositional logic. Predicate logic. Prerequisite: GENP 100 or GENP 140.

Thematic electives for Philosophy majors: PHL 250 - PHL 339

PHL 251 POLITICAL PHILOSOPHY

Three Credits Fall Semester

A discussion of the major themes in the history of Western political philosophy. Key figures include Plato, Aristotle, Aquinas, Machiavelli, Hobbes, Locke, Rousseau, and Rawls. Prerequisite: GENP 100 or GENP 140.

PHL 254 LATIN AMERICAN PHILOSOPHY

Three Credits Not Offered 2009-2010

Latin America has developed its own canon of philosophical texts, and its own philosophical culture. The objective of the course is to make the students acquainted with the main streams, topics, and authors of this Latin American philosophy. Prerequisite: GENP 100 or GENP 140.

PHL 263 PHILOSOPHY OF ECONOMICS

Three Credits Spring Semester

The philosophy of economics is one of the newer disciplines in practical philosophy. The subject matter, however, is as old as mankind itself: reflections about the relevance of economic practices for our human existence, and worries about the way economic facts seem to encompass our lives. The objective of the course is to introduce students to the many different areas in the field, such as the ontological, system-theoretic, aesthetic, and, of course, ethical approaches to the subject of economics. Prerequisite: GENP 100 or GENP 140.

PHL 264 PHILOSOPHY OF ARCHITECTURE

Three Credits Spring Semester

An investigation, proceeding both historically and transculturally, into how "meaning" is embodied in architecture. Reflection is guided especially by Christian Norberg-Schulz, who has developed a phenomenological approach to the study of architecture based upon the central ideas of Martin Heidegger. Cross-listed in the Fine Arts program as VPH 211. Prerequisite: GENP 100 or GENP 140.

PHL 265 READINGS IN CONTEMPORARY THOUGHT

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

An introduction to the philosophy of our time. Texts chosen to be readable. A focus on humanistic issues: how the unconscious controls behavior, where meaning and value come from, how one can be hoodwinked by political ideologies, whether the mind really exists, what to do about the loss of meta-narratives in our modern lives. Prerequisite: GENP 100 or GENP 140.

PHL 283 AESTHETICS

Three Credits Spring Semester

Philosophical principles of art and beauty. Review of major classical and modern theories. Discussion of specific works of art from different historical periods. Cross-listed in the Fine Arts program as VPH 212. Prerequisite: GENP 100 or GENP 140.

PHL 284 PHILOSOPHY OF RELIGION

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

Religious experience; faith and reason; proofs for the existence of God and criticisms of them; the divine attributes. Prerequisite: GENP 100 or GENP 140.

PHL 285 PHILOSOPHY OF SCIENCEThree Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2011, 2013

A study of basic philosophical questions pertaining to the scientific endeavor and its methodology. Topics for discussion include: the foundations of science and the criteria for distinguishing science from non-science; conditions for the emergence and development of scientific theories; reductionism and the unity of science project; skepticism and limitations of the scientific method; implications of the scientific viewpoint for our understanding of the world in which we live and of the human condition (social and political implications of science). Prerequisites: GENP 100 or GENP 140.

PHL 305 HERMENEUTICS

Three Credits Spring Semester

What is involved when we "interpret" a book, a poem, a movie, a painting, or any "text"? A philosophical analysis of the activity of understanding and interpretation as discussed by several Continental philosophers of the twentieth century. Prerequisite: GENP 100 or GENP 140.

PHL 306 PHILOSOPHY AND THE UNCONSCIOUS

Three Credits Spring Semester

Descartes and other modern philosophers argued for the transparency of the self. Yet, this position was radically questioned and energetically rejected by a host of European and American philosophers, psychologists, authors, poets and artists from the late 19th century through the 20th century, and the protest continues into the present day. In particular, the course will examine how the notion of the "unconscious" has complexified our understanding of the self. Featured authors will include Schopenhauer, Nietzsche, Freud, and C.G Jung. Prerequisite: GENP 100 or GENP 140.

PHL 318 PROBLEMS IN SOCIAL AND POLITICAL PHILOSOPHY

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

This course examines selected topic in social and political philosophy – not a survey of the whole field, but those particular topics the instructor finds most interesting. Prerequisite: GENP 100 or GENP 140.

PHL 331 METAPHYSICS

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

Speculative study of being in light of its causes and principles. Major themes: science of being as being, truth, goodness, substance, analogy, act and potency. Prerequisite: GENP 100 or GENP 140.

PHL 332 PHILOSOPHY OF KNOWLEDGE

Three Credits Fall Semester

Nature and conditions of the act of human knowledge as such; the origin of human understanding and the possibility of knowing truth within diverse human sciences. Prerequisite: GENP 100 or GENP 140.

Ancient Philosophy: PHL 341 - PHL 349PHL 341 PLATO

Three Credits Fall Semester

Selected dialogues of Plato. Problems and topics include: Plato's criticisms of Greek philosophy; the roles of love, poetry, and rhetoric in human knowledge and morality; the concept of forms. Prerequisite: GENP 100 or GENP 140.

PHL 342 ARISTOTLEThree Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2012, 2014

Aristotle's philosophy of man, ethics, and metaphysics, and its importance to subsequent philosophers. Prerequisite: GENP 100 or GENP 140.

PHL 343 SOCRATES

Three Credits Spring Semester

A course on the philosophy of Socrates. Students will study Plato's early Socratic dialogues as well as texts by Xenophon and Aristophanes. Prerequisite: GENP 100 or GENP 140.

Medieval Philosophy: PHL 350 - PHL 359PHL 353 MEDIEVAL PHILOSOPHYThree Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2011, 2013

Encounter of Greek philosophical theories with Christianity as seen through the works of representative medieval thinkers, especially Augustine, Thomas Aquinas, Duns Scotus and William of Ockham. Prerequisite: GENP 100 or GENP 140.

PHL 354 THOMAS AQUINAS AND HIS CONTEMPORARIES

Three Credits Fall Semester

In the 13th century when Aristotle's ideas were presented in Latin to the Christian theologians, a revolution in Western philosophical thought resulted. The problems concerning the origin of the universe, the nature of reality and the individuality of the human soul became the central questions in philosophical and theological discourse. At the center of the intellectual controversies is the figure of Thomas Aquinas. Thomas, the most rational of theologians or the most religious of philosophers provided profound and innovative solutions to metaphysical, epistemological and moral problems. This course will examine his sources, his solutions and the responses of his contemporaries. Prerequisite: GENP 100 or GENP 140.

Modern Philosophy: PHL 360 - PHL 369PHL 361 DESCARTES TO HUME

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2011, 2013

Renaissance skepticism and the birth of Cartesianism. Descartes' mathematicism and the methodic doubt. The Meditations. The thinking self, proofs for God's existence, Cartesian dualism, and the problem of mind-body interaction. Locke's critique of innate ideas. Berkeley's immaterialism. Hume's empiricism as a prelude to Kantianism. Prerequisite: GENP 100 or GENP 140.

PHL 363 KANTThree Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2011, 2013

Issues from The Critique of Pure Reason will be addressed first, such as the difference between the thing in itself and appearance. Then Kant's moral philosophy will be discussed in detail. Slow and careful reading required. Prerequisite: GENP 100 or GENP 140.

PHL 364 HEGEL, MARX, AND ENGELS

Three Credits Fall Semester

Roots of Marxism in Hegel and Feuerbach. Humanism of young Marx. Praxis and alienation. History as dialectical. Nature of communism. Collaborative works of Marx and Engels. The later Engels and modern materialism. Prerequisite: GENP 100 or GENP 140.

Later Modern and Contemporary Philosophy: PHL 370 - PHL 379PHL 371 EXISTENTIALISM

Three Credits Fall Semester

The Existentialist thinkers of the 20th Century vigorously protested the abstraction and sterility of certain kinds of philosophical and theological discourse and demanded that we confront the life and death, flesh and blood issues of our existence. The course will examine the sources of their existential protest in the thought of the 19th Century thinkers Nietzsche and Kierkegaard and progress through a discussion of the major figures and works in the Existentialist movement of the 20th Century. Prerequisite: GENP 100 or GENP 140.

PHL 372 HEIDEGGER AND HIS INFLUENCEThree Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2012, 2014

An introduction to the thought of the most seminal philosopher of the 20th century. Topics discussed include the critique of metaphysics, theology, science, and technology; the structure of being-in-the-world; time and history; anxiety, death, radical finitude and authentic existence. Consideration of Heidegger's influence on contemporary thinking in philosophy and in all the major disciplines. Prerequisite: GENP 100 or GENP 140.

PHL 373 AMERICAN PHILOSOPHY

Three Credits Spring Semester

Principal movements of American philosophical thought: transcendentalism, pragmatism, realism, idealism, and naturalism. Prerequisite: GENP 100 or GENP 140.

PHL 374 RECENT BRITISH AND AMERICAN ANALYTIC PHILOSOPHY

Three Credits Fall Semester

A general introduction to recent (20th Century) philosophy in Britain and America. Themes include: the attack on metaphysics; the nature of values; the way language works; the foundations of logic, science and mathematics; the attempt to reconcile science and human values. Prerequisite: GENP 100 or GENP 140. Special Numbers: PHL 400 - PHL 499

PHL 421 SENIOR PHILOSOPHY COLLOQUIUM

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

The student will select a topic and two readers after meeting with the course coordinator in the fall semester. The presentation may be held in the first or second semester. Credit given in spring semester. Prerequisite: Senior standing.

PHL 475 INTERNSHIP

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Prerequisite: Junior standing and permission of Internship Coordinator and Department Chairperson required.

PHL 490 DIRECTED STUDY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Supervised reading and research on selected topics. Prerequisite: Approval of faculty member directing the project and Department Chairperson required.

Physics and Astronomy

The Department of Physics and Astronomy offers a B.S. in Physics, with an optional Astronomy concentration. The department also offers a B.A. in Physics with an optional Astronomy concentration and minors in both Physics and Astronomy. The B.A. in Physics can also be awarded as part of Stonehill's Engineering 3+2 Program with the University of Notre Dame.

Another important mission of the Department of Physics and Astronomy is the dissemination of science to students who major in other disciplines. We currently offer six courses for the Cornerstone Program, covering topics that range from the history of physics and astronomy, to the foundations of quantum physics and relativity, to the search for planets around other stars and for life in the cosmos.

Physics Major: B.S.

The physics major is designed for students who are interested in pursuing a graduate school degree in either physics or astronomy, and those students who seek immediate employment in teaching, private industry or government jobs that require an advanced knowledge of physics.

A Bachelor of Science (B.S.) in Physics (with an optional Astronomy concentration) includes 11 courses offered by the department. All students in the major must take the following courses in Math and Science:

First year:

Fall semester:

MTH 125 Calculus I
PHY 121 Physics I
CHM 113 General Chemistry I

Spring semester:

MTH 126 Calculus II
CHM 221 Organic Chemistry I
(Astronomy concentration)
PHY 122 Physics II

Sophomore year:

Fall semester:

MTH 225 Statistics for Science
MTH 261 Multivariable Calculus
PHY 221 Physics III

Spring semester:

MTH 251 Linear Algebra
CHM 232 General Chemistry II
(Physics concentration)
LC 235 Quantum Waves

Plus two of the following sophomore year when offered:

PHY 222 Classical Mechanics
PHY 324 Electromagnetism
PHY 325 Electronics (Physics concentration) or
PHY 322 Astrophysics and Cosmology
(Astronomy concentration).

Junior and Senior years:

Physics concentration:

PHY 222 Classical Mechanics
(if not completed earlier)
PHY 321 Statistical Physics
PHY 323 Quantum Physics
PHY 324 Electromagnetism
(if not completed earlier)

PHY 325 Electronics (if not completed earlier)
PHY 401 Great Experiments in Modern Physics I
PHY 403 Topics in Physics
(Math Methods in Physics) or
MTH 364 Differential Equations
(whichever is offered)
PHY 403 Topics in Physics (capstone)

Astronomy concentration:

PHY 222 Classical Mechanics
(if not completed earlier)
PHY 321 Statistical Physics
PHY 322 Astrophysics and Cosmology
(if not completed earlier)
PHY 323 Quantum Physics
PHY 324 Electromagnetism
(if not completed earlier)
PHY 403 Topics in Physics
(Math Methods in Physics) or
MTH 364 Differential Equations
(whichever is offered)
PHY 404 Topics in Astronomy (capstone)
PHY 496 Independent Research

Physics Major: B.A.

The B.A. in physics is designed for students who wish either to pursue an interdisciplinary field or to teach at a primary or secondary level. The B.A. is also offered as part of the Stonehill's Engineering 3+2 Program with the University of Notre Dame.

A Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) in Physics (with either a Physics or an Astronomy concentration) includes 9 courses offered by the Physics department. All students in the major must take the following courses in Math and Science:

First year:

Fall semester:

MTH 125 Calculus I
PHY 121 Physics I
CHM 113 General Chemistry I

Spring semester:

MTH 126 Calculus II
CHM 221 Organic Chemistry I
(Astronomy concentration)
PHY 122 Physics II

Sophomore year:

Fall semester:

MTH 225 Statistics for Science
(not required of double majors in Physics and Chemistry)
MTH 261 Multivariable Calculus
PHY 221 Physics III

Spring semester:

MTH 251 Linear Algebra
CHM 232 General Chemistry II
(Physics concentration)
LC 235 Quantum Waves

Plus one or two of the following sophomore year when offered:

PHY 222 Classical Mechanics
PHY 324 Electromagnetism
PHY 325 Electronics (Physics concentration) or
PHY 322 Astrophysics and Cosmology
(Astronomy concentration).

Junior and Senior years:Physics concentration:

- PHY 222 Classical Mechanics
(if not completed earlier)
- PHY 324 Electromagnetism
(if not completed earlier)
- PHY 325 Electronics (if not completed earlier)
- PHY 401 Great Experiments in Modern Physics I
- PHY 403 Topics in Physics
(Math Methods in Physics) or
- MTH 364 Differential Equations
(whichever is offered)
- PHY 403 Topics in Physics (capstone)

Astronomy concentration:

- PHY 222 Classical Mechanics
(if not completed earlier)
- PHY 322 Astrophysics and Cosmology
(if not completed earlier)
- PHY 324 Electromagnetism
(if not completed earlier)
- PHY 401 Great Experiments in Modern Physics I
- PHY 403 Topics in Physics
(Math Methods in Physics) or
- MTH 364 Differential Equations
(whichever is offered)
- PHY 404 Topics in Astronomy (capstone)

Minors in Physics and Astronomy

A minor program in Physics or Astronomy is an excellent complement to programs in Mathematics, Chemistry, Computer Science, or Life Sciences, especially for students planning on teaching at the secondary level, or for elementary education students with an interest in science. A minor in Physics or Astronomy is also useful for Business or Economics majors who will seek employment in science-related businesses. The minor in Physics consists of six courses:

First year and Sophomore years:

- PHY 121 Physics I
- PHY 122 Physics II
- PHY 221 Physics III
- LC 235 Quantum Waves

The two remaining courses are to be chosen from the junior-senior physics or astronomy courses, exclusive of the General Education courses. MTH 393 (Numerical Analysis) and CHM 333 (Physical Chemistry D) may be substituted for one of these two courses. In order to obtain a minor in Astronomy, rather than in Physics, two of the six courses must be in Astronomy, exclusive of General Education courses.

Physics Department Requirements for the 3+2 Engineering Program with the University of Notre Dame.

The Engineering Program Stonehill College offers in collaboration with Notre Dame University is described on page 12 of the HillBook. Here we list the Physics, Chemistry, Computer Science and Math courses required by our department prior to the transfer to Notre Dame University at the end of the junior year. Successfully completing these courses and finishing the studies at Notre Dame lead to a B.A. in Physics from Stonehill College and a B.S. from the University of Notre Dame.

All engineering students take the following courses:

First year:Fall semester:

- MTH 125 Calculus I
- CSC 103 Computer Science I
- PHY 121 Physics I

Spring semester:

- MTH 126 Calculus II
- CSC 104 Computer Science II
- PHY 122 Physics II

Sophomore year:Fall semester:

- MTH 261 Multivariable Calculus
- PHY 221 Physics III

Spring semester:

- LC 235 Quantum Waves

Sophomore or Junior year (all students):

- MTH 251 Linear Algebra
- PHY 403 Topics in Physics
(Math Methods in Physics) or
- MTH 364 Differential Equations
- CHM 113 General Chemistry I
- CHM 232 General Chemistry II

Additional courses in the Sophomore or Junior year:

Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering

- PHY 222 Classical Mechanics
- PHY 403 Topics in Physics (Statics)
- PHY 403 Topics in Physics
(Mechanics of Solids)
- PHY 321 Statistical Physics
(usually taken in the junior year)

Civil Engineering

- MTH 225 Statistics for Science
- PHY 403 Topics in Physics (Statics)
- PHY 403 Topics in Physics
(Mechanics of Solids)

Electrical Engineering

- MTH 225 Statistics for Science
- CSC 221 Computer Logic
- PHY 324 Electromagnetism
- PHY 325 Electronics

Course OfferingsPHY 121 PHYSICS I

Four Credits Fall Semester

Brief introduction to vectors and basic concepts of calculus; kinematics; Newton's laws, force, work and power; conservative forces, potential energy; momentum, collisions; rotational motion, angular momentum, torque; oscillations, simple harmonic motion; gravitation and planetary motion; fluid dynamics; kinetic theory of gases, thermodynamics; heat capacity and transport. Three periods of lecture and two hours of laboratory a week. Corequisites: MTH 125.

PY 122 PHYSICS II

Four Credits Spring Semester

Brief introduction to the basic concepts of vector calculus, such as line and surface integrals, integral version of Gauss' theorem and Stokes' theorem; Coulomb's law, insulators and metals; electrostatic induction, potential energy; capacitance; currents, resistance, basic circuits, batteries; magnetism and currents; Ampere's law; motion of free charges in magnetic fields, mass spectroscopy; magnetic induction, Faraday's law; Maxwell's equations, electromagnetic waves; geometric and wave optics; light as photons, photoelectric effect. Three periods of lecture and two hours of laboratory a week. Prerequisite: MTH 125; Corequisite: MTH 126.

PHY 192 ASTRONOMY IN THE SCIENTIFIC REVOLUTION (Natural Scientific Inquiry)

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

The development and establishment of heliocentric theory. Topics include celestial observations, the geocentric universe, Copernicus' rejection of geocentrism, Kepler's and Galileo's contributions to heliocentrism, 17th-century observations, and the gradual acceptance of heliocentrism. The course stresses exercises, observation, establishment of data, preparation of tables, and construction of mathematical models.

PHY 193 SCIENCE AND BELIEF (Natural Scientific Inquiry)

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

History of the relation between science and religion from Copernicus to David Hume; Catholic and Protestant reactions to the Copernican theory; the Galileo affair; rationalism and empiricism; Puritanism and science; the Enlightenment critique of religion; and the nature of belief in science and the role of "reason" in religion.

PHY 194 PHYSICS IN THE SCIENTIFIC REVOLUTION (Natural Scientific Inquiry)

Three Credits Fall Semester

The development of classical mechanics. Topics include medieval Aristotelian principles of motion; the development of statics, kinematics and dynamics along with mathematical advances in the 17th century; and Newton's Principia. The course stresses exercises, observation, laboratory experiments, establishment of data, and the development of mathematical analysis and laws.

PHY 196 QUANTUM WORLD AND RELATIVITY (Natural Scientific Inquiry)

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Introduction to the mysteries of quantum physics and relativity for the general student. Despite nearly a century of confirmations, the basic rules of quantum physics and relativity are still strange, mysterious, and counter-intuitive, and fun to think about. This course examines these rules – their discovery, content, and experimental verifications – and the people who created them – Einstein, Bohr, DeBroglie, Heisenberg, etc. You do not need to be a science major to take this course.

PHY 201 BASIC PHYSICS I
PHY 202 BASIC PHYSICS II

Four Credits each Fall and Spring Semesters

Fundamentals of physics for students of biology. Topics in classical mechanics, heat and molecular view of gases; electricity and magnetism, optics and modern physics. Three periods of lecture and two hours of laboratory a week for two semesters. Prerequisites: MTH 125-MTH 126.

PHY 221 PHYSICS III

Three Credits Fall Semester

Mechanical and electrical examples of damped, forced and resonant oscillations; the mechanical wave equation via Newton's mechanics; the electromagnetic wave equation via Maxwell's equations; traveling sound and electromagnetic waves; diffraction and interference, geometrical limit of wave optics. Prerequisites: MTH 125-MTH 126; and PHY 121-PHY 122.

PHY 222 CLASSICAL MECHANICS

Three Credits Offered Alternate Years

Lagrange's equations; central forces; kinematics and equations of motion for rigid bodies; Hamilton's equations; Hamilton-Jacobi equations; small oscillations; elements of fluid dynamics. Prerequisites: MTH 125-MTH 126; and PHY 121-PHY 122.

LC 235 INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR:
MTH 261/PHY 221 QUANTUM WAVES

Three Credits Spring Semester
Year-long Learning Community

With the creation of quantum mechanics in the 1920's, physicists conceived of a new and unexpected kind of wave that is neither a Newtonian (c. 1700) mechanical wave nor a Maxwellian (c. 1860) electromagnetic wave. These mysterious DeBroglie – Schroedinger waves of probability are the essence of quantum mechanics. These waves determine the structure of atoms and molecules, i.e. they are the deepest foundation of both physics and chemistry. While the mathematics of these quantum waves is similar to the classical waves already studied in PHY 221 and MTH 261, the physical, chemical, and philosophical consequences are breathtakingly different.

PHY 291 PLANETS, MOONS AND THE SEARCH FOR ALIEN LIFE (Natural Scientific Inquiry)

Three Credits

Earth and the solar system, the search for planets around other stars and a discussion about the probability of finding life on other planets or their moons. Topics include: birth of the solar system; early history of the Earth; emergence of life on our planet; mass life extinctions; space exploration of planets and moons in our solar system and search for extraterrestrial life; recent successful search for planets around other stars; possibility of discovering Earth-like planets around other stars in the near future. The course will include class activities, such as labs, and repeated visits to our astronomical observatory.

PHY 292 THE UNIVERSE (Natural Scientific Inquiry)

Three Credits Spring Semester

Structure and evolution of the Universe. Topics include: a brief history of our ideas about the size of the Universe, from the Greeks to Copernicus; the Newtonian revolution and the defeat of the anthropocentric view of the cosmos; Einstein and the geometry of space-time; the Milky Way and the discovery of other galaxies; stellar evolution; supernovae; white dwarfs, neutron stars and black holes; pulsars; how stars produce the atomic building blocks of life; Big Bang and the expansion of the universe; discovery of microwave background radiation; and the mystery of dark matter. The course will include class activities, such as labs, and repeated visits to our astronomical observatory.

PHY 321 STATISTICAL PHYSICS

Three Credits Offered alternate years

An introduction to the macroscopic view of thermodynamics: temperature, heat, work, entropy, equations of state, engines and refrigerators. Introduction to the microscopic or statistical view: Maxwell-Boltzmann distribution; microcanonical, canonical, and grand canonical distributions; quantum statistics of bosons and fermions; black body radiation; electronic and thermal properties of quantum liquids and solids. Prerequisites: PHY 121-PHY 122, and PHY 221, LC 235 recommended.

PHY 322 ASTROPHYSICS AND COSMOLOGY

Three Credits Fall Semester

Introduction to the structure of stars and hydrostatic equilibrium; stellar nuclear fusion; stellar evolution, the ultimate fate of stars, stellar super-winds and supernovae; stellar remnants: white dwarfs, neutron stars and degeneracy pressure; x-ray sources; black holes and accretion disks; how relativity predicts the expansion of the universe; quasars and gamma ray bursts; modern cosmology: microwave background radiation; dark matter; vacuum energy; the formation of galaxies from gravitational instability; primordial synthesis of the elements; the Big Bang as a test of our high energy physics theories. Prerequisites: PHY 121-PHY 122, and PHY 221.

PHY 323 QUANTUM PHYSICS

Three Credits Offered Alternate Years

Schroedinger wave equation and the statistical interpretation of the wave function; the time independent equation in one dimension – free particle, square wells, barriers, tunneling; the equation in three dimensions – hydrogen atom and angular momentum; identical particles and spin; multiparticle states and entanglement; introduction to solids and Bloch theorem. Prerequisites: PHY 121- PHY 122, PHY 221 and MTH 251 (Linear Algebra), LC 235 is highly recommended.

PHY 324 ELECTROMAGNETISM

Three Credits Offered Alternate Years

The sources, the properties and the waves of electromagnetic fields and potentials; Boundary value problems in electrostatics; Magnetostatics and Faraday's law; Electromagnetic Properties of media: dielectrics, diamagnetic, paramagnetic and ferromagnetic materials; Maxwell's equations in differential form; Relativistic basis of electromagnetism; Electromagnetic basis of geometric and wave optics: lenses, mirrors, diffraction, polarization. Prerequisites: PHY 121-PHY 122, and PHY 221.

PHY 325 ELECTRONICS

Four Credits Offered Alternate Years

Analog electronic circuits, from RL, RC, RLC filters to transistors and operational amplifiers; introduction to digital circuits. The course includes both theory and a strong lab component. Prerequisites: PHY 121-PHY 122.

PHY 401 GREAT EXPERIMENTS IN MODERN PHYSICS I

PHY 402 GREAT EXPERIMENTS IN MODERN PHYSICS II

Three Credits Each Fall and Spring Semesters

Available experiments include: Cavendish experiment for the gravitational constant, Young's two-slit interference experiment, Fizeau's rotating mirror experiment for the speed of light, Maxwell's speed of light via electrical measurements, Thomson's experiment for the electron charge/mass ratio, Millikan's experiment for the electron charge, Einstein-Perrin's for Boltzmann's constant, Planck's constant via photoelectric effect, Planck's constant via hydrogen spectrum, Rutherford's experiment for nuclear size, Frank-Hertz experiment on inelastic electron-atom collisions. PHY 401 may be elected without PHY 402; however, to complete all of the experiments students will need both semesters. See Program Director. Prerequisites: PHY 121-PHY 122, PHY 221.

PHY 403 TOPICS IN PHYSICS

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

This is an umbrella title to accommodate any physics offering not included in the above list. The specific topics covered will be listed in pre-registration materials and will appear in the student's transcripts; for example, PHY 403, Topics in Physics – Medical Physics. Student may take several semesters of PY 403, because of a change in topic: e.g. Topics in Physics-Optics. Prerequisites: PHY 121-PHY 122, and PHY 221.

PHY 404 TOPICS IN ASTRONOMY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

The mechanism for PHY 404 is the same as for PHY 403: examples are PHY 404 - Research in Extrasolar Planets, PHY 404 - Stellar Evolution or PHY 404 - Cosmology.

Prerequisites: PHY 121-PHY 122, and PHY 221.

PHY 490 DIRECTED STUDY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

This is an opportunity for upper level students to do advanced work in a specialized area of physics or astronomy.

PHY 496 INDEPENDENT RESEARCH

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Students carry out an independent research project under the direction of a faculty member. The research may be part of an ongoing project being conducted by the faculty member, or the student and faculty member may develop an original project. Approval of the faculty member and the Department Chairperson needed.

PHY 497 SENIOR THESIS

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Students complete an independent scholarly work under the guidance of a faculty member, resulting in a substantial written work.

Prerequisite: Senior standing in the department; approval of the faculty member and the Department Chairperson.

The Department of Political Science offers a major and minor in the discipline.

The mission of the major program in Political Science is to offer students a broadly based core curriculum through which knowledge of the principles and practices of political life, democratic citizenship, and political activity are acquired. The major provides a foundation for graduate work and for careers in law, government service, elective office, journalism, international affairs, education, and related fields.

Major

A major in Political Science consists of a minimum of eleven courses, adhering to the following distribution requirements. Prerequisite courses include POL 123, POL 134 and POL 171. In addition students must take seven other courses, numbered 200 and above, and the Capstone Seminar.

Students are required to take one course from each of the following areas of study; Political Theory, International Relations and Comparative Politics and two courses from the area of American Government and Politics.

Political Theory

POL 222 Political Ideologies

POL 235 American Political Thought

POL 265 Men, Women, and Justice

POL 333 Contemporary Political Theory

POL 338 Freedom and the State

POL 380 Dirty Hands: Moral Dilemmas (Moral Inquiry)

International Relations

POL 243 International Politics

POL 245 American Foreign Policy

POL 249 Contemporary Global Conflict

POL 331 War

POL 344 Contemporary Global Issues

POL 353 International Organizations and State Building

POL 377 International Political Economy

Comparative Government

POL 273 Politics of Developing Nations

POL 285 Modern Europe: Divided and United

POL 339 Irish Government Documents

POL 340 European Politics

POL 347 Ethnicity and Conflict Management

POL 354 Irish Politics

American Government and Politics

POL 203 Religion, Politics, and the Law

POL 220 Healthcare Policy and Politics

POL 233 Courts, Politics, and Law

POL 247 Elections in America

POL 248 State and Urban Politics

POL 255 Environmental Policy and Politics

POL 332 Executive Power in America

POL 336 Constitutional Law and Politics

POL 337 Public Administration

POL 341 Civil Rights and Civil Liberties

POL 343 Public Opinion and Voting Behavior

POL 345 Poverty, Policy and Politics

POL 351 Public Policy Analysis

POL 357 Special Topics in Politics

POL 360 Congress and the Presidency

POL 390 Politics in Washington

Capstone

POL 422 Capstone Seminar

Minor

A minor in Political Science consists of six courses offered by the Department, including POL 123, POL 134, POL 171, and any three courses from those listed above. The fifteen credits given for the Washington Internships do not count toward the Minor in Political Science.

Course Offerings

NOTE: For more complete descriptions of courses, and to view syllabi for selected department courses, please go to the "Course listings" link at the Political Science Department Home Page.

POL 123 AMERICAN GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

An introduction to the institutions and participants in American politics; the development of institutions and ideas from the founding era, the interaction among institutions and between the levels of government in the formulation and implementation of public policy, and the impact of citizens and groups on political behavior.

POL 134 COMPARING STATES

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

The variations in political systems of states will be explored in terms of the structures of states and their ideologies shaping their politics and their public policies. The international politics of states, how foreign policy is made, and how nations interact in conflict and cooperation will be examined.

POL 171 POWER, ORDER, AND JUSTICE

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

The dilemmas facing all governments: On what principles should the political order be based? What is the nature of the just state? What determines citizenship, political authority and power? What is the good life, and how is it related to the political order; and the satisfaction of justice?

POL 203 RELIGION, POLITICS, AND THE LAW

Three Credits Fall Semester

Viewed through the lenses of U.S. Supreme Court decisions, this course examines the intersection of religion and politics in American history. An exploration of how the place of religion in the public arena has been understood in different historical periods. In addition, current issues where organized religion and public policy clash are examined.

POL 220 HEALTHCARE POLICY AND POLITICS

Three Credits Fall Semester

Historical development of the nation's system of healthcare including visions for the future. Review of healthcare policy development and implementation at the local, state, and federal levels; major healthcare and related social issues and concerns are addressed in both readings and class discussions. Course is crosslisted with HCA 220.

POL 222 POLITICAL IDEOLOGIES

Three Credits Fall Semester

An introduction to Western political ideologies: basic philosophical concepts, the theory of democracy and its critics, and various political ideologies including conservatism, fascism, feminism, liberalism, Marxism, and socialism. Prerequisite: POL 171.

POL 233 COURTS, POLITICS AND LAW

Three Credits Alternate Years: Spring 2011

As an introduction, this course explores the relationship between law and politics, the legal and judicial processes in the United States, the nature of legal reasoning, the legal process at both the Federal and State levels and the role of courts in initiating, directing, or resisting social change. Prerequisite: POL 123.

POL 235 AMERICAN POLITICAL THOUGHT

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

An exploration of the basic structure, values, and theoretical foundations of the American republic and its political development. The creation and definition of American political thinking in the works of Locke, Jefferson, Madison, Tocqueville, Calhoun, Lincoln, and others. Prerequisite: POL 171.

POL 243 INTERNATIONAL POLITICS

Three Credits Fall Semester

An exploration of the formation of foreign policy, the structure and processes of international systems, patterns of conflict, economic and security issues, and institutions and processes of conflict resolution. Prerequisite: POL 134.

POL 245 AMERICAN FOREIGN POLICY

Three Credits Fall Semester

The interplay between American interests and the international political system is examined in terms of decision-making. Political pressures, ethical considerations, a changing security agenda, patterns of cooperation and conflict, trade and aid, human rights and resource distribution.

POL 247 ELECTIONS IN AMERICA

Three Credits Fall Semester

The main organizations of American electoral behavior: political parties and contemporary American politics, the role of public opinion, the impact of interest groups, the electoral system on the electoral process and decision making in government. Prerequisite: POL 123.

POL 248 STATE AND URBAN POLITICS

Three Credits Alternate Years: Spring 2012

Cities and states in the federal system; the structures of state and urban governments; types of elections; community power; problems of the cities and states; and the formation of public policies are explored in this course. Prerequisite: POL 123.

POL 249 CONTEMPORARY GLOBAL CONFLICT

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

Conflicts around the globe are grounded in ethno-national or ethno-religious foundations and exemplify this low level but intensely savage terrorism and war. The course will look at the explanations and analyze the causes of such wars and the strategies policy makers offer to deal with the consequences.

POL 255 ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY AND POLITICS

Three Credits Alternate Years: Spring 2012

The environment as a political issue, the rise of environmental concerns in America; the influence of public opinion on environmental policies; and some of the conflicts between the values of economic growth, energy needs, and environmental quality will be examined.

POL 265 MEN, WOMEN, AND JUSTICE

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2011

An exploration of the arguments about women made by some of the greatest Western moral and political philosophers, feminist criticism of these arguments, and assessment of the reasoning of such arguments.

POL 273 POLITICS OF DEVELOPING NATIONS

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

The application of theories of political development to selected countries in Asia, the Middle East, Africa, and Latin America. The course also examines problems of political development such as leadership, ideologies, political change, parties and political movement, nation-building, and constitutional development. Prerequisite: POL 134.

POL 285 MODERN EUROPE: DIVIDED AND UNITED

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

An exploration of the savage wars and cold war divisions in Europe in the twentieth century; the creation of a new form of economic and political union by the nations of Western Europe after World War II; the expansion of the European Union after the end of the cold war.

POL 331 WAR

Three Credits Spring Semester

The causes of war, military history with the interplay of strategy, technology and politics as the central focus, the nuclear threat and terrorism in the contemporary period. Prevention and the limitation of war and the moral and legal restraints on the activities of states are explored.

POL 332 EXECUTIVE POWER IN AMERICA

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2011, 2013

The origins and growth of the American presidency, the Executive office, and its occupant, the relationship between the office and democratic government, the separation of powers and divided party government, and on the expansion of public administration during the twentieth century. Prerequisite: POL 123.

POL 333 CONTEMPORARY POLITICAL THEORY

Three Credits Spring Semester

Representative thinkers from several major trends in twentieth-century political theory that have emerged in the wake of Nietzsche's declaration that "God is Dead," the liberal defense of rights and individual freedom, the post-modern struggle with moral contingency, and the communitarian return to Greek and early-Christian understandings of virtue. Prerequisite: POL 171.

POL 336 CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND POLITICS

Three Credits Fall Semester

Constitutional interpretation by the Supreme Court regarding the institutional powers and structural form of American government.

Topics include the methodology of judicial decision-making, judicial self-restraint versus judicial activism, the problems of constitutional interpretation, and the development of presidential, congressional, judicial, and state institutional powers. Prerequisite: POL 123.

POL 337 PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

Three Credits Alternate Years: Spring 2012

Administration of public affairs; how public policy is put into effect by government bureaucracies; theories of government organizations; the political setting of bureaucracies; problems of budgeting and personnel; efficient and humane conduct of public business. Prerequisite: POL 123.

POL 338 FREEDOM AND THE STATE

Three Credits Alternate Years: Spring 2012

The idea, and practice, of freedom, a central political and legal concept in the human experience. Freedom and authority, power, rights, justice, and human nature. Various conceptions of freedom are explored in classic and contemporary political philosophers, as well as other political concepts such as authority, violence, rights, justice, and human nature, the practical political problems of civil disobedience and discrimination. Prerequisite: POL 171.

POL 340 EUROPEAN POLITICS

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

The history, political structures, and politics of the major nations of Europe, the political ideologies and policies of Great Britain, Germany, France, and Italy. The European Union is central to the course and its expanding membership and deepening responsibilities are explored. Prerequisite: POL 134.

POL 341 CIVIL RIGHTS AND CIVIL LIBERTIES

Three Credits Alternate Years: Spring 2012

The Supreme Court's efforts over time to define, enlarge, and interpret the rights and liberties enshrined in the Constitution, the limits placed on the legitimate range of political action in order to prevent infringement upon individual liberty. Including freedom of worship and speech, voting rights, criminal rights, discrimination, and legal reasoning. Prerequisite: POL 123.

POL 343 PUBLIC OPINION & VOTING BEHAVIOR

Three Credits Spring Semester

The course focuses on the development of public attitudes, trends in public opinion on political issues, measurement of public opinion, and political participation and voting behavior in American elections. Students will investigate political issues using primary data and do a research paper on a voting or public opinion topic of their choice. Prerequisite: POL 123.

POL 344 CONTEMPORARY GLOBAL ISSUES

Three Credits Spring Semester

Key issues in international relations: Terrorism, civil and ethnic conflict, economic interdependence, weapons of mass destruction, international political economy, human rights, failed states, and global warming.

POL 345 POVERTY: POLICY AND POLITICS

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2010, 2012

Historical development of poverty policy in the United States; major theories that have defined the debate on poverty; causes and consequences of poverty; and contemporary issues relevant to poverty such as public housing, state and federal welfare, crime, unemployment and issues of race, gender and class. Prerequisite: POL 123.

POL 347 ETHNICITY AND CONFLICT MANAGEMENT

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2011, 2013

At the end of the Cold War global peace and security have proven short-lived due to the revival of ethnic conflicts. Competing theories on nationalism and ethnic conflict, modern conflict management tools and approaches and case studies: Kosovo, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Northern Ireland, Sudan, Sri Lanka, and Chechnya will be examined. Prerequisite: POL 134.

POL 351 PUBLIC POLICY ANALYSIS

Three Credits Fall Semester

An introduction to the public policy process in the United States. Examines the role that values play in the making of public policy, considers why some problems reach the public agenda, and why some policies succeed while others fail. Cases include: Healthcare, environment, education, and social welfare policy. Prerequisite: POL 123.

POL 353 INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS AND STATE BUILDING

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2010, 2012

Explores the extent to which international organizations such as the United Nations and the World Bank are able to alter the contours of statehood and state sovereignty and whether such international organizations serve or dominate state actors. Case studies are Afghanistan, Bosnia, and Herzegovina, Kosovo and Iraq. Prerequisite: POL 134.

POL 354 IRISH POLITICS

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

The development of Irish nationalism, the creation of the Irish state in 1922, and the building of the Irish State. Economic development, Church-state relations, and education are explored as well as unsolved puzzle of the Irish nation and state, Northern Ireland.

POL 357 TOPICS IN POLITICS

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

From time to time, faculty members may offer a special course in their field of expertise. The course engages in analysis of selected topics in one of the four area fields of the discipline: Political Theory; American National Government; Comparative Politics; and International Relations. Prerequisite: POL 123 or POL 134 or POL 171.

POL 360 CONGRESS AND THE PRESIDENCY

Three Credits Fall Semester

The powers and prerogatives of the modern presidency, presidential decision-making, presidential nominations and elections, congressional policy making and representation, and the interaction of Congress with interest groups, political parties, and the Executive are examined. Prerequisite: POL 123.

POL 377 INTERNATIONAL POLITICAL ECONOMY

Three Credits Spring Semester

The development of the modern international economy and strategies for the pursuit of wealth, order, and development, emerging trends shaping the post-Cold War international economic order, the global monetary order, multinational corporations, economic aid relationships, food and energy politics, market reforms in non-Western and former communist societies. Prerequisite: POL 134.

PS 380 DIRTY HANDS: MORAL DILEMMAS (Moral Inquiry)

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2010, 2012

The difficult "problem of dirty hands" that is making morally unpalatable choices when confronting mutually exclusive and competing ethical claims. Works of modern political philosophy and classic literature explore some possible responses to such problems. Prerequisite: POL 171.

POL 390 POLITICS IN WASHINGTON, D.C.

Three Credits Alternate Years: Spring 2012

A series of seminars during the semester will focus on an in-depth study of power and politics in American government. During a two-week stay in Washington, D.C., students will combine traditional academic work with seminars with prominent individuals in government, journalism and the nonprofit sector.

POL 422 CAPSTONE SEMINAR

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

The course examines central themes, problems, and issues in the four fields of the discipline (Political Philosophy, American Politics, International Relations, and Comparative Government) resulting in a major research paper. Prerequisite: Political Science and International Studies majors only; Seniors standing.

POL 475 INTERNSHIP IN GOVERNMENT

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Participation and research in local, state, and national government. Prerequisites: Minimum of 2.7 GPA and Junior Standing. Internship Application approved by Internship Coordinator and Department Chairperson required.

POL 490 DIRECTED STUDY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Supervised reading and research on selected topics. Prerequisite: Permission of the faculty member directing the project and the Department Chairperson.

Psychology

The Department of Psychology offers a major and minor in Psychology.

The Psychology Department seeks to establish in students a strong foundation in the discipline. Emphasis is placed on examining and experiencing the research that has contributed to the current understanding of human behavior, mental processes, and emotional experience. In addition to learning basic principles in the core courses, Psychology students become fully involved in the science by designing and conducting research, analyzing data, and presenting findings. Furthermore, students are given the opportunity to pursue individual interests through elective courses. Together, the core courses and the electives prepare students for graduate work and for a variety of career paths. Finally, the department promotes student application of psychological principles for personal enrichment and for meaningful community service.

The Curriculum

The Psychology curriculum begins with PSY 101 General Psychology, a course that introduces students to the various areas within the field. General Psychology exposes students to the terminology, theories and methods that are part of psychology today. PSY 101 is a prerequisite for all other courses in the Department except PSY 261.

After the completion of General Psychology, students are able to enroll in all 200 level courses and most 300 level courses. It is recommended that 200 level courses be taken before 300 level courses, though that is not a requirement. The 400 level courses are geared for students who have a solid background in the field and are usually taken during the Junior and Senior years.

It is generally recommended that PSY 261 Introduction to Statistics and PSY 271 Research Methods in Psychology be completed by the end of the first semester of the Junior year. It is also advisable to, if possible, take PSY 261 and PSY 271 in consecutive semesters.

Major

Students, in consultation with their psychology faculty advisors, will design their own sequence. Examples of sequences students can design include school psychology sequence, clinical psychology sequence, industrial-organizational psychology sequence, graduate school experimental psychology sequence, Masters level counseling psychology sequence, etc.

All students are required to take at least 11 Psychology courses. These must include PSY 101 General Psychology, PSY 261 Introduction to Statistics, PSY 271 Research Methods in Psychology, a senior Capstone course (any PSY 450-459), a choice of five out of eight Core courses (see list below), and a minimum of two other Psychology courses.

Only one internship may be included as part of the courses needed to fulfill the major. The students' choices should be guided by their present interests and future goals.

Core Courses

PSY 201 Developmental Psychology I OR
 PSY 203 Developmental Psychology II
 PSY 205 Theories of Personality
 PSY 207 Abnormal Psychology
 PSY 209 Social Psychology
 PSY 305 Theories of Learning
 PSY 415 Brain and Behavior
 PSY 419 Cognitive Psychology

Minor

A minor in Psychology introduces the student to the various methods and theories that psychologists utilize in investigating behavior and mental processes.

Students who are interested in obtaining a minor in Psychology must take the following courses:

PSY 101 General Psychology
 PSY 207 Abnormal Psychology
 PSY 201 Developmental Psychology I OR
 PSY 203 Developmental Psychology II
 PSY 205 Theories of Personality OR
 PSY 209 Social Psychology
 PSY 305 Theories of Learning OR
 PSY 415 Brain and Behavior

and an elective within the Department.

Any student who elects a minor in Psychology should note that all required courses may not be offered each semester. Accordingly, it is recommended by the Department that all students carefully plan their sequence of courses with a Department member so as to ensure that they complete all requirements.

Course Offerings

PSY 101 GENERAL PSYCHOLOGY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Principles underlying physiological psychology, learning, perception, altered states of consciousness, human development, human memory and emotion, personality, social behavior, intelligence, and the behavior disorders. Prerequisite for all other courses in the Department except PSY 261 and PSY 204.

PSY 201 DEVELOPMENTAL PSYCHOLOGY I

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Study of child development from conception through preadolescence. It emphasizes an understanding of developmental research methods and theories and examines the physical, cognitive, social, emotional, personality and moral aspects of development. Prerequisite: PSY 101 or EDU 102 or EDU 104.

PSY 203 DEVELOPMENTAL PSYCHOLOGY II

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Study of human development from early adulthood to death. It emphasizes an understanding of developmental research methods and theories and examines the physical, cognitive, social, emotional, personality and moral aspects of development. (PSY 201 is not a prerequisite for this course). Prerequisite: PSY 101.

PSY 204 HUMAN DEVELOPMENT IN THE YOUNG ADULT YEARS

Three Credits Fall Semester

Overview of the theory and research examining psychological processes during adolescence and young adulthood. The focus will be on the fundamental changes of adolescence and young adulthood including, biological, cognitive and social-affective transitions. Emphasis on theoretical perspectives and empirical research findings.

PSY 205 THEORIES OF PERSONALITY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Surveys the Psychoanalytic, the Neo-Analytic, the Biological, the Existential, the Cognitive, and Trait-Factor approaches to a study of personality. Comparative analysis and case study application of the major constructs as presented in the works of various theorists. Prerequisite: PSY 101.

PSY 207 ABNORMAL PSYCHOLOGY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Course employs the DSM-IV system of classifying and describing emotional dysfunctioning. It explores the etiology, course, and treatment of major disorders. Dynamics and treatment modalities are approached from the psychodynamic, behavioral, cognitive, and existential models. Examination of research and case studies, and a possible practicum experience. Prerequisite: PSY 101.

PSY 209 SOCIAL PSYCHOLOGY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Problems, concepts, and methods in the study of social behavior; including conformity, attitude development and change, interpersonal attraction, group processes, and social cognition. Prerequisite: PSY 101.

PSY 261 INTRODUCTION TO STATISTICS (Statistical Reasoning)

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Examines statistical techniques as used in the behavioral sciences. Topics include: descriptive statistics – measures of central tendency and variability; inferential statistics – principles of hypothesis testing, z test, t test, simple ANOVA, correlation and introduction to regression and chi square. Statistical analysis software complements use of computational formulae.

PSY 262 INTERMEDIATE STATISTICS

Three Credits Spring Semester

Further examination of statistical techniques used in the behavioral sciences. Topics include: Two-way analysis of variance, repeated measures ANOVA, regression analysis, and nonparametric techniques (e.g., Mann-Whitney U, Kruskal-Wallis H test). Statistical analysis software complements use of computational formulae. Prerequisite: PSY 261.

PSY 271 RESEARCH METHODS IN PSYCHOLOGY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Examines the research methods used in Psychology including naturalistic observation, field and laboratory experiments, and survey methods. Discusses ethical standards in research, and critiques research articles. Students design, implement, and write-up research study. Prerequisites: PSY 101 and (PSY 261 or CRM 311 or SOC 311).

PSY 303 GROUP DYNAMICS

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2010, 2012

Examination of small group behavior through experiential learning and research. Includes discussion of group formation, norms, communication, leadership, influence, and decision making. Prerequisite: PSY 101.

PSY 305 THEORIES OF LEARNING

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Surveys the functionalistic, associationistic and cognitive schools of learning – applying constructs such as limits, incentives, practice, insight, transfer, and memory to education, child rearing, and adjustment therapy. Prerequisite: PSY 101.

PSY 311 THEORIES OF COUNSELING

Three Credits Fall Semester

Current approaches to counseling and psychotherapy (Freudian, Adlerian, Rogerian, Gestalt, Behavioral, Rational-emotive, Reality and Transactional Analysis). Integration of research and techniques. Prerequisite: PSY 101.

PSY 315 PSYCHOLOGY OF WOMEN

Three Credits Fall Semester

Examination of how and why women behave as they do, both from the perspective of cultural beliefs and scientific research. Topics include: contemporary psychodynamic and social constructionist theories of women's psychology; theoretical models of gender identity and gender roles as well as empirical bases for claims about gender differences; specific disorders associated with women; trends in current theory building; and language and communication bias. Prerequisite: PSY 101.

PSY 320 INTRODUCTION TO HEALTH PSYCHOLOGY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Examination of how biological, psychological, and social factors interact with and affect health, recovery and adjustment of patients with serious health problems (e.g. cancer and heart disease), the efforts people make in promoting good health and preventing illness (weight control, smoking cessation, etc.), the treatments received and the strategies used to cope with medical problems and their stress/pain. Pre-requisite: PSY 101.

PSY 341 RESEARCH IN SOCIAL PSYCHOLOGY

Three Credits Spring Semester

In-depth training in conducting research in the field of Social Psychology. Students are involved in the design of the study, preparation of materials, collection of data, data analysis, and preparation of the scientific report. Prerequisites: PSY 101. Written consent of the Instructor required. Course may be repeated once with Instructor's permission.

PSY 342 RESEARCH IN DEVELOPMENTAL PSYCHOLOGY

Three Credits Fall Semester

In-depth training in conducting research in the field of Developmental Psychology through active participation in an ongoing program of research. Students are involved in the design of the study, preparation of materials, collection of data, data analysis, and preparation of the scientific report. Prerequisites: PSY 101. Written consent of the Instructor required. Course may be repeated once with Instructor's permission.

PSY 343 RESEARCH IN BIOPSYCHOLOGY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Internship course involving in-depth research training in the field of Biopsychology/ Neuroscience. Held at the Brockton V.A. Hospital research facilities; includes assisting in the conduct of sleep research in animals and schizophrenia research in humans. Scientific approaches range from neuropsych testing & behavioral studies to neuroanatomical & molecular investigations. Coursework includes: 8 to 12h/wk hands-on lab work; attendance at 1h/wk seminar; a 20 min oral presentation or written paper; VA hospital employee paperwork & medical clearance. Lab work and seminar schedule determined based on each student's schedule. Prerequisites: PSY 101. Lab visit and consent of instructor required. Useful background courses: PSY 261, PSY 271, PSY 415, BIO 412 with lab. Course may be repeated once with Instructor's permission.

PSY 347 RESEARCH IN HEALTH PSYCHOLOGY

Three Credits

Training in the various facets of conducting health psychology research including hypothesis generation, study design and methods, data collection, and data analysis/interpretation. Projects may include the examination of existing data, the initiation of new projects or participation in ongoing projects at the UMASS Medical Center. Topic may include coping with cancer, eating disorders, substance abuse, etc. Prerequisite: PSY 271, PSY 320, and Consent of instructor. May be repeated once with Instructor permission.

PSY 351 CHILD PSYCHOPATHOLOGY AND ITS TREATMENT

Three Credits Spring Semester

Description of psychological disorders which present themselves in infancy and childhood (birth - 12 year olds). Exploration of specific treatment approaches used to date. Discussion of the impact of childhood psychopathology on the family, school system, neighborhood, and nation. Prerequisites: PSY 101 and PSY 201.

PSY 411 COUNSELING PRACTICUM I

Three Credits Fall Semester

Effective listening skills: attending, questioning, paraphrasing, reflecting feelings, summarizing, self-disclosing, confronting; child and adult therapy; field work. Prerequisite: PSY 205 or PSY 311 and permission of Instructor.

PSY 412 COUNSELING PRACTICUM II

Three Credits Spring Semester

Group therapy work; practice applying Adlerian and Gestalt theory to individual counseling; professional and ethical issues; field work. Prerequisite: PSY 411 and permission of Instructor.

PSY 413 EXPERIMENTAL PSYCHOLOGY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Laboratory course in human and animal learning. Each student is expected to explore operant shaping, extinction rates, multiple scheduling, chaining, discrimination, and temporal factors in learning. Prerequisite: PSY 101 and permission of Instructor.

PSY 415 BRAIN AND BEHAVIOR

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Structure and function of nerve cells and the nervous system. Research methods in biopsychology, effects of brain damage, physiological principles underlying sleep, eating, abnormal behavior, drug effects, and memory. Prerequisite: PSY 101.

PSY 419 COGNITIVE PSYCHOLOGY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Examination of the principles of cognition. Among the topics discussed are perception, attention, short-term memory, long-term memory, imagery, language, problem solving, reasoning, and judgment and decision-making. Includes a laboratory component which gives students hands-on experience with cognitive phenomena discussed in class. Prerequisite: PSY 101.

PSY 421 PSYCHOLOGY AND THE LEGAL SYSTEM

Three Credits Fall Semester

Overview of the impact of Psychology on the legal system. Topics covered include how psychological research has influenced court decisions, an examination of the insanity defense, how competency to stand trial is determined, what psychological processes are involved in jury selection and jury decision making, the accuracy of eyewitness identification, and how children are viewed in the legal system. Prerequisite: PSY 101.

PSY 450 ADVANCED PSYCHOLOGY SEMINAR

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Capstone course in which students will review and synthesize major empirical/theoretical areas of psychology, including abnormal, personality, learning, cognition, social, developmental, statistics and physiological. Prerequisites: PSY 271, Senior Standing in Psychology, and permission of Instructor.

PSY 451 APPLYING PSYCHOLOGICAL PRINCIPLES

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Capstone course examining and evaluating psychological principles and their application in today's society. Topics include effective studying; breaking bad habits; influencing others and improving personal relationships; dealing with self-defeating behaviors such as shyness, anger and anxiety; raising children; and improving motivation. Prerequisites: PSY 271, Senior Standing in Psychology and permission of Instructor.

PSY 475 INTERNSHIP IN APPLIED PSYCHOLOGY IPSY 476 INTERNSHIP IN APPLIED PSYCHOLOGY II

Three or Six Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Each student is expected to carry out a supervised assignment in a professional setting with emphasis placed on hospitals, schools, clinics, courts, and personnel departments in the local area. Registration must be approved by the Department Chairperson, by the faculty member supervising the project, and by the institution or agency conducting the program. Prerequisite: Sophomore standing and permission of Internship Coordinator and Department Chairperson required.

PSY 490 DIRECTED STUDY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Supervised reading and research directed by Department member. Permission of faculty member directing the project and the Department Chairperson.

PSY 496 INDEPENDENT RESEARCH

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Advanced Research Project under the direction of a Psychology faculty member. Prerequisite: Permission of the Faculty member directing the project and the Department Chairperson.

Public Administration

James B. Millikan, Program Director

The program in Public Administration offers a major and minor.

Public Administration is an interdisciplinary program designed to provide students with an understanding of the development and implementation of public policy in America. The program focuses on the theories, practices and roles of public bureaucracies at the national, state, and local levels. The major provides a foundation for graduate work and careers in public affairs, government service, law, and related fields.

The program is structured to cover five subject matter areas: (a) the political, social, and economic environment of public organizations; (b) policy analysis; (c) processes of management; (d) tools of analysis; and (e) individual, group, and organizational behavior. Public Administration majors also participate in the Political Science academic internship program, which allows a student to serve in a government office at least eight hours a week throughout a semester. The internship provides the student the opportunity to observe and participate in the operation of a government agency. Through the College's affiliation with the Washington Center, highly qualified majors may spend a semester working in a government organization in the nation's capital.

Ordinarily, an internship in a government office serves as the senior Capstone Experience; students unable to complete an internship must make other arrangements with the Program Director to complete the major.

Major

In the First and Sophomore years, Public Administration majors must take the following courses:

- BUS 203 Financial Accounting
- BUS 204 Managerial Accounting
- ECO 176 Microeconomic Principles
- ECO 178 Macroeconomic Principles
- POL 123 American Government and Politics
- SOC 101 Introduction to Sociology

Junior and Senior year requirements are as follows:

- BUS 333 Organizational Behavior
- ECO 205 Economics of Social Issues and Public Policy
- ECO 305 Public Sector Economics
- POL 337 Public Administration
- POL 351 Public Policy Analysis
- POL 360 Congress and the Presidency

and one of the following two courses:

- POL 248 State and Urban Politics or
- SOC 202 Sociology of Globalization

Two additional courses, selected in consultation with the Program Director, must be taken to fulfill major requirements.

Minor

A minor in Public Administration consists of:

- BUS 333 Organizational Behavior
- ECO 205 Economics of Social Issues and Public Policy
- ECO 305 Public Sector Economics
- POL 123 American National Government and Politics
- POL 337 Public Administration
- POL 360 Congress and the Presidency

The Department of Religious Studies offers a major and minor in Religious Studies.

The Department of Religious Studies focuses on the religious beliefs and practices of communities and individuals throughout history and in the present. It introduces students to religious traditions worldwide, and to the ways in which those traditions have been studied. In a liberal arts setting, Religious Studies is an integrative discipline, embracing virtually all aspects of human experience, as expressed in history, art, literature, social organization, politics, scientific exploration, and ethics. In the Catholic tradition of the quest for greater understanding, the Department of Religious Studies helps students develop critical appreciation of their own traditions and those of others.

In the General Education curriculum, the Department introduces students to the study of religion through the required first-year course. Students may also explore specific topics in the study of religion in a variety of Learning Communities and Moral Inquiry courses.

Majors and minors in Religious Studies are able to explore in-depth compelling mysteries, the powerful intellectual and social constructs, and the heights of holiness that religious women and men have achieved. Because Religious Studies is an integrative discipline, majors and minors have gone on to pursue graduate study and careers in such fields as journalism, law, education, business, and healthcare, as well as in various forms of ministry.

Electives

Students who have fulfilled their Religious Studies General Education requirement (GENR 100 or GENR 140) may take any other REL courses as electives, subject to availability.

Major

Students who major in Religious Studies must take a minimum of nine courses beyond the first-year requirement (this includes REL 412, the senior Capstone research project). With the advice of a faculty mentor, majors will design their own curriculum of study, which will include a broad grounding in Religious Studies (as represented in the three categories listed below) and also allow them to focus on particular interests, such as ancient and biblical religions, Catholic Studies, religion in the modern world, religion and gender, and comparative religious ethics. (See the Department's web site for sample templates for these tracks in the major.) As appropriate, with the approval of the Chairperson, students may take courses in other departments to fulfill major requirements.

All Religious Studies majors must pursue a major Capstone research project, REL 412, normally in the spring semester of their senior year. This paper should demonstrate a working knowledge of academic approaches to the study of religions and focus on a topic selected by the student in consultation with a Religious Studies faculty member with whom the student consults in tutorial meetings. REL 412 students must also participate in a seminar with other students working on senior theses and must present their research at a colloquium.

Minor

Minors in Religious Studies must take six courses beyond the first-year course. These courses must include one course in each of the following areas: Biblical and Ancient Religions; Christian History, Theology, and Practice; and World Religions.

Course Offerings

REL 200 THE TEN COMMANDMENTS (Moral Inquiry)

Three Credits Fall Semester

An examination of the Ten Commandments in their original context and the history of their interpretation as a code of ethics in Judaism and in Christianity. Issues to be considered include biblical authority, the relevance of ancient laws for modern societies, and ways they have been selectively observed and ignored. Prerequisite: GENR 100 or GENR 140.

REL 206 ISLAMIC TRADITIONS

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2010, 2012

Studies the Arabian environment, Muhammed (founder), Qur'an (sacred writings), and mysticism, sects, and legal and social institutions of Islam.

REL 209 RELIGION AND CULTURE OF THE JEWISH PEOPLE

Three Credits Alternate Years: Spring 2011, 2013

A survey of key texts, beliefs, and practices of Jewish culture and religious practice, including the Bible, classic texts, holidays and holy days, Zionism, modern American Jews, and Israel.

REL 210 RELIGIONS OF CHINA AND JAPAN

Three Credits Alternate Years: Spring 2011, 2013

An exploration of Confucianism and Taoism in China, and Shinto and Buddhism in Japan, with an emphasis on nature in these religions.

REL 233 AMERICAN CATHOLIC SOCIAL HISTORY (Moral Inquiry)

Three Credits Alternate Years: Spring 2011, 2013

An historical presentation of the numerous social issues, conflicts, and varied solutions in American Catholicism from the late 19th century forward with emphasis on how the many issues of society impacted Catholicism. The course demonstrates how the application of faith and various theological and philosophical theories were used in resolution of social conflict. Cross-listed with HIS 233.

REL 234 THE MYSTERY OF EVIL

Three Credits Spring Semester

An explanation of the questions of the origin of evil, the possibility of human evil, the ability to name evil in the context of cultural pluralism, and the compatibility of evil with the existence of a God who is all-good, all-powerful, as well as the possibility of hope for overcoming evil.

REL 235 THE GOD QUESTION: MODERN CHALLENGES TO FAITH AND CHRISTIAN RESPONSES

Three Credits Fall Semester

An examination of some of the traditional Christian arguments for belief in God, the challenges to faith that have arisen since the 18th century, and some Christian responses to those challenges. Students will be encouraged to develop their personal stances through critical engagement with a variety of texts.

REL 236 FAITH IN CHRIST AND RELIGIOUS PLURALISM

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

Students will grapple with the issues involved in Christianity's engagement with other religious traditions through the lens of its understanding of Jesus. Students will look at the development of the classical doctrines about Christ and their connections to Christians' understanding of their relationship to non-Christians in past eras. Students will also consider recent Christian attempts to address the question of pluralism.

REL 237 MORAL CONFLICTS: CASE STUDIES IN MORAL CONFRONTATION (Moral Inquiry)

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2011, 2013

An examination of the possible moral responses resulting from the application of Catholic Social Teaching to a variety of contemporary conflicts – e.g. the death penalty, war, water, global warming, worker justice, corporate responsibility – by applying values and concepts found within the Catholic and Christian Tradition.

REL 238 MIGRANTS, IMMIGRANTS, REFUGEES: JUSTICE ISSUES AND CATHOLIC RESPONSES

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

An examination of the "immigrant" dimension of the American Catholic Church, past and present, exposing the injustices experienced by the marginalized outsider/newcomer, exploring the Catholic Church's responses to these injustices utilizing Catholic social thought, and focusing on Hispanic culture and presence in the Catholic Church and American society.

REL 251 INTRODUCTION TO THE OLD TESTAMENT

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2010, 2012

Literature of the Hebrew Bible. Survey of the religious, literary, and political history of ancient Israel. Students may not receive credit for both this course and REL 260. Prerequisite: GENR 100 or GENR 140.

REL 252 INTRODUCTION TO THE NEW TESTAMENT

Three Credits Alternate Years: Spring 2011, 2013

Literature of the New Testament in its religious and historical context. Life and ministry of Jesus, origins of earliest Christianity, the role of Paul, and the development of the Church. Prerequisite: GENR 100 or GENR 140.

REL 253 MODELS OF THE CHURCH: HISTORICAL DEVELOPMENTS

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2010, 2012

A study of various forms of the Church from its Apostolic beginnings, through the institutionalization process and Vatican II reforms, up to the present development of Base Christian Communities.

REL 254 GLOBAL CATHOLICISM

Three Credits Spring 2011

Examination of the Catholic Church as it is understood in the historical, cultural, political, economic and religious context in various regions of the world. The course will utilize the documents of the five Special Synods of Bishops from Africa, Asia, Europe, Americas and Oceania Pope John Paul II's Apostolic Exhortations in reaction to the Synods' deliberations.

REL 255 RELIGIONS IN THE ROMAN EMPIRE

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2010, 2012

A study of ancient world views, mystery religions, gnosticism, and the rise of Christianity.

REL 256 CHURCH AND SOCIAL JUSTICE

Three Credits Fall Semester

An examination of the Catholic Church's relationship to society and its responses to a variety of social, political, and economic issues.

REL 261 WOMEN IN EARLY CHRISTIAN TRADITION

Three Credits Fall Semester

An exploration of the roles played by women in the development of early Christianity and examination of the factors that led to the decline of women's influence as a more institutionalized Christian religious system developed. Prerequisite: GENR 100 or GENR 140 and one additional REL course.

REL 262 RELIGION IN AMERICA

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2011, 2013

An examination of a variety of religious ideas, institutions, and traditions in the United States from the colonial period to the present. Special emphasis is placed upon questions of religious pluralism, religion and cultural identity, and religion in public life. Cross-listed with HIS 263.

REL 267 LIBERATION THEOLOGY: LATIN AMERICAN PERSPECTIVES

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2011, 2013

An examination of the development of liberation theology in the historical, political, economic, and cultural contexts of Latin America's struggle to move from colonialism to freedom. The course also explores feminist theology, ecological theology, and indigenous people's theology that are rooted in liberation theology.

REL 268 IMAGES OF JESUS

Three Credits Fall Semester

An introduction to Christology. After a strong grounding in the various biblical depictions of Jesus Christ, the course examines portraits of Jesus through the ages by close reading of theological, narrative, and visual images of Christ. Prerequisite: GENR 100 or GENR 140.

REL 275 HARD ROCKIN' JEWS: JUDAISM AND POP CULTURE IN ISRAEL

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2011, 2013

For 2000 years Judaism has been a minority religion in majority "other" cultures. With the establishment of Israel, Judaism became the majority culture of a nation-state. This course examine how the religion of Judaism both influences and is influenced by the secular culture of the modern State of Israel. Prerequisite: GENR 100 or GENR 140.

REL 300 THE CATHOLIC TRADITION: PAST AND PRESENT

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2010, 2012

A study of Catholicism from historical and theological perspectives to aid students in attaining an appreciation for the richness of the Catholic Tradition in the past and present. Scripture, sacramental life, doctrinal teachings and development, moral issues, and the future Church direction are explored.

REL 301 ISLAM AND THE BIBLE: JEWISH AND MUSLIM MORALITY AND ETHICS (Moral Inquiry)

Three Credits Alternate Years: Spring 2011, 2013

As brother religions vying for the same sacred history, Islam and Judaism trace the genesis of their spiritual and biological communities back to the very same founding parents. Yet Islam is not Judaism, Muslims are not Jews, and vice versa. Rather, the two traditions are, and understand themselves to be, distinct entities with distinct value systems. By comparing the Jewish and Muslim accounts of the shared Biblical ancestors, as well the often colorful exegesis on these narratives, this course will investigate various matters of moral and ethical concern to these communities and the lessons thereby imparted by each tradition. Prerequisite: GENR 100 or GENR 140.

REL 302 VIOLENCE AND SEX IN THE BIBLE

Three Credits Alternate Years: Spring 2011, 2013

Examines the dynamics of sex and violence in ancient Israel as they are presented in the biblical text. Topics include the construction of gender, the status of women and men in society and law, holy war, the characterization of physical violence as positive or negative, the gender of God and its implications. Prerequisite: GENR 100 or GENR 140.

REL 303 THE VIRGIN MARY AND VISIONS OF THE FEMININE IN CHRISTIANITY

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2010, 2012

The development of the Church's understanding of the Virgin Mary and of other feminine aspects of the transcendent in Christian spirituality. The course begins with Mary's ideological antecedents and the issue of the "historical Mary." It explores the relationship between images of the Virgin and theologies, controversies, and heresies, as well as contemporary feminist understandings of Mary and of the divine as feminine. Prerequisite: GENR 100 or GENR 140.

REL 304 JOB AND THE PROBLEM OF SUFFERING

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2011, 2013

An examination of the book of Job and its poetic treatment of the human condition. The course also considers other ancient Near Eastern texts that deal with the issue of evil in the world from a religious perspective, and later readings and retellings of Job by Blake, Frost, Jung, MacLeish, Fackenheim, and others.

REL 307 BUDDHIST ETHICS (Moral Inquiry)

Three Credits Fall Semester

An exploration of traditional Buddhist ethics, moral arguments Buddhists have advanced about contemporary issues, and points of comparison with philosophical and Christian ethics. Prerequisite: GENR 100 or GENR 140.

REL 309 PSYCHOLOGY AND RELIGION

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2011, 2013

An examination of religion from the perspectives of the major psychological and psychoanalytic approaches to human behavior.

REL 311 ETHICS AND SACRAMENT: THE CHURCH IN CRISIS (Moral Inquiry)

Three Credits Spring Semester

The failure to integrate sexuality into Christian life has created a crisis. The failure to understand human intimacy has eroded religious belief. Theories of ethics and human behavior, however, illuminate why intimacy is at the heart of Christian belief and ethics.

REL 312 ARCHAEOLOGY AND THE BIBLE

Three Credits Fall Semester

Introduction to the archaeology of Palestine, with special focus on the interrelationship of excavated and textual data.

REL 313 JERUSALEM: THE HOLY CITY

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

A chronological study, from ancient times to the present, of the interplay between religion and politics that led to the designation of Jerusalem as the "holy city", through an examination of ancient and modern descriptions of the actual and the ideal Jerusalem by warriors, visionaries, pilgrims, historians, archaeologists, and inhabitants.

REL 314 MYSTICISM: THE EXPERIENCE OF TRANSCENDENCE

Three Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2012, 2014

A study of mysticism from its origins in the Greek world to its expression in Christian and non-Christian forms. A "hands-on" approach to mystical practices is encouraged, and the reading of mystical texts is supplemented by field trips to contemplative communities.

REL 315 DREAMS AND THE SACRED

Three Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2011, 2013

A study of the role of dreams and other rites of divination in ancient and modern religious experience. Biblical and classical sources are examined, and contemporary attempts to recover the sacred dimension of dreams also are considered.

REL 316 NEOPLATONISM

Three Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2012, 2014

A study of the seminal writings of the Neoplatonists, their sources, and their influence on the development of later religious traditions.

REL 317 GODS, KINGS AND JUSTICE IN THE ANCIENT WORLD (MORAL INQUIRY)

Three Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2011, 2013

Who speaks for Justice? Where does Justice come from? This course examines these and related questions by analyzing and comparing ancient texts such as the Babylonian law code of Hammurabi, Egyptian hymns, Homer's Odyssey, and the biblical prophets. Ancient works of art treating issues of justice are also examined. Prerequisite: GENR 100 or GENR 140.

REL 323 GODS AND WAR: RELIGION, IDEOLOGY, AND NATIONALISM IN JAPAN AND THE UNITED STATES

Three Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2012, 2014

An exploration of how religions in Japan and the United States have helped formulate national identities and mobilize citizens for war. Prerequisite: GENR 100 or GENR 140.

REL 325 THEOLOGY AND COMMUNITY SERVICE

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2011, 2013

An exploration of questions about the relationship of theology and community service in contemporary society, in the context of a search for insight and understanding into personal experiences while volunteering service in a local social service agency. Offered jointly by Religious Studies and Campus Ministry. Prerequisite: GENR 100 or GENR 140.

REL 327 VATICAN II: REVOLUTION OR REFORM

Three Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2010, 2012

An in-depth reading and analysis of the principal Vatican II documents to demonstrate how Catholicism today is transformed from earlier history. Contemporary issues, as understood in the light of the Vatican II Church, are explored.

REL 328 DEATH

Three Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2011, 2013

An examination of death, dying, and bereavement from an interdisciplinary, biological/medical, sociological, psychological, philosophical, and theological perspective.

REL 329 JUSTICE, PEACE, ECOLOGY

Three Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2011, 2013

The local and global environmental crisis is examined from the perspective of contemporary theological developments, recent biblical scholarship, ecumenical statements, and Roman Catholic social teaching communicated in various papal and episcopal statements on the current crisis.

REL 333 THE AMERICAN CATHOLIC EXPERIENCE

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2010, 2012

A critical examination and analysis of the peoples, events, and ideas that shaped American Catholicism from the era of discovery to the 21st century. Catholicism's minority status and the perennial tension of being American and Catholic are used as guiding principles in this study. Cross-listed with HIS 333.

REL 335 POPULAR RELIGION

Three Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2012, 2014

An exploration of the substance of popular religion: theories of ritual activity, superstition, theories of the body, the nature of worship and prayer, and the role of sacred space. Prerequisite: GENR 100 or GENR 140.

REL 336 WOMEN IN THE ISLAMIC TRADITION

Three Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2012, 2014

The treatment of women and women's issues in the Islamic tradition through both primary sources (in translation) and secondary sources: women in Muhammad's life and the role they played in Islamic society; the treatment of women and women-related issues in the Islamic tradition, including both legal and non-legal matters; and the writings of modern Muslim women scholars on Islam as they look at these same issues with a new perspective and present new interpretations.

REL 338 SEX AND GOD: JEWISH AND MUSLIM EROTIC LOVE POETRY

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2010, 2012

An examination of the erotic love poetry penned by imams and rabbis of the 10th-13th centuries. We will explore the ways in which these pious standard-bearers of religion used sacred images and accounts from the Bible/Qur'an and exegetical traditions in their heteroerotic and homoerotic secular poems and what messages were thus embedded. Prerequisite: GENR 100 or GENR 140.

REL 340 JESUS AND MORAL DECISIONS (Moral Inquiry)

Three Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2011, 2012

Jesus and Moral Decisions challenges students to ask, "What would Jesus do?" when faced with contemporary moral decisions. Through the use of Gospels, and secondary sources, students will lead discussions and write essays that address Jesus' answer(s) to moral decisions today.

REL 341 SPIRITUAL AUTOBIOGRAPHY

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2011, 2013

A close reading of a variety of spiritual autobiographies from the second half of the twentieth century to discern what personal spiritual, religious, and ethical values may be coming to the fore at a time when traditional expressions of communal religion are in decline. It will center on the question: what does it mean to be "spiritual" or "religious" in the twenty-first century? Prerequisite: GENR 100 or GENR 140.

REL 343 CHRISTIAN THEOLOGY AS IDEOLOGY

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2011, 2013

How the use of Greek philosophy and Roman imperial theory transformed the Gospel of Jesus in a society that regarded its culture as providential history. This synthesis created but eventually tore Christendom apart. The political, economic, intellectual, and scientific dynamics of Europe are incomprehensible without considering this theological development.

REL 344 GLOBALIZATION: CATHOLIC PERSPECTIVES AND RESPONSES

Three Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2011, 2012

Exploring the various dimensions of globalization and the range of Catholic perspectives and responses to this global reality. The primary lens for evaluating globalization will be the Catholic social tradition embodied in papal encyclicals, Vatican documents, pastoral letters and grass-root organizational responses.

REL 345 BIBLICAL HEBREW

Three Credits Fall Semester

A systematic introduction to biblical Hebrew emphasizing grammar and vocabulary with the intention of reading short passages of biblical prose by the end of the semester. Daily preparation and active class participation mandatory.

REL 347 TOPICS IN RELIGIOUS APPROACHES TO MORAL ISSUES (Moral Inquiry)

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Explores how religious traditions address moral issues, paying particular attention to assumptions about human nature and the good, the bases on which the moral system or religion(s) being studied generates arguments about specific issues, that system's modes of moral argumentation, and its applicability to contemporary issues. The course also includes comparative analysis of the moral system relative to at least one other religious tradition. Prerequisite: GENR 100 or GENR 140

REL 412 SENIOR THESIS

Three Credits Spring Semester

Research, reflection, writing, and public presentation under the direction of a member of the Department, as well as participation in senior seminar. Prerequisite: Permission of Instructor or Department Chairperson.

REL 475 INTERNSHIP IN RELIGIOUS STUDIES

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Prerequisite: Minimum 3.0 GPA and permission of Department Chairperson.

REL 476 INTERNSHIP IN CAMPUS MINISTRY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Familiarizes students with campus ministry fundamentals beyond Stonehill. Based on the particular host institution's faith tradition and goals, students will plan retreats, justice and peace initiatives, liturgical practices and similar functions. Prerequisite: Minimum 3.0 GPA and permission of Department Chairperson.

REL 477 INTERNSHIP IN PARISH MINISTRY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

A parish internship provides the opportunity to be involved in planning and carrying-out a multi-level religious education program, youth ministry activities, community service projects, and spiritual/liturgical events. Prerequisite: Minimum 3.0 GPA and permission of Department Chairperson.

REL 478 INTERNSHIP IN CATHOLIC MINISTRY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

This internship provides experience with the practical aspects and operations of a Catholic campus ministry program. Working with campus ministers, and applying theological and social principles, students will be introduced to retreats, liturgical ministry, service (local and overseas), and student ministry. Prerequisite: Minimum 3.0 GPA and permission of Department Chairperson.

REL 490 DIRECTED STUDY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters Supervised reading and research directed by Department member. Permission of the faculty member directing the project and the Department Chairperson.

The Department of Sociology and Criminology offers majors and minors in Sociology and in Criminology.

The Department offers a program in the liberal arts tradition to provide students with a deeper understanding of the social forces and dynamic changes affecting both contemporary society and personal lives. To this end, the Department emphasizes an analysis of social and behavioral patterns that underlie communal life in the United States and globally. Dedicated to both the social scientific as well as the humanistic traditions, faculty work with students to teach such important skills as systematic observation, critical thinking, statistical sophistication, and the variety of possible explanations for a better understanding of our world as well as of ourselves.

The Sociology and Criminology majors also provide a foundation for careers in many fields, such as social service and human resources, criminal justice and the law, research in public and private agencies, and preparation for graduate work in sociology, criminology, law, social work and related areas. To accomplish these goals, the Department offers three concentrations in Sociology: (1) General Sociology (major or minor), (2) Youth and Family Services, and (3) Social Research, as well as a major or minor in Criminology.

Boston College Graduate School

Boston College's Graduate School of Social Work offers courses at Stonehill College's Martin Institute of Law and Society. Selected undergraduate students from Stonehill College may take these courses for graduate credit. Students with a minimum 3.0 GPA and an interest in pursuing a Master's degree in Social Work (M.S.W.) after graduation may apply to the Department of Sociology and Criminology to participate in these courses. SOC 227

Human Services is strongly recommended prior to application.

Major in Sociology

Majors are required to complete a minimum of 10 courses in Sociology beyond SOC 101.

Students may not double major in Sociology and Criminology.

The required courses for each of the three concentrations follow:

GENERAL SOCIOLOGY CONCENTRATIONFirst or Sophomore Year

SOC 101 Introduction to Sociology

Sophomore or Junior Year

SOC 210 Survey of Research Methods for Sociology

SOC 311 Statistical Analysis in Sociology

Junior or Senior Year

SOC 305 Sociological Theories

SOC 312 Qualitative Research starting with Class of 2012

SOC 475 Internship

Five Electives in the major chosen in consultation with Departmental Advisor.

Please note: 100-level courses, beyond SOC 101, do not count toward the major.

All students must take at least one Seminar, but preferably two, from the following:
 CRM 409 Seminar: Deviance and Social Control
 CRM 410 Seminar: Juvenile Justice
 CRM 411 Seminar: Police and Society
 CRM 430 Seminar: Race, Class and Gender in the Criminal Justice System
 CRM 432 Seminar: At-Risk Families and Youths
 CRM 440 Seminar: White Collar Crime
 SOC 407 Seminar: Social Movements
 SOC 408 Seminar: Studying Culture
 SOC 413 Seminar: Sociology of Education
 SOC 415 Seminar: American Inequality
 SOC 416 Seminar: Love, Intimacy, and Human Sexuality
 SOC 421 Seminar: Oppression

YOUTH AND FAMILY SERVICES CONCENTRATION

Requirements are the same as General Sociology except students take three out of the following eight courses as Major electives:
 CRM 224 Juvenile Delinquency
 CRM 410 Seminar: Juvenile Justice
 CRM 432 Seminar: At-Risk Families and Youths
 SOC 205 Sociology of Marriage and Family
 SOC 227 Human Services
 SOC 230 Families in Cross – Cultural Perspective
 SOC 237 Sociology of Gender
 SOC 416 Seminar: Love, Intimacy, and Human Sexuality

SOCIAL RESEARCH CONCENTRATION

Required Courses are the same as General Sociology except students must also take:
CRM 335 Spatial Crime Analysis or
SOC 408 Seminar: Studying Culture

Minor in Sociology

A minor is designed for students who are interested in Sociology as a liberal arts subject. The minor curriculum can accommodate the student's special interest in developing an understanding of human social life, its causes, and its consequences. A minor in Sociology consists of a minimum of six courses which must include SOC 101 and SOC 305 and four Sociology electives.

Major in Criminology

Criminology is an interdisciplinary program which has a liberal arts foundation stressing critical thinking and communication skills. The program requires that students take a critical look at aspects of the criminal justice system such as police, courts, prisons, diversion programs, criminal laws and restorative justice practices. In addition to this institutional analysis, other courses examine the nature of individuals and groups which are in conflict with the law. Direct contact with social service or criminal justice agencies is required through an internship placement.

This program is more aligned with the liberal arts aspects of undergraduate education than it is with training for careers in criminal justice and social service, but it does help to prepare students for entry-level employment as well as graduate and law school.

Majors are required to complete a minimum of 10 courses in Sociology and Criminology.

First or Sophomore Year

CRM 201 Criminology
SOC 101 Introduction to Sociology

Sophomore or Junior Year

CRM 310 Research Methods for Criminology
CRM 311 Statistical Analysis in Criminology

Junior or Senior Year

CRM 475 Internship/Capstone

In addition, students must take:

Two of the following law-related courses*

CRM 303 Procedural Criminal Law
CRM 304 Victims in the Courtroom
CRM 305 Substantive Criminal Law
CRM 307 Mechanics of the Courtroom
CRM 324 Mediation in Criminal Justice
CRM 333 The Accused

Three of the following elective courses, of which at least one, but preferably two, must be a 400-level seminar:

CRM 120 Critical Introduction to Criminal Justice
CRM 204 Sociology of the Prison
CRM 224 Juvenile Delinquency
CRM 273 Crime and Mental Illness

CRM 318 Federal Criminal Process
CRM 322 Violent Crime and Federal Initiatives
CRM 335 Spatial Crime Analysis
CRM 409 Seminar: Deviance and Social Control
CRM 410 Seminar: Juvenile Justice
CRM 411 Seminar: Police and Society
CRM 412 Seminar: Punishment and Public Policy
CRM 430 Seminar: Race, Class and Gender in the Criminal Justice System
CRM 432 Seminar: At-Risk Families and Youths
CRM 440 Seminar: White Collar Crime
SOC 216 Native Americans in the 21st Century
SOC 220 Political Sociology
SOC 329 Anthropology of Violence
SOC 407 Seminar: Social Movements
SOC 415 Seminar: American Inequality
SOC 421 Seminar: Oppression
CRM 497 Senior Thesis

*Any one of CRM 303, CRM 304, CRM 305, CRM 307, CRM 324 or CRM 333 may be used as an elective course if not used to satisfy the law requirement above.

Two of the following courses may be taken for Criminology credit, for major or minor concentrations, provided that the courses are not being counted toward a major or minor in another department.

POLITICAL SCIENCE

POL 233 The Legal Process
POL 336 Constitutional Law and Politics
POL 337 Public Administration

PSYCHOLOGY

PSY 207 Abnormal Psychology
PSY 411 Pre-professional Counseling Practicum I

Minor in Criminology

A minor in Criminology consists of a minimum of six courses, which are to include CRM 201 Criminology, and at least one of the courses in Criminal Law, and four elective criminology courses.

Course OfferingsCRM 120 CRITICAL INTRODUCTION TO CRIMINAL JUSTICE (Social Scientific Inquiry)

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

An introduction to the major institutions of criminal justice from a social scientific perspective. Examines the structure and operation of police, courts, and corrections. Theories and concepts of sociology and other disciplines will be used to describe the workings of the criminal justice system and raise questions for critical analysis.

CRM 201 CRIMINOLOGY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

This course provides a broad overview of sociological and interdisciplinary theories of criminal behavior and social control. Students learn how to analyze theories and research on crime for the purpose of advancing theory as well as developing policies for crime prevention and control. Not open to first-year students in their first semester.

CRM 204 SOCIOLOGY OF THE PRISON

Three Credits Spring Semester

Particular stress is placed on basic structure of American prisons – their purposes and their effects. Focal questions include: Who goes to prison? What happens to those imprisoned? What happens to those released from prison? Prison policy development and implementation with regards to current criminological theory and research and current public opinion are discussed as a central concluding theme. Prerequisite: SOC 101 or CRM 201.

CRM 224 JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

An examination of juvenile delinquency in American society. Topics included are the historical background and “invention” of delinquency, cross-cultural definitions of delinquency, theories of delinquency, social class differences, and the juvenile court system. The course critically examines the social, health, and mental health services which have been utilized by this society in attempts to prevent or “treat” delinquent behavior. Prerequisites: SOC 101 and CRM 201.

CRM 273 CRIME AND MENTAL ILLNESS

Three Credits Spring Semester

The course examines crime and mental illness, including social-psychological theories of crime; co-occurring psychological disorders; problem-solving courts (drug treatment, mental health, and re-entry) comprising the emerging field of “therapeutic jurisprudence”; and mentally ill offenders in prison and community settings. Sociological issues of gender, class and race will be discussed wherever relevant.

CRM 303 PROCEDURAL CRIMINAL LAW

Three Credits Fall Semester

Due process of law; arrest; search and seizure; electronic surveillance; entrapment, right to counsel; privilege against self-incrimination; plea bargaining; double jeopardy. Prerequisite: CRM 120 or CRM 201.

CRM 304 VICTIMS IN THE COURTROOM

Three Credits Fall Semester

Involves the study of crime victims and their experiences with the Criminal Justice System. Will focus on the dynamics of intimate partner violence and its history as a social problem. A substantial portion of the course will focus on the mechanics of the courtroom as they relate to crime victims. Pre-requisites: CRM 120 or CRM 201.

CRM 305 SUBSTANTIVE CRIMINAL LAW

Three Credits Spring Semester

Principles of criminal liability, defenses to crime, the insanity defense, crimes against property, crimes against the habitation, crimes against the person, and the justification for punishment. Prerequisite: CRM 120 or CRM 201.

CRM 307 MECHANICS OF THE COURTROOM

Three Credits Fall Semester

Preparation of witnesses; examination of legal techniques of discrediting and impeachment of witnesses; scope of direct and cross-examination; rules of evidence; burden of proof and burden of persuasion; ethical responsibilities of prosecution and defense; division of responsibility between judge and jury. Prerequisite: CRM 120 or CRM 201.

CRM 310 RESEARCH METHODS FOR CRIMINOLOGY (Formerly SOC/CRM 306)

Three Credits Fall Semester

An introduction to quantitative and qualitative research methods employed for conducting research in criminology. Topics include: problem selection and definition; relationship between theory and research; measuring crime; sampling; data collection and analysis; understanding the "Action Research" model; developing goals, objectives, and performance measures; creating a research design; and program evaluation methods. Research designs considered include surveys, content and secondary data analysis, interviewing, field observation, and experiments. Prerequisite: CRM 120 or CRM 201.

CRM 311 STATISTICAL ANALYSIS IN CRIMINOLOGY (Statistical Reasoning) (Formerly SOC/ CRM 308)

Three Credits Spring Semester

An introduction to descriptive and inferential statistics as applied to the field of criminology. Topics include: measures of distribution, frequency, cross-tabulation, and analysis of variance and correlation. The course will also cover creating variable lists, data coding, creating databases for criminal justice agencies, analyzing the data using a variety of software packages, and presenting the data in narrative and graphic formats. Students will learn how to use Microsoft ACCESS to create databases, the Statistical Package for the Social Sciences to analyze data, and Microsoft PowerPoint for statistical presentations. Prerequisite: CRM 310.

CRM 318 FEDERAL CRIMINAL PROCESS

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

This course examines federal authority and responsibility for criminal acts, including constitutional issues, federal statutes (RICO, money laundering, tax offenses, domestic terrorism, public corruption), federal enforcement agencies, criminal procedure, federal grand jury, and Federal Sentencing Guidelines. Unique tools available to federal law enforcement agencies and prosecutors – asset forfeiture, electronic interception, the Patriot Act – will be discussed. Pre-requisites: CRM 120 and (CRM 303 or CRM 305).

CRM 322 VIOLENT CRIME AND FEDERAL INITIATIVES

Three Credits Fall Semester

This course examines current patterns of violent crime in the US, such as gang violence and spousal abuse, and the role of federal criminal justice agencies in designing and implementing agency partnership models to reduce crime in local communities. Prerequisite: SOC 101 or CRM 201.

CRM 324 MEDIATION IN CRIMINAL JUSTICE

Three Credits Fall Semester

Mediation is an effective method of reducing or resolving conflict between disputing parties. Its use is widespread: in government (courts, international diplomacy); as a professional service for businesses and families; in schools; and in community crime prevention where gangs are prevalent. Techniques of mediation are learned through reading, demonstration, and role-play. Prerequisite: SOC 101 or CRM 201.

CRM 333 THE ACCUSED

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

This course contemplates the criminal justice system (primarily in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts) from the perspective of the defendant and his counsel and from arrest to post-trial in misdemeanor and felony court. Beginning with the attorney-client relationship and continuing throughout criminal proceedings, defendants and defense counsel face challenges distinct from law enforcement and prosecutors. The course examines the unique challenges that the accused, whether guilty or not, encounter in the modern criminal justice system. Prerequisite: CRM 201.

CRM 335 SPATIAL CRIME ANALYSIS

Three Credits Spring Semester

Introduces a variety of methods and techniques for the visualization, exploration, and modeling of crime data using geographic mapping. Emphasis on mapping real life crime data and exploring mapping technology as a strategic planning tool for law enforcement agencies. The main objectives are to teach students the basic concepts of geographic mapping and its use by a variety of criminal justice agencies using ArcView Mapping software.

CRM 352 TOPICS IN CRIMINOLOGY

Three Credits Not Offered 2009-2010

Examines topics of current interest in criminology, including the etiology and characteristics of specific categories of crime. The specific content focuses on timely, cutting edge research and case studies that are of academic importance. Content varies as topics evolve.

Seminars in CriminologyCRM 409 SEMINAR: DEVIANCE AND CONTROL

Three Credits Alternating Fall Semesters

Examines the concept of deviance in society and its implications for the study of contemporary behavior. The first half of the semester focuses on the competing perspectives on deviant behavior and implications. The second half examines how individual and organizational deviance is defined, reacted to, and managed. Pre-requisites: CRM 201 or SOC 101.

CRM 410 SEMINAR: JUVENILE JUSTICE

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2011, 2013

This course examines promising strategies, primarily in the private sector, for handling juvenile offenders. Students directly observe programs and work with program managers to develop plans to expand community-based and private-sector support. Presentation, advocacy, and networking skills are emphasized. Prerequisite: CRM 224 and one additional CRM course.

CRM 411 SEMINAR: POLICE AND SOCIETY

The Department offers an Art History, Graphic Design, Studio Arts, and a General major, as well as a Visual and Performing Arts major with concentrations in Music and Theatre Arts. Minors in Art History, Dance, Music, Studio Arts, and Theatre Arts are also offered.

Programs of Study/Courses

The Visual and Performing Arts Department provides a variety of courses to enhance students' Liberal Arts foundation through appreciation of their cultural heritage. Students develop perceptual and analytical skills while exploring the ideological, religious, political, and personal factors, which have shaped creative expression throughout the centuries.

In Art History, Music History and Theatre History courses students gain an appreciation for the artistic and musical modes through which artists have grappled with essential aspects of the human condition in various cultures during different historical periods. In Studio, Performance, and Theatre Arts classes, through hands-on study of specific techniques, students explore their own creative potential.

The Visual and Performing Arts Department seeks to expand the definition and activities of the traditional arts to include art as a social catalyst, to engage students in social service and practical experience through outreach programs and internships.

Visual Arts/Performing Arts Major

The Visual and Performing Arts majors offer an interdisciplinary approach which provides both breadth and depth in the Visual and Performing Arts. Students may choose a major in Art History, Graphic Design or Studio Arts, or they may choose a General major selecting courses from several of the Department's areas. Students may also choose a Visual and Performing Arts major with a concentration in either Music or Theatre Arts. Students with specific career strategies may declare a double major with, for example, Business, Communication, Elementary Education, English, History, Philosophy, Psychology, Religious Studies or Sociology. The Visual and Performing Arts Majors prepare students for graduate work or career possibilities in museums, galleries, corporate collections, graphic design, photography, teaching, art conservation and art therapy.

The concentration in Theatre Arts provides the student with an additional focus of study in the humanities, education, and collaborative arts. The study of drama incorporates theoretical and practical knowledge in a variety of areas touching many cultures and eras. The personal development of the student is aided by a deeper understanding of the workings of the human imagination and emotions, the use of the body and voice as a means of expression, and the complexities of interpersonal relationships as seen in art and life. By taking part in the production of plays, the student's sense of responsibility and self-discipline are further tested and strengthened. This program enables students to pursue further goals which may include: graduate work in theatre and related fields; creative dramatics in primary, secondary and special needs education; writing; development of community theatres; arts management; and careers stressing interpersonal communication.

The Visual and Performing Arts Majors each require 11 courses.

VPH 314 MASTERS OF THE RENAISSANCE: LEONARDO, MICHELANGELO, RAPHAEL

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

An in-depth study of the works of these three High Renaissance artists, the evolution of their respective styles, and the environment in which they worked. Specific scholarly issues are discussed in student presentations.

VPH 316 ART AND GENDER

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

Issues of gender as explored by artists throughout the centuries. Notions of femininity and masculinity, sexual identity, and challenges facing women artists are among the topics discussed.

VPH 317 ART AND PSYCHOLOGY

Three Credits Fall Semester

The relationship between works of art and scientific inquiry into the human mind. Artworks which reflect psychological content are discussed in depth (for example, psychoanalytical interpretations of Van Gogh's paintings; Surrealist painting and Freudian theory). Therapeutic uses of art are explored in a workshop with an Art Therapist.

VPH 330 TOPICS IN AMERICAN ART & CULTURE

Three Credits Spring Semester

Investigates focused topics in American art and culture from the Colonial period to the present. The topic will change each time the course is offered. Possible areas to be explored include: The "Other" in America; Jazz Age and Depression Art and Culture; Modernist/ Postmodernist Architecture. Recommended for Art History and American Studies concentrators.

VPH 430 ART HISTORY IN ITALY

Four Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

Combines in-class study with a travel experience. Explore the influence of antiquity on Renaissance art and architecture through class lectures and student presentations at Stonehill and on-site observation in Florence, Rome and other sites in Italy.

VPH 440 EXHIBITIONS AND COLLECTIONS: AN INSIDE LOOK (Formerly VPH 320)

Three Credits Fall Semester

An inside look at the art world. Visits to art galleries, museums, auction houses, and corporate and private collections acquaint students with a variety of art institutions and professions. Students curate an exhibition at the Cushing-Martin Gallery: they visit artists' studios to choose work; organize the exhibition; hang work in the gallery; write a catalogue and press releases; and plan a reception. Capstone course for Art History Concentration. May not earn credit for both VPH 320 and VPH 440.

VPH 441 RESEARCH SEMINAR IN ART HISTORY

Three Credits Spring Semester

Examines specific topics in Western art, applying art historical methodology and critical approaches to in-depth research with primary and secondary sources. Topic will change each time the seminar is offered. Students will produce an extensive research paper and give an oral presentation. Strongly suggested for Art History majors and minors. Prerequisite: VPH 181 plus one 200 level and one 300 level art history courses.

VPH 475 INTERNSHIP IN FINE ARTS

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

An internship in a professional arts institution provides students with invaluable experience in the field. An intern typically works 8-10 hours per week on site. Internships are available at various galleries, museums and companies.

Dance Courses

VPD 141 DANCE AND MOVEMENT

Three Credits Spring Semester

Dance instills confidence, self-expression, and personal challenge, all useful daily living skills. An exploration of dance styles and music provides students with the opportunity to develop these skills, while experiencing their own flexibility. Rhythm, space, and its effect upon movement are also examined. Challenging for all levels.

VPD 251 DANCE TECHNIQUE: BALLET, JAZZ, AND MODERN

Three Credits Fall Semester

The art of dance reflects the heritage, culture, and diversity of its people. It relates to the human condition and expresses experiences and emotions. This course is designed to give an overview of dance styles from the ballet barre, a modern center, and jazz combinations. The focus will be on placement, movement qualities, and effort needed to execute required shapes that are prevalent in these dance styles.

VPD 253 MODERN JAZZ DANCE

Three Credits Fall Semester

Performance-based class in which Jazz technique is taught and Jazz choreography practiced. A class performance at the end of the course might be coordinated with the Chorus and presented to the College.

VPD 254 MODERN DANCE TECHNIQUE

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

Introduces fundamental movement principles and the basic elements of modern dance choreography. Through a structured dance class, students explore the connection between movement and breath, body alignment, rhythm, dynamics, space and motivation. Students can expect to raise the level of their technical ability, while keeping the perspective that technique serves expression and communication and that movement is a bridge between one's inner life and the outside world. Video viewings and reading assignments will introduce important figures and trends in 20th-century modern dance.

VPD 255 BALLET I

Three Credits Fall Semester

This course will cover ballet technique: the principles of proper alignment, placement, ballet terminology and steps. Ballet barre and center will give students the practice required for developing their dance ability. This class is open to beginning ballet students and to those who have had more classical training.

VPD 256 DANCE FOR MUSICAL THEATRE

Three Credits Spring Semester

Explores the world of musical theatre through dance. Students will learn a variety of dance styles associated with musicals throughout the decades. Tap, jazz, and ballet will be incorporated.

VPD 257 INTRODUCTION TO DANCE COMPOSITION

Three Credits Spring Semester

Explores the different approaches to dance choreography. The influence of music, costume and lighting suitable for choreographic purposes and dance performance will also be studied. Different dance styles will be utilized by each student to create combinations that will lend to fully composed original pieces

VPD 355 ADVANCED JAZZ DANCE

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

Intended for the student with some previous dance experience. It expands the dancer's basic understanding of alignment, develops a deeper understanding of musicality including syncopation, and introduces complex movement skills. Students discover various styles and trends in American vernacular dance and learn to express themselves through their own choreography.

VPD 356 BALLET II

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

Expands the knowledge gained in previous ballet classes. Students are encouraged to explore the technical and artistic aspects of classical ballet. Each class will include barre and center work as well as some study of current ballets. Prerequisite: some previous ballet training.

VPD 357 DANCE COMPANY

One Credit Fall and Spring Semesters

The Stonehill College Dance Company provides performing experience for qualified students through participation in a company that reflects the spirit of the College. The company is comprised of auditioned dancers who will learn choreography, of well known area choreographers, in an organized manner and perform in various venues on and off campus throughout the semester. Individual creative expression will be emphasized. Prerequisite: Consent of the Instructor. Course may be repeated for credit. Course must be taken three times to earn the equivalent of a 3-credit course.

VPD 360 DANCE OUTREACH

Three Credits Spring Semester

Unique opportunity for learning, community service and exchange. Stonehill students will lead children "at risk" from the Brockton area through various movement exercises. A piece will be choreographed and performed at the end of the semester. A dance background is required.

VPD 490 DIRECTED STUDY

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Supervised reading and research directed by Department member. Written consent of the Instructor is required.

Graphic Design

VPG 202 GRAPHIC DESIGN FOUNDATIONS

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Students learn the various processes involved in graphic design from initial ideas/concepts through working stages to finished presentation, applying the principles of design to projects pertaining to the design and production of primary print and also screen-based solutions. Students sharpen basic computer skills in preparing their projects.

VPG 203 INTRODUCTION TO DIGITAL IMAGING

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Using individual workstations, students learn scanning, designing and working with pictures using Photoshop. Students will be encouraged to use this medium as a form of personal expression as well as considering its practical application. An art background is helpful, but not necessary.

VPG 230 PUBLICATION DESIGN

Three Credits Spring Semester

In this hands-on studio class students will learn to design for publications. The structure, construction, and production of magazines, newspapers, corporate publication will be explored, along with their conceptual and aesthetic attributes and environmental concerns. Pre-requisites: VPG 202 or VPG 203.

VPG 302 PACKAGE DESIGN

Three Credits Spring Semester

This studio course is an introduction to the design of packaging. Students will explore the concept of brand identity and apply branding strategies to the design and production of packaging for products that are common in today's market. Students will learn how to design visual continuity for a 3-D format. Sustainable/environmentally-conscious packaging materials will be explored. Pre-requisites: VPG 202 or VPG 203.

VPG 303 TYPOGRAPHY: LETTERFORMS AND WORDS IN GRAPHIC DESIGN

Three Credits Fall Semester

Students learn about the development and use of typefaces. Legibility, readability, history and perception will be examined. The impact of images accompanied by text will be explored. Students use computers and traditional methods to develop visual projects.

VPG 304 ADVERTISING DESIGN

Three Credits Spring Semester

Explores advertising concepts, media and techniques. Projects simulate actual work performed at an advertising agency. Students will experience the role of an advertising designer as they develop skills in producing design for various media.

VPG 305 WEB SITE DESIGN

Three Credits Fall Semester

This introductory course covers the processes involved in making visual communication for the web. Aesthetic concerns, conceptual skills, and technical/production procedures will be covered to facilitate understanding of and participation in the process of web design. Students will work through initial ideas to a finished presentation.

VPG 306 MOTION GRAPHICS

Three Credits Spring Semester

This studio design course is an introduction to the use of computer software to create animations and time-based visuals for use in professional applications such as advertising, multimedia, film, video and the web. The expressive and informative impact of motion and time when presenting screen-based graphics, type and sound will be exposed. Software will include Adobe After Effects and Macromedia Flash.

VPG 307 3-D GRAPHICS, ILLUSTRATION AND ANIMATION

Three Credits Spring Semester

This studio graphic design course explores within the computer the construction, modeling and rendering of simulated 3-D objects in a virtual space. These objects are then photographed with a virtual still or movie camera to produce a digital illustration or animation. The course emphasizes 3-D graphics to solve various design problems. The use of sound in animation will be introduced. Pre-requisites: VPG 202 or VPG 203.

VPG 405 ADVANCED STUDY IN GRAPHIC DESIGN

Three Credits Spring Semester

Opportunity for graphic design majors to pursue advanced projects and research related to their individual needs and interests. Critiques with other members of the class will help to give additional assessment and are an important component of the course. Prerequisites: Consent of Instructor.

VPG 423 GRAPHIC DESIGN PORTFOLIO

Three Credits Fall Semester

In this Capstone for Graphic Design concentrators, students will assemble a professional level portfolio. Each senior will review previous work and be guided to choose and develop significant design projects appropriate for specific career choices, including programs and job interviews. Prerequisite: Senior standing.

Music CoursesVPM 132 INSTRUMENT METHODS AND MUSICIANSHIP: JUMP ON THE BANDWAGON

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

This class will enable students to master fundamental musical skills in performing and reading music. The curriculum will focus on woodwinds, brass and strings. Classes will include individual as well as group playing. Students may rent instruments from a local vendor. No musical experience required. If needed, instruments are available from a local vendor for $50-100 per semester.

VPM 133 STONEHILL COLLEGIATE CHORALE

One Credit Fall and Spring Semesters

The Stonehill College chorus welcomes students interested in singing. Music from many historical periods and styles is sung while learning methods of vocal and choral technique. Rehearsals culminate in two concerts given in December and May. Prerequisite: Consent of the Instructor. Course may be repeated for credit. Course must be taken three times to earn the equivalent of a 3-credit course.

VPM 134 CONCERT BAND

One Credit Fall and Spring Semesters

The Stonehill College Concert Band is a performing ensemble for experienced wind and percussion musicians. The band performs a variety of musical styles, focusing on traditional band literature. The ensemble gives a performance each semester. Prerequisite:

Consent of the Instructor. Course may be repeated for credit. Course must be taken three times to earn the equivalent of a 3-credit course.

VPM 137:A CHAMBER MUSIC: ORCHESTRA

One Credit Fall and Spring Semesters

This course is an opportunity for string, orchestral woodwind and brass instrumentalists to work together in a chamber orchestra. Repertoire and seating assignments are based on experience level. Students who have instrumental performance experience are encouraged to participate. Campus performances allow members of the chamber orchestra to showcase their talent! Prerequisite: Consent of the Instructor. Course may be repeated for credit. Course must be taken three times to earn the equivalent of a 3-credit course.

VPM 137:B CHAMBER MUSIC WORKSHOP: VOCAL ENSEMBLE

One Credit Fall and Spring Semesters

This course teaches repertory for small vocal ensemble, and/or voices with instruments. Students may work with instrumentalists from the orchestra section. Singers and players of all levels will perform for the College community at the semester's end. Students should already be able to read music. Course may be repeated for credit. Course must be taken three times to earn the equivalent of a 3-credit course.

VPM 138 PEP BAND

One Credit Not Offered 2010-2011

A vibrant instrumental ensemble which plays at all the home Football games and most of the home Men's and Women's Basketball games. The Pep Band practices once a week and performs all types of popular music, jazz, and rock-n-roll. All instruments welcome. Course may be repeated for credit. Course must be taken three times to earn the equivalent of a 3-credit course.

VPM 139 GUITAR ENSEMBLE

One Credit Fall Semester

In Guitar Ensemble, students learn introductory musical skills including basic jazz theory, scales, notation and chord grids; basic guitar technique and performance skills such as comping and soloing. These are applied to the study of four jazz standards or equivalent repertory. Course may be repeated for credit. Course must be taken three times to earn the equivalent of a 3-credit course.

VPM 140 STUDIO GUITAR

One Credit Fall and Spring Semesters

This course provides an opportunity for students to study guitar in a private studio setting with individual instruction. Repertory will be tailored to student needs. Curriculum will include: Establishment and development of proper technique; note reading, notation and chord grids; scales and chords; improvisation; performance skills, memorization, audition techniques Semester study will culminate in a public performance. A music fee will be applied to each student enrolled.

VPM 141 CHAMBER MUSIC WORKSHOP: PIANO

One Credit Fall and Spring Semesters

Advanced Piano students will meet one hour weekly with an instructor in a private setting. Repertory will be individually tailored to the students' needs and preferences. Course will also involve performance classes, master-classes, and coaching sessions, and will culminate in a public performance. Course may be repeated for credit. Course must be taken three times to earn the equivalent of a 3-credit course. An applied music fee will be assessed to each student enrolled in VPM 141.

VPM 180 INTRODUCTORY MUSICIANSHIP

Three Credits Fall Semester

This class introduces students to fundamentals of music, including standard musical notation, meter and key signature recognition, rhythm, keyboard harmony, and rudimentary composition. Emphasis is on acquisition of musical skills which build individual confidence and prepare the student for VPM 240 Music Theory.

VPM 183 HISTORY OF MUSIC I: EUROPEAN ROOTS

Three Credits Spring Semester

This survey of European Classical Music covers music composed between 1600 and 1925. Emphasis is on the styles and genres which have influenced modern classical and popular music. The class will attend concerts in Boston. No musical background is necessary.

VPM 184 HISTORY OF MUSIC II: NONWESTERN TRADITIONS

Three Credits Fall Semester

This introduction to world music covers indigenous vocal and instrumental music from the Middle East, Asia, and the Pacific, as well as the non-western musical traditions of Europe. The class will examine various types of music; the instruments which best represent them, and the cultures in which they are embedded. Students will learn to play rudimentary rhythm patterns using representative percussion instruments in classroom groups. The class will attend concerts of live music on and off campus.

VPM 231 PIANO WORKSHOP

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

This workshop provides an introduction to the study of the piano in a class setting, and is intended for beginning students. The following components are included: learning to read music, basic music theory, piano technique, and both individual and ensemble performance. Students use digital pianos with headphones for individualized instruction. The course culminates with a performance for the college community.

VPM 232 VOICE WORKSHOP

Three Credits Spring Semester

Breathing, phonation, resonance and diction. Students learn physiology and classical voice production, while acquiring enhanced performance skills through practice and performance in class. Singing repertory is drawn from various styles and will be tailored to individual talents and needs. Ability to read music not necessary for this class.

VPM 234 AFRICAN MUSIC: CROSSING THE ATLANTIC AND HOME AGAIN

Three Credits Spring Semester

Study musical traditions from West Africa and their impact on Western culture. Social elements will be examined through readings, listening assignments and class discussions. Students will learn African drumming through hands on practice and oral exercises.

VPM 235 AMERICAN MUSIC IN THE 20TH CENTURY

Three Credits Fall Semester

Various developments in American music during the 20th Century, including classical, jazz, Broadway, popular, folk are explored, as well as the interrelation among music, theatre, dance and movies. Students are encouraged to engage in independent research of composers and styles.

VPM 237 MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS OF THE WORLD

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

An introduction to ancient and modern instruments. Students will develop an understanding of instruments through the use of listening exercises, video, and hands-on experiences. Assignments will draw from Western and non-Western repertoires. Connections will be made between instrumental and cultural heritages. A field trip to a live concert may be included.

VPM 239 MUSIC OF LATIN AMERICA

Three Credits Fall Semester

This class studies the diverse genres of Latin American music as they developed from the complex fusion of indigenous music and culture with African and European music. The music of Mexico, the Caribbean, and Brazil, has deeply affected music in the US and provided an important key to understanding Latin American culture and people.

VPM 240 MUSIC THEORY

Three Credits Spring Semester

Designed to teach and develop basic musical skills and to increase the student's understanding of the fundamental building blocks of music and how they function in musical language. The first skills studied will be fluency in reading music and use of the piano keyboard. Other topics will include basic terminology, musical notation, intervals, major and minor scales, triads and seventh chords. Some exercises in ear training and rhythm are included. The student's skill and imagination in manipulating these skills will be developed by composing brief musical compositions at the end of the semester. An interactive computer program is a main component of the course.

VPM 331 ADVANCED PIANO WORKSHOP

Three Credits Spring Semester

This workshop is intended for piano students who have taken VPM 231, Piano Workshop, or for students with a strong piano background. Topics include a wider range of major and minor keys, more complex textures and rhythmic patterns, and original pieces of intermediate to advanced difficulty. The class will play in several public performances during the semester. Prerequisite: VPM 231 or consent of the Instructor.

VPM 340 MUSIC COMPOSITION

Three Credits Spring Semester

Explores the techniques involved in developing musical ideas into coherent compositions. Students will develop facility in composition through individual assignments as well as through class discussion and critiques. Composition exercises, extensive practice in using standard music notation, a longer project, and a public performance of compositions are required. Prerequisite: VPM 240 or consent of the Instructor.

VPM 450 CAPSTONE IN MUSIC

Three Credits Spring Semester

This Capstone course draws together principle components of undergraduate study in a semester-long research or creative project designed to demonstrate students' skills, abilities and talents. The project could connect two fields of study or emphasize a particular field not available through music classes in the current program. Specific topic will vary. Pre-requisites: Senior standing and Consent of Instructor.

Studio Arts CoursesVPS 101 STUDIO ARTS

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

Introduction to fundamentals of visual thinking and expression through a series of methods. Working directly from life, and the imagination, students explore color, image, surface, and space. A variety of materials are used including pencil, charcoal, paint, ink, and found objects.

VPS 102 INTRODUCTION TO COLOR

Three credits Spring Semester

Using paint, pencil and paper students are introduced to the principles of color and color interaction: students study and apply the physical and optical properties of color, its symbolic and expressive uses, and artistic theories governing its use.

VPS 107 DESIGN FUNDAMENTALS: BENEATH THE SURFACE

Three credits Fall Semester

There is no one way to solve a design problem, but visual communication does rely on basic grammar familiar to artists and designers alike. Hands-on exercise exploring the elements of art introduces students to key components of visual expression, while compositional principles elucidate thought processes of artists in all media from painting to installation art. Command of basic visual literacy skills enables students to be more articulate and increasingly imaginative, as they encounter problems in both the fine and applied arts.

VPS 201 THREE-DIMENSIONAL DESIGN

Three Credits Spring Semester

Working with media, including clay, plaster, wood, and various natural materials, students explore the formal and expressive possibilities of three-dimensional art while solving specific design problems. Discussions of trends in both historical and contemporary sculpture are integrated with studio work.

VPS 204 DRAWING WORKSHOP

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

An introduction to basic techniques and skills of drawing. Students work progressively from geometric shapes to still life, with a brief investigation of portraiture. This course emphasizes problems of perspective; the description of form through the use of line, light and shadow; and the exploration of various dry media.

VPS 205 PAINTING WORKSHOP

Three Credits Fall Semester

For the student interested in acquiring proficiency in painting, this course offers the opportunity to work in watercolors, oils, and acrylics. Instruction in more advanced painting technique, exploration of the expressive qualities of colors and materials, and individualized critiques help each student evolve a distinctive personal style.

VPS 206 PRINTMAKING WORKSHOP

Three Credits Fall Semester

As an introduction to different printmaking techniques, this course helps students appreciate the processes involved in creating prints and the distinctive expressive potential of each medium. Linocut, engraving, etching, and monotype are among the printmaking techniques practiced.

VPS 207 SPECIAL PROJECTS: HOMEMADE JOURNALS AND ARTISTS' BOOKS

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

This course explores constructed books as containers for personal use and as works of art. It will begin with creating a journal to fill with detritus from daily life, then move on to techniques for traditional and unique methods of binding. Using mixed media, the contents, whether photos or collages, drawings or text, will be considered so that form and content enhance each other.

VPS 208 INTRODUCTION TO WATERCOLOR

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

Teaches very basic use of watercolor and explores its potential. Each class will focus on specific skills: materials preparation, wet-on-wet and dry brush techniques, lifting color, basic color theory, value, glazing and composition.

A visual survey of current artists working in the medium will be presented throughout the course.

VPS 210 PHOTOGRAPHY WORKSHOP

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

This workshop combines an introduction to the history of photography with hands-on camera and darkroom experience. While acquiring technical proficiency in picture taking and film developing, students explore their personal aesthetic vision. Student provides camera, film, and photography paper.

VPS 222 INTRODUCTION TO DIGITAL PHOTOGRAPHY

Three Credits Spring Semester

Using digital media without heavy manipulation, students will become literate with the features their cameras offer. Whether photographing the landscape, portraits, events, street or fine art photography, the visual language will be employed to foster aesthetic and technical skills, as students work towards the production of a thematically cohesive portfolio.

VPS 223 THE NATURE OF ART: DISCOVERING THE ARTIST WITHIN

Three Credits Spring Semester

Through the intersection of art and biology and using the act of "journaling" and art as a vehicle for investigation, students explore their inner voices while looking outward to observe the natural world.

VPS 224 SEQUENTIAL IMAGERY

Three Credits Spring Semester

This course will introduce students to the use of sequential imagery in art. It will focus on animation and graphic novels. Methods will include photography, Claymation and drawing. Narrative and non-narrative approaches will be contrasted in order to better understand each. Topics will include composition, transition, pacing and exaggeration.

VPS 260 IMAGINING AND IMAGING

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

In the studio arts component, the creation of collaborative and individual works enable students to experience first hand the fundamental role that objects, icons and sacred space fulfill in their spiritual lives. By creating their own unique evocations that explore problems related to the religious studies readings and investigations, students will more fully grasp the transformative power of both art and religious practice.

VPS 301 SCULPTURE WORKSHOP

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

This course guides students through the processes of modeling, mold making, and casting. Many basic sculptural issues will be addressed via the ancient and universal concerns of self-representation. The class will work outdoors when possible to consider sculpture "in the raw," using minimal tools and natural materials to create pieces.

VPS 309 CLOTHING, ART AND CULTURE

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

Fashion is explored as a form of communication that for centuries has spoken about class, cultural heritage, occupation, political beliefs, sexual orientation and more. Cloth and paper are the canvas for fashioning unique pieces that interpret visual problems. In conjunction with traditional sewing techniques, unique construction methods such as stapling and gluing will be encouraged. Sewing skills are not a prerequisite.

VPS 310 PHOTOGRAPHY/MULTIMEDIA OUTREACH: MENTORING THROUGH ART

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Combining art and community service, students are paired with "kids at risk" from the greater Brockton area to create projects in photography, video, collage, drawing and sculpture. Workshops are conducted by experts in adolescent counseling and juvenile criminal justice. Students with an interest not only in art, but in Sociology, Psychology, Art Therapy, and Education, are encouraged to participate.

VPS 311 PHOTOGRAPHY II

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

This course emphasizes the increased development of a personal vision, refinement of technical skills, and investigation of film processing and darkroom procedures. Exposure to contemporary trends and historical traditions through museum/gallery visits deepen understanding of the medium as a means for creative expression. Student provides camera, film, and photography paper.

VPS 322 INSTALLATION ART IN THE 21ST CENTURY

Three Credits Spring Semester

Installation Art challenges the creator and audience to expand their definition of art. It is often removed from the gallery to disrupt spaces in unexpected ways. Frequently, it addresses social issues, is time-based, involves the viewer, and utilizes materials and practices that mirror the complexity of contemporary culture. Students will use the campus to explore personal and universal issues. The Course culminates in a "Day of Art."

VPS 323 THE BIG PICTURE

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

Beginning students work with Intermediate and Advanced students to learn the fundamentals of camera operation and darkroom printing. Intermediate and advanced students refine skills, developing more fully a personal vision. In critiques, students explore "big picture" themes, and create BIG photographs that employ processes from traditional to unique, from constructed negatives to mural-size printing. Prerequisite: VPS 210.

VPS 324 FIGURE DRAWING

Three Credits Spring Semester

Designed to increase the student's perceptual skills and provide an introduction to the human figure. Various drawing approaches are discussed and utilized throughout the course. Emphasis is placed on anatomy and the structure of the human form. Critiques and lectures help students develop an understanding of the critical issues of drawing and its context within the History of Art.

VPS 325 ART EDUCATION: THEORY AND METHODS

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

Topics include developmental theory, curriculum design, and numerous hands-on experiences to explore visual creativity. Techniques of structuring, time, space, and materials are addressed to support independent student work in various art media. Course results include the production of materials to be used in the "real world" of public schools.

VPS 326 PORTRAIT WORKSHOP

Three Credits Spring Semester

Students in Portrait Workshop explore the portrait using a variety of materials, including charcoal, pastel, and paint. The course begins with study of the anatomy of the head and progresses to the portrait in various settings. Some drawing experience is required.

VPS 327 LANDSCAPE PAINTING

Three Credits Fall Semester

Explores traditional and less conventional drawing and painting approaches to the physical environment. Through dry and wet media, students work on site and in the classroom using nature as the primary subject source. Students strive to understand the nature of natural light, atmosphere, space and other general concepts relating to this historical artistic genre.

VPS 406 ADVANCED STUDIO SEMINAR

Three Credits Spring Semester

In this Capstone Course students work in drawing, painting, photography, sculpture, mixed media and more. Employing the technical and critical thinking skills they've developed over 4 years, they strive to create their most mature, well-realized work in the personal studio space that is provided. Readings, critiques, and Visiting Artist Presentations enrich the experience. The semester culminates with a Senior Thesis Exhibition in the Crushing-Martin Gallery.

VPS 414 DOCUMENTARY PHOTOGRAPHY

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

Telling stories based in fact, and describing people, places and events, students use the camera on and off campus to study the world. Questions such as, "Is photojournalism also art?" encourage them to consider the potential of the medium to be explosive and objective, or not. Self-directed photographic essays, investigated in-depth are completed in book form.

VPS 422 PARIS FASHION: THE LANGUAGE OF CLOTHES

Three Credits Not Offered 2010-2011

Visiting Paris over spring break, students immerse themselves in the Parisian world of art design and fashion. Back at Stonehill they invent wearable garments that investigate issues of personal significance, while exploring the visual language of art.

Theatre ArtsPatricia H. Sankus, Program Director

The Department of Visual and Performing Arts offers a concentration and minor in Theatre Arts.

VPD 141 DANCE AND MOVEMENT

Three Credits Spring Semester

For description, see VPD 141.

VPT 181 HISTORY OF THE THEATRE I

Three Credits Fall Semester

The development of theatre from its primitive beginnings through major eras and countries until the year 1700. The theatre will be studied as a social and cultural institution mirroring the civilization in which it thrives.

VPT 182 HISTORY OF THE THEATRE II

VPT 203 ACTING I

Three Credits Fall Semester

Beginning work on the actor's physical, vocal, and emotional tools. Basic rules, mechanics, and methods of analysis for developing a part in a play.

VPT 205 STAGECRAFT

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2010, 2012

Theatre is about magic and transformation – the process needed to translate an image into a 3-dimensional form, utilizing fabric or wood, will be explored. Previous sewing or carpentry experience is not necessary. Students will learn both sewing and scenery building techniques, as well as complementary areas such as lighting, fabric decoration and scenery painting. Students are required to work on a departmental production.

VPT 212 MUSICAL THEATRE

Three Credits Alternate Years: Fall 2010, 2012

Focusing on the history, artistic development, and performance of Musical Theatre, this course provides the tools to create fully developed Musical Theatre performances. Through discussions and workshops on acting, character development, proper vocal technique, staging/choreography, and the art form's history, students will become informed Musical Theatre performers and critics.

VPT 216 IMPROVISATION

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Students will draw upon their imaginative resources and extend their awareness of themselves and others. Improvisation provides a creative dramatic experience which emphasizes spontaneity of response and the development of ingenuity. Is being offered as part of a Learning Community Fall 2010 - Spring 2011.

VPT 225 PLAY PRODUCTION I

One Credit Fall Semester

Students receive credit for participating as actors, assistants to the directors and designers, stage managers, technicians and crew members in a main stage production. Specific assignments and hours worked must be approved by the Program Director. Student must have worked on a previous departmental production. Credit is granted on a pass/fail basis including Theatre Arts majors and minors. Does not count towards requirement for Theatre Arts major/minors. This course may be taken three times.

VPT 226 PLAY PRODUCTION II

One Credit Spring Semester

Students receive credit for participating as actors, assistants to the directors and designers, stage managers, technicians and crew members in a main stage production. Specific assignments and hours worked must be approved by the Program Director. Student must have worked on a previous departmental production. Credit is granted on a pass/fail basis including Theatre Arts majors and minors. Does not count towards requirement for Theatre Arts major/minors. This course maybe taken three times.

VPT 300 ACTING IIThree Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2011, 2013

Concentration on refinement of the actor's body through stage movement and voice. To enlarge the student's physical and emotional projection along with detailed characterization work. Prerequisite: VPT 203 or consent of the Instructor.

VPT 302 DIRECTINGThree Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2012, 2014

Analysis and interpretation of play scripts; basic blocking techniques; coaching of actors; and the process of producing a play from auditions through performance. Prerequisite: VPT 181 or 182, or VPT 203, or consent of the Instructor.

VPT 305 ADVANCED STAGECRAFT

Three Credits Offered Periodically

This course provides an in-depth, hands-on approach to constructing scenic art, utilizing scenic painting, props and costumes. Student projects include the creation of period costume pieces and the building of unique props. Prerequisite: VPT 205, or consent of the Instructor.

VPT 306 INTRODUCTION TO PLAYWRITING

Three Credits Fall Semester

Participants will be putting pen to paper with weekly writing assignments covering the basic concepts of playwriting; characterization, dialogue and plot development. This will be an active participation class with students sharing and talking about their own and each other's work in class as they develop their scenes and one act dramas.

VPT 308 THEATRICAL COSTUME DESIGN

Three Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2012, 2014

Explore how history affects body decoration and colors influence people's attitudes, as you learn the criteria influencing costume design decisions. By using angles, colors, fabrics, and a script, students will translate personalities into costumes. No sewing involved.

VPT 312 SCENIC DESIGN FOR THE STAGE

Three Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2011, 2013

Theatre is the place where different arts meet and ultimately collide. It is the role of the designer to forge an aesthetic equilibrium from this complex interaction. Explore the practices of scenographers: including script analysis, collaboration, research, visual thinking and develop creative abilities using exercises to build intuitive responses and drawing skills.

VPT 315 MAKE-UP FOR THE STAGE

Three Credits Alternate Years:
Spring 2012, 2014

This course introduces students to the basic concept of make-up design as an illusionary technique in the performing arts. A combination of character study, painting, lighting and 3-D design will be emphasized.

VPT 317 ORAL INTERPRETATION

Three Credits Offered Periodically

Through individual and group projects, students will practice selecting, adapting, and performing a variety of literary material. Class work will include the study and presentation of poetry, prose and play scripts. The use of particular techniques for the classroom will also be explored.

VPT 405 SEMINAR IN THEATRE ARTS I

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Students are given the opportunity for further study in selected areas of design and technical production for the stage. Topics will vary. May be repeated four times, if topics differ.

VPT 406 SEMINAR IN THEATRE ARTS II

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Students explore different subjects in dramatic literature and theatre history along with further studies in performance, directing and playwriting. Topics will vary. May be repeated four times, if topics differ.

VPT 415-VPT 416 THEATRE PRACTICUM I AND II (Capstone Course)

Three Credits Each Fall and Spring Semesters

Allows students who have shown significant interest and expertise to take on creative and managerial responsibilities in the areas of performance, directing, dramaturgy, design and technical aspects of production. Capstone course for Theatre Arts concentration. One semester required for majors. Prerequisite: consent of the Program Director.

VPT 475 INTERNSHIP IN THEATRE ARTS

Three Credits or more Fall and Spring Semesters

Opportunity for the qualified student to work in a professional theatre environment. Interested students contact Program Director.

VPT 496 INDEPENDENT RESEARCH

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

Opportunity for upper-level students to do an advanced research project or investigation in a field of special interest not covered by a normally-scheduled course. The student and a full-time faculty member familiar with the student's area of interest agree on a plan of study and research and on evaluation methods. Before registering, the student must obtain the signatures of the faculty director and the Program Director.

Writing

Faculty:

Todd Gernes, Program Director

Associate Professors:

J. Chichetto, C.S.C.,
Department of Communication

Writing courses explore all dimensions of the writing process, seeking to extend and deepen the student's awareness of writing processes and develop composing and critical thinking skills.

Course Offerings

WRI 141 FIRST YEAR WRITING SEMINAR: COMPOSITION AND LITERATURE

Four Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

This seminar is designed for students who wish to review or upgrade the essential skills of writing, critical reading, and textual analysis at the college level. Drawing on a variety of texts from multiple disciplines, this seminar focuses on the thesis driven essay, emphasizing idea development, drafting, revising, editing, and manuscript preparation, with special attention to style, voice, and the writer's craft. Instructors provide extensive feedback on student work, helping them to gain more confidence with grammar, sentence structure, and other conventions of English usage within specific rhetorical contexts.

WRI 147 POETRY LAB ON METAPHOR

Three Credits Fall Semester

An examination of the nature of metaphor in language and the function of metaphor in creative writing, especially students' own work. Analysis of the precise nature of the difference between metaphor and analogy, metaphor and sign, metaphor and symbol. Exploration of how poets – and writers in general – contextualize and materialize metaphor, focusing on metaphor as a vehicle of discovery in the work of Atwood, Dickinson, Shakespeare, and Garcia-Lorca.

WRI 241 INTERMEDIATE WRITING SEMINAR: THE WORLD OF IDEAS

Three Credits Fall and Spring Semesters

This seminar is designed for students who wish to advance and sharpen their written communication skills in a rigorous yet supportive workshop setting. Students will explore approaches to writing in a variety of rhetorical situations related to various disciplines including natural and social sciences, philosophy, religious studies, art, literature, and history. They will focus on planning, drafting and revising essays and other kinds of writing with ongoing, constructive feedback from fellow classmates and the instructor. A central focus of the course will be the complex relationship between writers' intentions and readers' expectations and interpretations. Students will prepare a portfolio of revised writing with a reflective introduction that demonstrates critical reading and thinking skills.

WRI 247 INVINCIBLE SUMMER: READING TRANSCENDENCE, WRITING SPIRIT

Three Credits Fall Semester

Investigation of 20th century works that protest dehumanization based on ideology. Using these texts as intellectual foundations, students will grapple with the consequences of ideas unmoored from ethical concerns, analyze texts in terms of the moral dilemmas they present, and produce papers and a journal relating course material to their own experience.

WRI 261 WRITING VIOLENCE IN GOD'S NAME

Three Credits Spring Semester

An inquiry into how religion and religious texts can be exploited to cultivate war. The course examines conflicts in Sri Lanka, Israel/Palestine, and Northern Ireland as well as conflicts in America. The course focuses on strategies for effective academic writing.

WRI 369 WRITING AND PEER CONSULTING

Three Credits Fall Semester

In this practicum, students will prepare to become peer consultants in the Writing Center. They will develop consulting skills by analyzing theoretical and research articles from professional journals, by applying the theory and research results to their own writing in process and the writing of other students, and by observing and participating in the Writing Center one hour a week. Prerequisite: Faculty recommendation or permission of the instructor.

Academic Policies and Procedures

Enrollment and Registration

All degree seeking Students are admitted to the College by the Office of Admissions.

Full-time Students

A student is attending full-time if registered for a minimum of 12 credits in any semester. In order to complete degree requirements in the usual four years, students must enroll in an average of 15 credits per semester.

Part-time Students

A student is attending part-time if registered for fewer than 12 credits in a semester. Full-time students may petition to attend part-time for academic reasons with the approval from the student's academic advisor and the Director of Academic Services.

Part-time students may not reside on campus, or participate in varsity sports.

Non-Degree Students

Non-degree seeking students may take courses for which they have sufficient preparation and background by registering for the courses in the Registrar's Office. Non-degree students are subject to the same academic regulations as other students. Non-degree students who wish to apply for degree status must do so through the Admissions Office. If admitted, a maximum of ten (three or four-credit) courses taken at Stonehill College as a non-degree student may be applied toward completion of a degree program.

Special Non-Degree Students

Some students who would like to attend the College as a degree-seeking student are allowed to take full-time courses for which they have sufficient preparation and background with the approval of the Office of Admissions, in consultation with Academic Services. These special non-degree students are subject to the same academic regulations as other students. Special Non-degree students who wish to apply for degree status must do so through the Admissions Office. If admitted, a maximum of ten (three or four-credit) courses taken at Stonehill College as a non-degree student may be applied toward completion of a degree program. The academic status and continued enrollment of special non-degree students are reviewed at the conclusion of each academic term by the Admissions Office.

Registration

The academic year is divided into two semesters of approximately fifteen weeks each.

The Registrar's Office is responsible for conducting registration for classes and for all credit-bearing programs. The schedule of courses is updated regularly on the Registrar's homepage at: www.stonehill.edu/registrar.

The College reserves the right to make changes to or cancel any scheduled course offerings. Every attempt will be made to ensure that students can fulfill their programs of study in a timely manner.

A fee of $50 not credited to tuition, is charged to those students who do not complete registration during the dates designated in the Academic Calendar.

Adding and Dropping Courses

A student may add or drop courses from the time he/she registers through the date listed on the Academic Calendar as the last day for Add/Drop.

Auditing Courses

Students may enroll in courses on an "Audit" basis, for no academic credit during the first two weeks of the semester, with the approval of the course instructor. The fee for auditing a course is one-half the tuition fee, unless it is being taken as part of a full-time courseload. The audit is recorded on the student's academic record as "AU", but no grade or credits are assigned. An auditor is expected to attend classes, but is not required to complete assignments or to take examinations.

Credit Overload

Students seeking a B.A. or B.S.B.A. may enroll in up to 17 credits per semester (or 18 credits for B.S. programs). Students, after consulting with their faculty advisor, may petition to take a credit overload by completing a Credit Overload Application available online or in the Office of Academic Services.

Students will pay an additional fee for each credit registered for beyond 18 credits in a given semester (beyond 19 credits in the B.S. degree programs).

The following criteria apply to credit load:

- First year students are not allowed to take more than 17 credits per semester (18 credits for B.S. degree candidates) during the first academic year.
- Students must have a minimum semester GPA or cumulative GPA of 3.30 prior to registering for an overload.
- Registration for an overload will take place within the first seven class days of each semester, except for those courses that have no enrollment caps.
- The Director of Academic Services may approve exceptions to this policy in the case of extenuating circumstances.

Academic Progress

Class Attendance

Students are expected to be regular and prompt in their class attendance. In case of absence, students are responsible for all class work, assignments, and examinations. Any student who misses an examination (other than the Final Examination), a quiz, or any required classroom activity to which a grade is assigned, must consult the instructor as soon as possible regarding the opportunity to make up the work missed. In such cases, it is the instructor who determines whether or not the absence was legitimate; if it was, and if the student has consulted the instructor as soon as possible, the instructor must give a make-up examination or quiz, or provide the student with an equivalent basis for evaluation. If the absence is deemed not to have been legitimate, the instructor has the option to decide whether or not to provide an opportunity to make up the work.

If a student misses three consecutive weeks of classes, due to prolonged illness or any other reason, the instructor has the right to decide whether or not the student will be permitted to make up the work missed.

Any student who is unable, because of religious beliefs, to attend classes or to participate in any examination, study, or work requirement on a particular day shall be excused from any such examination or study or work requirement, and shall be provided with an opportunity to make up such examination, study, or work requirement which may have been missed because of such absence on any particular day provided, however, that such makeup examination or work shall not create an unreasonable burden. No fees of any kind shall be charged for making available to the student such opportunity. No adverse or prejudicial effects shall result to any student because of these provisions.

Examinations

Final examinations are ordinarily held in all courses at the end of each semester. Such examinations may be omitted with the approval of the appropriate Department Chairperson. In addition, other examinations, both written and oral, are given at the discretion of the instructor.

Only for extremely urgent and compelling reasons, such as illness, or death in the immediate family, may a final examination be taken out of regular schedule. The Office of Academic Services must be notified in all such cases and before the time of examination if possible. If approved, the examination is to be taken at a time set by the Office of Academic Services.

The value of the final examination is determined by the instructor. If a student misses the examination without sufficient reason, a grade of "F" is given for this part of the course requirements. The semester grade is then determined in the same way as for students who took the examination. The Final Examination Schedule can be viewed on the Registrar's homepage: www.stonehill.edu/registrar.

Grades and Evaluation

Depending upon the course, faculty members employ different means of evaluation. Since there are numerous variations in faculty policies and requirements, faculty members normally declare their grading criteria explicitly, considering mastery of course material, analytical skills, critical oral and written expression skills, originality, and creativity. The quality of work in a course is indicated by the following grades:

Undergraduate:

Grade	Definition	Quality Points Per Credit Hour
A	Outstanding	4.00
A-		3.70
B+		3.30
B	Superior	3.00
B-		2.70
C+		2.30
C	Satisfactory	2.00
C-		1.70
D	Passing but unsatisfactory	1.00
F	Failure	0.00
IF	Incomplete/Failure	0.00
AU	Audit
I	Incomplete
P	Pass
S	Satisfactory
U	Unsatisfactory
W	Withdrawn

Administrative Grades:

IP	In Progress
NS	Not Submitted

Grades of "AU", "I", "P", "S", "U", and "W" are not assigned quality points and are not included in the computing of the quality-point average.

An "IF" (Incomplete/Failure) is issued when a student has failed to meet the 30-day deadline for completing the work in an incomplete ("I") course. An "IF" is assigned 0.00 quality points, and is calculated as an "F" when computing the students grade-point average.

"IP" (In Progress) is an administrative grade marker automatically assigned to any course that is currently in progress. Quality points are not assigned and are not included in the computing of the grade-point average.

"NS" (Not Submitted) is an administrative grade marker used to indicate that a grade was not submitted by the instructor by the final grading deadline. The "NS" will be replaced with a final grade upon receipt from the course instructor. Quality points are not assigned and the NS grade is not included in the computing of the grade-point average.

Military Science courses are graded "A" to "F", but since grades are not included in the students grade point average the grade is noted with an asterisk on the transcript (e.g. A*).

Mid-Semester Deficiencies

At mid-semester, faculty members are asked to submit deficiency notes which are sent to all undergraduates students who have a grade of C- or lower in any course as an indication of the need for improved performance.

Incomplete or "I" Grades

The grade of "I" can be submitted by the instructor only after permission has been secured from the Office of the Dean of Faculty. It will be given to the student only when the failure to complete the work of the course is due to a serious reason such as prolonged illness. When students receive Incomplete grades, they are granted a period of 30 days, beginning from the last day of final exams, to complete the course work. Failure to complete the course work during this period results in a grade of "IF."

Voluntary Course Withdrawal or "W" Grades

Students are expected to complete all courses, required or elective, in which they are enrolled. It is only for serious reasons that course withdrawal should be considered. Prior to withdrawal, students are strongly urged to consult with their instructor, advisor, and/or the Office of Academic Services, to review the academic consequences of withdrawal. Students are also urged to consult with Student Financial Services since withdrawals may have significant impact upon a student's current or subsequent eligibility for financial aid and/or billed charges.

The grade of "W" is given only if a student has submitted a completed Course Withdrawal Form to the Registrar's Office. Authorized withdrawal from a course will be indicated on the student's permanent academic record. Any student who does not follow the required procedure for withdrawal from a course will receive a failing grade.

Students may withdraw from individual courses until the last day for course withdrawal as determined by the Vice President for Academic Affairs or his or her designee. The last day for course withdrawal will vary based on the Academic Calendar. Requests for course withdrawal after the deadline will be considered only for serious reasons such as prolonged illness.

Course Withdrawal for Medical Reasons

If course withdrawal is due to a medical reason, the College requires that the student provide primary medical documentation to the College's Healthcare Professionals prior to the approval of the course withdrawal. The documentation required will be determined on a case-by-case basis based on the nature of the medical reason presented. In the case of a medical course withdrawal, the Director of Academic Services shall contact, based on the nature of the medical reason presented, either the Director of Counseling and Testing or the Director of Health Services (the Designated Healthcare Professional) and inform them of the need for a medical withdrawal consultation. The Designated Healthcare Professional will determine the documentation required, inform the student of the documentation required, review the documentation, and provide written confirmation to the Director of Academic Services that the documentation presented is sufficient. In the case of a medical course withdrawal, upon receipt of written confirmation of sufficiency, the Director of Academic Services may grant the course withdrawal.

Pass or "P" Grades

The grade of "P" is given to students who successfully complete a course in which they have exercised the Pass-Fail Option. To encourage students to broaden their intellectual interest, the College permits juniors or seniors to employ a Pass-Fail Option in one course each semester. The student who passes such a course will receive a grade of "P" with no quality points figured in the cumulative average. The student who fails such a course will receive a grade of "F" which is counted the same as any other failure. The Pass-Fail Option can be used only in a course which is a free elective and which is taken in a Department other than the student's major or minor Department. For example, Majors or Minors in Business Administration may not take a course Pass-Fail if it has a designation of BUS. Students must fill out a Pass-Fail form in the Registrar's Office during the first two weeks of the semester in order to exercise the Pass-Fail Option.

In addition to the above, any student, except a Foreign Language major or minor, who has previously completed the Foreign Language requirement, may elect the Pass-Fail Option in one or two additional Foreign Language courses, even if this exceeds the maximum number of Pass-Fail courses allowed.

Grade Reports

Students may access their grades online at the end of each semester on myHill. Students may request that the Registrar's Office mail them a copy if they do not have Internet access at home.

Upon written request of the student, the Registrar's Office will send a copy of the grades to the student's parents.

Grade-Point Average

The Semester grade-point average is based on all courses taken in that semester, including failures. It is calculated by (1) multiplying credits for each course by quality points assigned to each grade earned; (2) totaling points earned for all courses; and (3) dividing total points by the number of credits attempted. Cumulative grade-point average is calculated in the above manner for all courses taken at Stonehill College, including failures.

Grades earned in courses accepted in transfer, or in courses approved to be taken at other colleges, are not calculated in either the semester or the cumulative grade-point average.

Grade Changes, Re-evaluation and Dispute Process

Only the instructor of a course can give a grade in that course or change a grade given. Any question on the part of the student concerning the correctness of a grade should be raised first with the instructor. If, after contacting the instructor and the respective department chair, a student does not believe the grade to be equitable, a Grade Re-evaluation Request should be filed in the Dean of the Faculty's Office. Such a request must be made before the middle of the semester following the one in which the grade was given. If, after receiving the explanation of the instructor, the student still feels that the grade is unjust, he or she may appeal to the Academic Appeals Board within 2 weeks. Appeals should be filed in the Dean of the Faculty's Office.

Academic Standing

Students are not only to pass their courses, but also must maintain an acceptable grade point average. Academic status is determined at the end of each semester during the academic year.

To be in good academic standing, a student must earn a minimum GPA of 2.00 and maintain a cumulative GPA of 2.00. Students who fail to achieve a 2.00 are subject to academic probation, separation, or dismissal.

Academic Probation

If a student earns lower than a 2.00, he/she is placed on Academic Probation. Probation remains in effect until the student achieves good academic standing. A first semester of probation has a variety of consequences, including that the student may be prohibited from participation in extra-curricular activities.

Academic Probation may be removed following successful completion of summer school/intersession courses, taken at Stonehill immediately after the semester in which the probation is incurred, if the student's GPA reaches the appropriate standard.

Academic Separation

Students will be separated from the College for the following:

1. Earning a combination of 3 "F"s in any one semester or 4 "F"s in two successive semesters.
2. Qualifying for Academic Probation for the second successive semester, or for 3 non-consecutive semesters.

Appeal Procedures following Academic Separation

Students separated from the College by reason of academic deficiency have the right to appeal the decision to the Academic Review Board. Requests for such an appeal must be made in writing to the Office of Academic Services within a time frame noted in the letter of separation. Failure to appeal within the time stated will, under all but the most extraordinary circumstances, disallow such appeal. If a student's appeal is denied, at least one full semester must elapse before applying for readmission. The right to appeal is restricted to two separations. A second separation results in permanent dismissal from the College.

Period of Separation

During the period of separation, a student may choose to take courses at another accredited institution. If so, those courses must be pre-approved by the Office of Academic Services. Only grades of "C" or better will be transferable. ("C-" grades will not transfer).

Readmission to the College Following Separation

After having been separated for at least one semester, a student may apply for readmission to the College. To do so, the student should send his or her request in writing or by e-mail to the Office of Academic Services. Upon receipt of this letter, a Petition for Readmission form will be sent to the student. This process may be initiated any time after March 15, but should be completed by July 1 for the fall semester. For the spring semester, this process must be completed between October 15 and December 1. In the event a student is readmitted, there is no guarantee of either housing on campus or financial aid. Inquiries about on-campus housing and/or financial aid should be directed to those specific offices.

Academic Dismissal

A student who has been readmitted after an academic separation may be permanently dismissed for the following:

1. Earning lower than a 2.00 in a subsequent semester.
2. Violating the Academic Integrity Policy.

Academic Standards

Class Year Assignment

The Vice President for Academic Affairs has charge of the classification, academic standing, and progress of students. Regardless of the point of admission, students are classified as sophomores if they have completed 10 courses; as juniors if they have completed 20 courses; as seniors if they have completed 30 courses. Students who are no more than 2 courses short of their required number are classified with the higher class.

Beginning with the entering Class of 2014, students will be classified as sophomores when they have reached 30 credits, as juniors when they have reached 60 credits, and as seniors when they have reached 90 credits. Students who are no more than six credits short of the required number may be classified with the higher class.

Requirements for Graduation

It is the personal responsibility of the student to ensure that all academic requirements in the general education, major and minor programs are satisfactorily completed.

The requirements for the degrees of Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, and Bachelor of Science in Business Administration are the following:

- a) satisfactory completion of all course requirements, including general education and major courses. Proof of a grade of "C" or higher for each transfer course; including those from Stonehill sponsored programs (both abroad and domestic), or those taken as part of SACHEM or any other consortia agreement, must be submitted to the Registrar's Office by the due date for final senior grades.
- b) a cumulative grade-point average of a 2.00 or above, (a student who fails to achieve the minimum 2.00 average at the end of the fourth year may be granted on additional semester to achieve it);
- c) satisfactory completion of 40 three or four-credit courses, at least 20 of which must be taken at Stonehill; beginning with those students who enter the Fall of 2010, satisfactory completion of 120 credits, with at least 60 credits taken at Stonehill is required;
- d) attendance at the College for at least two years, one of which is normally the fourth year.
- e) an Application for Graduation on file in the Registrar's Office.

The student is responsible for payment of all financial obligations to the College, and the diploma and academic transcript are withheld until such obligations have been satisfied.

Degrees ordinarily are conferred by the College at the public Commencement Exercises. Candidates for degrees are to be present at these exercises unless excused by the Office of Academic Affairs.

Graduation Dates

While Stonehill only holds one public Commencement Exercise in May, students who complete their degree requirements early may earn their degree at the end of the summer (September 1st) or at the end of the Fall semester (December 31st). May Commencement Exercises will normally be held on the 3rd Sunday of May, when May is a four week month, and on the 4th Sunday of May, when May is a five week month.

To be eligible for May Graduation

A student must satisfactorily complete all degree, major, and general education requirements by no later than the final due date for Spring senior grades.

The official date of graduation on the diploma and transcript will be the date of May Commencement.

To be eligible for September 1st Graduation

A student must satisfactorily complete all degree, major, and general education requirements by no later than August 20th of that year.

The official date of graduation on the diploma and transcript will be September 1. Diplomas will be mailed by October.

To be eligible for December 31st Graduation

A student must satisfactorily complete all degree, major, and general education requirements by no later than the final due date for Fall semester grades.

The official date of graduation on the diploma and transcript will be December 31st. Diplomas will be mailed by February.

Students who graduate on September 1st or December 31st will be considered part of the following year's graduating class year. Students who continue part-time to complete their degree requirements may not be eligible for Financial Aid or student housing.

Participation in Commencement Exercises

Any student who has completed all official degree requirements by the final due date for Senior Spring grades and who has an approved "Application for Graduation" on file in the Registrar's Office will be allowed to participate in May Commencement Exercises.

Seniors who are within two courses of meeting their graduation requirements and have submitted an approved "Application to Participate in Commencement" to the Registrar's Office by the last day of spring final exams may be eligible to participate in the May Commencement prior to completion of the final requirements. Students must also have an approved plan to complete these final requirements during the summer on file with the Office of Academic Services as part of the application to participate process.

Students approved to participate in Commencement prior to the completion of all final requirements will be noted in the Commencement Program without final honors designation. Diplomas will be mailed to these students upon completion and certification of all final requirements on the College's next official date of degree conferment.

September graduates who participate in the May Commencement prior to their degree completion may not participate in the following May Commencement. September graduates who do not attend the May Commencement prior to degree completion are automatically included in the next May Commencement.

Normally, December graduates may not participate in the Commencement prior to degree completion. December graduates are automatically included in the May Commencement following degree completion.

Selection of a Major

Degree candidates must declare at least one major field of study before the end of the first semester of the junior year or prior to enrollment in the final 45 credits. Some majors require the selection of a concentration within the major.

To declare or change a major, a student must submit a Major Declaration Form, signed by the appropriate Department Chairperson or Program Director to the Registrar's Office. Major Declaration Forms are available on the Registrar's website and in the Registrar's and Academic Services Offices.

Double Major

A student may enroll in two majors, subject to the approval of the respective Department Chairpersons or Program Directors and in consultation with the Office of Academic Services. This option must be requested by completing the Declaration of Major Form and a four-year plan. Major Declaration Forms and Four-Year Plan Forms are available on the Registrar's website and in the Registrar's and Academic Services Offices.

In some cases a student may need to enroll in more than 120 credits in order to satisfy the requirements of both majors. In some cases students will be assessed additional fees.

A student who satisfactorily completes two majors will receive one degree from the College, with this exception: If a student satisfactorily completes the requirements for two majors and the second major is in a different degree program (B.A. vs. B.S. vs. B.S.B.A.), a second degree will be awarded, even if it is completed after the student's official graduation. The student will be given the option of selecting which degree will be presented at Commencement.

Selection of Minor

A student may choose a disciplinary and/or interdisciplinary minor area of study, either as an alternative field of specialization or for intellectual enrichment. Generally a minor consists of no more than six courses and ensures breadth and depth beyond the introductory level and outside the major.

A student may declare a maximum of one disciplinary minor and one interdisciplinary minor.

To declare or change a minor a student must submit a Minor Declaration Form, signed by the appropriate minor program advisor to the Registrar's Office. Minor Declaration Forms are available on the Registrar's website and in the Registrar's and Academic Services Offices. Students wishing to create an interdisciplinary minor will also be required to submit an additional application which is available in the Director of the Martin Institute's Office.

Dean's List

Full-time students achieve the distinction of Dean's List in any semester in which they successfully complete all their courses (no grades of "I" or "W") and achieve a semester average of 3.50 or above with a minimum of 12 credits graded in a traditional rubric and no grade of "C" or below. An exception to this policy will be made for students who receive an incomplete grade due to a course extending beyond the end of the semester. Part-time students are not eligible for this honor.

Honors at Graduation

Honors at graduation are awarded to recipients of undergraduate degrees for the following cumulative grade-point averages based on a minimum of 60 credits taken at Stonehill:

- Cum Laude: 3.50
- Magna Cum Laude: 3.70
- Summa Cum Laude: 3.90

Stonehill College Academic Honor Code, Policy and Procedures

Academic Honor Code

In the context of a community of scholarship and faith, and anchored in a belief in the inherent dignity of each person, the students, faculty, staff and administration of Stonehill College maintain an uncompromising commitment to academic integrity. We promote a climate of intellectual and ethical integrity and vigorously uphold the fundamental values of honesty, trust, fairness, and the responsibility while fostering an atmosphere of mutual respect within and beyond the classroom. Any violation of these basic values threatens the integrity of the educational process, the development of ideas, and the unrestricted exchange of knowledge. Therefore, we will not participate in or tolerate academic dishonesty.

Academic Integrity Policy

All member of the College community have the responsibility to be familiar with, to support, and to abide by the College's Academic Honor Code. This responsibility includes reporting knowledge of or suspected violations of this policy to the appropriate faculty member or to the Director of Academic Services or designee.

Violations of the Academic Integrity Policy include but are not limited to the following actions:

- a) Presenting another's work as if it were one's own;
- b) Failing to acknowledge or document a source even if the action is unintended (i.e., plagiarism);
- c) Giving or receiving, or attempting to give or receive, unauthorized assistance or information in an assignment or examination;
- d) Fabricating data;
- e) Submitting the same assignment in two or more courses without prior permission of the respective instructors;
- f) Having another person write a paper or sit for an examination;

- g) Unauthorized use or electronic devices to complete work; or
- h) Furnishing false information, including lying or fabricating excuses, for incomplete work.

Each year, the Vice President for Academic Affairs is responsible for maintaining and publishing a set of procedures relative to the Academic Integrity Policy. These procedures can be accessed through the Office of Academic Services.

Academic Integrity Procedures

Authority

1. The Vice President for Academic Affairs (VPAA) is responsible for the overall administration of the Academic Honor Code. Under the direction of the VPAA, the Director of Academic Services or designee has been charged with the day-to-day responsibility for the administration of the Academic Honor Code, including the development and execution of all procedural rules related to academic integrity. The Director of Academic Services or designee is also responsible for protecting the rights of all parties involved throughout the entire hearing process. All Academic Integrity Reports will be held in confidential files in the Office of Academic Services.
2. The Director of Academic Service or designee gives each faculty member the right to approach a student suspected of violating the Academic Integrity Policy to determine whether or not a violation has occurred, and if so, decide the appropriate sanction for the violation.
3. The Director of Academic Services or designee gives authority to the Academic Integrity Board (AIB) to conduct hearings on alleged violations of the academic integrity policy when an agreement cannot be reached between the faculty member and student regarding the violation or the sanction.
4. The Director of Academic Services or designee gives authority to the Academic Appeals Board (AAB) to hear appeal cases regarding violations of the academic integrity policy.

Academic Hearing Boards

The purpose of the Academic Integrity Board (AIB) is to review statements from a charged student, the faculty member, and witnesses with knowledge of the incident when there is a dispute over either the alleged violation or sanction. The AIB determines whether or not the charged student violated the academic integrity policy, and determines the nature of the sanction if the charged student is found responsible.

The AIB contains representatives from students, faculty, and administrators. Because these hearings must occur soon after the alleged event, a representing group of faculty and students will be trained so that a quorum of five AIB members can be present to conduct a hearing. The Board will be comprised of two faculty, two students, and Director of Academic

Services or designee who serves as chair of the Board. The Director of Community Standards serves as an “ex officio” member of the Board, ensuring appropriate procedures are followed. Members of the College community may nominate student members of AIB. From these nominations, the Student Government Association will appoint students to serve on the AIB for the following academic year. The Faculty Senate will appoint two faculty members from each division and fill any vacancies during the year by appointment. Members of the AIB may not serve of the Academic Appeals Board.

The Academic Appeals Board (AAB) is charged with hearing all requests for appeals resulting from an AIB hearing. A quorum of three AAB members must be present to conduct a hearing. The AAB is comprised of one faculty member and one student representative, chaired by the Dean of Faculty or designee. Members of the College community may nominate student members for the AAB. From these nominations, the Student Government Association will appoint students to serve on the AAB for the following academic year. The Faculty Senate will appoint one faculty from each division and fill any vacancies during the year by appointment. Members of the AAB may not serve on the Academic Integrity Board. It is expected that all hearing board members be impartial. All decisions by the AIB and AAB will be arrived at by a simple majority vote. The chairperson will vote only in case of a tie. All board findings are reviewed by the Vice President of Academic Affairs before being released.

In order to participate on either board, all members must complete a training process. The term of office for AIB and AAB board members will be two years for faculty members and one year for students. There are no specific term limits for board members. Student members of the AIB and AAB must be full-time students in good academic and disciplinary standing. If a student member does not maintain good academic or disciplinary standing, he or she will be removed from the AIB or AAB for that academic year. A member of the AIB or AAB may be removed from the Board for non-fulfillment of duties essential to the position. A majority vote of the members is required for removal.

Charged students are required to attend all hearings related to academic integrity violations. Hearings are not open to the public and are confidential in nature. Therefore, friends, parents, siblings, or legal counsel may not be permitted in the room where the hearing takes place but, may wait nearby for support purposes. However, charged students are encouraged to be advised by an advocate during the process, which is defined as a faculty, administrator, staff member or member from the student body who is not an attorney.

In the absence of a functioning AIB or AAB, such as before the appointment of members or at the end of an academic semester, the Director of Academic Services or designee may appoint an impartial group of faculty, administrators, and students to review the case.

Initiation of Academic Integrity Procedures

Faculty members must respect the student's right to confidentiality during this process. Discussion of any matters related to the event that would violate the student's confidentiality should be avoided. Faculty members seeking advice from others should not use the names of the alleged students and should be careful not to reveal confidential information. Designated staff members in the Office of Academic Services are available for confidential consultation.

When a faculty member suspects a violation of the Academic Integrity Policy, the faculty member meets privately with the student as soon as possible but within five business days of discovering the alleged violation, presents the evidence, and asks for an explanation. The faculty member and student may arrive at one of the following conclusions:

- Both agree that violation did not occur and the case is dismissed. No written report is necessary.
- Both agree that the action was an unintentional matter resulting from miscommunication or lack of understanding. The faculty member and student agree to a limited sanction which can include a reduction in the grade for the assignment, a requirement to rewrite and submit the assignment and/or the requirement that the student schedule an appointment with the Writing Center personnel for assistance on proper procedure. Reporting of the incident to the Director of Academic Services is left to the discretion of the faculty member.
- Both agree a violation did occur and come to an agreement on appropriate sanctions within five business days of their initial meeting. The faculty member imposes the appropriate sanction, depending on the nature and severity of the violation. The faculty member submits an Academic Integrity Incident Report to the Director of Academic Services or designee who will send a copy of the report to the student. The Director of Academic Services or designee will review all reports to determine if a repeated offense has occurred. In cases of a repeated offense, the AIB will be convened.
- The faculty member and student are not able to reach an agreement about either the violation or the sanction. The faculty members is then required to submit, within five business days from when the initial meeting occurred with the student, an Academic Integrity Incident Report to the Director of Academic Services or designee who will send a copy of the report to the student. The Director of Academic Services or designee will refer the case to the AIB.

In cases where the personal safety of a faculty member is a concern, the faculty member may either request a third party to be present when meeting with the student or may report the violation directly to the chair of the AIB or designee without prior discussion of the incident with the student.

The student and faculty member involved will be contacted by the chair of the AIB to arrange a date, time and place of the hearing through a written notice. During this contact, the faculty member and student can recommend witnesses.

Formal AIB hearings will be conducted as soon as possible but no sooner than two business days nor more than ten business days after the charged student has been notified.

Specific time limits within the process may be extended at the discretion of the Director of Academic Services or designee.

Students Rights to formal AIB and AAB Board Hearings

A charged student will be considered notified of the charges once the Academic Integrity Incident Report has been mailed to the student's local or campus address on file with the College.

A student charged with allegedly violating the Academic Integrity Policy will be entitled to:

- a. be notified of the date, time and place of the formal discipline hearing, as well as the names of the witnesses (if applicable) called to the hearing;
- b. receive notice of the fact that failure to appear for a formal hearing may result in the hearing being conducted in the absence of the charged student;
- c. provide in writing the names of witnesses with knowledge of the incident that may appear at a formal discipline hearing on his/her behalf to the Director of Academic Services or designee, within twenty-four hours of the hearing. Character witnesses are not permitted;
- d. be notified of the fact that he/she may request additional information about the Honor Code;
- e. challenge the composition of the hearing board with cause;
- f. present his/her case;
- g. decline to answer any questions or make any statements during a formal board hearing. Such silence will not be used against the charged student; however, the outcome of the formal hearing will be based upon the information of lack thereof presented at the hearing
- h. be advised by an advocate, who is defined as a faculty, administrator, staff member or member of the student body who is not an attorney.
- i. be informed in writing of the decision and sanction, if any, within three business days of a hearing; and
- j. request an appeal of the decision resulting from an AIB hearing with five business days of receiving the decision in writing. A charged student is entitled to one appeal.

Academic Integrity Board Hearings Procedure

The order of Academic Integrity Board hearings will proceed as follows:

- a. Review and signing of the Honesty Statement;
- b. Reading of the alleged violations(s);

- c. Charged student's opportunity to challenge member(s) of the Academic Integrity Board for Bias;
- d. Charged student's plea;
- e. Charged student's statement;
- f. Faculty member's statement;
- g. Witness' statement(s);
- h. Person who believes he/she was the victim of the student's Academic Integrity Violation statement;
- i. Charged student's closing statement;
- j. Discussion and decision making in close session.

Sanctions

Faculty members and hearing boards review cases on their own individual merit and determine appropriate sanctions. Possible sanctions can include but are not limited to: warning, reduction or loss of credit for the assignment, or failure of the course. Sanctions of separation or dismissal from the College may only be imposed by the AIB and AAB. In the case of a student with past academic integrity violations, these violations will only be considered when a decision has been made and a sanction is being determined.

For a repeated offense, the AIB may separate the student for a minimum of two semesters. If a student who has been separated for past academic integrity violation is re-admitted and violates the policy again, the AIB permanently dismisses the student from the College. Sanctions do not become effective until the appeal process is completed.

The Director of Academic Services or designee may impose interim restriction(s) upon a student pending a formal board hearing. Interim restrictions become effective immediately without prior notice whenever the Director of Academic Services or designee, believes the student may cause serious disruption to the College community.

However, interim restrictions may include: separation from the College; restriction of communication with named individuals or faculty within the College community; or the restriction from attending a particular class.

Whenever reasonably possible, a meeting between the charged student and Director of Academic Services or designee will be held prior to the imposition of interim restrictions. The charged students will have the opportunity to meet with the Director of Academic Services or designee to present his/her version of the facts, and to indicate why interim restrictions should not be imposed. Following this meeting, the decision of the Director Of Academic Services or designee will be final.

Appeals

1. If a student and faculty member both agree that a violation did occur and they are able to come to an agreement on an appropriate sanction, then this outcome may not be appealed.

2. A charged student or faculty member may submit a request for an appeal of a decision or sanction resulting from AIB hearing no later than five business days after receiving written notice of the decision or sanction.
3. A request for an appeal is to be submitted in writing to the Director of Academic Services or designee.
4. The Director of Academic Services or designee refers the request to the Dean of Faculty or designee who serves as the chair of the AAB.
5. Appeals will be considered based on the following criteria:
 - a. Failure to follow the stated processes or procedures that significantly prejudices the outcome;
 - b. Insufficient or inappropriate evidence used to justify a decision; or
 - c. Unjustified sanction.
6. Upon receipt of the request for an appeal, the Director of Academic Services or designee will normally refer the request to the AAB within 10 business days.
7. In reviewing the request the AAB may:
 - a. Determine there are no grounds for the appeal, thus upholding the AIB decision;
 - b. refer the case to the AIB that originally heard the case for re-consideration of special issues;
 - c. change the original decision or sanction after reasonable review of the appeal request and the decision rationale of the AIB; or
 - d. Determine the appeal request merits a formal appeal hearing and schedule a hearing no later than 10 business days from the date the request is reviewed. Typically, a formal appeal hearing would not be granted unless significant prejudices result from deviations of designated procedures.
8. All decisions, once realized by the AAB, are binding.

Academic Discipline Records

1. Academic discipline records are educational records are maintained in the Office of Academic Services for seven years post-graduation. These records are kept confidential and are shared only under the following circumstances: (a) in the case of a repeated violation of the Academic Integrity Policy; (b) upon request of student; and, (c) upon request from law enforcement.
2. Academic discipline records are not considered to be part of a student's permanent academic record maintained by the College. However, a violation of the Academic Integrity Policy that results in a sanction of college separation or college dismissal is considered part of the student's permanent record.

Interpretation and Revisions

Any questions of interpretation or application of the Academic Integrity Procedures will be referred to the Director of Academic Services or designee for determination.

Credit Earned Away From Stonehill

Transfer of Credit

All courses taken away from Stonehill must be pre-approved by the Office of Academic Services. Only courses passed with a grade equivalent to the Stonehill grade of "C" or higher are accepted for credit transfer. An earned grade of "C-" will not transfer. Transfer grades are not recorded on the Stonehill transcript and are not included in the computation of the cumulative grade-point average. Credits earned abroad must be transferred to Stonehill College as soon possible after the semester abroad. It is the responsibility of the student to request that an official transcript be sent directly to the Academic Services Office at Stonehill College. The Academic Services Office in consultation with the appropriate academic departments makes the final determination of the applicability of courses in transfer to a major or minor sequence, as well as to fulfillment of General Education requirements.

Upper-level courses required for completion of a student's major, minor, or general education requirements are normally taken at Stonehill College. A number of courses (not to exceed more than half the required courses in a major or minor) may be accepted in transfer toward completion of major or minor requirements with approval from the appropriate chairperson.

International Study

A student registered at Stonehill College who wishes to take any course at an international college must submit an online application for admission to International Programs, available on the Stonehill College Webpage: www.stonehill.edu/internationalprograms.xml.

Students who are approved for the Study Abroad Program by the Director of International Programs must obtain pre-approval for all academic courses they are planning to take at the international educational institution. Students must complete the Study Abroad Course Approval Form during the semester before they leave to be eligible to transfer credit back to Stonehill College. Students must have all courses in fulfillment of their major and/or minor requirements and departmental electives approved by the chairperson of the appropriate department. A member of the Academic Services Office must approve all other courses for transfer.

Second semester seniors generally are not allowed to enroll in courses elsewhere during the spring semester.

Advanced Placement

The College participates in the Advanced Placement program administered by the College Entrance Examination Board. Each academic department establishes criteria for awarding placement and credit. Placement and credit awards are as follows:

Students who have taken part in the Advanced Placement program during high school may request advanced credit. To receive credit, students must request that an official score report be sent to the Office of Academic Services. Requests should be made to: AP Exams, P.O. Box 6671, Princeton, NJ 08541-6671.

As noted above, generally a score of 4 or higher is accepted for transfer as major or elective credit. Advanced Placement credit cannot be applied toward the Critical Encounters Core curriculum. In addition, students who are granted Stonehill College credit for Advanced Placement tests are not allowed to enroll in introductory courses in the same area(s) in which credit has been granted. All Advanced Placement Credits are approved by the Office of Academic Services.

College Level Examination Program (CLEP)

Stonehill College does not grant college credit or course exemption through the College Level Examination Program (CLEP) of the College Entrance Examination Board. An exception to this policy will be made for students in the part-time degree program who have been in attendance and in good academic standing in Stonehill in the past two years. The maximum number of credits that these students can earn by CLEP examination is 15. Credits are approved for scores of 50 or higher. Students must consult the Office of Academic Services for credit approval before taking a CLEP exam.

International Baccalaureate (IB) Credit Policy

Stonehill recognizes the level of academic achievement represented by the successful completion of coursework in the International Baccalaureate Program. Stonehill will award 6-8 credits (2 courses) of transfer credit for each Higher Level (HL) exam with a score of 5, 6, or 7. Credit will not be given for Standard Level examinations. Students who have taken both AP and IB examinations in the same subject area do not receive credit for both.

The High School/College Dual Enrollment Policy

Stonehill College recognizes that some students may be offered the opportunity to enroll in college-level courses prior to their high school graduation. The College is willing to consider the acceptance of the academic credits earned in such courses. Ordinarily, the College will accept no more than three courses in transfer under this policy. Students who successfully complete dual enrollment courses at accredited institutions should submit an official transcript to the Office of Academic Services by July 1.

Courses are evaluated on an individual basis, according to the following criteria:

- Transfer credit is given for three-credit or four-credit courses in which the student has received the equivalent of a grade of "C" or higher, and which are comparable to courses offered at Stonehill.
- Final approval of all such courses will be made by the Office of Academic Services. Students who wish to obtain academic credit for any dual enrollment courses should plan to meet with Academic Services Advisors at the beginning of their first semester at Stonehill.

Transcript Requests

In order to protect a student's right to privacy, a transcript can be released by the Registrar's Office only at the written request of the student. Requests for transcripts must be made in writing to the Registrar's Office and will not be accepted by telephone. Emailed requests will also not be accepted, except in cases where a scanned transcript request with student's signature is attached to the email. To obtain an online transcript request form, go to: www.stonehill.edu/registrar.

In accordance with the usual practice of colleges and universities, official transcripts normally are mailed directly by the College, not transmitted by the student. A transcript is official when it bears the seal of the College and the signature of the Registrar. Students may request unofficial transcripts for personal use. Transcripts will be issued only when all financial obligations to the College have been satisfied. There is no fee for transcripts.

Legal Statements

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA)

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA), also known as the Buckley Amendment, affords students certain rights with respect to their education records. The Act gives students the right to inspect and review their education records, the right to seek to amend their education records, and the right to have some control over the disclosure of information from their education records.

At the beginning of each academic year all students are given a copy of Notification of Rights under FERPA. A statement of the full policy can be found on page 144 in this book. Additional copies and further information can be obtained from the Registrar's Office or from the Registrar's Office homepage at: www.stonehill.edu/registrar.

Support Services for Students with Disabilities

Services for students with disabilities are coordinated by the Center for Academic Achievement. Students with disabilities should contact the Director of the Center to request accommodations. Reasonable accommodations are made for students with learning and/or physical disabilities. Stonehill College is committed to upholding the regulations of Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 as well as the Americans with Disabilities Act.

Admissions

First-Year Candidates for Fall Semester Admission

Application Deadlines:

Early Decision – November 1
 Early Action – November 1
 Regular Decision – January 15

Financial Aid Deadlines for filing the PROFILE form:

Early Decision – October 15
 Early Action – February 1
 Regular Decision – February 1

Enrollment Deposit Deadlines:

Early Decision – December 31
 Early Action – May 1
 Regular Decision – May 1

All first-year candidates for admission must submit by the established deadline a completed first-year application – either the Common Application, the Universal College Application or the Stonehill Application. Candidates must also submit an official high school transcript, SAT or ACT scores (optional), two Teacher Evaluation forms, a completed Secondary School Report, and a $60 filing fee. Any application for the fall semester received after the January 15 deadline will be reviewed on a space available basis. Spring semester first-year candidate applications must be submitted by November 1.

The high school requirements are such that the curriculum must meet both the general requirements of a pre-college course and the particular requirements of Stonehill College. Most successful applicants have prepared for the rigors of Stonehill by taking a demanding college preparatory program in high school including: 4 units of English; 4 units of mathematics; 3 units of science; 3 units of foreign language; and 4 combined units of history, political science, and social sciences. To these units are to be added 2 academic elective subjects.

Although Stonehill College is test optional, students are encouraged to submit SAT or ACT scores if they believe it will be valuable supportive information to the review process. Information concerning their respective testing organizations can be obtained online at www.collegeboard.com or at www.act.org. The Stonehill College code numbers are 3770 (SAT) and 1918 (ACT). A student's application cannot be acted upon until the Committee on Admissions receives the official high school transcript including grades for 9, 10, 11, and the first marking period of grade 12.

The Early Decision Plan is an early binding program intended for the student for whom Stonehill is their first-choice school. Under the Early Decision Plan, you are permitted to apply for regular admission to other institutions, but you may apply to only one institution for Early Decision. If you are accepted to Stonehill, you agree to enroll, submit a non-refundable $500 commitment deposit by December 31, and withdraw all other applications. Applicants not accepted for Early Decision will be denied or deferred to the Regular Decision Plan. To be considered for financial assistance, file the College Scholarship Service (CSS) PROFILE form by October 15. File the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) no earlier than January 1 and no later than February 1. As a financial aid candidate, you are not required to submit a commitment deposit unless your financial need, as determined via the CSS PROFILE, has been met.

The Early Action Plan is a non-binding program. This plan notifies a student in early January if they have been accepted without requiring a non-refundable $500 commitment deposit until May 1. The deadline to file a PROFILE form for financial aid consideration is February 1. File the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) no earlier than January 1 and no later than February 1. Financial aid notifications are issued between March 15 and April 1.

If you apply for the Regular Decision Plan, you should return all application materials to Stonehill no later than January 15. Notification regarding acceptance is between March 1 and March 15. The deadline to file a PROFILE form for financial aid consideration is February 1. File the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) no earlier than January 1 and no later than February 1. Financial aid awards are mailed between March 15 and April 1. A $500 non-refundable deposit is required by May 1.

Deferred Admission

Stonehill offers the opportunity for an accepted first-year candidate to postpone attendance for one or two semesters. A student who wishes to defer admission must request this in writing and explain the reason(s) for the deferral to the Dean of Admissions and Enrollment, Stonehill College, 320 Washington Street, Easton, MA 02357-5610. Only candidates who have submitted the $500 non-refundable deposit may seek a deferral. Campus housing and financial assistance may not be guaranteed. Deferment is nullified if a student attends another college in the interim. A candidate who decides to participate in college credit courses while deferred can apply to Stonehill as a transfer applicant.

Advanced Placement (AP), and International Baccalaureate

Stonehill participates in the AP and IB programs and will grant advanced credits to students who have taken the Advanced Placement or International Baccalaureate examinations while in high school. (Refer to page 109 for Advanced Placement and International Baccalaureate detailed information.)

Transfer Candidates

A student wishing to transfer to Stonehill College from another college or university must submit the following items:

- a completed transfer application – either the Common Application, the Universal College Application or the Stonehill Application. Candidates must also submit a Stonehill Supplemental Information Form for Transfer Applicants, a College Official's Report, two College Instructor Evaluations, and a $60 filing fee;
- an official high school transcript;
- an official transcript from each post-secondary institution which the student attended;
- course descriptions for all courses a student has taken at post-secondary institutions. Course descriptions can be submitted by sending in a college catalogue with the student's name on the front cover and the courses taken marked, or course descriptions can be downloaded from an online catalog and submitted as a Word document;
- the short answer essay and the personal essay described in the Transfer Application.

Transfer applications should be filed no later than November 1 for the spring semester and April 1 for the fall semester. Transfer candidates that apply after the November 1 and April 1 deadlines will be reviewed on a space available basis.

Transfer Credit Evaluation

Transfer credit may be awarded for comparable courses successfully completed at other accredited colleges or universities. Students must have earned a grade of "C" or higher in courses worth three- or four-semester hour credits to be eligible for credit transfer. Upon acceptance to Stonehill a student will receive a preliminary evaluation of transferable credit. Once the student has committed to Stonehill College a more comprehensive evaluation will be forwarded to the student.

Transfer students may be asked to submit course syllabi to ensure the appropriate evaluation of courses. Final articulation of transfer credits in a major or minor sequence and in the Cornerstone Program is determined by the Associate Director of Academic Services in consultation with the appropriate academic department.

Transfer Student Residence Requirement

A transfer student must attend the College for at least two years, including the fourth year, to qualify for a Stonehill degree. During this time the student must complete at least 20 courses.

International Candidates

Applicants who are not U.S. citizens or Permanent Residents of the United States should submit the following items by January 15 for the fall semester or November 1 for the spring semester:

- a completed international application – either the Common Application, the Universal College Application or the Stonehill application, an International Supplemental Form for International Applicants, and a $75 application fee;
- an official copy of a secondary school transcript, leaving certificate or national exam results with an official English translation if necessary;
- international transfer students should submit

- university transcripts and course descriptions from each university attended;
- d. those students whose native language is not English must have official results of the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) sent to the Stonehill Admissions Office. More information about registering for the TOEFL can be found online at www.ets.org/toefl/
- e. the International Student Financial Statement along with financial documentation of the ability to meet educational and living expenses at Stonehill. Stonehill rarely awards financial aid to international applicants;
- f. the submissions of official SAT or ACT scores is optional.

Financial Information

Student Financial Services is located in Duffy Academic Center. It is the source of all information regarding financial aid, provides counseling on financial aid matters and alternative financing, and functions as the clearinghouse for all financial obligations owed to the College by students. Within this office, the Associate Director for Student Accounts bills students for tuition, fees, room and board, traffic fines, residence hall damage, etc. All billing questions should be addressed to Student Financial Services.

This information is also accessible via the Internet on the College website at www.stonehill.edu, under Admissions and Financial Aid.

Notwithstanding any language to the contrary, the College makes the presumption that all students must register each semester. If a student fails to do so, College privileges may be revoked including but not limited to access to classes, the residence halls and meal plan. No student can register until his/her obligations to the College, financial and otherwise have been cleared through the appropriate office.

- Bills for the fall semester are sent during July. Bills for the spring semester are sent during November.
- Payment of fall semester billing is due by August 6. Payment of spring semester billing is due by December 15.
- Payment is made by check or money order, payable to Stonehill College, and addressed to the College Cashier, Stonehill College, Easton, Massachusetts 02357. No payment is considered officially received until it has been receipted by the College Cashier.
- A late payment fee of 1.00% per month is charged on any balance outstanding after the due dates noted above.
- When all outstanding obligations to the College have been satisfied and health insurance coverage has been verified, the Director of Student Financial Services will notify the Registrar that the student is eligible to register.
- To complete registration, the student must finalize any required process online.

Bills for the fall semester are mailed in July and due in full by August 6. Bills for the spring semester are mailed in November and due in full by December 15. Bills are generated in the student's name and sent to the permanent address unless Student Financial Services is instructed by the student, in writing, to do otherwise. Part-time students who do not register for courses prior to July 1 for the fall and November 1 for the spring must pay all charges in full when registering for their courses.

A late payment fee of 1.00% of any outstanding balance will be assessed on the day following the due date. Moreover, an additional 1.00% of the unpaid balance will be charged for each subsequent month in which a balance remains unpaid. Students are not billed separately for this charge.

The College is not responsible for bills that are lost in the mail, returned for address correction, or otherwise undeliverable. Students and their families should be aware that the due dates for each semester typically remain constant from year to year and, if necessary, it is their responsibility to request a duplicate bill in time to meet the payment date, or, the student may view account information online through myHill. The due date is not adjusted, nor is the late charge waived, if a bill mailed by the College in a timely manner is not received (or is received late) by the addressee.

The College has the right to refuse personal checks for any payment made after the due date and may require all future remittance via cash, bank check, or money order for students or families who have jeopardized their credit standing with the College. The College does not accept direct payment using credit/debit cards.

Except for courses accepted in transfer from another institution, foreign or domestic, all credits applied toward a degree are billed by and payable to Stonehill, including credits earned at an off-campus location such as an internship site or a school where practice teaching takes place.

If an institution or agency charges a service fee to the College for the supervision of student interns, etc., the College will pay the fee if the student's current tuition payment to the College is sufficient to cover the fee. Otherwise the student shall be responsible for paying the fee.

Billing for External Programs

The College has a policy of Direct Billing for matriculated Stonehill students who participate in approved international or domestic external programs (whether internships or study abroad experiences) that are not provided by the College.

The College will contract with each program provider to offer the agreed-upon academic experience and will forward all deposits and institutionally-negotiated program fees to the provider on behalf of the students approved to participate by the International Programs Office. If the student ultimately attends the external program, the College will be reimbursed for the pre-paid deposit and program fees through the tuition, fees, and room/board assessed to his/her account. If the student does not attend the external program, for any reason whatsoever after the College has paid the deposit and/or program fees on his/her behalf, the student is obligated to reimburse the College for the full amount of any non-refundable deposit, in addition to any charges for standard tuition, fees, and room and board that are assessed to the student's account.

Students in approved external programs will be charged and billed for current Stonehill tuition and mandatory fees, plus Stonehill's room and/or board if the provider's advertised standard program costs include room and/or board. If the program fee includes tuition but not room and board, the student will be charged Stonehill's tuition and mandatory fees only. If the program fee includes tuition and room, the student will be charged Stonehill's tuition, mandatory fees, and room and board minus the initial declining balance established for Meal Plan C. If the program fee includes tuition, room and board, the student will be charged Stonehill's tuition, mandatory fees, and room and board.

Students will retain all of their financial aid including institutional discounts with the following exceptions:

- non-institutional funds that stipulate that they are unable to be used for such purposes will be returned to the funding source;
- non-basketball athletically related aid for sports scheduled during the semester abroad without special permission of the coach of that intercollegiate athletic team;
- Stonehill Basketball Scholarships and Tuition Exchange Scholarships are not transferable. Students normally holding such funding will be responsible for paying the College the full negotiated external program fees.

Health Insurance

State law requires that students taking nine or more credits carry health insurance and annually provide proof of such insurance to the College. At the beginning of each academic year, all students enrolled in nine or more credits are billed for insurance coverage under Stonehill College Accident and Sickness Insurance policy offered by Gallagher Koster Insurance. This premium may be waived only when the College receives the completed online waiver from Gallagher Koster Insurance at gallagherkoster.com. The insurance premium on your bill will be cancelled ONLY if the online waiver process is completed by the payment due date. The standard late fee is charged against the assessed insurance premium if the waiver process is not completed on time, regardless of whether or not the insurance is waived. Students wishing to enroll in the College's plan must complete an online acceptance at Gallagher Koster Insurance. Coverage extends from August 15 to August 14. You will not be permitted to start classes until Stonehill College receives electronic confirmation from Gallagher Koster Insurance that the waiver or acceptance process is complete.

Room Guarantee/Charge

Students planning to live on campus will be assessed an annual $100 non-refundable Room Guarantee Charge. For new resident students, this charge will appear on their accounts along with room and board charges. For returning resident students, this charge will be assessed at the time of housing selection each spring semester. This charge serves two purposes:

- First: it acts as a reservation fee. Any student who withdraws from campus housing after reserving a room for the following year will forfeit his/her Room Guarantee Charge.
- Second: This charge will cover costs associated with general/zone campus damage, not attributable to an individual(s), and normal wear and tear both within individual students' rooms and the residence halls.

Current resident students who do not intend to return to housing for the following academic year must notify the Director of Residence Life in writing by the date by which housing selection forms are due in order to avoid the Room Guarantee Charge. Those students who submit housing selection forms and then withdraw from housing will forfeit their Room Guarantee Charge.

Students residing on campus for at least one semester during the academic year will be charged the full annual fee.

Guarantee Deposits

All incoming students will pay a guarantee deposit of $500 by the specified commitment date. The disposition of the deposit is based on residency status. Students accepted as commuters will be credited the $500 deposit on the first tuition bill.

The guarantee deposit for accepted resident students will be divided to cover the $100 room guarantee charge (as described above). The remaining $400 will be credited to the first tuition bill. These deposits are not refundable.

Withdrawal from the College or from Residency

A student may voluntarily withdraw from the College for personal or medical reasons or the College may involuntarily withdraw a student from the College for disciplinary, administrative or medical reasons. The College must approve any withdrawal request.

Voluntary Withdrawal from the College for Personal Reasons

A student may voluntarily withdraw from the College for personal reasons. Personal reasons are defined as any legitimate reason other than a medical reason. A student who wishes to withdraw from the College for personal reasons must sign and complete the College Withdrawal Form available in the Office of Academic Services. A student withdrawing for personal reasons must receive the signed approval of the Director of Academic Services in consultation with the Vice President for Academic Affairs or his or her designee. Signed approval will normally only be granted upon the student's completion and submission of the College Withdrawal Form and the completion of an Exit Interview with the Office of Academic Services.

Student I.D.'s must be returned at this time. For resident students, room keys must be returned to the Residence Life Office. Students who withdraw from the College after the last official date of classes are considered to have completed the courses for which they were enrolled on the last class day of that semester. In those cases where the specific last date of class attendance must be determined, the student's faculty are contacted in order to establish such date.

Students contemplating a withdrawal or change in their enrollment status are encouraged to meet with Student Financial Services prior to completing the withdrawal process to discuss the financial impact of their decision, including refund eligibility, Satisfactory Academic Progress requirements, future eligibility for financial aid, and the possibility of having to pay for a course in which the student is no longer enrolled and for which (s)he will receive no credit.

Readmission to the College following Voluntary Withdrawal

Students who previously attended Stonehill College but withdrew prior to completing their program must apply to the Office of Academic Services for readmission. This process may be initiated any time after March 15, but should be completed by July 1 for the fall semester. For the spring semester, this process must be completed between October 15 and December 1.

Voluntary Withdrawals from Residency for Personal Reasons

A student may voluntarily withdraw from residency for personal reasons. Personal reasons are defined as any legitimate reason other than a medical reason. A student who wishes to withdraw from residency for personal reasons must sign and complete the Residence Withdrawal Form available in the Office of Residence Life.

Students are not guaranteed or promised a return to residency after voluntarily withdrawing from College housing. Students seeking residency in such cases should discuss available options with the Director of Residence Life or his or her designee.

Students who are suspended or dismissed from residency as a result of disciplinary sanction should refer to the requirements of their hearing outcome letter to determine their eligibility for a return to residency.

Medical Withdrawals from the College or from College Residency

VOLUNTARY WITHDRAWALS

A student may voluntarily withdraw from the College or from residency for medical reasons. Medical reasons include physical or mental health conditions, which prevent or constructively prevent a student from participating in the academic or residential programs offered by the College in any meaningful way.

A student who wishes to voluntarily withdraw from the College or Residency for medical reasons must first seek the approval of the Vice President for Student Affairs by sending a signed notification to the Vice President for Student Affairs requesting a medical withdrawal. Normally, a student must commence the medical withdrawal process within 15 days of leaving the College. The Vice President for Student Affairs shall designate one of the College's Healthcare Professionals to review the request and make a recommendation to the Vice President for Student Affairs as to the sufficiency of the grounds for the request. The Vice President for Student Affairs may require additional information from the student in order to allow the Healthcare Professional to make an informed recommendation. In consultation with the Healthcare Professional, the Vice President for Student Affairs shall either approve or reject the request. If approved, the Vice President for Student Affairs shall notify the student and the Director of Academic Services and the Director of Residence Life, as applicable, depending on the nature of the withdrawal. In the case of a College withdrawal, the Director of Academic Services shall, upon receiving the approval of the Vice President for Student Affairs commence the College withdrawal process. In the case of a residency withdrawal, the Director of Residence Life shall commence the residential withdrawal process.

Upon approval of a medical withdrawal, Student Financial Services and Residence Life Office shall process refunds in accordance with the alternative medical withdrawal refund calculation procedures.

INVOLUNTARY WITHDRAWALS

Normally, a medical withdrawal will result from the student's voluntary efforts. In exceptional circumstances, a student may be asked to leave the College or the residence halls involuntarily until the circumstances have abated. In this case, the student may be eligible to receive a refund based upon the alternative medical withdrawal refund calculation procedures.

An involuntary medical withdrawal may be presented to the student by the Vice President for Student Affairs in consultation with the College's Healthcare Professionals. An involuntary medical withdrawal must involve a strong likelihood of one or more of the following:

- Serious risk of physical harm to the student;
- Serious risk of physical harm to other persons;
- A reasonable risk of physical impairment or injury to the student him/herself because of impaired judgment that would not allow the student to live independently in College residence halls;
- A reasonable risk of physical impairment or injury to the student him/herself because of impaired judgment that would not allow the student to protect him/herself in the community;
- A reasonable risk of physical impairment or injury to the student him/herself because of impaired judgment that would not allow the student to perform the essential functions of an educational program without requiring unreasonable modification of the program; or
- A serious risk of substantially altering the living, learning, or residential program(s) of the College.

The reasons for the recommendation must be documented in writing. Whenever reasonably possible, a meeting between the student and the Vice President for Student Affairs (or designee) will be held prior to the imposition of an involuntary medical withdrawal for the student to present his/her version of the facts and to indicate why an involuntary medical withdrawal should not be invoked. Following this meeting, the decision of the Vice President for Student Affairs will be final. Once approved, the terms of the involuntary medical withdrawal become effective immediately, and the student will be required to leave the residence halls or campus immediately. In the case of emergencies, advance notice may not be possible.

Return to the College or Residency After Voluntary or Involuntary Medical Withdrawals

In order to return to academic course work or live independently in College residence halls, a student must present documentation in writing that the medical problem no longer precludes safe attendance at the College including the successful completion of academic coursework or the ability to live independently in College residence halls. The student may be required to meet with the Director of Health Services or the Director of the Counseling and Testing Center, or designees, for an assessment. The student may also be required to permit his/her Healthcare provider(s) to consult with the Vice President for Students Affairs, Director of Health Services or the Director of the Counseling and Testing Center, or designees, regarding the student's successful completion of academic coursework or ability to live independently in College residence halls.

The Vice President for Student Affairs, in consultation with the College's Healthcare and Academic Professionals, will make the final decision of whether or not a student may return to academic coursework or College residence halls. No College office may grant readmission or conditional readmission to a student, or allow a student to register or receive financial or institutional aid, who has been away from the College for a medical reason without first receiving the written approval of the Vice President for Student Affairs.

While a student is on a voluntary or involuntary medical leave, he or she will not be eligible to participate in the housing selection process or reserve a specific housing assignment.

If a student has left the College for any period of time because of a medical reason, even if a voluntary or involuntary medical withdrawal has not been processed, the student shall be subject to the conditions of return after a medical withdrawal as described above. The College reserves the right to withdraw any student who fails to comply with this process.

REFUND CALCULATIONS

Refund for College Withdrawals and Course Withdrawals

For fiscal reasons the College must anticipate that enrolled students will complete the semester to which they were admitted and the number of courses for which they have enrolled. Therefore, the College does not guarantee or promise the availability of a tuition refund. If the College, in its sole discretion, determines that a refund is available, the following process outlined will apply.

Student Financial Services will determine the amount of a tuition refund available based on the official withdrawal date of the student as determined by the Director of Academic Services. A student who does not follow the procedures for withdrawing may forfeit his or her rights to a refund (within Federal Title IV Regulations.) The tuition refund is calculated less any fees and deposits. Fees and deposits are non-refundable. When determining refunds, the College shall, at all times, comply with federal and state regulations regarding the refund of federal or state financial aid funds. Current regulations require the college to refund such funds on a pro-rated basis for any student who withdraws before 60 percent of the applicable semester has been completed. For example, a student who completed 23 percent of the semester will keep 23 percent of his or her federal and/or state funds. The remaining 77 percent will be returned to the funding sources. Students receiving College funds will have their awards pro-rated according to the College's tuition refund schedule listed below. For example, if a student receives 20 percent tuition refund, he or she will forfeit 20 percent of his or her College funding. Any balance due to the College resulting from adjustments of aid is the responsibility of the student.

Student/parent loans and government grants are deposited in the student's tuition account. If a credit balance results, the student will automatically receive a refund if federal financial aid exceeds billed costs. Otherwise, the credit balance will remain on the account and be applied toward subsequent semester charges unless the student or parent (as appropriate) specifically requests a refund. A refund, when due, will be made payable to the student and mailed to the permanent address of the student, then on file with the College, unless the College is instructed otherwise in writing. When the deposit of a parent loan results in a credit balance, the refund will be made payable to the parent and mailed to the parent's home address then on file with the College. The College endeavors to quickly and efficiently process all refunds. Normally, the refund process takes approximately 14 business days. However, the refund process may take longer based on the timing of deposit and confirmation of checks. Normally, deposited checks are held for 10 business days after deposit by the College before the refund process begins. A refund will not be made for an amount less than $25 unless a student has graduated or withdrawn. Refunds will not be done until funds for pending and/or verified financial aid have been received and applied to the student's account.

The following tuition refund schedule applies to all enrolled students in any of the College's programs who withdraw from the College for personal reasons or who withdraw from a course or courses and/or change their status from full-time to part-time.

Withdrawal:	Refund:
For 15-week semester courses
During the first two weeks of classes	80%
During the third week of classes	60%
During the fourth week of classes	40%
During the fifth week of classes	20%
After the fifth week of classes	No refund
For 6/7-week courses
During the first week of classes	80%
During the second week of classes	40%
After the second week of classes	No refund
For 5-week courses or 5-day courses
Before the second class	80%
After the second class	No refund

Part-time students who withdraw before the first day of a class will receive a full refund of tuition for that class.

Full-time students who reduce their course load to fewer than twelve credits per semester after they have registered will have their charges pro-rated based on the full-time rate. Pro-rations will be based on the Tuition Refund Schedule outlined above.

Room and Board Refunds

For fiscal reasons the College must anticipate that enrolled residential students will complete the semester to which they were admitted as residential students. Therefore, the College does not guarantee or promise the availability of a room and board refund. If the College, in its sole discretion, determines that a refund is available, the following calculation process will apply.

The date of a student's withdrawal from residency shall be determined by the Director of Residence Life, or his or her designee, and will be used by the Associate Director for Student Accounts to determine the pro-rated room and board overhead charges. A student who does not follow the withdrawal procedures may forfeit his or her right to a refund.

Room and board overhead charges will be refunded according to the following schedule for all students who withdraw from residency, whether voluntarily or involuntarily.

Withdrawal:	Refund:
During the first two weeks of classes	80%
During the third week of classes	60%
During the fourth week of classes	40%
During the fifth week of classes	20%
After the fifth week of classes	No refund

The meal plan refund shall be equal to the amount remaining in the student's declining balance account less any administrative fees, which are nonrefundable. Students who reduce their course load to fewer than 12 credits per semester may forfeit their eligibility for residency.

The room guarantee charge is non-refundable in accordance with the room and board contract.

Alternative Medical Withdrawal Refund Calculations

A student who has complied with the procedures for and subsequently received approval for a voluntary medical withdrawal or has been presented with an involuntary medical withdrawal by the College may be eligible for an alternate refund calculation as outlined below.

Tuition charges will be pro-rated from the first day of classes to the student's last day of class attendance, based on the daily rate from the first through the last day of classes for that semester.

Room and board overhead charges will be pro-rated, from the first week of classes to the end of the week in which the student actually relinquishes occupancy of his or her room.

Food charges will be adjusted in accordance with the amount remaining in the student's meal plan (declining balance) account at the point he or she departs the College.

Institutional aid will be pro-rated, calculated on a daily rate from the first through the last day of classes for that semester.

Government aid will be refunded in accordance with state and federal law and applicable regulations.

Fees are not refundable.

The Alternative Medical Withdrawal Refund Calculation may be granted only once in a student's Stonehill career. The College recommends that all full-time students seriously consider purchasing the tuition refund insurance offered by A.W.G. Dewar Inc. through a mailing to all students.

Family Tuition Schedule

Provided that family members are full-time students, are matriculating at the same time, and are not receiving any other scholarship or tuition remission from or through the College, the following family tuition schedule will apply:

- First student – Full Tuition
- Second student – 75% of Full Tuition
- Third and each subsequent student – 50% of Full Tuition

The total family reduction will be divided and applied equally to each family member. NOTE: Family members include only dependent members of a single household.

Financial Aid

Current and prospective students are encouraged to discuss with their parents all expenses anticipated for the entire period of education to determine if family resources need to be supplemented by scholarships or other forms of financial aid in order to meet these expenses. College policy requires that all students who need financial assistance apply for all available aid from federal, state, institutional, and private sources. Applicants for admission, transfer students, and returning students who wish to renew or be considered for need-based grants and scholarships, loans and/or campus employment must file a complete Financial Aid Application each year.

A Complete Financial Aid Application Consists of the Following:

1. For every aid applicant: the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) or Renewal FAFSA, completed in its entirety and processed through the federal processor. Under the College Release section, list Stonehill with federal code number 002217.
2. For full-time first year, transfer, and other first-time aid applicants: The Profile Form from the College Scholarship Service (CSS) is required for consideration of all institutional aid, including, but not limited to merit aid, athletic aid, and need based aid. Priority deadline for regular decision is February 1. Under the College Release section, list Stonehill with the CSS code number 3770.

Provided, as appropriate, to first-time applicants by CSS and to renewal applicants by the College:

3. Non-Custodial Parent Statement.
 4. Stonehill Supplemental Application, completed by returning students.
- Only if requested by the College:
5. Verification Form.
 6. Verification of sibling college enrollment.
 7. Signed copies of parents' federal income tax return, all schedules, and W-2 forms; or Statement of Non-tax Filer.
 8. Signed copies of student's federal income tax return and W-2 forms; or Statement of Non-tax Filer.
 9. Any other documents/material deemed necessary for verification.

How to obtain necessary financial aid applications:

- First-Year Applicant: FAFSA is available online at www.fafsa.ed.gov. Hard copy FAFSA is also available for download at www.federalstudentaid.ed.gov; however, recommended filing method is online. The CSS Profile form is available online at <http://profileonline.collegeboard.com>.

- Transfer applicant: New and Renewal FAFSAs can be completed online at www.fafsa.ed.gov. Hard copy of FAFSA is also available for download at www.federalstudentaid.ed.gov; however, recommended filing method is online. The CSS Profile form is available online at <http://profileonline.collegeboard.com>.

Renewal FAFSAs for returning students are now available online only, accessible with a PIN provided by the Federal Government. Further information regarding the PIN is available at www.pin.ed.gov.

To receive federal financial aid, a student must also: be registered with Selective Service if male and at least 18 years old (or not be required to do so under federal law); have no federal student loans in default status; owe no refunds to the Pell Grant, SEOG or SSIG Programs (Title IV, HEA Grant) for attendance at any institution; be a U.S. citizen or eligible non-citizen; have no drug-related convictions while receiving federal or state financial aid (depending on type of offense) and certify this on the FAFSA form; and meet Satisfactory Academic Progress requirements.

To maintain the integrity of the programs administered by Stonehill College and to insure the equitable distribution of available funds, the accuracy of information submitted on applications for all types of financial assistance, including loans, will be verified. Therefore, financial aid applicants and their parents are urged to use information from completed federal tax returns when filling out their Financial Aid Applications. It is not recommended that families delay filing the Financial Aid Applications until tax returns are completed, especially if it means a deadline will be missed but, rather, that tax returns be completed early. Using accurate information will result in fewer corrections to an application and, consequently, fewer adjustments to a financial aid award. Priority filing deadlines: Profile and FAFSA by February 1 for early action and regular decision incoming first-year students; and FAFSA by March 1 for returning students.

Standards of Progress for Financial Aid Recipients

Academic Standing and/or Good Academic Standing:

A student who is on academic probation is considered to be on probation for financial aid purposes; such a student may still be eligible to receive financial aid during the probationary period. However, a student separated or dismissed from the College for academic reasons who is readmitted on appeal is not necessarily eligible for financial aid. (See Academic Policies for the definition of Good Academic Standing.)

In order to receive or continue to receive financial aid funded by the government and/or Stonehill College (including loans, grants, scholarships and jobs), a student must maintain satisfactory academic progress as defined below.

Satisfactory Academic Progress: A student must pass a specific number of the courses/credits he/she attempts each academic year. (The number of courses/credits attempted equals the number of courses/credits in which the student is officially enrolled at the end of each Add/Drop period.

Courses/credits from which a student withdraws after the Add/Drop period are considered courses/credits attempted but not satisfactorily completed. In addition, a student's cumulative average at the end of two academic years of study must be at least 2.00, and his/her record must reflect this minimum standard at each subsequent review.

Students are reviewed annually, at the end of each spring semester, for compliance with Satisfactory Academic Progress requirements. In addition to the cumulative average noted above, this review covers all courses/credits attempted at this institution since the end of the previous spring semester, beginning with any course(s)/credits taken in the first summer session of the preceding academic year.

To be in compliance:

credits taken	must pass
39 – 52	33 credits
36 – 38	30 credits
33 – 35	27 credits
30 – 32	24 credits
27 – 29	21 credits
24 – 26	18 credits
21 – 23	15 credits
18 – 20	12 credits
15 – 17	9 credits
12 – 14	6 credits
9 – 11	6 credits
6 – 8	3 credits
1 – 5	all

during the full academic period described above.

To regain eligibility for financial aid after unsatisfactory progress has been declared, a student must complete the number of courses/credits not passed within the period which resulted in the loss of aid and achieve the required cumulative grade-point average. To be eligible for federal Title IV funding, a student may not have enrolled in more than 150% of the credits required to complete his/her degree.

A full-time student is expected to complete degree requirements within 6 years or 12 semesters of attendance.

Appeals: The denial of financial aid because of failure to meet Satisfactory Academic Progress requirements may be appealed if the student believes there are special circumstances which should be considered. A written appeal, sent within 15 days of notification of ineligibility for aid, should be addressed to the Academic Review Board, in care of the Director of Student Financial Services. A response will be mailed to the student within 15 days of receipt of such appeal.

Stonehill College Scholarships

Each year the College offers a number of partial-tuition scholarships and grants to incoming and returning students. While some scholarships are awarded on the basis of merit, it is required that a financial aid application (CSS Profile) be on file with the College. Scholarships require a maintenance of a minimum cumulative average for renewal, but merit scholarship recipients need not file for aid in subsequent years unless they wish to be considered for other aid as well, including need-based grants, student loans, and work-study. (See previous page for a description of the financial aid application process for incoming and returning students.)

The names of the awards and application/renewal requirements are shown below:

Name	Application/Renewal Requirements
	Financial Aid Application
	Cum Avg	To Apply	To Renew
Novak/Sakmar/Templeton Scholarship	3.3, SAP*	Required	No
Honors Scholarship	3.3, SAP*	Required	No
Presidential Scholarship	3.0, SAP*	Required	No
Dean's Scholarship	2.9, SAP*	Required	No
Stonehill Need-Based Grant	SAP*	Required	Required
Stonehill Endowed/Restricted Scholarships	SAP*	Required	Required

*Satisfactory Academic Progress

Stonehill scholarships and grants may not exceed the amount actually charged for tuition. They are credited only to semesters in which the recipient pays tuition to Stonehill. Half the amount of the scholarship is applied to the fall semester and half to the spring semester, provided the recipient meets the preceding criteria. These awards are not applicable to semesters in which tuition is paid to another institution or program, nor may the entire amount be credited to one semester. Eligibility may not exceed 40 courses/128 credits or 8 semesters in total. Scholarships are awarded for and presume full-time continuous attendance.

Restricted/Endowed Scholarships

Stonehill College awards funding that has been gifted to the College as endowment. Many of these scholarships carry restrictions as stipulated by the donors. To apply, returning students must file the complete Financial Aid Application and a Restricted/Endowed Scholarship Application. This special application is available online at www.stonehill.edu under Admissions and Financial Aid/Financial Aid and Scholarships, between February 1 and April 1 for the following academic year. New students do not complete this special application. A complete list of available scholarships appears in this catalog and may be viewed online at www.stonehill.edu under Admissions and Financial Aid/Financial Aid and Scholarships.

Federal Pell Grant

Funded and administered by the federal government, eligibility for Pell Grant is based on exceptional financial need. Awards vary, based on an index established by the federal government. The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) is the annual application for Pell Grant. Since it is the primary source of federal student aid, all students who seek assistance of any kind are required to apply for the Pell Grant.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG)

Stonehill College receives from the federal government an allocation of FSEOG funds which it matches by 25%. The total funding is administered by the College and is prioritized to applicants with exceptional financial need. Pell Grant recipients have the first priority. Awards range from $100 to $4,000 per year and are re-determined annually. The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) is the application for FSEOG funds.

Federal Academic Competiveness Grant (ACG)

Funded and administered by the federal government, ACG is awarded to Pell-eligible students who are first- or second-year students. First-year students who have participated in a rigorous high school curriculum as defined by the federal government receive $750; second year students who maintain a minimum 3.00 cum receive $1300. The FAFSA is the annual application.

Federal SMART Grant

Funded and administered by the federal government, up to $4,000 SMART Grants are awarded to Pell-eligible students who achieve junior or senior level status, 3.00 cum each semester, and other federally determined criteria including majoring in certain science and/or math areas. The FAFSA is the annual application.

Federal TEACH Grant

Funded and administered by the federal government, up to $4,000 TEACH Grants are awarded to students who meet certain academic requirements and who indicate they may teach in a federally defined high need school for four years upon graduation. The TEACH Grant reverts to an unsubsidized federal student loan if the obligation to teach is not fulfilled within eight years of graduation. The FAFSA is the annual application and an Agreement to Serve and entrance and exit counseling must be completed, but TEACH does not require that the student have financial need.

ROTC Scholarships

Students at Stonehill College may compete for Army ROTC Scholarships.

State Scholarships/Grants

Students should investigate the availability of scholarships/grants through their states. Eligible students should submit state scholarship/grant applications by the appropriate deadlines.

Student Loans

Loans are available to Stonehill College students from the following sources:

The William D. Ford Federal Direct Student Loan Program. Loan limits are determined by the number of credits completed: up to $5,500 per year for students who have completed fewer than 30 credits; up to $6,500 per year for students who have completed between 30 and 59 credits; and up to $7,500 per year for students who have completed at least 60 credits. Total borrowing may not exceed $34,500. This loan program is funded by the federal government and administered by the College.

The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) is used to determine eligibility. There are two types of Direct Loans: subsidized and unsubsidized. Students who demonstrate sufficient financial need qualify for a base subsidized loan. The fixed interest rate on this loan is 4.5 percent with a federal origination fee of .5 percent net. No interest accrues on this loan while the student attends school at least half time. Those who do not qualify for the full subsidized loan may borrow an unsubsidized Direct Student Loan plus the supplemental unsubsidized loan of $2,000; however, the student must either pay the interest on this loan while in school or opt to capitalize the interest and pay it, along with the principal, upon leaving school. The fixed interest rate on the unsubsidized loan is 6.8 percent, and the federal origination fee is .5 percent. Repayment of principal for both types of loans begins six months after the student ceases to be enrolled at least half time.

Promissory Notes for the Direct Student Loan Program are available online through Student Financial Services at Stonehill or at the federal web site at www.dlenote.ed.gov. The loan funds (net the .5 percent origination fee) are credited directly to the student's tuition account, half in each semester.

It is not necessary for a student to complete a promissory note for every year in which (s)he borrows through the Federal Direct Student Loan Program. A Master Promissory Note is completed for the first year in which the student borrows and remains in effect for each subsequent loan borrowed for a total of 10 years.

The Federal Perkins Loan Program. This federally-sponsored loan program is administered by the College on a funds-available basis. Eligibility is based on need as shown on the FAFSA. The interest rate is fixed at 5%; repayment begins 9 months after the student ceases to be enrolled at least half time.

Student Employment

In addition to the scholarship, loan, and grant opportunities described above, limited part-time employment is available to students who can, without jeopardizing their academic standing, devote time to campus jobs.

The College participates in the Federal Work-Study Program, which serves to expand the opportunities for part-time student employment on campus. The Work-Study Office has identified and classified Community Service positions off campus. These job postings are designated as such and are reserved for students who qualify for Federal Work-Study.

To be considered for academic year employment, a student must have a processed FAFSA on file in Student Financial Services.

A comprehensive listing of financial aid programs is contained at www.stonehill.edu under Admissions and Financial Aid/Financial Aid and Scholarships.

Tuition Installment Payment Plan

Many families prefer to spread tuition and fee payments throughout the year rather than make one large payment prior to each semester. The College offers a payment plan through TMS at a nominal fee:

Tuition Management Services (TMS)
171 Service Ave, 2nd Floor • Warwick, RI 02886
(888)216-4258 • www.afford.com/stonehill

Informational brochures and application forms are sent to all students. There are no interest charges; the current enrollment fee is $65. The amount of the contract and length of the payment period are chosen by the family. For example, an estimated out-of-pocket cost of $5,500 may be paid at the rate of $550 per month for ten months. The deadline to enroll for the Fall semester is August 1; families interested in enrolling for the Spring semester only must call TMS directly.

Notes

Students receiving institutional or government financial aid (Perkins Loan, Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant, Pell Grant, State Scholarships, Direct Loan, etc.) or educational assistance (Veterans' Benefits) should consider the possible loss of, or reduction in, this assistance before enrolling for other than full-time student status. The effect on financial assistance must be considered in any decision to accelerate course requirements or to reduce one's course load.

The College must anticipate for fiscal reasons that all financial obligations to the College will be paid in full. Failure to meet these obligations may result in Administrative Withdrawal from the College. In the event that a student leaves the College owing monies for tuition, room and board, fees, fines, or holds delinquent loans, the College reserves the right to withhold grades, official transcripts, and/or additional services within the confines of the Buckley Amendment.

The College reserves the right to withhold diplomas and official transcripts and/or to deny participation in graduation exercises to any student who owes monies, books, or equipment to the College or who has failed to fulfill all obligations to the College, or who is in default on a federal student loan.

The College also reserves the right to refuse payment it determines to be unacceptable and the right to require that payment made after the due date be by cashier's check. Payments made after May 1 and prior to the end of the academic year must be in cash or by certified check. Personal checks will not be accepted after that date.

If for any reason the College must refer an account to an outside agency for collection, the College reserves the right to add any and all legal and/or agency fees to the account balance. The College also reserves the right to report the outstanding account to a credit reporting bureau.

CAMPUS LIFE

Mission Division

Educating the mind and the heart...

This vision of education as a work of forming the whole person inspired Blessed Basil Moreau, C.S.C., the founder of the Congregation of Holy Cross, and his religious family, the founders and sponsors of Stonehill College.

Stonehill College is proud to share in the educational legacy of Fr. Moreau. Moreau's vision of education as a "work of resurrection" inspires us to pursue the blessings of new life that come from a diligent pursuit of all that is true, beautiful and good.

Moreau's vision of education as an art that never "deprives our students of anything they should know," spurs us to academic excellence in every discipline of study.

Moreau's vision of education as the formation of the whole person such that the "mind will not be cultivated at the expense of the heart," leads us to value the co-curricular and spiritual dimensions of life at Stonehill.

And Moreau's vision of education as the work of forming students "into justice" underlies our mission of educating students to lead "with courage toward creating a more just and compassionate world."

The staff of the Mission Division, inspired by Blessed Basil Moreau's vision of education, works with students and the entire Stonehill community to live the values of a Holy Cross education by preparing "good citizens for both earth and heaven." Campus Ministry, the Office of Community Service and Volunteerism, and the Center for Nonprofit Management collaborate in fostering this noble mission.

Campus Ministry

The Department of Campus Ministry has a five-fold charge: the ministry of Word and sacrament, pastoral care, service beyond the campus, religious formation, and evangelization.

From every quarter, Campus Ministry summons the College community for the worship and praise of God, especially for celebration of the Sunday Eucharist. In the Chapel of Mary, Mother of the Church, the Word of God is heard anew, prayers are offered for the needs of all, and the assembly is nourished at the Lord's Table.

In times of sickness, bereavement, or crisis, Campus Ministry is present to recall God's gracious promises of redemption from every loss, and to extend the support of the community. Campus Ministry challenges students to discern the face of God in the suffering and the oppressed.

Diverse programs, such as HOPE, our alternative spring break program (domestic and international), and Into the Streets, our community service program, provide students with the opportunity to act on behalf of others through friendship and collaboration with the young, the elderly, the physically challenged, and the poor and homeless.

Through retreats, the Christian Initiation program, and spiritual direction, Campus Ministry offers students and other Stonehill community members the opportunity to deepen their faith and to be more active members of their local Christian communities.

Finally, in its call to evangelize, Campus Ministry extends an invitation to the entire College community to hear again – or for the first time – the message of the Catholic tradition and its relevance for our times. In this period of crisis in culture, Campus Ministry works collaboratively with various departments as it seeks to revitalize the Church and form future leaders.

Common to these diverse expressions of the faith is Campus Ministry's effort to uphold everywhere the value of community and to encourage a lived reflection on the importance of the common good on campus, in the neighboring community, in the family, and in the Church.

Consistent with this effort, Campus Ministry is also committed to helping students of various faith traditions to find opportunities for affirming and strengthening their own faith.

The Center for Nonprofit Management

The Center for Nonprofit Management works with and builds the leadership and management capacity of community-based nonprofit organizations throughout southern Massachusetts and northern Rhode Island.

The Center is focused on enhancing critical management skills, while also fostering relationships with and among the region's diverse community-based organizations so that they may better achieve their missions. Drawing on expertise within the nonprofit sector and Stonehill, including student interns, the Center conducts research and provides workshops and other learning programs for the region's nonprofit sector.

Student Affairs

It is the goal of Stonehill College to foster the total development of our students. While this is the responsibility of the entire community, the Student Affairs Division provides many opportunities for integrating the intellectual, physical, social, and spiritual development of students.

Below is an overview of the departments within Student Affairs. Additional information regarding these departments and other departments associated with campus life can be found by accessing the A – Z index on the College's main website.

Counseling and Testing

The mission of the Counseling and Testing Center (CTC) is to support all full-time students as members of a learning community. The CTC regards each student as a unique individual and empowers her/his efforts to attain self-understanding, integrity and academic success. Counselors assist students with personal and educational concerns by providing individual and group counseling as well as preventive services. The CTC staff offers programs and workshops throughout the campus aimed at the developmental needs of college students to help them maximize their potential and benefit fully from the college environment. In addition, a psychiatrist is accessible weekly through the CTC for consultation services.

Health Services

Health Services is an appointment-based, ambulatory care setting designed to manage the acute episodic health concerns of our full-time students. The management of chronic health problems can also be coordinated in collaboration with the student's personal physician. The facility is open Monday-Friday from 8:30 a.m.-4:15 p.m. and is staffed by nurse practitioners. An internal medicine physician is always available to the nurse practitioners for consultation. After hours emergency care can be coordinated through Campus Police. The office is located in the Chapel of Mary.

The Health and Wellness Office provides health education, awareness events and prevention programs on a variety of topics including but not limited to stress reduction, physical activity, nutrition, smoking cessation and healthy relationships throughout the entire school year. Services range from workshops, individual consultation or presentations by request. The office is located in Merkert 106A.

Intercultural Affairs Office

The mission of Intercultural Affairs at Stonehill is to contribute to the creation, influence, and sustainability of a community where the dignity of all people is respected. Intercultural Affairs works to support underrepresented students in academic, cultural, and personal endeavors and facilitates dialogue with faculty, staff, and students on issues of privilege, power, and social justice. Intercultural Affairs aids the whole Stonehill community in creating a more inclusive culture through opportunities such as the Diversity Networking Group, RACE Dialogues, Freshmen Leadership Through Diversity Program, the Inclusive Excellent Grant, ALANA Leadership Program, and various heritage month events. In addition, Intercultural Affairs provides services ranging from personal consultations to larger group training in order to enable Stonehill community members to thrive in a diverse and global society. Resources can be found in the Intercultural Resource Center located in the Roche Dining Commons.

Recreational Sports

The Recreational Sports Program at Stonehill seeks to provide formal recreational opportunities to all students, faculty and staff by:

- offering opportunities for interesting and rewarding competitions involving men's, women's and co-recreational sports;
- presenting a varied and diverse program of sports, recreational, fitness and wellness activities so that the entire campus community has the opportunity to participate regardless of athletic ability or preference; and
- attempting, whenever possible, to expand current facilities and to accommodate the recreational wishes or needs of the majority of participants.

Throughout the academic year, there are over twenty intramural sports, eight to ten sport clubs and a variety of fitness and instructional programs offered through this office. In addition, the office is located within the Sally Blair Ames Sports Complex, which offers over 55,000 square feet of recreational and leisure space for members of the Stonehill community.

Residence Life

The Residence Life staff recognizes the primary importance of the academic environment, as well as individual student development, and the establishment of a strong and loving Christian community within the residence halls. It is the goal to combine these three elements in a manner that cultivates the "whole person." As a way to achieve this objective, the staff offers an environment conducive to learning and programs leading to emotional, social, spiritual, physical, cultural, and ethical development. This living-learning atmosphere enhances the classroom experience by providing students with opportunities to talk, think, and feel, to share new information, to turn ideas into actions, and to reach both within and beyond themselves, with the additional support of faculty and administrators. By focusing programming efforts around the wellness perspective and involving other offices, the Residence Life experience affords students opportunities to grow spiritually, culturally, physically, emotionally, morally, professionally and intellectually.

Office of Community Standards

Stonehill College's Office of Community Standards serves to provide students with a living and learning environment that reflects the values of the Stonehill community and supports the College's commitment to developing the moral, spiritual, intellectual and social competencies of our students. To achieve this goal, Stonehill looks to the students to be partners in this process with the hope of creating an environment that is respectful of the rights of all individuals within the community. Shared responsibility for the life and governance of the College should lead all its members to make the best of their own talents, to work together, to be sensitive to one another, to serve others, and to seek justice within and beyond the Stonehill Community. Therefore, the Office of Community Standards seeks to educate students regarding the rights and responsibilities of being a member of Stonehill College and will call students to accountability for their actions as a necessary part of community life.

Student Activities

The Office of Student Activities is committed to enhancing the overall education of the Stonehill community through collaboration with students, faculty, and staff in order to create social, cultural, recreational, and spiritual growth opportunities. Throughout the year, a variety of co-curricular, social and educational programs are organized for students by students. Stonehill values the co-curricular program as an integral facet of the College and believes that these experiences enrich the quality of student life.

Therefore, all students are encouraged to become involved in the many clubs and organizations as interested members or as student leaders. A complete list of all officially recognized student groups is listed below:

Athletics

With 20 intercollegiate sports and a tradition of winning both on and off the field, the Stonehill Skyhawks are one of the top athletic and academic programs in the country.

The Skyhawks, who compete in the NCAA Division II Northeast-10 Conference, won the President's Cup for the second time in 2009-10 and have finished in the top three in the President's Cup standings in each of the last five seasons. This prestigious award is given to the top performing athletic school in the Northeast-10, across all sports and seasons.

In addition, the Skyhawks are ranked #2 in the entire country for Division II academic-athletic programs by the National Collegiate Scouting Association (NCSA) for the 2008-09 academic year. Last year over 90% of our student-athletes graduated within four years. The average GPA for Skyhawk student-athletes is 3.1.

"Ace" the Skyhawk

Stonehill's mascot, "Ace", is a crowd favorite who makes regular appearances at many events on campus. The origin of the Skyhawk mascot lies in the mists of Stonehill history. In the 1920s, the beautiful 375-acre campus belonged to the wealthy Ames family, and young Frederick Ames – an early aviator – had an airfield built on the property. Today, "Ace" leads spirited Stonehill students as they cheer the Skyhawks to even greater heights.

Community Standards and Student Discipline System

Introduction

Stonehill College, an academic community within the Catholic tradition, committed to its Holy Cross roots, holds high expectations for how its members live and interact with one another. At the heart of these expectations is a respect for self and others. Specifically, Stonehill is committed to developing the moral, spiritual, intellectual and social competencies of our community. In search of this ideal, Stonehill endeavors to create an environment in which integrated learning is a shared responsibility, pursued in the classroom and laboratory, co-curricular and extra-curricular activities, athletic fields, residence halls, dining room and chapel. These expectations and competencies are our Community Standards.

Guiding Principles

Students are accountable for their actions as a necessary part of community life. By voluntarily choosing to affiliate with Stonehill College, students acknowledge to uphold these responsibilities.

As Stonehill is a community committed to Holy Cross and Catholic ideals and to the growth of each individual, the Community Standards established for student members of the Stonehill Community are not always exactly the same as those within society at large. The College's Community Standards go beyond what is simply required for public order. They ask what is good and developmental for the individual and for the Stonehill community.

To enter Stonehill College is to accept an invitation to participate in a learning environment that emphasizes "the education of the whole person" by promoting interdisciplinary inquiry and facilitating student learning and development. Choosing to become a member of this community requires a commitment to an open dialogue about the basic human questions fundamental to a liberal education in the Holy Cross tradition, as well as an individual responsibility to foster an environment in which this dialogue can occur.

Shared responsibility for the life and governance of the college should lead all its members to make the best of their own talents, to work together, to be sensitive to one another, to serve others and to seek justice within and beyond the Stonehill community. As such, students are expected to inform College officials whenever they are concerned about a student's physical or emotional health or safety or when they have knowledge regarding a dangerous or potentially violent situation.

The Stonehill College Community Standards and other policies are intended to contribute to the moral, intellectual, spiritual and social growth of student members of the campus community. The College will call students to be accountable for their actions as a necessary part of community life.

Glossary of Terms

- 1. Administrator: Individuals who develop, maintain, implement, and oversee the various programs of the college. They may be responsible for a variety of tasks and areas and are supported by staff employees.
- 2. Advocate: Faculty, administrator, staff member or member of the student body who, in a formal discipline hearing, provides support or advice to a charged student, complainant or person who believes he/she was the victim of a student's misconduct. The advocate may not be an attorney. The advocate may not actively participate during the formal discipline hearing.
- 3. Appeals Board: A group comprised of the Vice President for Students Affairs, or designee, a student and faculty member authorized to consider a request for an appeal from the CDC's determination as to whether a student has violated the Community Standards or from the sanction imposed.
- 4. Associate Vice President for Student Affairs (AVPSA), or designee: Person designated by the Vice President for Student Affairs to be responsible for the day-to-day administration of the Community Standards and the Student Discipline System.
- 5. Charged Student: A student alleged to have violated the Community Standards who has been notified that he/she must attend a formal discipline hearing.
- 6. Community Standards: Expectations and competencies Stonehill College has established for its students.
- 7. Community Restitution Project: Work projects on and off campus
- 8. College: Stonehill College.
- 9. College Discipline Committee (CDC): A group of students, faculty and college officials authorized to determine whether a student has violated the Community Standards and to recommend sanctions that may be imposed when a violation of the Community Standards has been committed.
- 10. College Official: Any person employed by the College (including student employees), performing assigned duties or action on behalf of the College in an official (recognized) capacity.
- 11. College Premises: All land, buildings, facilities and other property in the possession of or owned, used or controlled by the College.
- 12. Complainant: Any individual member of the Stonehill Community, or the College itself, that submits an incident report accusing a student of having violated the Community Standards.
- 13. Director of Community Standards: College official who has the primary responsibility for the administration of the Stonehill Community Standards, which communicate the mission and values of a Catholic institution in the Holy Cross tradition. The Director will undertake a broad range of responsibilities including directing discipline case management to ensure that all discipline referrals are addressed in a consistent and timely manner through appropriate campus procedures and serving as the College's primary hearing officer for discipline cases.
- 14. Disciplinary Hold: An administrative hold placed on a student's record when he/she does not respond to the request of a College official to attend an informal conference or formal discipline hearing, has not completed a discipline sanction, or has withdrawn from the College prior to the resolution of an informal conference or formal discipline hearing.
- 15. Faculty: Any person hired by the College to conduct classroom or teaching activities or who is otherwise considered by the College to be a member of its faculty.
- 16. Formal Discipline Hearing: A review of statements from a charged student, complainant, or person who believes he/she was the victim of a student's misconduct and witnesses with knowledge of an incident for the purpose of determining the charged student's responsibility for violating the Community Standards and to make recommendations for sanctions if the charged student is found responsible.
- 17. Guest: A non-student who is an associate of a student.
- 18. Hearing Officer: A College official authorized on a case-by-case basis to determine whether a student has violated the Community Standards and to impose a sanction when a violation of the Community Standards has been committed. An administrator may also serve as a chairperson of the College Discipline Committee (CDC) or a Residence Area Discipline Committee (RADC).
- 19. Incident Report: A written summary of an incident.
- 20. Informal Conference: An informal meeting of a student alleged to have violated the Community Standards, an administrator, complainant and the person who believes he/she was the victim of a student's misconduct for the purpose of achieving resolution with all parties agreeing to the outcome. If an agreement is reached, the case will end with no opportunity for appeal. If no agreement is reached, the case will be dismissed or referred for a formal discipline hearing.

21. Interim Restrictions: Immediate sanctions taken against a student when there is information to show that the student's continued presence on the campus endangers the physical safety or emotional state of a student or others or disrupts the educational process of the College.

22. May: Used in the permissive sense.

23. Member of the College Community: Any person who is a student, faculty, college official or any other person employed by the College. The AVPSA, or designee, will determine a person's status.

24. Notice of the Charges: Written notice that a student is alleged to have violated the Community Standards and notice of the date, time and place that a student must attend a formal discipline hearing, as well as the names of the witnesses called to testify.

25. Non-Consensual Sexual Contact: Including, but not limited to, intentional physical contact of a sexual nature (touching breasts, buttocks, or pubic area) with anyone without her/his consent, or attempts to commit the same

26. Non-Consensual Sexual Intercourse: Including, but not limited to, penetration of a bodily orifice (vagina, anus, or mouth) by an object or by a body part and/or non-consensual fellatio or cunnilingus or attempts to commit the same.

27. Policy: The written regulations of the College. While the policies may be referenced or printed in College publications such as The Hill Book, the only official version of the current policies is located on the College's Campus Web intranet site.

28. Residence Area Discipline Committee (RADC): A group of resident students and college officials authorized to determine whether a student has violated the Community Standards of the residence areas and to recommend sanctions that may be imposed when a violation of the Community Standards has been committed.

29. Sanction: A requirement a student must abide by or complete when found responsible for violating the Community Standards.

30. SHARE Advisor: A group of trained staff members who provide assistance, guidance, and support throughout the College discipline process for both the person who believes he/she was the victim of another's sexual misconduct as well as the alleged perpetrator.

31. Student: Any person taking courses at the College, either full-time or part-time, pursuing undergraduate, graduate or professional studies; any person who withdraws from the College after allegedly violating the Community Standards; any person who is not officially enrolled for a particular term but who has a continuing academic relationship with the College; any person who has been notified of his/her acceptance for admission or any person living in College residence halls, although not enrolled at Stonehill College.

32. Student Discipline System: The process and procedures for addressing alleged violations of student misconduct.

33. Will: Used in the imperative sense.

34. Witness: Any person with knowledge of a student's alleged violation of the Community Standards.

Violation of Law and College Discipline

1. Student conduct should not violate the federal law, state law, local ordinances, and/or the Stonehill College Community Standards. Violations may be addressed through the College's Discipline System, through the civil and/or criminal court systems, or through both.

When student conduct may have violated federal or state law, Stonehill College may take action against a student through the College Discipline System prior to, simultaneously with, or following civil or criminal proceedings at the discretion of the AVPSA, or designee.

Determinations made or sanctions imposed under the Student Discipline System will not be subject to change when criminal charges regarding the same incident are resolved in favor of or against the criminal law defendant.

2. When a student is charged with a criminal violation of federal, state or local law, the student is responsible for all costs associated with the criminal violation. The College will not request special treatment on the student's behalf. Individual students and other members of the College community acting in their personal capacities, may interact with federal, state and local authorities as they deem appropriate.

3. If the alleged offense is also being processed under the Student Discipline System, the College may advise off-campus authorities of the existence of the Community Standards and Student Discipline System and of how such matters are typically handled within the College community.

4. The College cooperates with law enforcement or other agencies in the enforcement of criminal law on campus. The College also cooperates with the conditions imposed by criminal courts for the rehabilitation of student violators, provided the conditions do not conflict with campus rules or sanctions.

Jurisdiction

1. The Stonehill College Community Standards and Student Discipline System apply to the conduct:

- a. Of any student or individual:
 - i. Enrolled in or accepted for an academic course or program regardless of credits carried
 - ii. Who withdraws from the College after allegedly violating the Community Standards but before a formal hearing takes place
 - iii. Not officially enrolled for a particular term but who has a continuing academic relationship with the College
 - iv. Living on or off campus

b. Of any student organization

c. Which occurs:

- a. On College premises
- b. At College sponsored activities
- c. At all locations of the College such as internship and study abroad locations
- d. Off-campus that adversely affects the College community or the pursuit of its objectives or calls into question the suitability of a student as a member of the Stonehill College Community

2. Each student will be held responsible for his/her conduct from the time of acceptance of admission through the actual awarding of a degree, even though the conduct may occur before classes begin or after classes end, as well as during the academic year or during periods between terms of actual enrollment and even if the conduct is not discovered until after a degree is awarded.

3. The Community Standards and Student Discipline System apply to a student's conduct even if the student withdraws from the College while a complaint is pending.

4. The AVPSA, or designee, will decide, on a case-by-case basis, whether the Community Standards and Student Discipline System will be applied to conduct occurring off-campus.

5. Students are responsible for the consequences of their actions even when the conduct may have been influenced by their physical or emotional state (irrespective of any medical or clinical diagnoses).

6. Students are responsible for the consequences of their actions even when the conduct may have been influenced by their use of alcohol or other drugs.
7. A disciplinary hold may be placed on a student's educational record when a student does not respond to the request of a College official to attend an informal conference or formal discipline hearing, does not comply with a discipline sanction, or withdraws from the College prior to the resolution of a complaint. Students with a disciplinary hold may not be permitted to register for courses, receive transcripts, receive a diploma, add or drop courses, register for College housing or participate in other College activities.
8. Students are responsible for the contents of their rooms, cars, lockers or person. Students may also be held responsible for shared common areas. Student need not be present or notified when an inspection is conducted.
9. Students are responsible for the conduct of their guests and should be with guests at all times.

Prohibited Conduct

The following conduct will constitute violations of the Community Standards and will be subject to action and sanctions outlined in the Student Discipline System.

1. ACTS OF DISHONESTY

- 1.01 Acts of dishonesty including, but not limited to, furnishing false information to any faculty member, College official or department, forgery, alteration or misuse of any College document record, or instrument of identification or misrepresenting oneself as another. This may also include violations of the Academic Integrity Policy. Alleged academic dishonesty violations will be addressed according to the provisions of the Academic Integrity Policy.

2. PERSONAL CONDUCT

- 2.01 Conduct that is in direct conflict with the values and expectations afforded by the Community Standards, and therefore, may call into questions a student's ability to remain a member of the Stonehill Community.
- 2.02 Violation of any federal, state or local law.
- 2.03 Participation in the disruption or obstruction of teaching, research, administration, living or other College activities, the free flow of pedestrian or vehicular traffic, interfering with the duties of law enforcement, fire or other agencies, breaking the peace or leading or inciting others in acts of disruption or obstruction.
- 2.04 Attempted or actual theft, damage or vandalism to property of the College or others.

- 2.05 Failure to comply with the request of a College official or law enforcement, fire or other public officials acting in the performance of their duties or failure to identify oneself to these persons when requested to do so.
- 2.06 Unauthorized possession, duplication or use of keys to any College premises.
- 2.07 Prohibited or unauthorized gambling.
- 2.08 Failure to abide by College Network Use Policy.
- 2.09 Failure to register an event.
- 2.10 Unauthorized solicitation.
- 2.11 Unauthorized posting or distribution of flyers, bulletins or posters.
- 2.12 Abuse of the Student Discipline System.
- 2.13 Failure to comply with any College Policy.
- 2.14 Conduct that is lewd or indecent such as public urination, public defecation, streaking, or stripping.
- 2.15 Failure to abide by Residence Life policies and procedures or the College Room and Board Contract.
- 2.16 Failure to abide by College guest policies.
- 2.17 Inappropriate communication with College personnel.
- 2.18 Failure to maintain a hygienic living and learning environment
- 2.19 Assisting or encouraging another person to engage in a violation of College policy.

3. PERSONAL IDENTIFICATION AND REPRESENTATION

- 3.01 Failure to carry a Stonehill College I.D. card.
- 3.02 Unauthorized use of the Stonehill College name, logo, mascot or other symbol.
- 3.03 Unauthorized use of Stonehill College directories.

4. PHYSICAL/EMOTIONAL HEALTH AND GENERAL SAFETY

- 4.01 Trespassing or unauthorized entry or attempted entry to or use of College premises including, but not limited to, roofs, balconies, roadways, ponds or waterways.
- 4.02 Any action that threatens, endangers or subjects another person to physical harm, incites a person by provocation, excludes a person from participation in or denies a person the benefits of College programs, or otherwise subjects a person to discrimination based on race, gender, disability, age, marital status, religion, color, national origin, sexual orientation, or other personal characteristics.
- 4.03 (Deleted)
- 4.04 Failure to abide by the College Policy against Hazing.
- 4.05 Attempted use or actual use of electronic devices that invade a person's privacy.

- 4.06 Failure to abide by College weapons policies.
- 4.07 Creating a fire hazard or a situation that endangers others such as false reports of fire or bombs, possession of fireworks, failing to evacuate, throwing objects from windows or tampering with, damaging or removing fire safety equipment.
- 4.08 Improper use of College vehicles.
- 4.09 Violation of the College's prohibition against glass beer bottles.
- 4.10 Physical assault. An attempted intentional, and/or unjustified physical contact with a person, however slight, without his or her consent that entails some injury, harmful, or offensive touching.
- 4.11 Verbal assault. Verbal abuse, threats, intimidation, harassment, coercion or conduct which threatens or endangers the health or safety of oneself or another person or any action that may subject oneself or another person to emotional injury.

5. ALCOHOL AND OTHER DRUGS

- 5.01 Failure to abide by College alcohol policies
- 5.02 Failure to abide by College smoking policies.
- 5.03 Failure to abide by College drug policies.

6. SEXUAL MISCONDUCT

- 6.01 Sexual Harassment
- 6.02 Non-Consensual Sexual Intercourse (or attempts to commit the same)
- 6.03 Non-Consensual Sexual Contact (or attempts to commit the same)
- 6.04 The use of drugs or alcohol to render another person physically or psychologically incapacitated as a precursor to or part of sexual activity

Authority

1. The Vice President for Student Affairs is responsible for the overall administration of the Community Standards and Student Discipline System. Under the direction of the Vice President for Student Affairs, the AVPSA, or designee, has been charged with the day-to-day responsibility for the administration of the Community Standards and Student Discipline System. The AVPSA, or designee, is also a student advocate who ensures the protection of all students' rights.
2. The AVPSA, or designee, will appoint administrators to conduct informal conferences and formal discipline hearings.
3. The AVPSA, or designee, will develop policies and procedural rules for the administration of the Student Discipline System consistent with the provisions of the Community Standards.
4. If an incident report involves more than one charged student, the AVPSA, or designee, in his/her discretion, may determine whether an informal conference

- or formal discipline hearing concerning each student will be conducted either separately or jointly.
5. Students are required to attend informal conferences and formal discipline hearings.
 6. Informal conferences and formal discipline hearings are not open to the public and are confidential in nature. Therefore, friends, parents, siblings or legal counsel may not be permitted in the room where the conference or hearing takes place, but may wait nearby for support purposes.
 7. Students will be held accountable for abuse of the Student Discipline System such as:
 - a. The failure to obey a notice from a College official to appear for an informal conference or formal discipline hearing as part of the Student Discipline System;
 - b. Falsification, distortion, or misrepresentation in conjunction with the Student Discipline System;
 - c. Submitting or corroborating a false incident report or withholding information;
 - d. Attempting to discourage an individual's proper participation in or use of the Student Discipline System;
 - e. Attempting to influence the impartiality of an administrator or member of a discipline committee;
 - f. Harassment or intimidation of a witness, administrator or member of a discipline committee, prior to, during or after an informal conference or formal discipline hearing;
 - g. Failure to comply with a sanction imposed under the Student Discipline System; or
 - h. Influencing or attempting to influence another person to commit an abuse of the Student Discipline System.
 - i. The unauthorized use of electronic devices, including but not limited to cell phones, cameras, and recording devices.
 8. The order of administrative, College Discipline Committee (CDC) and Residence Area Discipline Committee (RADC) hearings will proceed as follows:
 - a. Review and signing of the Honesty Statement;
 - b. Reading of the charges;
 - c. Opportunity for a charged student and the person who believes he/she was the victim of a student's misconduct to challenge the administrator or member of the discipline committee for bias;
 - d. Charged student's plea;
 - e. Opportunity of a charged student and the person who believed he/she was the victim of a student's misconduct to make an opening statement;
 - f. Complainant's statement;
 - g. Witness's statement(s);
 - h. Opportunity for a charged student and the person who believed he/she was the victim of a student's misconduct to make a closing statement; and
 - i. Discussion and decision-making in closed session.
 9. The administrator or discipline committee members may ask questions of the charged student, complainant, witness or person who believes he/she was the victim of a student's misconduct at any time during a formal discipline hearing.
 10. Formal rules of process, procedure or evidence such as those applied in criminal or civil courts are not used in the Student Discipline System.
 11. Administrators, members of discipline committees and the Appeals Board will be impartial.
 12. Decisions resulting from an administrative or discipline committee hearing will be final, pending the normal appeal process.
 13. In the absence of a functioning RADC, CDC, or Appeals Board, such as before the appointment of members or at the end of an academic year, the AVPSA, or designee, may assemble a Board comprised of students, administrators, and/or faculty.
 14. Student conduct that warrants action within the Student Discipline System may result in forfeiture of all Stonehill scholarships, financial aid or monies paid.
5. Upon receiving an incident report, the AVPSA, or designee, may take one or more of the following steps within 10 business days:
 - a. Conduct an investigation to determine if the incident report has merit;
 - b. Dismiss the incident report. Such disposition will be final and there will be no subsequent action;
 - c. Schedule a formal administrative, CDC or RADC hearing;
 - d. Schedule an informal conference; or
 - e. Impose interim restrictions when there is information to show that the student's continued presence on the campus endangers the physical safety or emotional state of the student or others or disrupts the educational process of the College.

Formal Administrative, CDC and RADC Hearings

1. The purpose of a formal discipline hearing is to review statements from a charged student, complainant, or person who believes he/she was the victim of a student's misconduct and witnesses with knowledge of the incident. A determination will be made as to whether or not the charged student violated the Community Standards. Then, recommendations for sanctions will be made if the charged student is found responsible.
2. Formal discipline hearings will be conducted as soon as possible, but no sooner than 2 business days and no more than more than 10 business days after the charged student has been notified of the charges. Maximum time limits for scheduling a formal discipline hearing may be extended at the discretion of the AVPSA, or designee. Formal discipline hearings may be recessed at any time provided they are reconvened within 5 business days.
3. A charged student will be considered notified of the charges once the notice of the charges has been mailed to the student's local or campus address on file with the College or emailed to the student's Stonehill email address.
4. Notice of the charges for a formal discipline hearing will be in writing and will include the date, time and place that a student must attend the hearing, the name of the complainant, the name of the person who believes he/she was the victim of a student's misconduct, as well as the names of witnesses called to testify.
5. If a charged student, with notice, does not appear for a formal discipline hearing, the hearing may proceed as scheduled and the information in support of the charges may be presented and considered even if the charged student is not present.

Initiation of Disciplinary Procedures

1. Any individual member of the College community may submit an incident report that a student allegedly violated the Community Standards. The individual will be listed as the complainant on the notice of the charges to the charged student.
2. The College may submit a complaint that a student allegedly violated the Community Standards. The College will be listed as the complainant on the notice of the charges to the charged student.
3. The incident report will be prepared in writing and directed to the AVPSA, or designee. An incident report should be submitted as soon as possible to encourage the availability of witnesses or information about the incident.
4. The AVPSA, or designee, will determine whether a charged student's alleged violation of the Community Standards will be addressed through an informal conference or formal discipline hearing.

6. A formal discipline hearing may accommodate concerns for the personal safety, well-being or fears of confrontation with the charged student, complainant, or person who believes he/she was the victim of a student's misconduct or witnesses during the hearing. This can be done by providing alternate means of communication where and as determined in the sole judgment of the AVPSA, or designee, to be appropriate.
7. The charged student, complainant and person who believes he/she was the victim of a student's misconduct, each have the right to be assisted by an advocate of their choice. The advocate must be a Stonehill faculty, administrator, staff member or member of the student body and may not be an attorney. The charged student, complainant and person who believes he/she was the victim of a student's misconduct are responsible for presenting their own information; therefore, advocates are not permitted to participate directly in any formal discipline hearing. The charged student, complainant and person who believes he/she was the victim of a student's misconduct, should select as an advocate a person whose schedule allows attendance at the scheduled date, time and place for the formal discipline hearing as delays will not normally be allowed due to the scheduling conflicts of an advocate.
8. The charged student, complainant and person who believes he/she was the victim of a student's misconduct and their advocates, if any, will be permitted to attend the entire portion of a formal discipline hearing at which information is received (excluding deliberations).
9. Admission of any other person to a formal discipline hearing (including witnesses) will be at the discretion of the AVPSA, or designee.
10. Generally, the charged student and person who believes he/she was the victim of a student's misconduct may present up to 4 witnesses with knowledge of the incident to provide information to and answer questions from the administrator or chairperson of the discipline committee. If the charged student and person who believes he/she was the victim of a student's misconduct wishes to present more than 4 witnesses, he/she must submit a written request to the AVPSA, or designee, indicating the names of the additional witnesses and why their testimony would be beneficial. The request must be submitted to the AVPSA, or designee, at least 24 hours prior to the formal discipline hearing. The College will try to arrange the attendance of possible witnesses who are members of the College community, if reasonably possible. The name(s) of the witness(es) of the charged student and person who believes he/she was the victim of a student's misconduct are to be submitted to the AVPSA, or designee, at least 24 hours prior to the formal discipline hearing. During the hearing, the charged student and person who believes he/she was the victim of a student's misconduct may submit questions to the administrator or chairperson of the discipline committee to be answered by each other or other witnesses. This method is used to preserve the educational tone of the hearing and to avoid creation of an adversarial environment. Questions of whether potential information will be received will be resolved at the discretion of the administrator or chairperson of the discipline committee.
11. All procedural questions are subject to the final decision of the administrator or chairperson of the discipline committee.
12. Decisions of the administrator or discipline committee will be made on the information presented during the hearing on the basis of whether it is more likely than not that the charged student violated the Community Standards.
13. After the formal discipline hearing concludes, the administrator or discipline committee will determine whether the charged student violated each section of the Community Standards that the student is alleged to have violated.
14. The administrator who conducted the administrative hearing and chairperson of the discipline committee is responsible for providing a written summary of the formal discipline hearing including a brief statement of the facts, decision as to whether the charged student is responsible or not responsible for violating the Community Standards, sanction, if any, and the rationale for the decision and sanction, if any.
15. The AVPSA, or designee, may consider the sanction recommended by the discipline committee and may impose sanctions other than those recommended by the administrator or discipline committee.
16. The charged student will be informed of the decision and sanction imposed, if any, of the administrator or discipline committee within 3 business days following an administrative or discipline committee hearing.
- c. View the incident report in the Student Affairs Office in the presence of a Student Affairs staff member during normal business hours or request a copy of a police report or a redacted copy of a Student Affairs incident report;
- d. Be notified of the date, time and place of the formal discipline hearing, as well as the names of the witnesses called to testify;
- e. Receive notice of the fact that failure to appear for a formal discipline hearing may result in the hearing being conducted in the absence of the charged student or person who believes he/she was the victim of another student's misconduct;
- f. Provide the names of up to 4 witnesses with knowledge of the incident that may appear at a formal discipline hearing on his/her behalf to the AVPSA, or designee, within 24 hours of the hearing. If the charged student and person who believes he/she was the victim of a student's misconduct wishes to present more than 4 witnesses, he/she must submit a written request to the AVPSA, or designee, indicating the names of the additional witnesses and why their testimony would be beneficial. The request must be submitted to the AVPSA, or designee, at least 24 hours prior to the formal discipline hearing. Character witnesses are not permitted;
- g. Be notified of the fact that he/she may request additional information about the Community Standards and Student Discipline System;
- h. Challenge the composition of the discipline committee;
- i. Present his/her case;
- j. Decline to answer any questions or make any statements during a formal discipline hearing. Such silence will not be used against the charged student or person who believes he/she was the victim of another student's misconduct. However, the outcome of the formal discipline hearing will be based upon the information or lack thereof presented at the hearing.
- k. Be advised by a faculty, administrator, staff member or member of the student body who is not an attorney;
- l. Be informed in writing of the decision and sanction, if any, within 3 business days of a formal discipline hearing; and
- m. Request an appeal of the decision resulting from a formal discipline hearing within 4 business days of receiving the decision in writing. A charged student and person who believes he/she was the victim of another student's misconduct are entitled to one appeal.

Rights of All Parties in Formal Discipline Hearings

1. A charged student and person who believes he/she was the victim of another student's misconduct will be entitled to:
 - a. Receive written notice of charges;
 - b. Obtain the name of the individual complainant (if applicable);

2. An individual complainant/victim will be entitled to:
 - a. Be notified of the date, time and place of the formal discipline hearing, as well as the names of the witnesses called to testify;
 - b. Receive notice of the fact that failure to appear for a formal discipline hearing may result in the hearing being conducted in the absence of the complainant;
 - c. Receive notice of the fact that he/she may request additional information about the Community Standards and Student Discipline System; and
 - d. Be advised by a faculty member, administrator, staff member or member of the student body who is not an attorney.
 - e. The College will disclose to the victim (or if the victim is deceased as a result of such crime or offense, to the next of kin) of any violent crime or non-forcible sex offense, either verbally or in writing, the final results of any institutional disciplinary proceedings conducted against a charged student.

Discipline Committees

1. College Discipline Committee (CDC)
 - a. The CDC will be comprised of a group of members of the College Community representing students, faculty, administrators and staff members.
 - b. A quorum of 5 CDC members must be present to conduct a CDC hearing. However, CDC hearings regarding sexual misconduct complaints shall require a quorum of 3 CDC members.
 - c. The Vice President for Student Affairs, or designee, will follow special procedures when hearing sexual misconduct complaints, as outlined in the Hill Book.
 - d. Members of the College community may nominate student members for the CDC. From these nominations, the outgoing and incoming chairpersons of the Student Senate and Commuter Council will recommend to the SGA President the student government members to serve on the CDC for the following academic year. The resident assistant staff will recommend to the Director of Residence Life the resident assistant members to serve on the CDC for the following academic year. The Vice President for Academic Affairs will appoint faculty and fill any vacancies during the year by appointment. The Vice President for Student Affairs will appoint administrators and staff and fill any vacancies during the year by appointment.
 - e. Student members of the CDC may not serve on the Appeals Board or Residence Area Discipline Committee.

- f. Any member of the CDC may be removed from office for non-fulfillment of duties essential to the position. A majority vote of the members is required for removal.
2. Residence Area Discipline Committee (RADC)
 - a. Each of the residence areas will have an RADC.
 - b. Each RADC will be comprised of a group of students and RAs from the residence area (appointed by the RD/AC) and the RD/AC of that residence area, or designee, who will serve as chairperson and one student affairs administrator.
 - c. A quorum of 3 RADC members must be present to conduct an RADC hearing.
 - d. Student members of an RADC may not serve on the Appeals Board or CDC.
 - e. Any member of an RADC may be removed from office for non-fulfillment of duties essential to the position. A majority vote of the members is required for removal.
 - f. The appointment of members to an RADC will be made in the fall.
3. Student members of the CDC or RADC must be full-time students in good academic and disciplinary standing. If a student member does not maintain good academic or disciplinary standing, he/she will be removed from the CDC or RADC for that academic year.
4. The term of office for each member of the CDC and RADC will be one academic year.
5. RDs/ACs and RADCs may only recommend the following sanctions: Warning, Parental Notification, Loss of Privileges, Restriction, Fines, Restitution, Community Restitution Project, Educational Program/Project, Referral, Relocation of Residence, Deferred Loss of Residence or Weekend Restriction.
6. All decisions by the CDC and an RADC will be arrived at by a simple majority vote. The chairperson will vote only in case of a tie.

Informal Conferences

1. An informal conference is an informal meeting of a student alleged to have violated the Community Standards with an administrator, complainant and person who believes he/she was the victim of a student's misconduct for the purpose of achieving resolution with all parties agreeing to the outcome. If an agreement is reached, the case will end with no opportunity for appeal. If no agreement is reached, the case will be dismissed or referred for a formal discipline hearing.
2. Informal conferences will be conducted as soon as possible.

3. The student alleged to have violated the Community Standards will be informed in writing of the charges at the informal conference.
4. The administrator is responsible for providing a written summary of the informal conference including a brief statement of the facts and outcome of the conference.
5. The outcome of the informal conference will be made part of the student's discipline file and may be considered in determining future sanctions.

Sanctions

1. In determining a sanction, the AVPSA, or designee, may consider the student's present demeanor, past disciplinary record, the nature of the misconduct and the severity of any damage, injury or harm resulting from the misconduct or other factors.
2. The College has a special concern for incidents in which persons are mistreated because of race, gender, disability, age, marital status, religion, color, national origin, sexual orientation or other personal characteristic. Such incidents damage not only individuals, but also the free and open academic environment of the College. More severe sanctions are appropriate for such misconduct.
3. Sanctions do not become effective until the appeal process is completed.
4. Some College policies specify sanctions for violations. See individual policies for sanctions required, if any.
5. The AVPSA, or designee, may impose the following sanctions upon any student found to have violated the Community Standards. See individual policies for specified sanctions for certain violations.
 - a. Warning: A notice, either verbal or written, that the student is violating or has violated College regulations, must cease the conduct immediately and that continuation or repetition of wrongful conduct may be cause for more severe disciplinary action.
 - b. Parental Notification: The College may notify parents/guardians when students under the age of 21 have been found responsible for violating the College's alcohol or other drug policies, when there is a serious health or safety issue regarding a student or if a student's residency or student status is in jeopardy.
 - c. Loss of Privileges: Denial of specified privileges for a designated period of time.
 - d. Restriction: Denial of access to any campus facility, activity, class or program. This includes no contact orders.
 - e. Fines: Financial sanction.

- f. Restitution: Compensation for loss, damage or injury. This may take the form of appropriate service or monetary or material replacement.
 - g. Community Restitution Project: Assignment of an appropriate service project that will benefit the College community, responsible student or others.
 - h. Educational Program/Project: Required attendance at an educational workshop or completion of an educational project that will benefit the College community, responsible student or others.
 - i. Assessment: A student may be referred to the Counseling and Testing Center, Health Services or other appropriate office or local agency for consultation or assessment.
 - j. Disciplinary Probation: A period of time during which a student may be excluded from participation in all social and extracurricular activities such as representing the College, participating in intercollegiate athletics, SGA or study abroad.
 - k. Relocation of Residence: Required assignment to another residence area.
 - l. Deferred Suspension from Residency: Warning that if the student is found responsible for violating the Community Standards during a specific period of time, the student may be immediately removed from the residence halls for a specific period of time after which the student may reapply for housing. Reapplication for housing does not guarantee immediate placement. Conditions for returning to the residence halls may be specified.
 - m. Suspension from Residency: Separation of the student from the residence halls for a specific period of time, after which the student may reapply for housing. Reapplication for housing does not guarantee immediate placement. Conditions for returning to the residence halls may be specified.
 - n. Residence Hall Dismissal: Permanent separation of the student from the residence halls.
 - o. Deferred College Separation: A warning that if the student is found responsible for violating the Community Standards during a specific period of time, the student may be immediately separated from the College for a specific period of time after which the student may reapply. Conditions for readmission may be specified.
 - p. College Separation: Separation of the student from the College for a definite period of time, after which the student may apply to return. Conditions for return may be specified.
 - q. Deferred College Dismissal: Warning that if the student is found responsible for violating the Community Standards during a specific period of time, the student may be immediately dismissed from the College.
 - r. College Dismissal: Permanent separation of the student from the College.
 - s. Revocation of Admission or Degree: Admission to or a degree awarded from the College may be revoked for fraud, misrepresentation or other violation of the Community Standards in obtaining the degree or for other serious violations committed by a student prior to graduation.
 - t. Withholding Degree: The College may withhold awarding a degree otherwise earned until the completion of the disciplinary process set forth in the Student Discipline System, including the completion of all sanctions imposed, if any.
 - u. Student Organization Recognition in Jeopardy: A delayed removal of recognition as a recognized student organization. Any proven violation during a specific period of time may result in the student organization's immediate loss of recognition for a specified period of time.
 - v. Loss of Recognition: During a specific period of time, a recognized student organization may not associate itself with the College by using the College name, facilities, or other rights and privileges of recognized student organizations after which the group may reapply for recognition. There is no guarantee re-recognition will be granted. If re-recognition is granted, conditions for re-recognition may be specified. Other sanctions may be imposed instead of or in addition to those specified above. In addition to the above sanctions, student conduct that warrants action within the Student Discipline System may result in forfeiture of all Stonehill scholarships, financial aid or monies paid.
6. More than one of the sanctions listed above may be imposed for any single violation.
 7. A campus department, separate from the Student Discipline System, may place a restriction on a student found responsible for violating the Community Standards such as the loss of merit points for housing assignments, restrictions for athletes or the denial of study abroad, campus parking or other privileges.
- ## Appeals
1. The agreement reached as a result of an informal conference may not be appealed.
 2. A charged student or person who believes he/she was the victim of a student's misconduct may submit a request for an appeal of a decision or sanction resulting from a formal discipline hearing no later than 4 business days after receiving notice of the decision or sanction.
3. A request for an appeal is to be submitted in writing to the AVPSA, or designee.
 4. The RADDC will review a request for an appeal of the decision reached or sanctions resulting from a formal administrative hearing with an RD/AC.
 5. The AVPSA, or designee, will review a request for an appeal of the decision reached or sanctions resulting from a formal RADDC hearing.
 6. The CDC will review a request for an appeal of the decision reached or sanctions resulting from a formal administrative hearing with the AVPSA, or designee.
 7. The Appeals Board will review a request for an appeal of the decision reached or sanctions resulting from a formal CDC hearing.
 8. Appeals will be considered based on the following criteria:
 - a. Failure to follow the process or procedures outlined in the Student Discipline System;
 - b. Insufficient or inappropriate evidence used to justify a decision;
 - c. New information that was not known at the time of the hearing; or
 - d. Unjustified sanction.
 9. Students may not appeal based upon 8d if they pled responsible to the charge in question and the sanction imposed generally follows the Sanctions for Student Violations Guidelines as outlined in The Hill Book. Students may not appeal based upon 8b if they pled responsible at the hearing to the charge in question.
 10. Deviations from designated procedures will not be the basis for sustaining an appeal unless significant prejudice results.
 11. Upon receipt of the request for an appeal, the AVPSA, or designee, will refer the request to the appropriate appeals committee or board normally within 7 business days.
 12. The appropriate appeals committee or board may:
 - a. Determine the appeal request merits a formal appeal hearing and schedule a hearing no later than 10 business days from the date the request is reviewed. Formal appeal hearings will be conducted following the same procedures as set forth for formal discipline hearings.

- b. Determine there are no grounds for the appeal thus upholding the decision;
 - c. Refer the case to the administrator, CDC or RADC that originally heard the case for consideration of suggestions; or
 - d. Change the original decision or sanctions after reasonable review of the appeal request and the decision rationale of the administrator or discipline committee.
13. The Appeals Board is comprised of the Vice President for Student Affairs, or designee, who serves as the chairperson, a faculty member (appointed by the Vice President for Academic Affairs) and a student (appointed by the SGA President) to consider an appeal from the CDC's decision as to whether a student has violated the Community Standards or from the sanctions imposed. All members must be present for a formal appeal hearing. All decisions will be made by a majority vote.
14. Appellate decisions are final.

Special Procedures for Hearing Sexual Misconduct Complaints

In addition to the procedures outlined in the Community Standards and Student Discipline System, the following special procedures have been adopted for hearing sexual misconduct complaints:

1. The person who believes she/he was the victim of another's misconduct will meet individually with the AVPSA, or designee, to provide input as to whether the complaint should be heard through an informal conference or formal discipline hearing. The AVPSA, or designee, will consider such input and will decide whether the complaint will be heard through an informal conference or formal discipline hearing.
2. Formal rules of process, procedure, or rules of evidence such as those applied in criminal or civil courts are not used in the Student Discipline System.
3. The Hearing Board for sexual misconduct cases shall be comprised of the designee of the Vice President for Student Affairs, who serves as the chairperson, and two staff, administrators and/or faculty members.
4. The Appeals Board for sexual misconduct cases shall be comprised of the Vice President for Student Affairs, or designee, who serves as the chairperson, and two staff, administrators and/or faculty members. However, the Appeals Board members cannot be the same members who served on the original Hearing Board.

5. No questions, statements or information about the sexual activity of the person who believes she/he was the victim of another's misconduct with anyone other than the charged student may be introduced. Requests for exceptions to this guideline must be made in writing to the AVPSA, or designee, at least 72 hours prior to the hearing. If the person who believes she/he was the victim of another's misconduct raises his/her own sexual activity with anyone other than the charged student, questions may then be asked about that relationship.
6. The College may disclose to the victim (or if the victim is deceased as a result of such crime or offense, to the next of kin) of any non-forcible sex offense, either verbally or in writing, the final results of any institutional disciplinary proceedings conducted against an a charged student.

Interim Restrictions

1. The AVPSA, or designee, may impose restriction(s) upon a student pending disciplinary proceedings. Interim restrictions become effective immediately without prior notice whenever the AVPSA, or designee, believes the student may pose a serious threat to self or others, property or cause serious disruption to the College community.
2. Interim restrictions may include: Separation from the College or residence areas; relocation of residence, restriction to designated College residence areas or other campus facilities by time or location; restriction of communication with named individuals or groups within the College community; or the requirement to obtain advance authorization to engage in a specified activity.
3. Whenever reasonably possible, a meeting between the charged student and AVPSA, or designee, will be held prior to the imposition of interim restrictions.
4. The charged student will have the opportunity to meet with the AVPSA, or designee, to present his/her version of the facts and to indicate why interim restrictions should not be imposed. Following this meeting, the decision of the AVPSA, or designee, will be final.
5. Violations of interim restrictions may result in separation or dismissal from Stonehill College.

Discipline Records

1. Discipline records are educational records and are maintained in the office of the AVPSA, or designee.

2. Discipline records are not considered to be part of a student's permanent academic record maintained by the College with the exception of a violation of the Community Standards that results in a sanction of College Separation or College Dismissal.
3. Discipline records are maintained by the Office of Student Affairs for seven years post graduation.
4. In situations involving both a charged student and student who believes he/she was victim of a student's misconduct, the records of the process and of the sanctions imposed, if any, will be considered to be the educational records of both the charged student and the student who believes himself/herself to be the victim because the educational career and chances of success in the academic community of each may be impacted.

Bias Response Protocol

Stonehill College is committed to providing a multicultural academic community in which the dignity and worth of each of its members is respected. We recognize that an environment in which bias, hate, and disrespect for persons in our community disrupt the institutional mission. The College, therefore, is determined to confront and discourage conduct and attitudes that exhibit bias and that harass or discriminate against any of our community members on the basis of race, gender, age, marital status, sexual orientation, religion, color, disability, national origin or other personal characteristics.

Bias incidents may consist of slurs, epithets, name calling, use of degrading language, graffiti or slurs, intimidation, harassment or coercion directed at the targeted person or group. Bias acts occur whether the act is intentional or unintentional or is directed toward an individual or group and may contribute to creating an unsafe/unwelcoming environment for victims and social identity groups. Bias acts are considered such even when presented as a joke, prank, or delivered with humorous intent.

The College has developed procedures for addressing issues of bias within our community. For a copy of these procedures, please contact the Office of Student Affairs.

Interpretation and Revision

1. Any question of interpretation or application of the Community Standards and Student Discipline System will be referred to the AVPSA, or designee, for final determination.
2. The Community Standards and Student Discipline System will be reviewed at least every 2 years under the direction of the AVPSA, or designee.

Substance Abuse Awareness Policy

Introduction

Only in an environment free of substance abuse can Stonehill College fulfill its mission of developing the academic, professional, social, cultural and intellectual potential of each member of the community. The use of illegal drugs and the abuse of alcohol impair the safety and health of students and employees and inhibit personal and academic growth. For these reasons, the unlawful use of alcohol and other drugs is prohibited on campus and at College-sponsored activities.

Campus Prevention and Awareness Programs

Alcohol and other drug abuse education and prevention programs have been established and are coordinated by the Counseling and Testing Center with assistance from Health Services and other College departments. Programs provide training and direct services to the College Community and offer preventative education and outreach activities about the Substance Awareness Policy and alcohol and other drug abuse.

College supervisors, as well as student staff in the residence halls, receive training on a regular basis on issues regarding alcohol and other drug use and abuse. The Counseling and Testing Center and Health Services are available for consultation concerning individual students with alcohol or other drug problems. Services provided by the Counseling and Testing Center include personal assessment and counseling, group discussion opportunities, educational and alternative programming, information on Narcotics Anonymous and Alcoholic Anonymous and referrals to outside agencies.

The Counseling and Testing Center and Health Services have established working relationships with area hospitals, community mental health centers and other social service agencies to facilitate referrals when treatment is needed.

The Health and Wellness Office provides health education, awareness events and prevention programs on a variety of topics including but not limited to stress reduction, physical activity, nutrition, smoking cessation and healthy relationships throughout the entire school year. Services range from workshops, individual consultation or presentations by request. The office is located in the Sally Blair Ames Sports Complex, Room 134A.

General Provisions

The students of Stonehill College shall not unlawfully manufacture, distribute, dispense, possess or use controlled substances, drug paraphernalia or alcohol. Drug paraphernalia is defined as any equipment, product or material that is modified for making, using or concealing illegal drugs such as bongs and houka pipes. Any individual who violates this prohibition will be subject to disciplinary action. Sanctions may include separation or dismissal from the College, mandatory participation in an alcohol or other drug abuse assistance or rehabilitation program or referral of the matter to law enforcement agencies for prosecution.

Student Alcohol Policy

Stonehill complies with all federal and state laws and local ordinances regarding the possession, use, sale, and/or distribution of alcoholic beverages. In conjunction and in addition to these laws and ordinances, the College has adopted certain standards to facilitate its regulation of the use and possession of alcohol by students and their guests. The following are considered violations of the College's standards with respect to the use, possession, and distribution of alcohol:

1. Violation of any alcohol or alcohol-related federal, state or local law or ordinance.
2. Being a student under the age of 21 not engaged in an employment or other permissive activity, in the presence of an open alcohol container.
3. Possession, use, or distribution of alcohol by a student, under the age of 21, or possession, use or distribution of alcohol by the guest of a student, under the age of 21 even if the guest is age 21 or older.
4. Procurement of alcohol for a student or guest who is under the age of 21.
5. Failing to abide by the drinking laws of the immediate locale while on an away program or College-sponsored or approved trip or program.
6. Possession, use, sale, or distribution of a false identification card, wristband, or other age or identity verification form.
7. Use of an alcohol container as room decoration, vase or storage item.
8. Possession of alcohol in a residence hall, or common area of a residence hall, in which alcohol is not allowed based on the dry status of the hall or area.
9. Possession of an open container of alcohol in an area designated as a public area by the College without prior approval from the Vice President of Student Affairs or the designated College Official sponsoring, hosting, or supervising an event in a public area.
10. Possession by a student, age 21 or older, or possession by the guest of a student, age 21 or older, of an amount of alcohol over the limits specified (limits apply to full, partially full, and empty containers) by the College.

The limits specified by the College are:

- Twelve 12-ounce coolers, malts, or beers
- OR
- Two 750 ml. bottles of wine
- OR
- One pint of hard liquor up to 80 proof.

The total amount of alcohol in a residence hall room may not exceed the total amount permitted for the residents of the room, age 21 or older.

11. Possession of alcohol at a College event without prior approval by the Director of Student Activities or the designated College Official sponsoring; hosting, or in charge of the event.
12. Intoxication on College property or at College-sponsored or sanctioned programs or activities.

Intoxicated students and their guests will not be permitted entrance to College-sponsored activities. Intoxicated students or intoxicated guests in need of medical attention may be transported to the hospital for emergency care. Intoxicated students or intoxicated guests may be placed into protective custody by Stonehill Campus Police and transported to the Easton Police Department. All costs will be charged back to the student.
13. Possession of a drinking game or the use or possession of a board game, table game, ice luge, drinking funnel, beer tap or other device that promotes or encourages abusive drinking or is used in a way that promotes or encourages abusive drinking.
14. Operation of motor vehicle which contains alcohol, by a student under the age of 21, regardless of the age of any passenger in the vehicle.
15. Driving under the influence of alcohol or other drugs.

Student drivers may be required to take sobriety tests. A student driver who fails a sobriety test may have his/her car towed to a storage facility for pick-up when the student is sober enough to drive. All towing costs are the responsibility of the student driver.
16. Possession of a full to empty common source of alcohol, regardless of the size(s) or the container(s).

A common source of alcohol includes, but is not limited to, a keg, pony keg, beer ball, punch bowl (with or without alcohol), or gelatin shots.

- 17. Commercial delivery of alcoholic beverages to the residence halls or the College Mailroom.
- 18. Use of alcoholic beverages to render another person physically or emotionally incapacitated.
- 19. Creation of materials that promote alcohol, tobacco, or other drugs.

Athletic teams, club sports teams, student organizations, residence hall councils and other groups or individuals are prohibited from creating marketing or promotional material such as clothing that promotes alcohol, tobacco or other drugs. In addition, such items may not discriminate against individuals or groups and must be approved by the appropriate College official listed below. Appropriate College official must also approve the use of the Stonehill name, logo, or likeness. Questions concerning this policy may be directed to the Student Affairs Office.

Athletic teams must receive the approval of the Director of Athletics, or designee.

Club sports teams must receive the approval of the Director of Recreational Sports, or designee.

Recognized clubs and organizations must receive the approval of the Director of Student Activities, or designee.

Residence hall councils must receive the approval of the Director of Residence Life, or designee.

- 20. Possession or a full or empty excessive amount of alcohol.
An excessive amount may include any amount of alcohol over the limits specified.

Entertaining in the Residence Halls

Students may entertain or socialize in their individual rooms provided the number of people in the room does not exceed 10 individuals (including residents of the room). Students must be in compliance with campus guest and quiet hours policies and may not disrupt the learning or living activities of others.

Reserving Common Lounges for Social Gatherings without Alcohol

Students who wish to reserve a common area lounge for an event without alcohol must obtain approval from the RD/AC.

Social Gatherings with Alcoholic Beverages in the Residence Halls

When approved by the Director of Residence Life, or designee, alcoholic beverages may be present at social gatherings in common area lounges. A social gathering is when 15 or more people are gathered, including non-members of the house or suite, and alcohol is present.

The following conditions apply:

- 1. Each September, the College will inform students whether or not the use or possession of alcoholic beverages will be permitted in common lounges.
- 2. Social gatherings may be held on Friday and Saturday nights from 8:00 pm - 1:00 am.
- 3. The Director of Residence Life, or designee, may approve up to 2 social gatherings per residence area, per night, on a first-come, first-served basis. In special circumstances, the Director of Residence Life may approve additional social gatherings with the approval of the Vice President for Student Affairs, or designee.
- 4. The number of guests present at a social gathering in a townhouse may not exceed 50 guests (including residents of the house).
- 5. The number of guests present at a social gathering in a suite may not exceed 30 guests (including residents of the suite).
- 6. Social gatherings may not be held during exam periods, when the residence halls are closed, or during the summer.
- 7. In order to host a social gathering, 50 percent + 1 of the townhouse or suite residents must be age 21 or older.
- 8. Social gatherings may not be advertised.

Violations of Social Gathering Guidelines

- 1. All violations of the Social Gathering Guidelines will be addressed by the Residence Life Office.
- 2. Failure of a townhouse or suite to comply with the above guidelines may result in restrictions being placed upon the townhouse or suite, such as warning, loss of privileges to host social gatherings, or the loss of privileges for students age 21 or older, to use or possess alcoholic beverages, etc.

Procedures for Hosting Social Gatherings with Alcoholic Beverages

- 1. A townhouse or suite may request to host a social gathering by submitting a Social Gathering Application to their RD/AC by 4:30 pm on Wednesday for social gatherings to be held on the following Friday or Saturday night. Any resident who has a concern with a gathering being held on a particular day or weekend may contact the RD/AC.

- 2. Requests will be processed on a first come first serve basis by the RD/AC. Requests to hold a social gathering may be denied based on the disciplinary history of residents, pending discipline matters, previous damages, etc.
- 3. Fifty percent +1 of the residents of the townhouse or suite must be present for the duration of the social gathering.
- 4. The RD/AC will notify townhouses and suites of the approval status of their requests by noon on Friday.
- 5. Only social gathering guests age 21 or older (with the exception of students under the age of 21 who live in the townhouse or suite) may attend a social gathering.
- 6. A designated resident of the townhouse or suite must be present at each entrance of the social gathering to check guests' IDs. The designated residents must remain sober for the duration of the social gathering. Residents and social gathering guests must present a current Stonehill College ID card and a valid driver's license (not a duplicate) that confirms the student's date of birth documented in College records. Nonstudent guests must present a valid driver's license (not a duplicate) and a valid guest pass and must be accompanied by their host at all times.
- 7. The use or consumption of alcoholic beverages must be confined to the inside of the townhouse or suite. Possessing or consuming alcoholic beverages on porches, patios and in public hallways is prohibited.
- 8. Hosts must ensure the noise level of the social gathering does not interfere with nearby residents or quiet hours.
- 9. Hosts must control excessive loitering outside the townhouse or suite.
- 10. Food and non-alcoholic beverages must be available and prominently featured.
- 11. Gathering attendees may leave a social gathering and return. However, any individual reentering a social gathering must again present proper identification (see step 7 above) upon reentry.
- 12. Residents or guests who appear to be intoxicated and who attempt to enter a social gathering will not be permitted to enter the social gathering.
- 13. Hosts must contact Campus Police immediately if any social gathering guest appears to need medical attention.
- 14. Hosts must contact RAs or Campus Police when they would like assistance controlling the social gathering.

15. Hosts are responsible for cleaning the location of the social gathering to avoid a cleaning charge. All townhouse or suite residents are responsible for any cleaning or damage charges resulting from a social gathering.
16. Residence Life staff members and Campus Police will monitor the student residence areas. Students are expected to be cordial, cooperative and respectful of College officials.
17. A social gathering may be terminated at any time when College officials determine the social gathering poses a threat to the health and safety of the community or is in violation of any College policy. Such violations will be addressed by the Residence Life Office and/or the Office of Community Standards.

Student Programs with Alcohol

1. The Director of Student Activities, or designee, has primary responsibility for determining the circumstances and whether or not alcoholic beverages will be served at student programs held on or off campus.
2. Students, age 21 or older, must present 2 forms of ID to enter the alcohol service area. Massachusetts residents must present a current Stonehill College ID card and a valid Massachusetts driver's license or valid Massachusetts Liquor ID card. Out-of-state residents must present a current Stonehill College ID card and a valid driver's license (not a duplicate) that confirms the student's date of birth documented in College records.
3. Guests, age 21 or older, must present a valid driver's license (not a duplicate) and a valid guest pass and must be accompanied by their host at all times. In order to enter the alcohol service area, guests, age 21 or older, must be accompanied by their host, who must be age 21 or older. Up to two guests per current student will be allowed.
4. Students and their guests may not attempt to or bring alcohol into student programs or attempt to or remove alcohol from the service area or student programs.
5. Underage students and their guests, regardless of age, may not attempt to enter the alcohol service area.
6. Safeguards must be taken to ensure an orderly function to protect the rights of other members of the community against undue interference, noise and other disturbances.
7. Students may be refused admission to a student program if the validity of their identification is questionable or if students are intoxicated or disruptive.
8. The sponsoring organization shall abide by the established laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, ordinances of the Town of Easton and policies of Stonehill College.
9. Student organizations may not use student fees to purchase alcoholic beverages for student use.
10. Alcoholic beverages may not be offered free of charge to any participant at a student program.
11. When alcoholic beverages are served, food and nonalcoholic beverages must be made available. The cost of refreshments must not be prohibitive. Alcoholic beverages may not continue to be served if nonalcoholic beverages run out. When alcoholic beverages are served, the student program must be supportive of alcohol education programs that encourage responsible decisions about the use or non-use of alcoholic beverages.
12. Alcoholic beverages may not be provided as awards.
13. Advertising promoting alcoholic beverages must not encourage any form of alcohol abuse or place any emphasis on quantity or frequency of use. The advertising of alcoholic beverages on campus may not portray drinking as a solution to personal or academic problems or as necessary for social, sexual or academic success. Advertising of alcoholic beverages and other promotional beverages may not associate alcoholic beverage consumption with the performance of tasks that require skilled reactions such as driving or playing sports. All posters must be in accordance with the College's Advertising Policy.
14. If a student program is held off-campus, the contracted server/facility must agree in writing that it agrees to assume all responsibility for serving alcoholic beverages. Alcoholic beverages may not be served in common sources when students have direct access to serve themselves.

Smoking on Campus

1. Smoking is prohibited in all campus buildings and facilities including all of the student residence halls.
2. Individuals who choose to smoke are expected to be at least 25 feet from the building so as not to allow smoke to travel back into the building.
3. Individuals who choose to smoke are expected to dispose of cigarettes and their packaging in proper trash receptacles.

Student Drug Policy

1. The possession of illegal drugs, including unauthorized possession of prescription drugs, is strictly prohibited.
2. The use of illegal drugs, including unauthorized use of prescription drugs prescribed, is strictly prohibited.
3. The distribution of illegal drugs, including unauthorized distribution of prescription drugs, is strictly prohibited.
4. Being a student in the presence of illegal drugs, is strictly prohibited.
5. As required by federal law, students are required to notify the College's Director of Financial Aid, or designee, within 5 days of being convicted of violating a criminal drug statute.
6. The use of drugs to render another person physically or emotionally incapacitated is strictly prohibited.
7. The possession, use, sale or distribution of drug paraphernalia is strictly prohibited. Drug paraphernalia is defined as any equipment, product or material that is modified for making, using or concealing illegal drugs such as bongs and houka pipes.
8. Stonehill College does not distinguish between civil and criminal penalties associated with possession of marijuana. Possession of marijuana, regardless of the amount, is strictly prohibited on campus property or at campus sponsored events.

Substance Awareness Policy

Effects of Alcohol

Alcohol consumption causes a number of marked changes in behavior. Even low doses significantly impair the judgment and coordination required to drive a car safely, increasing the likelihood that the driver will be involved in an accident. Low to moderate doses of alcohol also increase the incidence of a variety of aggressive acts, including sexual and physical assaults.

Moderate to high doses of alcohol cause marked impairments in higher mental functions, severely altering a person's ability to learn and remember information. Very high doses cause respiratory depression and death. If combined with other depressants of the central nervous system, much lower doses of alcohol will produce the effects just described.

Repeated use of alcohol can lead to dependence. Sudden cessation of alcohol intake is likely to produce withdrawal symptoms, including severe anxiety, tremors, hallucinations, and convulsions. Alcohol withdrawal can be life threatening. Long-term consumption of large quantities of alcohol, particularly when combined with poor nutrition, can also lead to permanent damage to vital organs such as the brain and the liver.

Mothers who drink alcohol during pregnancy may give birth to infants with fetal alcohol syndrome. These infants have irreversible physical abnormalities and mental retardation. In addition, research indicates that children of alcoholic parents are at greater risk than other youngsters of becoming alcoholics.

Effects of Drugs

Cocaine or crack use may be fatal, depending upon the cardiovascular response of the user. This drug is highly addictive and withdrawal results in severe depression. Tranquilizers and sedatives are also highly addictive, even in low doses. Use of these drugs in conjunction with alcohol is extremely dangerous and may result in the user becoming comatose.

The intravenous use of drugs carries the additional risk of infection due to shared needles. HIV and hepatitis are transmitted in this way. Marijuana has properties of both depressants and stimulants and is considered a psychoactive drug. Marijuana contains more tar than tobacco and causes lung and bronchial disease, a chronic dry cough and respiratory irritation. Continued marijuana use has also been connected with memory loss and a motivational syndrome. Tobacco smoke contains carbon monoxide and may cause cancer and bronchial disease, a chronic cough and respiratory irritation. Smoking by pregnant women may result in fetal injury, premature birth and low birth weight. Chewing of tobacco may cause cancer.

Additional Assistance

Help concerning drug and alcohol-related problems is available from several sources. Individuals needing personal assistance, individuals who know of someone who needs help or individuals with questions concerning alcohol and drug abuse may contact any of the following:

- Counseling and Testing Center (508) 565-1331
- Health Services (508) 565-1307
- Student Affairs (508) 565-1323

Biennial Review

In compliance with the Drug Free Schools and Communities Act, Stonehill College will conduct a biennial review of the College's alcohol and other drug programs, which will be coordinated by the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs. According to the Act, the biennial review is due by October 1st of every even numbered year.

Other Sanctions for Students

The College may impose additional sanctions as appropriate. Refer to the Student Discipline System for a complete listing of sanctions.

Additional Fines and Holds

Failure to complete sanctions or disregarding College requirements may result in the College imposing an additional fine as well as placing an academic hold on a student's account. This hold may impact a student's ability to register or obtain certain academic records.

Sanctions for Student Organizations

The College's response to student organizations found in violation of the Substance Awareness Policy will be determined based upon the nature of the incident.

College Policies

Weapons

Possessing firearms, using firearms, attempting to use or threatening to use firearms whether, loaded or unloaded, explosives or other weapons, even if legally possessed, is prohibited on the Stonehill campus or at off-campus events. Weapons include but are not limited to such items as switchblades, stiletos, numchucks, daggers, brass knuckles, bows and arrows, slingshots, BB guns, air guns, pellet guns, air rifles (regardless of projectile velocity), taser guns, paintball guns, chemicals, fireworks and ammunition (whether metal, plastic, or other materials). Any item that may be used as a weapon is prohibited. Improper use of laser beam instruments is also prohibited. Possession without appropriate authorization and/or misuse of the weapons will result in serious disciplinary action by the College. Weapons of any kind may not be stored in any building or on the grounds of Stonehill College, including personal vehicles.

The use of prop weapons for theatrical performances or activities on campus can present a potential danger for students, faculty, and staff. There are well-documented cases where law enforcement officers have mistaken a "toy" or realistic replica for a real weapon, and serious injury or death has resulted. It is unreasonable to expect the Stonehill College Campus Police or College employees to be able to distinguish a "stage prop" or "toy" from a dangerous weapon. Any person, class, club, or other organization that plans to use prop, replica, training or toy weapon of any description on the Stonehill College campus as part of their activities must register all the details of the activity with the Stonehill College Police.

Faculty, academic programs, and academic organizations must receive approval from the Dean of Faculty for the use of such items. All other groups (whether or not a student group) must receive the approval of the Dean of Students.

Gambling

Stonehill College students must abide by federal and state laws and College policies prohibiting illegal gambling. Prohibited activity includes, but is not limited to:

1. Betting on, wagering on, or selling pools on any athletic event;
2. Possessing on one's person or premises (e.g. room, car, etc.) any card, book, or other device for registering bets;
3. Knowingly permitting the use of one's premises or one's telephone or other electronic communication device for illegal gambling;
4. Knowingly receiving or delivering a letter, package, or parcel related to illegal gambling;

5. Offering, soliciting, or accepting a bribe to influence the outcome of an athletic event;
6. Involvement in bookmaking or wagering pools with respect to sporting events;
7. Playing cards for money; and
8. Unauthorized raffles.

College-approved non-cash legal gambling activities such as casino nights with prizes must be approved by the Director of Student Activities, or designee. The sponsoring organization must obtain appropriate licenses and complete required reports for legal gambling activities.

Students who experience serious difficulties with gambling are urged to call Gambler's Anonymous at (617) 899-7943 or Mass Council on Compulsive Gambling at (617) 338-6020.

Opposition to Student Sexual Harassment

All members of the Stonehill community – students, staff, administrators, faculty, and visitors – have a right to a professional, academic, and working environment free of unlawful harassment and discrimination. Such harassment undermines the integrity of community relationships and is unacceptable behavior at Stonehill College.

Members of the Stonehill community who hold positions of authority have a particular responsibility to be aware of the power inherent in their relationships with students and subordinates and to avoid behavior that may be perceived as sexual harassment. All members of the Stonehill Community, with academic or supervisory responsibility for another, must keep their relationships, especially those with students, on a professional level.

Stonehill College maintains a "Zero Tolerance" Sexual Harassment Policy. This policy not only applies to the workplace during normal business hours, but also to all work-related social and business functions, whether on or off the College campus, and also while employees and students are on business, academic, or athletic related travel. The College will take effective means to end any sexual harassment, up to and including termination or dismissal of the offending individual.

Definition of Sexual Harassment

Sexual harassment is defined as unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature, when submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of employment; submission to or rejection of such conduct is used as the basis for employment or academic decisions; or such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work or academic performance or creating an intimidating, hostile, humiliating, or sexually offensive working or academic environment.

The following are examples of conduct, which may constitute sexual harassment:

1. Sexual advances, whether or not they involve physical touching;
2. Requests for sexual favors in exchange for actual or promised job or academic benefits, such as favorable reviews, salary increases, promotions, increased benefits or academic advantages;
3. Lewd or sexually suggestive comments, jokes, innuendoes or gestures;
4. Displaying sexually suggestive objects, pictures, magazines, or cartoons;
5. Commenting about or inappropriately touching an individual's body;
6. Inquiries or discussion about an individual's sexual experiences or activities and other written or oral references to sexual conduct.
7. Sexual exploitation, which is defined for the purposes of this policy as any abuse of a position of vulnerability, differential power, or trust for sexual purposes. This includes profiting momentarily, socially or politically from the sexual exploitation of another. Sexual exploitation is one of the purposes of trafficking in persons (performing in a sexual manner, forced undressing and/or nakedness, coerced marriage, forced childbearing, engagement in pornography or prostitution, sexual extortion for the granting of goods, services, assistance benefits, sexual slavery).

Complaints of Sexual Harassment

If a member of the Stonehill community believes that he or she has been subjected to sexual harassment or inappropriate sexual conduct, a first step, if the person feels comfortable in doing so, is to inform the person engaging in the conduct that it is unwelcome and ask the person to stop. Retaliation against anyone who exercises his or her right to confront the individual whose conduct is offensive, or who brings a complaint of sexual harassment or cooperates in an investigation is unlawful and will not be tolerated by the College.

The College is committed to investigating all complaints promptly and fairly. To the extent practicable, the College will protect the confidentiality of the individuals involved and initially consider informal resolution. The College is committed to proceeding as necessary to eliminate sexual harassment and will take appropriate corrective action which may include counseling, written warnings, or other discipline up to immediate dismissal.

While students may contact any trusted employee or faculty member to report an incident, the following individuals have been designated as contacts for assistance in addressing any sexual harassment concerns:

- Rev. John Denning, C.S.C., VP of Student Affairs, x1363
- Pauline Dobrowski, Associate VP of Student Affairs/Dean of Students, x1363
- Katie Conboy, VP of Academic Affairs, x1311
- Whistleblower (Ethics Hotline) 1-800-XXX-XXXX

Employees may contact their department head or the following for assistance in addressing any sexual harassment concerns:

- Maryann Perry, Director of Human Resources, x1106
- Thomas V. Flynn, General Counsel, x1413
- Wellness Corp (Employee Assistance Program) 1-800-XXX-XXXX

Other Forms of Harassment and Discrimination

It is also unlawful and a violation of Stonehill policy to harass any member of the community because of his or her race, color, national origin, ancestry, sex, religion, age, physical or mental disability, sexual orientation or any other characteristic protected by state or federal law. Any individual who believes that he or she has been subject to any type of harassment should feel free to institute the resolution and complaint procedure outlined above under Section III.

Government Resources

The College encourages individuals to initially seek resolution of sexual harassment complaints through its internal procedures; however, formal complaints can also be brought to these government agencies. The time periods for filing are EEOC 300 days; MCAD 6 months:

- Office for Civil Rights, U.S. Department of Education, 8th Floor, 5 Post Office Square, Boston, MA 02109-3921, (617) 289-0111
- Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, John F. Kennedy Federal Building, 475 Government Center, Boston, MA 02203, (800) 669-4000
- Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination, 1 Ashburton Place, Boston, MA, (617) 994-6000

Policy Against Hazing

Stonehill College fully complies with Commonwealth of Massachusetts Laws (Ch 269) regarding hazing. As such, the College has adopted the following policy against hazing for all students including student leaders and athletes. Stonehill defines hazing as any conduct or method of initiation into any student organization, team, group, etc., whether on or off-campus, which endangers the physical or emotional health of any student or other person no matter how well intended the end result or intent.

Types of hazing include the following:

- Hazing as a Public Display: Any and all forms of public appearance, which may result in adverse publicity to the organization or the College.
- Hazing as a Physical Abuse: Any practice, whether internal or external, which could be detrimental to the health or well-being of any person.
- Hazing as Moral Indignity: Any action which by ethical, moral, and/or socially accepted standard of right and wrong may create in any individual feelings of humiliation or disgrace.
- Hazing as Scholastic Interference: Any and all practices, which place a person in the position of being unable to attend, or properly prepare for, academic practices.

Examples of hazing include, but are not limited to:

- Applying any substance to a person's body or belongings such as whipped cream or paint;
- Forced listening to loud, repetitive music or recordings;
- Verbal or written abuse, yelling or screaming;
- Verbal or written abuse or harassment based upon race, color, national and/or ethnic origin, gender, sexual orientation, disability, religion, veteran's status, age, or association with persons different from oneself;
- Whipping, paddling or other beating;
- Nudity;
- Participation in illegal acts;
- Kidnapping;
- Bondage;
- Personal servitude;
- Pranks such as streaking/panty raids, unauthorized scavenger hunts, etc.;
- Forced or coerced stunt or skit nights/events with demeaning and/or crude skits and/or poems;
- Preventing the use of limbs;
- Forced or coerced wearing of conspicuous clothing not normally in good taste such as togas;
- Extended deprivation of sleep, adequate study time, rest or extended isolation;
- Forced or coerced branding/tattoos/hair styles;
- Deprivation of food or water;
- Forced calisthenics or exercise beyond the physical limits;
- Exposure to settings or conditions that adversely affect the physical health or safety of any student or which subjects such student or other person to extreme emotional stress;

- Individual or group interrogations;
- Involuntary consumption of any food, liquor, beverage, drug or other substance or any other brutal treatment or forced physical activity which is likely to adversely affect the physical health or safety of any student or other person; and
- Use of titles or forms of address that denote personal servitude or authority.

Hazing is banned in any form as a practice by any organization, group or team, etc. regardless of whether or not the organization, group, or team is recognized by Stonehill College.

Each group, team, or organization will distribute a copy of the Chapter 536, Commonwealth of Massachusetts Year 1985, An Act Prohibiting the Practice of Hazing to each of its members or applicants for membership annually.

The Athletic Department (for intercollegiate sports teams), the Recreational Sports Department (for club sports teams) and the Student Activities Department (for recognized and unrecognized student organizations) will annually submit to the Student Affairs Office an attested acknowledgment stating the group, team or organization has received a copy of Chapter 536, Commonwealth of Massachusetts Year 1985, An Act Prohibiting the Practice of Hazing and that each of its members or applicants has received a copy of Chapter 536, Commonwealth of Massachusetts Year 1985, An Act Prohibiting the Practice of Hazing, and that the group, team or organization understands and agrees to comply with the provisions of Chapter 536, Commonwealth of Massachusetts Year 1985, An Act Prohibiting the Practice of Hazing.

Any individual or organization found responsible for practicing hazing, in any form, is subject to disciplinary action and sanctions including separation or dismissal from Stonehill College and, in the case of a recognized student organization, loss of recognition.

An individual involved in an alleged violation of the Stonehill College Policy Against Hazing may not use consent as an acceptable reason for participation.

Anyone with knowledge that another person is the victim of hazing must immediately report such act to Campus Police at (508) 565-5555, Student Affairs at (508) 565-1363 and/or his/her RD/AC or RA.

Student Use of Electronic Devices Policy

Cellular phones, pagers, cameras, video and audiotaping equipment and other electronic devices shall not be used in a manner that causes disruption in the classroom, library, in other College buildings or facilities, or at College events (e.g. lectures, masses, etc.) Individuals using electronic devices must obtain permission from individuals to be photographed, videotaped or audiotaped prior to photographing, videotaping or audiotaping on the Stonehill College campus or at College-sponsored functions. Personal information should not be incorporated into photographs, videotapes, audiotapes, websites and other media.

Policy Against Sexual Misconduct

Stonehill College is committed to providing a learning and working environment that emphasizes the dignity and worth of every member of its community. Sexual misconduct in any form or context violates this principle. Sexual misconduct can threaten the safety, well-being, educational experience, and career of students, faculty, and staff and will not be tolerated in any form.

For the purposes of this policy, Stonehill College defines sexual misconduct as any kind of sexual physical contact that involves force or any form of coercion or intimidation. Also prohibited is sexual contact with a person who is unable to consent.

Sexual misconduct includes the intentional touching of another person on an area of the body generally recognized as a private part of the body such as genitals, breasts, thighs or buttocks, or touching any part of another person's body with a private part of one's own body. An unwelcome touch may be considered sexual physical contact no matter how slight it is.

A person who is unable to consent includes any person under age 16, anyone who is physically helpless, or anyone who is mentally incapacitated. A physically helpless person is considered to be one who is unconscious, or for any other reason unable to communicate unwillingness to engage in any act. A mentally incapacitated person may be one who is under the influence of alcohol or a drug, or who is mentally incapable of understanding the implications and consequences of any act.

Use of alcohol or any other drug to render another person mentally or physically incapacitated as a precursor to or part of a sexual activity is prohibited.

The College urges any person who believes she/he was the victim of another's sexual misconduct to come forward with a report of any incident. An array of police, medical, psychological, administrative and disciplinary services are in place and immediately available to students reporting sexual misconduct. Stonehill College is committed to supporting students' exercise of informed choice among these services and insuring anonymity within the confines of legal requirements to report sexual misconduct.

Help for the Person Who Believes She/He Was a Victim of Another's Sexual Misconduct

If you believe you were a victim of another's sexual misconduct, you should:

1. Get to a safe place.
2. Get medical attention. Brockton Hospital is experienced and prepared to help any person who believes she/he was the victim of another's sexual misconduct. It is extremely important that you seek medical attention immediately (within 72 hours if possible) because, depending on the sexual misconduct, you could be injured internally as well as externally. A prompt medical examination will test for pregnancy, STDs, HIV and venereal disease. A medical examination can secure valuable evidence that can be used later should you wish to have the assailant prosecuted. Do not drink, bathe, douche, brush your teeth, change clothing or comb your hair. It is only natural to want to do these things, but you may be destroying evidence you will need if you decide to prosecute at a later date. In the course of your medical examination, the hospital staff will collect this evidence. Put all clothing, bedding and other evidence in a paper (not plastic) bag.
3. Contact a friend, family member, residence director or Campus Police and access a SHARE (Sexual Harassment/Assault Resources and Education) advisor. SHARE is a group of trained staff members, available 24 hours a day, who provide confidential support and help to an individual who believes she/he has been the victim of another's sexual misconduct. In addition, SHARE advisors help you understand your options regarding medical attention, Stonehill support services, legal implications, and College disciplinary action. Members of SHARE are accessible to respond to crises by calling the Counseling and Testing Center at extension 1331. After normal business hours, SHARE advisors can be reached by calling the Switchboard at (508) 565-1000.

The following are ways advisors can assist:

SHARE advisors provide assistance with acquiring emergency sexual misconduct crisis treatment and emergency medical services, including accompanying the person who believes she/he was the victim of another's sexual misconduct to the hospital, speaking with the police and other services as requested.

SHARE advisors provide assistance, guidance, and support throughout the College discipline process and/or criminal justice process should the person who believes she/he was the victim of another's sexual misconduct choose to pursue this course of action.

SHARE advisors provide assistance in referrals around academic concerns, such as missed classes and assignments, changing class sections, etc.

SHARE advisors provide assistance in obtaining alternative living arrangements if desired.

SHARE advisors provide assistance in contacting community resources such as rape crisis centers, support groups and other services if desired.

SHARE advisors provide general support and assistance as needed. It is the decision of the person who believes she/he was the victim of another's sexual misconduct to choose which services she/he would like to utilize.

4. Seek counseling. Counseling is a very important step in helping someone who has been involved in a sexual misconduct incident regain control of her/his life. Professional counseling services in the area, both on and off campus, can be of assistance.

Options for Reporting Sexual Misconduct

A person who believes she/he was the victim of another's sexual misconduct is encouraged to report the sexual misconduct. Off-campus support and the campus student discipline system may play important roles, and Stonehill College provides support services to students who choose to seek criminal or civil prosecution as well as disciplinary action under Stonehill College's Student Discipline System.

Several options for reporting are available:

1. Report the sexual misconduct to Stonehill College Campus Police with or without pressing charges:

Informal Report

The person who believes she/he was the victim of another's sexual misconduct may informally report sexual misconduct to Campus Police. Attempts will be made to assign a female police officer and administrator to handle the case, if the person who believes she/he was the victim of another's sexual misconduct makes this request. Campus Police will inform the person who believes she/he was the victim of another's sexual misconduct of her/his rights and options. A police investigation will not be conducted AND/OR

Criminal Complaint

The person who believes she/he was the victim of another's sexual misconduct may make a criminal complaint with Campus Police. Attempts will be made to assign a female police officer and administrator to handle the case, if the person who believes she/he was the victim of another's sexual misconduct makes this request. Campus Police will inform the person who believes she/he was the victim of another's sexual misconduct of her/his rights and options. A police investigation of the sexual misconduct will be conducted. The person who believes she/he was the victim of another's sexual misconduct will be part of the decision process with regard to prosecution. If the investigation indicates the case should be prosecuted, the case may be referred to the District Attorney for prosecution regardless of the wishes of the person who believes she/he was the victim of another's sexual misconduct. This would be rare, but could occur if a crime was particularly brutal or if there were unusual circumstances, which require prosecution to protect the community.

An investigation is conducted and the results are discussed with the person who believes she/he was the victim of another's sexual misconduct along with rights and options. The person who believes she/he was the victim of another's sexual misconduct can then decide how or whether they would like to proceed with the case. Identity is kept confidential until the student decides to take action AND/OR

2. File criminal charges through the Commonwealth of Massachusetts court system. Campus Police is available to assist the person who believes she/he was a victim of a another's sexual misconduct about the proper procedures AND/OR
3. Report the sexual misconduct to the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs, or designee, with or without initiating a College disciplinary action if the alleged perpetrator is a Stonehill student or guest of a Stonehill student AND/OR

4. Report the sexual misconduct to the Associate Vice President of Student Affairs, or designee, for resolution through an on-campus mediated session with the alleged student perpetrator. Both students would have an advocate present AND/OR
5. Obtain the services of an attorney for advice OR
6. Take no action.

In accordance with the Clery Act, anonymous statistics of sexual misconduct incidents will be maintained by the Counseling and Testing Center and reported to Campus Police.

Rights of a Person Who Believes She/He Was the Victim of Another's Sexual Misconduct

In accordance with the Campus Sexual Assault Victims' Bill of Rights, as a part of the Higher Education Amendments of 1992, (Public Law: 102-325, section 486(c)), a person who believes she/he was the victim of another's sexual misconduct is entitled to the following rights:

1. The person who believes she/he was the victim of another's sexual misconduct will have the same opportunity to have others present during campus disciplinary proceedings as the charged student or host of a guest who is alleged to have violated this policy.
2. The person who believes she/he was the victim of another's sexual misconduct will be informed of the outcome of any campus disciplinary proceeding. If the victim is deceased as a result of such crime or offense, the College may release the results of the hearing to the next of kin.
3. The person who believes she/he was the victim of another's sexual misconduct has the option of notifying municipal and/or campus law enforcement of a sexual misconduct incident.
4. The person who believes she/he was the victim of another's sexual misconduct will be informed of available on-campus support and counseling services.
5. The person who believes she/he was the victim of another's sexual misconduct will be notified of options available for changing academic and living arrangements.

Special Procedures for Hearing Sexual Misconduct Complaints

In addition to the procedures outlined in the Community Standards and Student Discipline System, special procedures have been adopted for hearing sexual misconduct complaints.

Please refer to page 133 for those specific procedures.

Cancellations Due to Inclement Weather

As a residential campus, Stonehill College will hold classes and other activities whenever possible. Therefore, cancellations of classes due to inclement weather such as snow or ice will be kept to a minimum, and students should plan accordingly. Individual faculty or instructors who may have a significant commute to campus may be forced to cancel their individual classes on a particular day while all other classes are in session.

When classes are cancelled due to snow, ice, or other inclement weather conditions, information is communicated on local radio stations:

BROCKTON
WBET-AM 1460	WCAV-FM 97.7
BOSTON
WBZ-AM 1030	WMJX-FM 106.7
WRKO-AM 680	WBMX-FM 98.5
WORCESTER
WTAG-AM 580	WSRS-FM 96.1
NEW BEDFORD +
WNBH-AM 1340	WCTK-FM 98.1

Students may also call the College at (508) 565-5000 for a taped message.

Students may turn to campus cable TV Channel 70 for cancellation information.

Campus Mail Service

Campus mail service and student mailboxes are located on the lower level of the Roche Commons Building. The Mailroom is open Monday through Friday from 8:00 am to 4:00 pm. The Mailroom window is open Monday through Friday from 10:00 am to 3:00 pm.

The Stonehill College Mail Delivery System operates for the purpose of receiving and delivering college-related correspondence and U. S. Mail to all students.

Examples of misuse of campus mail include the attempted distribution of:

- Chain letters, hate mail or mail with obscene content;
- Letters to gain personal profit (ex. pyramid schemes); and
- On/off campus political endorsements.

All resident students are assigned a mailbox with a combination and are responsible for picking up their mail daily. Students keep the same mailbox and combination for their entire stay at the College. Mailbox numbers and combinations will be given to all first-year resident students in their Orientation Packets over the summer. Commuter students may rent a box for a fee. Certain restrictions will be enforced.

When packages and accountable mail is received on campus, students are notified through their Stonehill Email account of its arrival. The packages are held in the Mailroom for student pickup. All packages must be picked up in a timely manner, so as not to create an overflow in the mailroom.

The following format should be used for student mail, where "xxxx" equals the student's box number. The word "Box" should not be used in the address, as it is often mistaken for a box at the local Post Office. Mail should never be sent to a student's residence hall address.

Student's Full Name
Stonehill College
320 Washington St. # "xxxx"
Easton, MA 02357

Please refrain from the use of nicknames, as it slows down mail services or causes mail to be returned to sender. Do not have packages delivered under a parent's name.

Student mail is forwarded over winter break as well as over the summer. Student mail forwarding for summer begins after graduation. Mail is automatically forwarded to the mailing address on file with the Registrar's Office. Students who do NOT wish their mail to be forwarded to this address and have an alternative mailing address for the summer should contact the Mailroom. Students who have graduated must register all address changes directly with the Alumni Office. Mail may be forwarded to an alternative address for a maximum of 90 days unless on approved leave from the College. Only first-class and periodical mail is forwarded. First-class mail includes bills & statements, personal correspondences and matter closed against postal inspection. The Mailroom will attempt to forward college/graduate school catalogs and applications, CD, video and book club mailings which require a timely response even if they arrive other than first-class mail or periodical mail. Note: the U.S. Postal Service has the final control over what classes of mail may be forwarded and may choose not to process bulk rate forwarded mail. Packages, boxes, etc. that arrive via the U.S. Postal Service are forwarded. Anything arriving via other carriers is returned to the sender with a forwarding address if available. It is the obligation of the sender to forward these items. Bulk mail is not forwarded. Bulk mail includes most catalogs, solicitations, and nonprofit mailings. Bulk mail is recycled.

Mail for students that keep their boxes active for the summer is pulled and distributed first. All other mail is forwarded on a daily basis.

Distribution of Notices and Flyers

Departments or student organizations may send college-related flyers and notices to the campus community free of charge. Please contact the Supervisor of Mail Services for size and content restrictions and also for current number of copies needed for your target group. Flyers and notices must be delivered to Mail Services 3 days before the requested distribution date. These groups can also send work-study students to place the flyers into boxes.

Outside vendors may distribute approved materials to the student mailboxes for a fee.

Student ID Cards and Hill Cards

Students are given an ID card (Hill Card) as part of their regular orientation to the College Community. Students must maintain a current card for the entire period that they are affiliated with Stonehill College and must carry their ID cards at all times. The ID card is intended to serve as proof of an individual's status at the College and provides access to many resources provided by the College.

Any transfer, alteration, falsification or forgery of an ID card constitutes a violation of the Stonehill College Community Standards and may result in disciplinary action. In addition, fraudulent or illegal use of the ID card may result in criminal charges and/or civil proceedings.

ID cards should not be defaced or modified in any way. The use of stickers, pins or other items affixed to ID cards is prohibited in order to preserve their useful life. ID cards should be protected from damage or wear. Please protect the magnetically encoded information by keeping the card away from magnetic fields such as those generated by television sets, stereo speakers, bulk tape erasers, radio transmitters and personal computers, which could erase the information encoded on the card.

The cardholder agrees to abide by the policy, as amended from time to time, and to the display of his or her picture on the ID card. The card is and at all times shall remain the property of Stonehill College. It may be revoked at any time by the College if misused. It must be presented or returned upon request by an appropriate College official.

The initial ID card is issued without charge. The cardholder is responsible for the care and safekeeping of the card. If the card is lost or stolen, there is a $25 fee for each replacement card. If a card becomes unusable because of normal wear and tear, it will be replaced at no charge. Once a replacement card is issued, no refund will be made, even if the missing card is found.

The loss or theft of the ID card must be immediately reported to Dining Services. If such loss or theft occurs after regular office hours or on the weekend, the report should be made to the Stonehill College Campus

Police Department. It is important that the missing card is reported as soon as possible since the card could be misused. Until a student reports a card lost or stolen, he/she is responsible for any loss of funds.

Guest Policy

Students are responsible for the conduct of their guests and for ensuring that guests adhere to College rules and regulations. Stonehill College alumni are considered to be guests. Student hosts must be with their guests at all times. If guests violate College rules and regulations, the student host will be subject to disciplinary action and the guests subject to immediate removal from the campus and criminal trespass warning.

All guests must be registered with the College and must carry a valid photo I.D. and approved guest pass at all times.

Students are limited to hosting two guests during any period of time. Students must obtain permission from their roommate(s) for a guest to stay through the night. If a guest is under the age of 17, the Student must obtain permission from his or her Area Coordinator or Resident Director. Guests cannot stay beyond two consecutive days in a one-week period without the approval of the Residence Life Office. Behavior that is intrusive to the privacy of the roommate(s) is prohibited.

As a Catholic institution, Stonehill College does not condone cohabitation.

Student Use of the Stonehill Name

Stonehill College is the owner of its name, logos, mascot and other trademarks and has sole discretion over their use.

The use of the Stonehill College name, logos, seal, crest, indicia or mascot is prohibited for the titles of publications, on manufactured articles such as T-shirts or novelty items without the approval of the Director of Student Activities, or designee. Any goods upon which the Stonehill name, logo or mascot appears without approval are subject to confiscation and may be destroyed.

Student Eligibility for College Activities, Club Sports and Study Abroad/Away Programs

In order to hold leadership positions in student organizations, apply for or receive endorsement for study abroad programs/away programs, or be eligible for participation in club sports, students must meet the minimum requirement of being in good academic (2.0 cumulative grade-point average) and good disciplinary standing, as determined by the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs (AVPSA), or designee. Programs or organizations may require more stringent or rigorous standards for eligibility.

Communication With College Officials

Students are expected to be respectful of faculty and staff. This includes, but is not limited to, members of the residence life staff, custodial staff, dining services staff, maintenance/grounds staff, faculty, secretaries/support staff and College administrators. Any form of violence such as pushing, intimidation or threats is prohibited and will result in disciplinary action. Moreover, verbal or written exchanges that are disrespectful including swearing will be disciplined accordingly.

Compliance with Requests or Directives

Students are required to comply with reasonable requests, directives, or orders by authorized College personnel including members of the residence life staff, custodial staff, dining services staff, maintenance/grounds staff, faculty, secretaries/support staff and College administrators. This requirement includes, but is not limited to, reasonable requests for students to meet for appointments in administrative or faculty offices, to be cooperative at disciplinary investigations and hearings and to properly identify oneself upon request. Students who fail to honor requests or orders by authorized College personnel will be subject to disciplinary action.

Inspection of Student Rooms and Personal Belongings

One of the basic student rights is the right to privacy. The right to be secured and protected against unreasonable inspections of student rooms and personal belongings is part of this right to privacy. Students are responsible for the contents of their room, car, locker or person. Students need not be present or notified when an inspection is conducted.

Routine Entry & Inspection of Premises

The College reserves the right to enter all campus premises on a regular basis to examine the same or to make such repairs, additions, or alterations, as it deems necessary. In addition, the College reserves the right to enter the premises in order to take those precautions that might be found necessary to protect the health and safety of the occupants or other persons therein. Students must be advised that the College will take disciplinary action against any violators of College policy, even if the violation is observed as part of a routine operation.

Visual Inspection

When the College has reason to suspect that a violation of College policy is occurring, the College reserves the right to investigate the situation and confiscate evidence of such violations. In addition, the College may make a visual inspection of the student's room, motor vehicle, and person. The possession or use of alcoholic beverages and containers, drug paraphernalia, suspicious odors, disruptive behavior or behavior which may be of concern, will generally be considered the basis for a visual inspection. As a follow-up to a visual inspection, the College may request permission from the student to inspect personal belongings such as closed lockers, refrigerators, closets, wardrobes, desks, bags or boxes.

Thorough Inspection

When the College has reasonable suspicion that a serious violation of federal, state and local laws or College policy is occurring, it may, with approval from the Vice President for Student Affairs, or designee, or a lawfully issued search warrant, thoroughly inspect a student's person, room, motor vehicle and belongings without his/her consent. Materials obtained will be confiscated and used in disciplinary procedures.

Federal, Commonwealth & Local Authority

It should be noted that federal, state and local officials may exercise their legitimate authority in conducting search and seizure procedures without the consent of the College.

Legal Notices

Nondiscrimination Policy

Stonehill College is committed to providing a multicultural academic community in which the dignity and worth of each of its members is respected. As such, it is the policy of the college to provide its students, faculty, and staff with an environment free from discrimination.

Stonehill College prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, gender, disability, age, marital status, religion, color, or national origin in admission to, access to, treatment in or employment in its programs and activities, except where such conditions may constitute bona fide qualification for the programs or activities in question.

The following person has been designated to handle student inquiries regarding the College's non-discrimination policy:

Thomas V. Flynn, Esq.
General Counsel
Stonehill College
Easton, MA 02357
(508) 565-1413

Inquiries concerning the application of non-discrimination policies may also be referred to:

Regional Director
U.S. Department of Education
Office for Civil Rights
5 Post Office Square
Boston, MA 02109-3921

Student Education Records

The Family Education Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) affords students certain rights with respect to their education records. These rights include:

1. The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days of the day the College receives a request for access.

A student should submit to the registrar, dean, head of the academic departments, or other appropriate official, a written request that identifies the record(s) the student wishes to inspect. The College official will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected. If the records are not maintained by the College official to whom the request was submitted, that official shall advise the student of the correct official to whom the request should be addressed.

2. The right to request the amendment of the student's education records that the student believes are inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of the student's privacy rights under FERPA.

A student who wishes to ask the College to amend a record should write the College official responsible for the record, clearly identify the part of the record the student wants changed, and specify why it should be changed.

If the College decides not to amend the record as requested, the College will notify the student in writing of the decision and the student's right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing. The hearing procedures utilized by the College will vary based on the nature of the record that is the subject of the request. After the hearing, if the school still decides not to amend the record, the parent or eligible student has the right to place a statement with the record setting forth his or her view about the contested information.

3. The right to provide written consent before the College discloses personally identifiable information from the student's education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.

The College discloses education records without a student's prior written consent under the FERPA exception for disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official is a person employed by the College in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position (including law enforcement until personnel and health staff); a person or company with whom the College has contracted as its agent to provide a service instead of using College employees or officials (such as an attorney, auditor, or collection agent); a person serving on the Board of Trustees; or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks.

A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibilities for the College. Upon request, the College may also disclose education records without consent to officials of another school in which a student seeks or intends to enroll.

4. The right to file a complaint with U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by the College to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the Office that administers FERPA is:

Family Policy Compliance Office
U.S. Department of Education
400 Maryland Avenue, SW
Washington, DC 20202-5920

Disclosures To Parents/Legal Guardians Of Students

FERPA gives parents/legal guardians certain rights with respect to their student's education records. When a student reaches the age of 18 or attends a postsecondary institution, regardless of the age of the student, the FERPA rights transfer to the student.

Guidelines for the disclosure of information to parents/legal guardians are as follows:

1. Parents/legal guardians may obtain directory information at the discretion of the College.
2. If it is determined that a student is legally dependent on either parent/legal guardian, parents may obtain non-directory information (e.g. grades, GPA) at the discretion of the College.
3. Parents/legal guardians may obtain non-directory information if the College has a signed release from the student on file.
4. Parents/legal guardians may be notified by the College if their student, under the age of 21, has been found responsible for violating the College's Substance Awareness (alcohol and drug) Policy.
5. Parents/legal guardians may be notified by the College if their student's residency or student status (ability to live on-campus) may be in jeopardy or revoked.
6. Parents/legal guardians may be notified when their student is involved in a health or safety emergency.

Directory Information

At its discretion, the College may provide Directory Information without the consent of the student in accordance with the provisions Act, which information includes:

Student name, current enrollment, address, e-mail address, telephone number, class standing, full-time or part-time status, schedule of classes, photograph, date and place of birth, major and minor fields of study, dates of attendance, degrees and awards received, including Dean's list and graduation honors, most recent previous educational institution attended, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, weight and height of members of athletic teams.

Students may instruct the College to withhold Directory Information by notifying the Registrar in writing within two weeks after the first day of class for each semester. Request for nondisclosure will be honored by the institution for only one academic semester; therefore, authorization to withhold Directory Information must be filed each semester in the Registrar's Office.

Student Personal Property

Stonehill College is not responsible for students' personal property. Students are strongly encouraged to have personal property insurance for their belongings. This type of insurance may be available and covered under applicable homeowners' insurance policies or it is available as separate insurance coverage from many providers. Students and their parents should check their current insurance policies for coverage and consider additional coverage, if necessary.

Student Use of Stonehill Directories

Stonehill College maintains a number of directories and address lists to facilitate personal contact between students, faculty, staff, alumni, and volunteers. These directories or address lists may not be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted in any form or by any means without the prior written permission of the Vice President for Student Affairs, or designee. Any use of the addresses or other information such as mailing labels or e-mail distribution lists for any multiple mailing without the prior written permission of the Vice President for Student Affairs, or designee, is prohibited.

Demonstrations

Demonstrations must be registered twenty-four (24) hours in advance and must be approved in writing by the Vice President for Student Affairs, or designee. All demonstrations must be peaceful and orderly. Demonstrations may be organized and led only by members of the Stonehill College community. Demonstrations or other forms of expression may not compromise the rights of other members of the College Community, nor interfere with the general operation of the College. Free speech is a cherished foundation of academia. Forms of expression, however, may not discriminate against or harass individuals on the basis of race, gender, disability, age, marital status, sexual orientation, religion, color, gender, disability, national origin or other personal characteristics.

Stonehill College maintains the right to enforce all rules of conduct and to immediately dispatch campus police or request outside law enforcement assistance to respond to any criminal or violent acts.

Solicitation

No student or person representing any company is permitted to offer any product or service for purchase on the Stonehill College Campus without prior approval from the Director of Student Activities, in consultation with the Vice President for Student Affairs. In addition, students may not operate a business on campus or from their residence hall room without the express written consent of the Vice President for Student Affairs or his or her designee.

Clery Act

Stonehill College complies with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act. This report contains a summary of Stonehill College's Campus Police Department's procedures along with required crime statistics.

Stonehill College is committed to assisting all members of the Stonehill community in providing for their own safety and security. The College's annual security compliance document is available on the Stonehill College Website at <http://www.stonehill.edu/police/report.pdf>.

If you would like to receive a booklet called "Annual Security Report" which contains this information, you can stop by the Campus Police Office located in the "Old Student Union Building" or you can request that a copy be mailed to you by calling 508-565-5555.

Equity in Athletics Disclosure Act (EADA)

In compliance with the EADA, Stonehill College provides information on men's and women's athletic programs, including the number of participants by gender for each varsity team, operating expenses, recruiting expenditures, athletically-related student aid, and revenues. The annual report is available from the Athletics Office located in the Merkert College Center. General information regarding the College's student financial assistance programs, tuition and fees, and refunds is available from the Student Aid and Finance Office located in the Duffy Academic Center.

Fair Information Practices

Stonehill College complies with Massachusetts General Laws Chapter 66A, Fair Information Practices. Questions regarding this law can be addressed to: Registrar, Stonehill College, 320 Washington Street, Easton, MA 02357.

Campus Sex Crimes Prevention Act

The Campus Sex Crimes Prevention Act is a federal law that provides for the tracking of convicted, registered sex offenders enrolled as students at institutions of higher education, or working or volunteering on campus. Members of the campus community may obtain information concerning Massachusetts registered sex offenders online at www.state.ma.us/sorb or by contacting any of the following:

Massachusetts Law Against Hazing

Massachusetts Law requires that the following information be issued to students, student groups, teams and organizations:

Chapter 269: Section 17. Hazing; organizing or participating; hazing defined.

Section 17. Whoever is a principal organizer or participant in the crime of hazing, as defined herein, shall be punished by a fine of not more than three thousand dollars or by imprisonment in a house of correction for not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment.

The term "hazing" as used in this section and in sections eighteen and nineteen, shall mean any conduct or method of initiation into any student organization, whether on public or private property, which wilfully or recklessly endangers the physical or mental health of any student or other person. Such conduct shall include whipping, beating, branding, forced calisthenics, exposure to the weather, forced consumption of any food, liquor, beverage, drug or other substance, or any other brutal treatment or forced physical activity which is likely to adversely affect the physical health or safety of any such student or other person, or which subjects such student or other person to extreme mental stress, including extended deprivation of sleep or rest or extended isolation.

Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section to the contrary, consent shall not be available as a defense to any prosecution under this action.

Chapter 269: Section 18. Failure to report hazing

Section 18. Whoever knows that another person is the victim of hazing as defined in section seventeen and is at the scene of such crime shall, to the extent that such person can do so without danger or peril to himself or others, report such crime to an appropriate law enforcement official as soon as reasonably practicable. Whoever fails to report such crime shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars.

Chapter 269: Section 19. Copy of Secs. 17 to 19; issuance to students and student groups, teams and organizations; report

Section 19. Each institution of secondary education and each public and private institution of post secondary education shall issue to every student group, student team or student organization which is part of such institution or is recognized by the institution or permitted by the institution to use its name or facilities or is known by the institution to exist as an unaffiliated student group, student team or student organization, a copy of this section and sections seventeen and eighteen; provided, however, that an institution's compliance with this section's requirements that an institution issue copies of this section and sections seventeen and eighteen to unaffiliated student groups, teams or organizations shall not constitute evidence of the institution's recognition or endorsement of said unaffiliated student groups, teams or organizations.

Each such group, team or organization shall distribute a copy of this section and sections seventeen and eighteen to each of its members, plebes, pledges or applicants for membership. It shall be the duty of each such group, team or organization, acting through its designated officer, to deliver annually, to the institution an attested acknowledgement stating that such group, team or organization has received a copy of this section and said sections seventeen and eighteen, that each of its members, plebes, pledges, or applicants has received a copy of sections seventeen and eighteen, and that such group, team or organization understands and agrees to comply with the provisions of this section and sections seventeen and eighteen.

Each institution of secondary education and each public or private institution of post secondary education shall, at least annually, before or at the start of enrollment, deliver to each person who enrolls as a full time student in such institution a copy of this section and sections seventeen and eighteen.

Each institution of secondary education and each public or private institution of post secondary education shall file, at least annually, a report with the board of higher education and in the case of secondary institutions, the board of education, certifying that such institution has complied with its responsibility to inform student groups, teams or organizations and to notify each full time student enrolled by it of the provisions of this section and sections seventeen and eighteen and also certifying that said institution has adopted a disciplinary policy with regard to the organizers and participants of hazing, and that such policy has been set forth with appropriate emphasis in the student handbook or similar means of communicating the institution's policies to its students. The board of higher education and, in the case of secondary institutions, the board of education shall promulgate regulations governing the content and frequency of such reports, and shall forthwith report to the attorney general any such institution which fails to make such report.

Drug Free Schools and Communities Act

Stonehill College, in accordance with federal legislation and College policy, is committed to providing a drug-free, healthy and safe environment for all students, faculty and staff. The unlawful use, possession, manufacturing, distribution or dispensation of a controlled substance and the illegal use or possession of alcoholic beverages on campus or at College sponsored activities is prohibited. If it is determined that a violation of this policy has occurred, disciplinary action up to and including the dismissal of students and referral for prosecution may result. Applicable legal sanctions for the unlawful use, possession or distribution of alcohol and other drugs are summarized in the following section. This information appears here to meet the requirements of the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act. In addition to this policy, other College policies remain in effect.

Summary of Alcohol and Other Drug Laws

The legal drinking age in Massachusetts is 21 years of age. A person over 21 years of age may not buy alcohol for a person under 21 years of age, unless their relationship is that of parent and child or husband and wife, and even in those situations liquor must be bought at a package liquor store, not a restaurant or tavern. Whoever furnishes any such beverage or alcohol for a person under 21 years of age shall be punished by a fine of not more than $2,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year or both. Alcohol may not be purchased or attempted to be purchased by a person under 21 years of age. A person may not lie about his/her age to purchase alcohol, present false identification, or make arrangements with someone older to buy alcohol for him/her. Any person knowingly makes a false statement as to the age of a person who is under twenty-one years of age in order to procure a sale or delivery of such beverages or alcohol to such person under twenty-one years of age, either for the use of the person under twenty-one years of age or for the use of some other person, and whoever induces a person under twenty-one years of age to make a false statement as to his age in order to procure a sale or delivery of such beverages or alcohol to such a person under twenty-one years of age, shall be punished by a fine or three hundred dollars. Any person without a license to serve alcohol may not serve someone under 21 years of age, unless their relationship is that of parent and child or husband and wife. Any person who furnishes any such beverage or alcohol for a person under 21 years of age shall be punished by a fine of not more than $2,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year or both.

Any person who transfers, alters, or defaces an identification card, or who makes, uses, carries, sells, or distributes a false identification card, or furnishes false information in obtaining such a card, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than two hundred dollars or by imprisonment for not more than three months.

It is unlawful for a person under 21 years of age knowingly to drive a car with alcohol in it unless accompanied by a parent. To do so may result in a fine of up to $50 or suspension of the driver's license for three months, or both. Persons may not drive while drinking from an open container of an alcoholic beverage. Violators shall be punished by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $500. Persons may not drive while under the influence of alcohol or any intoxicating substance. Violators shall be punished by a fine of not less than five hundred nor more than five thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than two and one-half years, or both such fine and imprisonment. If a police officer has reasonable grounds to believe a person is driving under the influence, a breathalyzer test may be given. If the person arrested refuses to submit to such test or analysis, after having been informed that his license or permit to operate motor vehicles or right to operate motor vehicles in the commonwealth shall be suspended for a period of at least 180 days and up to a lifetime loss, for such refusal, no such test or analysis shall be made and he shall have his license or right to operate suspended in accordance with this paragraph for a period of 180 days. Conviction for a first offense be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars or by imprisonment for not less than thirty days nor more than two years, or both, and for a second offense by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than five years or in a house of correction for not less than thirty days nor more than two and one half years, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Massachusetts has criminal penalties for use of controlled substances, or drugs, with penalties varying with the type of drug. In general, narcotic, addictive, and drugs with a high potential for abuse have heavier penalties. Possession of drugs is illegal without valid authorization. While penalties for possession are generally not as great as for manufacture and distribution of drugs, possession of a relatively large quantity may be considered distribution. Under both state and Federal laws penalties for possession, manufacture and distribution are much greater for second and subsequent convictions. Many laws dictate mandatory prison terms and the full minimum term must be served. Massachusetts makes it illegal to be in a place where heroin is kept and to be “in the company” of a person known to possess heroin. Anyone in the presence of heroin at a private party or dormitory suite risks a serious drug conviction. Sale and possession of “drug paraphernalia” is illegal in Massachusetts. Under Federal law, distribution of drugs to persons under the age of 21 is punishable by twice the normal penalty with a mandatory one to three years in prison depending on the class of drugs; a third conviction is punishable by mandatory life imprisonment. These penalties apply to distribution of drugs within 1,000 feet of a college or school. Federal law sets greatly heightened prison sentences for manufacture and distribution of drugs if death or serious injury results from the use of the substance.

The Higher Education Act of 1965 as amended suspends aid eligibility for students who have been convicted under federal or state law of the sale or possession of drugs, if the offense occurred during a period of enrollment for which the student was receiving federal student aid. For more information contact the Stonehill College Student Aid and Finance Office at 508-565-1088 or the Federal Student Aid Information Center at 1-800-4-FED-AID (1-800-433-3243).

Delivery of Services

Stonehill College assumes no liability for the delay or failure in providing educational or other services or facilities due to causes beyond its reasonable control. Causes include, but are not limited to power failure, fire, strikes by College employees or others, damage by natural elements, and acts of public authorities. The College will, however, exert reasonable efforts, when it judges them to be appropriate, to provide comparable services, facilities, or performance; but its inability or failure to do so shall not subject the College to liability.

Stonehill College will endeavor to make available to its students a fine education and a stimulating and congenial environment. However, the quality and rate of progress of an individual's academic career and professional advancement upon completion of a degree or program are largely dependent on his or her own abilities, commitment and effort. In many professions and occupations, there are requirements imposed by federal and state statutes and regulatory agencies for certification or entry into a particular field. These requirements may change while a student is enrolled in a program and may vary from state to state or country to country. Although the College stands ready to help its students learn about requirements and changes in them, it is the student's responsibility to initiate the inquiry.
